PRE-CONFERENCE SESSION

With Frank C. Smathers presiding, the Conference Historical Society met in regular session in Centenary Methodist Church, Winston-Salem, Tuesday night, September 18, 1956. The following resolution prepared by L. B. Hayes was adopted:

The first half of our century has seen progress penetrate west of the Blue Ridge and advance into that section of our state once called "The Lost Provinces" in an amazing way.

Some factors in our climb to higher ground are the creation of America's most popular park—the Great Smokies—with resultant compensations to the Cherokee people, the influx of millions of tourists, and the founding of great church assemblies.

Supreme among these is Junaluska, gem of the highlands and mecca for Methodists from many states. Here for four decades have gathered the leaders and prophets of our Zion, and throngs of youth and children have gladdened the grounds with their work and play.

However, it was in this year of grace, 1956, which saw the greatest assembly that has so far gathered in our section or state. It was the Ninth World Methodist Conference. This distinctive body towers over all previous meetings in this territory like mighty Pisgah rises above the neighboring ranges.

In point of personnel and in program this was a unique and superior group of the key figures of Methodism, and they carried the theme, "Methodism in a Contemporary World," like true champions. Their addresses and sermons, especially those of the foreign delegates, sparkled and shone on the agenda like beads on a rosary, and at the end a cross was hung.

The affirmations of The Authority of the Bible, the Sufficiency of the Gospel, and the Necessity of the Church were clearly and powerfully stated. They called, without equivocation, for conscience above the State, an ecumenical Church without regard to race—or in spite of race—and proclaimed the gospel as the only antidote for a destructive nuclear knowledge, which might destroy soul and body by scientific explosion and incineration.

Since the man of genius responsible for this inspiring conference was our own Dr. Elmer T. Clark, member of our Western North Carolina Conference and honorary member of our Historical Society, whose contributions to our literature by the writing of many books, the collecting of a treasure of biography, of art and history is possibly unsurpassed by any individual among us, and since he was elected American Secretary of the World Conference, making him the most widely known and highly respected member of our Conference,

BE IT RESOLVED:

That we extend him our genuine appreciation for services which involved so much arduous effort, so great an application of tact and finesse, wisdom and courage and inscribe our gratitude in the records of this Society.

Likewise, we commend the co-operation of the trustees of Lake Junaluska in making possible their facilities for this conference which, we think, is an auspicious beginning of a truly ecumenical church made up of all races, nations and tongues, whose shining robes are made white by the spiritual cleansing of God's dear Son, the world's Saviour.

J. Elwood Carroll spoke on "Church Papers of the North Carolina Methodist Protestants," and Romey Pitt Marshall spoke on "The North Carolina Christian Advocate." These addresses follow:

THE CHURCH PAPERS OF THE NORTH CAROLINA METHODIST PROTESTANTS

by J. Elwood Carroll

The Methodist Protestant Church, organized in 1828, was born amidst papers and circulars. Immediately following the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of 1820, there was a flood of circulars on topics of church polity. These circulars were by both those who favored and those who opposed reform in the polity of the church. Among the early papers were The Mutual Rights and The Wesleyan Repository, the latter becoming the national news medium of the Methodist Protestant Church.

The national paper was sufficient until during the War Between the States when its circulation from Baltimore was cut off to the Southern States. It was at this time that the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church made plans to issue its own publication. An earlier effort to establish a southern paper by the co-operative efforts of all the southern conferences had failed, hence we might say that their attempt to produce a jurisdictional paper was a failure.

Annual Conference President C. F. Harris, in 1862, recommended in his report that the North Carolina Conference create a committee to study the wisdom of launching a paper. Due to the war going on at that time, some doubted the wisdom of such a venture. Nevertheless, a committee was created to confer with Michael Sherwood and others, who were at that time publishing a secular weekly in Greensboro known as the Greensboro Patriot, "in reference to submitting to us a portion of their paper, to be devoted to the interests of the church in the North Carolina (Conference), or to enter into such arrangements as they may deem advisable for publishing a sheet for our use."

The Committee was active and recommended in 1863 that the name of the paper be the Watchman and Harbinger. John L. Michaux was chosen editor. He, C. F. Harris and L. W. Batchelor were to compose a Publishing Committee. The price of the Watchman and Harbinger was to be five dollars a year. Remember, this was Confederate money! Due to the war, the paper was moving at a slow pace, hence at the next conference it was decided to issue the paper as a half sheet for five dollars for six months, and after that time the matter was to be left entirely with the Publishing Committee. "For a time Mr. Michaux served as editor, bookkeeper, and mailing clerk with working hours which sometimes stretched from eight a.m. to five a.m. on the next day. He made an appeal to the War Department of the Confederacy, and J. C. Roberts and W. O. Donnell were temporarily released from arms and assigned to service on the staff of the paper." Interestingly, J. C. Roberts was a native of Forsyth County, the donor of the current Roberts Bequest, and the man after whom the administration building at High Point College is named. Despite the sacrificial work of these men, the Watchman and Harbinger became a casualty of the war.

A second attempt to create a conference organ was in 1873, when the Central Protestant was issued. John L. Michaux was elected editor and the price was to be two dollars per annum. Conference President R. H. Wills says in his report the next year that the paper has been "inaugurated under disadvantage, the success has probably been all that could reasonably have been hoped for." Michaux continued editor of the Central Protestant through the eighteen years of its life. During the latter years it was mostly a restatement of news carried in the Daily Workman, a secular paper issued by Michaux. For lack of interest and support, the paper came to a close in 1891.

November 25, 1893, is a memorable day in the history of North Carolina Methodist Protestantism. It was on that day that J. F. McCulloch, a native of Guilford County, a former professor in and president of Adrian College, Michigan, returned to the annual conference and recommended the establishment of an educational institution of higher learning. He was familiar with the story of the short lived Jamestown Female Academy and the declining effectiveness of Yadkin College Institute. When requested to make specific suggestions about establishing a college, he proposed that if the college could not be founded immediately he be granted the privilege to establish and publish a paper for the specific purpose of educating the people to the need and the establishment of a college. It was agreed "That this Conference appoint a committee of three who shall sit on the merits of the prospective local church paper for North Carolina, and that when they shall decide that the said paper meets the demands of the Conference every pastor shall be under obligations to his utmost to extend its circulation and make it a success in every way."

The first issue of the paper made its appearance on November 10, 1894. Conference President T. T. Ferree, in his report to the conference that year, expressed what could truly be said of the paper at any time during its forty-five years of continued service to the North Carolina Conference: "Our Church Record, published weekly in Greensboro by Rev. J. F. McCulloch, a neat and a very valuable paper, bids fair to succeed most nobly. It meets a long felt want in our Conference work, and with the warm, earnest co-operation of the pastors of this Conference, I bespeak for it a large circulation among our people in North Carolina. Our people throughout the (Conference) want a local church paper, and we will find but little trouble getting our brethren to subscribe for it. Let us help the paper and it will help us, and use our best efforts to put it into every Methodist Protestant home in North Carolina, and thereby help the church."

The Committee on Literature for 1895 pointed out that the work of issuing the paper had been a tremendous hardship on McCulloch, yet he had made no complaint. He was laboring for a great cause—a college. In order to put the paper on a more firm financial footing, the Committee recommended the purchase of a lot on which could be erected a publishing house. This structure, when erected, was to be used for the benefit of the paper, but, upon the establishment of a college, was to be sold and the proceeds used for the college. By the next annual conference, $3,300 had been raised for the Publishing House, and Brother McCulloch was granted permission to travel through the Conference with a phonograph—one with a morning glory type horn, I presume, and to solicit subscriptions to the paper and the publishing house building fund.

The efforts must have been successful since the Publishing House was erected at 301 South Elm Street, Greensboro, in 1897, at a cost of about $12,000. The church paper was printed on the second floor of the building and the street floor rented. From the rent, a monthly payment of $20 was made toward the support of the paper. Through the years the appropriation increased until it reached $100 per month. J. Norman Wills, one of the Publishing House committeemen said, "It would have been impossible to continue the publication of the paper, but for the fact that Dr. McCulloch possessed considerable mechanical skill, and not only edited the paper, but personally printed it. The publication of the paper was continued without intermission throughout all the succeeding years."

After High Point College was founded in 1924, the income from the Publishing House was directed to the College. The name of the paper back in 1910 had been changed to the Methodist Protestant Herald. The Publishing House building was sold and the proceeds given to High Point College. McCulloch erected his own print shop on Trinity Street, Greensboro, directly back of his home. The lack of some additional income other than subscriptions worked a tremendous hardship upon McCulloch. He continued as editor and owner of the paper, but turned the work of printing it to the firm of McCulloch and Swain.

The perplexities of the conference organ during the decade of the Great Depression, following 1929, were both financial and editorial. A mounting annual debt was incurred after the Publishing House income was discontinued. To liquidate a debt of about $4,500, the editor turned over to the printers certain printing equipment and machinery. The price of the paper was increased from $1.50 to $2 per annum, and each church and conference organization was asked to make a donation to the paper known as a subsidy, but by some called "sub-si-dee." Despite these efforts, by 1934, the debt was again about $3,500.

Another severe blow came with the death of J. F. McCulloch in 1934. His death meant that the paper was left without an editor and that there was against the estate of McCulloch the bill of $3,500 for losses on the paper in recent years. Though the paper was the personal property of the late J. F. McCulloch, the annual conference felt under an obligation to him and his great work not to allow the indebtedness to be collected out of his estate. The Conference, therefore, set about to raise the McCulloch Memorial Fund and paid off that indebtedness. At this time, the annual conference bought the paper from the estate of McCulloch.

The paper yet needed an editor. Dr. J. E. Pritchard was pastor of Calvary Methodist Protestant Church at that time and had assisted Dr. McCulloch greatly with the paper during the latter months of McCulloch's life. Dr. Pritchard, in connection with his pastoral duties, gladly assumed the editorship of the paper for 1934, and was re-elected editor for the years 1935 and 1936. Recently Dr. Pritchard has presented bound volumes of the Methodist Protestant Herald for the years 1935 and 1936 to the North Carolina Christian Advocate. Bound volumes of the paper from 1910 to 1939 are in the library of High Point College.

Dr. R. M. Andrews, while serving as President of the North Carolina Annual Conference, also served as editor during 1937. He continued as editor in connection with his duties as director of the Fellowship Crusade in 1938, and as pastor of West End Church, Greensboro, 1939.

During the last years of life, The Methodist Protestant Herald, with the aid of the subsidy, the increase in subscription price, the expansion of circulation, and the use of a part time editor, operated at a financial profit. The paper was officially merged with The North Carolina Christian Advocate at the time of the uniting of the three branches of North Carolina Methodism in November 1939.

The church paper rendered a great service during its forty-five years of publication. Editor McCulloch, in addition to seeing High Point College opened and in operation, which you recall was the primary dream of establishing the paper (and the boys' dormitory being named in his honor), also saw the Children's Home at High Point brought into being largely through the work of his paper. McCulloch also rendered a great service in the development of the entire Annual Conference program through the years.

THE ADVOCATE'S HUNDRED YEARS

The history of Methodist journalism in America begins with the publication of the Methodist Magazine in January, 1818. This was issued monthly at first and then changed to a quarterly, and continued publication until the merger of the three Methodist bodies in 1939. From the very first it was aimed at the preachers rather than at the laity, and it was not long before there was felt a need for a more popular-type magazine which would appeal to the rank-and-file throughout the nation. With this idea in mind, the first general organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church was published on September 9, 1826, under the name of the Christian Advocate.

Methodists have become so used to the name that no one seems to think it strange, but actually it was a bit unusual and still is. Nevertheless, the name is descriptive of its function which was to provide an "advocate" for the Methodist way. It advocated Methodism in the strongest terms and its pages were full of polemical and doctrinal discussions. But these did not compose the whole bill of fare, for the early editors were conscious of their obligation to give their people good reading matter in a day when magazines of any kind were very scarce. Their stated plan to make the Christian Advocate a "family paper" was carried out to an extent that made it possible to later boast of the largest circulation in the world, with the exception of the London Times.

Bishop Paul Garber in his book, The Romance of Methodism, published by the Piedmont Press (the printing department of the Methodist Board of Publication) in 1931, tells of some of the trials of the early editors of the Christian Advocate and says, "The modern Methodist publishing agent or editor hardly realizes the problems that faced his predecessors. Literary men were not plentiful in pioneer Methodism. Editors called in vain for contributions." It was natural that this should be true, for Methodist preachers of that day were not scholars and many of the most effective preachers were hardly able to write a letter, much less an article. Education was looked upon as an agency of the devil, and years later, William Capers, who became an effective minister and bishop, was almost denied a place in the ministry because he was an educated man. Peter Cartwright, the great pioneer preacher of the West, was especially rough on educated men of the church and declared his opposition in unmistakable terms.

But the cause of education became more and more important to the church as more and more schools were started in the new sections of the country where Methodism was most powerful. One of the most effective agencies of education among the people was the Christian Advocate and the ministers were duty bound to see that it was circulated throughout their charges.

Bishop Garber says, "The Methodist press was of inestimable value as a means of defending the faith. From the books, pamphlets and periodicals the laymen became acquainted with the theology, history, government and doctrines of Methodism. There were few loyal Methodist homes that did not possess some Methodist literature. Furthermore the early periodicals were agencies for experimental religion. They gave more than information." He quotes Fitzgerald as saying, "The reading of early Methodist periodicals was like attending a class meeting or love feast. In their pages the holiest and wisest men and women of Methodism told what the Lord had done for their souls, and discoursed of the deep things of God with wonderful clearness and force. Light and life were in their words."

Our church was built upon the foundation of good literature and the Methodists of a hundred years ago were inspired and taught by means of the books and magazines which came from the Book Concern, as it was called. So great was their appreciation of the work which it had done that when in 1836 the Book Concern was destroyed by fire, they dug down into their pockets and gave the enormous sum of $95,281 to rebuild the publishing house. One thousand dollars of this amount was given by an Episcopalian layman who said, "I have lived heretofore in the new countries; and I remember the time when the people who dwelt in their log cabins had no other books to read but those which they obtained from Methodist itinerants, who carried them around their circuits in their saddle-bags, and after preaching sold them to the people. In this humble way the people in the wilderness were supplied both the living word from the lips of God's messengers, and with reading matter for their meditation by the fireside when the living teacher had taken his departure. Therefore put me down one thousand dollars to help rebuild the Methodist Book Room."

It was in 1854, ten years after the fateful General Conference of the M. E. Church when the northern and southern conferences came to the conclusion that they must separate, nine years after the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, that the North Carolina Conference, meeting in Pittsborough (sic), voted to establish a book store and publish a religious newspaper. The resolution read:

"That a committee of three be appointed, whose duty shall be as soon as they ascertain that $2,000 of the stock has been purchased, to make proposals to Mrs. Bumpass for the purchase of the Weekly Message, and if she refuses to sell, to make the necessary arrangements for the purchase of suitable materials for the publication of a neat, large and respectable paper, to be styled the North Carolina Christian Advocate, at $2 per annum, strictly in advance; and that they shall issue a suitable prospectus, proposing to issue the first of January, 1856, and, further that said committee report to the stockholders at their first meeting all of the information necessary, as to the most suitable place for the location of the establishment, and on all other matters which they deem important."

This committee carried out its instructions. Finding that Mrs. Bumpass, who had been carrying on the publication of the Weekly Message^{*} since the death of her husband, would not sell the paper, they made arrangements to have the N. C. Christian Advocate printed in Raleigh and elected the Rev. R. T. Heflin as editor. The first issue came from the press in January, 1856. I am not certain of the name of the printer, but the issue of January 20, 1859 carries an advertisement by the printer, R. H. Whitaker, who calls upon the readers to give him their printing business, in return for "having taken the printing of the Advocate at a lower rate than anyone else would."

He further states that having purchased the finest power press in the State and thrown all his old type into "pi," he was ready to go to work. From the wording of the advertisement, it seems clear that Mr. Whitaker had recently taken over the contract for the printing of the Advocate.

Heflin continued as editor from 1856 to 1861. The Rev. W. E. Pell was elected assistant editor in 1860, and took over the editorial duties in 1861, only to find that soon he had no paper to edit, as it suspended publication in the early part of that year on account of the war, for as Bobbitt says, "the reason that its resources were not sufficient to meet current expenses."

In 1826 a joint stock company was formed at the Conference, in Raleigh, and Pell was elected editor of the rejuvenated magazine, which ran, with some difficulty, we imagine, through the years of the war until 1865, when the general impoverishment of the country made it necessary to suspend publication again. Subscription rates were raised again and again and a letter from a North Carolina mother to her son in the Army, Feb. 18, 1865, contains a request that he try to subscribe for the N. C. Christian Advocate even if it cost ten dollars. (I wonder if the mother ever received her subscription. It is doubtful if she did, for the paper went out of business for the second time in March of that year.)

During the first ten years of its existence, the Advocate was a family paper, containing not only religious articles, but secular information and dispatches. In its pages during the first year (June 13, 1856) was an account of the murder of eight pro-slavery men on the Ossawatimie Creek in Kansas, told by a correspondent in Lawrence, Kansas, which was itself the scene of a terrible battle between the pro- and anti-slavery forces. A few years later, in 1859, it carried an account of the hanging of John Brown at Charlestown, Virginia. Advertisements were plentiful in its issues, and many of these were of doubtful character. Greensboro and Goldsboro Female Colleges were advertised in several issues. It is interesting to note that Greensboro College, under the presidency of the Rev. Turner M. Jones, A.M., offered tuition and board, including fuel, attendance, washing and lights for $70 per session of 21 weeks.

Now begins a period which has never been described by any historian. Bobbitt, in his story referred to above, makes no mention of the independent paper which came into being at Raleigh in 1865. Published by L. Branson, who ran a bookstore in that city, it seems to have been entirely independent of any Conference control, although Branson was a Methodist local preacher and had the assistance of Dr. H. T. Hudson, then pastor of Edenton Street Methodist Church.

A study of the files of this magazine, which are in the vault of the N. C. Christian Advocate, shows that it was really a Conference paper, printing news of Methodism, with copious reports on Methodist doings. The first issue was dated Feb. 5, 1865, and carried an item concerning the establishment of a new literary magazine by the former North Carolina pastor who had become a famous preacher in New York City. The Rev. C. F. Deems, whose name recurs frequently in the news of the day, had accepted the pastorate of a former Presbyterian church, which had turned independent and taken the name of "Church of the Strangers." Dr. Deems was still a member of the North Carolina Conference, it seems, and a few years later was active in the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal, South, held in New Orleans.

The Enterprise seemed to flourish for the first year and its pages show marks of great editorial talent, possibly due to efforts of Dr. Hudson, who was later to become one of the great preachers and writers of the South. The Rev. Peter Doub began a series of articles on the history of North Carolina Methodism and carried them through several months.

An indication of the terrible times in which these men lived and worked is seen in the following item, published in 1866. "On the 18th and 19th of February, the 14th and 20th corps under General Slocum and General Davis camped near the residence of Mr. Levi Koon in Lexington District, S. C. On leaving, some one took his little son, Preston, age 7, with him. He may have been left in the eastern part of the state." (I wonder if that little boy was ever found.)

During this year a discussion began regarding the changing of the boundary lines of the Conference to provide for a Western and Eastern Conference, leaving South Carolina churches out and taking over some of the Holston and Virginia Conference churches. Dr. R. L. Abernathy wrote an article advocating such a plan, and the bricks began to fly. They continued to fly for many years.

The year 1866 also saw a discussion as to whether it might not be advisable to change the time of meeting of the Conference from November to December. The bishop wanted November, and "the bishop prevailed," says the editor.

Although the Enterprise was not an official organ of the Conferences, and cannot be listed as one of the "succession," yet it was, in fact, the successor to the N. C. Christian Advocate and, despite its short life, deserves mention in any history of the Advocate. Not only did it keep Methodist journalism alive in the state, but it trained one of the Advocate's greatest editors. As we read over the yellowed copies of that fateful year, we are impressed by the cheerfulness with which those impoverished people faced a new life in a ruined land.

It is in October 29 issue that we are startled by a change in the name—from The Enterprise to the Methodist Enterprise. The editors explain that, as most of their subscribers are Methodists and they are both Methodist preachers, they might as well name the paper according to their taste. We may read between the lines here, in the light of later events, and see an effort on the part of Branson to preserve his investment, for there was evidently a clamor among the preachers for a Conference Organ, and he may have thought that by re-naming the Enterprise he could stem the tide toward a new church paper.

If this was his motive, it failed of its intended effect, for there was some action going on behind the scenes which did not get into print, and on Dec. 3 the name of H. T. Hudson was no longer on the masthead of the paper. On the editorial page appeared a notice saying that Dr. Hudson had been asked to edit the proposed new publication of the North Carolina Conference to be called The Episcopal Methodist.

In the issue of Dec. 24, 1866, appears a notice of a publication which would take the place of the old Advocate. Branson, now the sole editor of the Methodist Enterprise, wishes the new paper much success and expresses his appreciation for Dr. Hudson. In the next issue the name of Branson's paper is changed back to The Enterprise (without explanation). Despite the fact that in February 1867, the Enterprise boasted of a circulation "nearly equal of that of any newspaper in the state," the paper lasted only about a month longer. On April 8, Branson announced that the paper was for sale, "if possible." If no one would buy it, he would turn over all subscriptions to the Episcopal Methodist. I cannot learn what happened after this. The files are closed, and the big bound volume stops suddenly with this issue.

With a bow and a "thank you" to this almost unknown local preacher who kept the flame of Methodist journalism burning during those two terrible years, we now turn to another volume on our shelf and follow the fortunes of Hudson and his "bold venture" in religious journalism of 1867. It was indeed a bold venture when this busy parson, who was pastor of the leading church in the state, attempted to do the job which had taxed the strength of other men. He had not been the first choice of the committee; they had selected the Rev. William Bagley, but that wise gentleman had declined. I do not know any of the circumstances except those bare facts, but it would seem that almost any man would have thought twice before tackling such a job. Hudson must have felt that his duty lay in the direction of religious journalism and perhaps he thought that here was a chance to do something for the Church that no one else was in a position to do. He had his salary as pastor and a place to live; he did not ask, or receive, any remuneration for his work as editor.

The Rev. W. H. Cunningham was publisher and "agent." Presumably this meant that he was responsible for all business affairs. Hudson had the title of managing editor, but titles meant little in those hectic days, for it was not long before misfortune struck. The office burned down and much of the type and fixtures was destroyed; the next year the ruin was complete when all that had been saved from the fire was ordered sold to satisfy claims against the publisher.

Again Hudson stepped in and saved the day. When the property was put up for sale he bought it with his own money. For a little more than a year, he continued publishing the paper and editing it, at a loss to himself in money and peace of mind. Yet no hint of this appears in the pages of the Episcopal Methodist, as the new paper was called.

Here is an interesting bit of speculation. Why was it called Episcopal Methodist? For the answer, which, so far as I know, has never before been printed, I was forced to read carefully the issues of The Enterprise which carried the doings of the General Conference of 1866. There I found what seems to be the solution to the mystery. At this Conference, it was voted to change the name of the church to The Episcopal Methodist Church. The vote was against the change. As far as I can find out, the matter was never mentioned during the next General Conference. The Conferences had spoken and their word was final. The name, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, as awkward as it was, seemed to be the choice of the people.

With this background in mind, it is easy to see why Hudson and Cunningham called their paper The Episcopal Methodist. When it was apparent that the church name was not to be changed, the Conference organ again swapped titles and became The Christian Advocate. For several years, however, the editors seemed a bit uncertain as to the exact name and fluctuated between The Christian Advocate and the Raleigh Christian Advocate, sometimes putting both names in the same issue on different pages. Bobbitt, who became editor in 1868, records that he was appointed editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, but the name was not officially changed until 1870, when, in the fall of that year, it became The Christian Advocate.

When the Rev. J. B. Bobbitt became editor, he inherited much trouble and few subscriptions. He states that the total number of subscribers was 250 and that many of these were not in the habit of paying for the paper! He says, "In about two months the number was increased to about one thousand . . . I was editor, proofreader, book-keeper and mailing clerk . . . thus the paper, our paper, lifted its head above the waves of misfortune and has had smooth sailing all the while, until it now has its place in the great family of Advocates in the Southern Church, not only in point of circulation but also in character, influence and usefulness." Those words were written in 1867 and, although there were times in later years when the Advocate seemed headed for disaster, yet it has lived and prospered in accordance with the dreams of this good man.

H. T. Hudson again enters the picture, for in 1871 he became associate editor, and served in that capacity until 1872, when he became agent of Greensboro Female College. He was followed in Advocate office by R. T. Gray, Esq., a lawyer, who served until 1873, when he returned to the practice of his profession, but in 1874, at the earnest request of the overworked Dr. Bobbitt, he came back, bought a half interest in the paper and became assistant editor.

We have in our files the bound volume of all issues for 1873. It is still a large size newspaper with four pages which, because of the small type and lack of illustrations, contains more reading matter than our present sixteen. An indication of the change in policy since those days is found in the numerous communications signed by fictitious names. One issue contained a note by Bobbitt to the effect that he had just rejected an article from "Alexis" in reply to the rejoinder of "Lictor" because he felt that the brethren had exhausted the subject. "We hope," he said, "that the brethren will settle the points at issue, privately."

A "Letter from Salisbury" in the issue of Jan. 21, 1873, gives a very frank and somewhat critical evaluation of the churches of that city. The writer, who uses his initials only, pays his respects to just about everything and everybody, describes the red-clay streets which turn into mud-holes in time of rain, and tells of the various churches and their pastors. He likes the Methodist Church (as could be expected) and gives grudging commendation to the organ, which, he says, is large enough to "pitch and lead the music, but not large enough to do much harm." He commends also the Presbyterian church and pastor, although he thinks its worship somewhat peculiar, but he has no use for the Lutherans and the Episcopalians. The latter, he thinks, are on their way back to the dark ages with their ritualism, but he wonders why, with all their error, they seem to be growing!

In another issue, the still evident irritation between the Northern and Southern branches of the church is noticed in a criticism of Bishop Haven who seems to have offended the South in some drastic fashion, and the editor prints with satisfaction a criticism of the bishop by one of his Northern episcopal colleagues.

Mr. R. T. Gray, who had acted as assistant editor since 1872, gave up that office in 1873. But the volume for 1875 again bears the names of Bobbitt and Gray, Publishers, and the name is now the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

There is a gap of five years in our records here, but we know that Bobbitt continued as editor until 1878, when he resigned and sold his interest in the paper to W. T. Black and Frank L. Reid, who carried on the publishing business together until 1885 when Dr. Reid became owner and editor. In 1893 the Rev. W. L. Grissom became associate editor.

It was in 1894 that the North Carolina Conference and the newly formed Western North Carolina Conference agreed to publish a joint paper, and accordingly the office of the Raleigh Christian Advocate was moved to Greensboro and each Conference elected an editor. The Rev. H. M. Blair became co-editor with Grissom and the paper continued for one year under their management. At the end of this year, Dr. Blair retired and Dr. P. L. Groome took his place.

When the North Carolina Conference and the Western North Carolina Conference decided to support one paper in common, the name chosen was the N. C. Christian Advocate, and in 1896 the Rev. T. N. Ivey, the son of George Washington Ivey, and a promising young pastor in the N. C. Conference, was chosen to represent his Conference as co-editor, with the Rev. L. W. Crawford. Each editor was expected to promote the interests of his own section. This unusual arrangement was doomed to failure, and it was soon apparent that these interests were not in agreement and the editorials would of necessity reflect their opposing views.

The break came within a year. It was caused, not by disagreement between the two men on personal matters, but by the controversy which rocked North Carolina Methodism at that time. It is hard for an outsider, at this distance in time, to appreciate the difficulties which plagued the Advocate editors. So strong was the feeling among their readers that it was easy for the editors themselves to become embroiled in the argument over Trinity College. Ivey supported the president, Dr. J. C. Kilgo, and Crawford gave his support to the other side. Dr. M. T. Plyler, in his biography of Dr. Ivey, says, "Each editor filled two pages or more a week with editorial matter that tended to make the paper a 'double-barrel affair,' as some have dubbed it."

Conditions became so difficult that the North Carolina Conference voted to buy a half interest in the paper and move their half back home. So it was that in February 23, 1899, the Raleigh Christian Advocate once more made its appearance, with T. N. Ivey as editor. Its subscription list was less than 3,000 and its debt was three thousand dollars; its equipment was old and inadequate. Yet despite these handicaps, the paper began to grow and prosper, largely because of the genius of its editor.

Perhaps the most popular feature of the Raleigh Christian Advocate during the editorship of Dr. Ivey was the editorial page where he gave full rein to his flair for pungent pronouncements on all the issues of the day, and, at the same time, could indulge in his love for poetical descriptions of scenery encountered in his rambles over the state. An editor such as he could develop and re-develop a theme and still have space left on an editorial page which was larger than four of our present pages. Dr. Ivey did full justice to his space, and his fame grew with every year until, after eight years, he was elected editor of the Christian Advocate, the general organ of the M. E. Church, South.

Although Dr. Ivey's fame rested upon the firm foundation of his ability as a writer of editorials and travel notes, his popularity among North Carolinians may have been enhanced even more by his humorous sketches written from time to time under the pseudonym of "Bildad Akers." These sketches were later collected into a book.

During the years following the resignation of Dr. Ivey and prior to the second merger of the two papers, Dr. L. S. Massey edited the Raleigh Advocate and Dr. H. M. Blair, the North Carolina Christian Advocate. The latter became the official organ of the Western N. C. Conference in 1901, and was published in Greensboro, while the Raleigh paper continued to come out of the state capital.

It was during Dr. Blair's editorship that the present policy of self-support was inaugurated. Blair bought a good press with borrowed money and began to turn out printing of such good quality that he soon was able to buy a good building and acquire an up-to-date printing plant.

After several years of negotiation, the two Conferences decided to join once more in a joint enterprise and in June 1919 the merged papers again took the name of the N. C. Christian Advocate. Dr. Massey, whose term as editor had begun in 1910, joined Dr. Blair as co-editor at Greensboro. Blair resigned because of ill health in November of 1920 and Massey was elected president of Louisburg College. Then another of North Carolina's brilliant thinkers and writers became editor, Dr. Gilbert T. Rowe, who is known to all Methodists in the state and to ministers all over the nation, became editor in December, 1920. Under his leadership, the paper grew and prospered, but again the Church called for an Advocate editor to take an even larger responsibility and in November 1921 Dr. Rowe left Greensboro for Nashville, where he became Book Editor.

The election of Dr. A. W. Plyler brought to the editorial desk one of its most interesting and talented occupants. A member of the W. N. C. Conference, he had served as pastor and presiding elder with distinction. The Rev. T. A. Sykes was elected business manager, representing the North Carolina Conference. Some years later the Board of Publication, headed by D. B. Coltrane, sold the Advocate Building on East Gaston Street for $80,000 and built the present structure.

When Mr. Sykes resigned in November of 1927, the Rev. M. T. Plyler, twin brother of the editor, a member of the N. C. Conference, was elected as co-editor and co-business manager. Then began one of the most perfect partnerships which has ever been known in journalism. For these men were so much alike in that it was not possible for many people to tell them apart and no one seems to know "who did what" around the office. It has been said that one was the editor and one the business manager, but that the business manager edited the paper and the editor managed the business.

The years of their labors were full of problems and the pages of the Advocate reflect the thinking of these men who were very frank to state their opinions. Their influence upon the church extended far beyond the orders of the state. The Advocate was quoted by other publications all over the nation, and other church editors looked with admiration at the pages of this great magazine, which by that time had increased the number of pages to 24, which were filled with well-written articles and departments which kept the work of the church before all the people.

There is not room in this sketch to tell of the history of these last twenty years. We have left that task to later historians. We must cover this era by simply saying that upon the retirement of the Plylers in 1945, the Rev. H. C. Sprinkle, Jr., was elected editor and brought to the paper a flair for religious journalism which carried him to the top of his profession as editor of The World Outlook, a position which he now holds. His successor in 1949 was a member of the North Carolina Conference who had earned recognition as a writer while yet a young pastor. The Rev. Cecil W. Robbins served with distinction for nearly seven years and left the post to become president of Louisburg College in 1955, when the present editor, a member of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, took office. He is assisted by a long-time newspaperman and printer, Mr. O. D. Park, who had been associated with the magazine during the terms of Dr. Sprinkle and Dr. Robbins. The Rev. Walter Thompson, a pastor in the WNC Conference, had been elected to act as associate to Dr. Robbins during his last four years and was in charge during the month which elapsed between the resignation of Dr. Robbins and the coming of the present editor.

Much of the present splendid circulation of the Advocate is due to the very efficient efforts of Dr. Robbins and Mr. Thompson, who were responsible for the large number of every-family subscriptions.

The present circulation of the Advocate is 31,000; it owns its own building and equipment, valued at a quarter of a million dollars, and has no outstanding debts. As far as we can learn, it is the only Conference Organ in the church which operates on a self-sustaining basis, asking no subsidy from the Conferences and paying its own way by the income from subscriptions and job-printing.

The Board of Publication, headed by Dr. A. J. Hobbs, has exercised wise judgment during the years in building up an organization and maintaining its equipment and property. It owns the building and machinery, the editor's residence, which cost $18,000 and is well worth $35,000.

The Board includes the following members: Dr. A. J. Hobbs, president, New Bern; W. B. Hall, vice-president, High Point; Rev. O. Kelly Ingram, secretary, Elizabeth City; T. C. Hoyle, Sr., Greensboro; C. E. Jordan, Durham; N. E. Edgerton, Raleigh; J. N. Hackney, Wilson; Dr. W. O. Weldon, Gastonia; Dr. H. G. Allen, High Point; and L. W. Routh, Greensboro.

1. That a committee be, and is hereby created, for the purpose of studying the desirability of the establishment of a conference center, which committee shall have the power to study the needs of the various boards and agencies of the conference, to investigate possible locations and to study and prepare plans for a suitable building, and to assemble other information with reference to the establishment of a conference center, and

Tribute: A. C. Waggoner read the following tribute to the late B. Reid Wall and requested that it be printed:

In a bygone day it was often said that "an institution is the lengthened shadow of a man." Man, at that time, was master of his machines and organizations, and the norm of life was more placid and uncomplicated.

In our strenuous day it might be said that man is overshadowed by his institutions and is some times a victim of their pressures and demands. Leaders must carry their responsibilities with apparent fortitude and outward morale when the inner man carries his private grief to sleepless pillows.

This type of soul is so sensitive that it suffers most when others' welfare is bound up in its work, and sometimes one cannot tell others of his burdens and troubles. If to that is added an idealism that almost calls for perfection, one has an insight into the kindly soul of a real brother and friend, the Reverend B. Reid Wall, who does not answer roll call in our militant body today.

He was a cultured gentleman without guile; a pastor superb, and a preacher who ornamented the gospel with strong integrity and personal practice; a diplomat in administration, he always went the second mile to meet and resolve difficulties; this made him a known success in handling the affairs of the Home for the Aged in Charlotte where he rendered his last service. Prior to those burdensome days he had held pastorates in a half dozen charges and always with an effectiveness beyond the average standard of excellence. It was a trial to his spirit to leave the pastorate and take up the complicated work of administering the affairs of a new institution which bristled with many problems. His spirit was so true to his tasks, that we, parting with regret, yet surmise that his day of service is not over and in the "Land of Beginning Again" he abides with the immortals in the "Home of the Ageless."

Announcements: M. T. Lambeth made announcements.

Benediction: Ross Francisco pronounced the benediction at 4:12 p.m. and the conference adjourned.

FOURTH DAY—SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1956

Morning Session

Retiring Men: The secretary called the roll of the men who retire at this conference; Bishop Harmon asked them to come forward and spoke words of commendation to them after which the secretary presented them certificates of retirement. Hymn 225, "True-Hearted, Whole-Hearted," was used.

(Later the secretary was given the final report showing that an additional approved supply, one supply, seven lay regular and two lay reserves had registered).

Privilege Matter: The secretary presented Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Bates and paid tribute to the fine work they had done since Unification at the registration desk. Dr. Bates spoke briefly of his appreciation for the privilege he had had of serving his conference.

Daily Minutes: C. J. Caudill for the committee on Daily Minutes reported that the minutes for Friday's sessions had been read and were correct.

Introduction: Dr. Charles Laymon, editor of Adult Publications, was introduced.

Conference Entertainment: E. H. Blackard presented the report of the conference entertainment committee. He suggested that section 2 be considered first.

J. Clay Madison presented an amendment to paragraph 1 of section 2 to read as follows: 1. "The Annual Conference, through its Conference Expense Fund, provide for room and meals of the lay and clerical members, all supplies serving charges, probationers, and men coming into the conference on trial, and deaconesses, at a rate of $3.00 per day for days in actual attendance," and an amendment to change the third paragraph to read "$3.00 per diem for its pastor and lay delegate" and to add the following at the conclusion of the paragraph, "and that a similar amount be provided from the Conference Expense Fund for retired ministers and other members of the conference who have no charges."

Mark Depp spoke against part of the report; D. K. Funderburk spoke against the idea of not being entertained in homes; E. H. Blackard spoke in favor of the original report. A standing vote was taken; 125 votes were in favor of the amendment and 106 against, and the amendment carried.

L. A. Scott presented an amendment to delete the words "to not more than four days" from paragraph 5. The amendment passed.

Section 2 was adopted.

E. H. Blackard presented section 1. James W. Fowler, Jr., extended an invitation for the 1957 Conference to meet at Lake Junaluska; J. T. Shackford seconded his motion, and section 1 was adopted.

The entire report was now before the conference, and C. C. Herbert, Jr., made an amendment to the third paragraph. At the close of the paragraph he moved that these words be added, "that the charge treasurer send to the conference treasurer the sum of $24 to cover this expense." E. H. Blackard seconded the motion, and L. A. Scott spoke to it. The amendment lost.

W. Kenneth Goodson made a motion that the following words be added as an amendment to the third paragraph "that the amount per diem for each charge shall be sent to the conference treasurer by the charge treasurer at a time designated by the conference treasurer in an amount to cover the duration of the conference." L. A. Scott seconded this. C. C. Herbert, Jr., expressed the view that the motion was vague. L. A. Scott moved an amendment to the amendment which would substitute the word "may" for the word "shall"; this amendment to the amendment lost. The vote was taken on the amendment and prevailed.

C. H. Peace asked if students and supplies were included in the meaning of paragraph six as previously adopted; E. H. Blackard answered that they were. The report, as amended was then adopted.

Appeals: The following report of the Committee on Appeals was adopted after presentation by G. W. Bumgarner:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON APPEALS WITH RESPECT TO THE CLAIM OF PINE GROVE CHURCH AGAINST THE ALBEMARLE CIRCUIT

This report relates to the appeals of Pine Grove Church formerly on the Albemarle Circuit and the remaining churches on the Albemarle Circuit with respect to an equity claimed by Pine Grove Church in the Albemarle Circuit parsonage. Notice of the committee meeting was attempted to be given to the proper persons representing the several churches interested in this appeal, and it is assumed that the notice reached them. However, no one representing either of the churches appeared before the committee. The committee, therefore, does not have information which it considers sufficient to arrive at a just and proper opinion as to the disposition that should be made of the appeals.

It is, therefore, recommended that this matter be continued until the next meeting of the Annual Conference. In the meantime, the committee will undertake to obtain information upon which it can make its recommendation.

Respectfully submitted, this the 21st day of September, 1956.

J. H. Brendall, Chairman
G. W. Bumgarner, Secretary

Minimum Salary: M. Wilson Nesbitt presented the report of the Commission on Minimum Salary which was adopted (see reports).

Redistricting Committee: The following report was adopted after presentation by R. H. Taylor and G. R. Stafford:

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Western North Carolina Conference in 1955 requesting the Cabinet to continue its study of redistricting the conference and to report at the 1956 session, Bishop Harrell appointed a committee of the cabinet composed of Ralph H. Taylor, J. G. Winkler and G. R. Stafford to continue the study. The committee was empowered to add to its number outside the Cabinet and chose A. G. Lackey and E. Paul Hamilton. In addition to these Carl H. King, Paul R. Ervin, Wilson Nesbitt and Horace McSwain have set in at the meetings as resource persons.

In the study that has consumed much time and investigation, certain things stood out:

1. The rise of population in the Piedmont is increasing the number of churches and charges in each district continually. The number may increase as much as 25% in ten years.

2. The number of charges and churches per district in this conference is decidedly larger than the average for the Southeastern Jurisdiction.

3. There is a limit to the number of charges a superintendent can serve successfully.

4. Many laymen and pastors who were consulted expressed themselves as wanting the superintendent to spend more time with local churches. It was pointed out that 557 churches in the conference were served by supply pastors having less than ten years experience. It was felt that the superintendent should be a public relations man for the Church and more than a "trouble shooter."

We recommend that the Bishop and his Cabinet continue the study of redistricting and report to the 1957 session.

RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION

It is with sincere gratitude that we pause at the close of this session of our great Conference to give thanks to all of those who have made it such a rich and abiding experience. These many contacts cause us to envision anew the challenge of our church in these days. Bishop Nolan B. Harmon and his Cabinet have done a tremendous job in handling the many problems that have fallen to their lot. The ministers and the laymen of the Winston-Salem District, their district superintendent, Dr. Kenneth Goodson, the ministers of Centenary Methodist Church, Dr. Mark Depp and the Reverend J. Clyde Auman, Mr. Zeb Barnhardt and the staff members of the church have all given freely of themselves to make our stay in their great city so pleasant.

Our host ministers and the staff workers of Centenary have been magnanimous in their courtesies and hospitalities. The beautiful and spacious facilities of this church have made all the sessions of the Conference pleasant. The friendliness and graciousness of the lovely ladies who served refreshments is something long to remember.

We convey our gratitude to Mr. Henry Faust, minister of music, to Miss Margaret Vardell, organist, to the choir of Centenary Church, to the Conference Quartet and to the choirs and musical groups from various places for their services.

We are grateful to the city of Winston-Salem for all the courtesies extended to the delegates and visitors to this Conference. We are indebted to every church and to every home so lovingly opened to us. We appreciate the radio stations daily broadcasts of news of the Conference. We feel that the press has given the Conference a full and honest coverage. We are thankful for the many free facilities of transportation afforded us.

In conclusion, may the blessings of the great God whom we seek to serve, bless in abundance all those people of Winston-Salem who have been so kind and have become so dear to us.

COMMISSION ON WORLD SERVICE AND FINANCE

A new quadrennium in the on-going life of W. N. C. Methodism has begun. With it come challenges to move forward on a broad front under the banner of the Cross. If we are to accomplish for our Master those things which His Spirit whispers to our hearts, if we are to follow whither His blessed footsteps lead, we must think in larger financial terms, we must be better Christian stewards of our material possessions, we must give generously to our church.

The General Conference in Minneapolis asked our W. N. C. Conference for a 35% increase in World Service giving. Our Annual Conference agencies are facing the future with consecrated imaginations, eager to expand their work for the Kingdom.

The Conference has voted to have its 1957 session in June. Your Commission on World Service recommends that the Conference "year" 1956-57 be for a period of eight months, ending with May 31, 1957. With the prospect of a June Conference in the years ahead, we recommend that the Conference fiscal year run hereafter from June 1 to May 31, and that all pastors send in their financial reports by June 3. If this is done, the Conference Statistician can have the report completed by the meeting of Conference.

To conform with the eight-month year, most of the appropriations are two-thirds of the amount that would have been appropriated for a twelve-month year. Exceptions are the Annual Conference Operating Fund, since the cost of entertainment of the Conference is the same, regardless of the length of the year; also the Board of Evangelism, Board of Ministerial Training, and Commission on Christian Vocations.

We recommend that the total apportionments be divided as follows:

World Service	$180,501.00
Conference Benevolences	136,183.00
Inter-Denominational Co-operation Fund	7,539.00
Sub-total	$324,223.00
Sub-total brought forward	$324,223.00
Annual Conference Yearly Operating Fund	27,000.00
Jurisdictional Conference Expense Fund	10,525.00
Candler School of Theology, Emory University Building Fund	5,000.00
General Administration Fund	9,523.00
Total	$376,271.00

The Annual Conference yearly operating fund, the Jurisdictional Conference Expense Fund, and the General Administration Fund shall be prior claims.

We recommend the following apportionments to the various districts:

Asheville	$ 27,150.00
Charlotte	56,163.00
Gastonia	41,066.00
Greensboro	56,538.00
Marion	21,142.00
North Wilkesboro	7,626.00
Salisbury	43,527.00
Statesville	30,518.00
Thomasville	35,629.00
Waynesville	16,101.00
Winston-Salem	40,811.00
Total	$376,271.00

We recommend the following appropriations for Conference Benevolences:

1. Christian Education, College Section	$ 26,667.00
2. Christian Education, Local Church Section	26,667.00
3. Christian Education, Building Fund	5,000.00
4. Church Extension	11,333.00
5. Conference Missions*	33,333.00
6. Lay Activities	333.00

7. Inter-Conference Commissions on Student Religious Work	15,000.00
8. Board of Temperance	3,000.00
9. Board of Evangelism	2,550.00
10. N. C. Council of Churches	1,600.00
11. Board of Ministerial Training	2,000.00
12. Committee on World Peace	500.00
13. Committee on Christian Vocations	1,000.00
14. Commission on Town and Country Work	6,667.00
15. Board of Hospitals and Homes	333.00
16. Board of Economic and Social Relations	200.00

*NOTE: Of the amount appropriated for Conference Missions, $3,000.00 is designated for final payment to the district parsonage of the North Wilkesboro District, in harmony with the action of the 1955 Conference as recorded on Page 55 of the 1955 Journal.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

NOTE: The following recommendations are based on a twelve-month year. For the eight-month year, 1956-57, take 2/3 of the recommended appropriation.

We have examined the books and records of Mr. Herbert M. Wayne, Treasurer, Western North Carolina Conference, for the Conference year 1955-56. Our examination consisted of the auditing procedures which we deem necessary. In our opinion, the foregoing statements correctly reflect the Conference transactions for the year 1955-1956.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMISSION ON CHRISTIAN VOCATIONS

For personal happiness and the coming of the Kingdom of God on earth there is nothing more important than one's vocation. This is said with the conviction that one's total commitment to Jesus Christ has not been made until that commitment includes one's life work. Because of its importance, therefore, both to the individual and to the incoming of the Kingdom, the matter of one's vocation should be constantly given primary concern.

I. ACHIEVEMENTS

1. We rejoice to report that five district conferences on Christian Vocations have been held during the past year with 776 young people and their leaders participating. While we did not hold an annual conference-wide gathering this year, we are happy to know that more than three times the usual number of young people have been brought together for the serious consideration of their life's work. The district conferences were held by the Asheville-Marion (80), Charlotte (133), Greensboro (300), Salisbury (60), Statesville (120), and Waynesville (83) districts.

2. A thousand copies of "Methodist Service Projects" have been distributed to ministers, directors of Christian Education, and young people of the annual conference. Our supply has been exhausted and we would have used more copies but the booklet is out of print.

3. We have continued our co-operation with the Conference Board of Education in giving emphasis to Christian vocations at the Lake Junaluska youth assemblies.

4. We continue to add names of persons interested in full time church work to our central files and hope this information will be helpful both to the individuals and to our colleges and conference leaders.

5. One of your commission members was a leader in the State Methodist Student Movement vocations conference at Chapel Hill.

6. Financially, we have operated within our budget. To date, we have spent $445.04 of our appropriation.

II. RECOMMENDATIONS

1. We recommend that the Bishop with his Cabinet appoint a District Director of Christian Vocations in each District, who will be a member ex officio of the Annual Conference Commission on Christian Vocations. We encourage the full co-operation of pastors and youth leaders with district directors of Christian Vocations. This newly-created officer should prove of great assistance to the district director of youth work in promoting Christian vocations.

2. We recommend that a district Christian Vocations conference be held in every district. We believe these meetings can be held at a minimum cost by our colleges assisting freely with an adequate leadership. The district conference, however, should not limit the consideration of the topic of Christian Vocations in the sub-district and in the local church youth meetings.

3. We need to join with our allies to help promote a Christian philosophy of vocation. Any project as large as helping our tens of thousands of youth choose the correct vocation is a stupendous one and involves the co-operation of the church with other agencies. Our allies in this program are our public schools, our colleges, and the U. S. Employment Service. There is a place for technical evaluations, but there is also a place for personal Christian decisions. The church must keep alert in this field to assure the decisions of being both factual and spiritual.

4. The assurance of persons getting into the right vocations goes back to the home and the local church. We must begin early with our teaching of true values and the importance of one's work being approved by God in Christ Jesus. Let this matter be given consideration in our homes and by youth leaders in the regular learning experiences of the church school.

5. We propose to continue the distribution of "Methodist Service Projects" to all ministers of the annual conference and to all directors of Christian Education in churches of the same area.

6. We invite local youth leaders to call upon your chairman of the Conference Commission on Christian Vocations for any assistance in teaching Christian Vocations. In addition to "Methodist Service Projects," we also have a display of books and pamphlets on vocations, and a limited number of audio-visual aids, which may be borrowed for the cost of return postage.

7. To alert our local church leaders to the importance of Christian vocations, we recommend that where Workers' Conferences are held that at least one of these conferences give attention to how the local church leaders can help young people make choices for Christian vocations.

8. If your local church has a library, we encourage the establishment of a shelf of books and pamphlets on vocations.

9. We propose to strengthen our support and co-operation with the State Methodist Student Movement in the attention given to helping college students make their choice for Christian vocations.

People will find true happiness, and the Kingdom will come, only as individuals find the right life work and make it an integral part of their commitment to Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.

COMMISSION ON MINIMUM SALARY

After careful study and discussion of Minimum Salary in the Western North Carolina Conference we present the following recommendations as the basis of operation for the ensuing quadrennium. It is understood, however, that the Commission will review the program annually, making such adjustments as may be warranted.

We recommend:

1. That the Minimum Salary Commission be composed of the executive committees of the Board of Lay Activities, the Board of Missions and the Commission on Town and Country Work, two District Superintendents appointed by the Bishop and two District Lay Leaders, appointed by the Conference Lay Leader. Among the duties of this Commission are these: (a) To study all matters pertaining to the Minimum Salary Program. (b) To guide the district committees on Minimum Salary. (c) To recommend the schedule of minimum support to the conference.

2. That there be a District Committee on Minimum Salary, composed of the District Superintendent, the District Lay Leader and the Associate District Lay Leaders, to work with the District Superintendent in the matter of cultivation, promotion and education pertaining to the Minimum Salary Program.

3. That the Executive Committee of the Board of Missions administer the Minimum Salary Fund.

4. That the Minimum Salary Commission be authorized to use an amount not to exceed $1,000.00 annually of the Minimum Salary Fund for operating expenses.

5. That the District Superintendent make full use of the District Committee on Minimum Salary in working with pastoral charges now receiving Minimum Salary Funds to secure increases in salaries and to develop sound financial systems. This should include: (a) An every member canvass. (b) Use of envelopes and record systems. (c) Regular reports to the members of monies received and spent. (d) Voluntary adopting a schedule of increases whereby a charge will within a period of one to five years be completely self supporting, and if this is impossible that study be made under the direction of the District Committee with the idea of increasing the pastoral load, or developing a larger parish program, or becoming either a student or part time supply appointment.

6. That before a circuit charge divides to form two or more charges the report entitled "Constituting Pastoral Charges," adopted by the Annual Conference and found on page 116 of the Journal for 1954, be studied and followed, and

That if a newly created charge will need to receive Minimum Salary Funds the plans for the division must be approved by the District Minimum Salary Committee and reported to the Conference Commission at least six weeks before the meeting of Annual Conference.

7. That the Commission on World Service and Finance approve an apportionment for the Minimum Salary Fund of 3% of the amount raised by each pastoral charge the preceding year on the following items: (a) Paid Other Current Expenses and Incidentals (Item 44 of Pastor's Report), (b) Paid for Church School Administration Supplies, etc. (Item 45 of Pastor's Report), (c) Paid Minister and Associate Minister(s) (Item 47 of Pastor's Report).

8. That an expense account or other monetary compensation provided the pastor shall be counted among the total resources making the total minimum received by the pastor.

9. That in the instances of newly organized churches and of pastoral charges that pay less than 75% of the total minimum these be referred to the Administrative Committee by the District Superintendent.

10. That in the case of establishing new congregations the Minimum Salary Fund may be used to supplement the salary up to $4,500.00 for a period up to four years, provided that within the Conference year the amount spent for this purpose shall not exceed 1/4 of 1% out of the 3% collected from the local church.

11. That the schedule for 1956-1957 be on a 12 month's basis to be pro-rated with the 9 month year as adopted by the Annual Conference.

A. Basic Schedule:

Student Supplies (including all Supplies, Probationers and members of Conference serving pastoral charges and attending school), from $1,200.00 to $2,400.00 on an adjusted basis; Retired Supplies, $2,400.00; Full time Supplies, $2,600.00; Full time Approved Supplies, $2,800.00; Probationers (members of Conference on trial), $3,000.00; Conference Members, $3,200.00

B. Years of Service Supplement:

Full time Supplies, (except Retired Supplies) $100.00 for each five full years of service up to 25 years.

Conference Members, $150.00 for each five full years of service up to 25 years.

C. Student Pastor Schedule:

	Living on Charge	Living Off the Charge
(1) Seminary
A—Man, Wife, Children	$2400	$2200
B—Man, Wife	2200	1900
C—Single	2000	1700
(2) Junior-Senior Undergraduate
A—Man, Wife, Children	2200	2000
B—Man, Wife	1900	1700
C—Single	1700	1400
(3) Freshman-Sophomore Undergraduate
A—Man, Wife, Children	2000	1800
B—Man, Wife	1800	1600
C—Single	1600	1200

12. That each pastoral charge that pays its pastor an amount equal to a total of $3,200.00 shall be considered as having paid the Minimum Salary schedule, however, we urge every local pastoral charge to set a minimum goal of $4,000.00 for the pastor's salary.

13. That the status at the time of Annual Conference and that the years of service accredited by the Board of Pensions shall determine the basis for the payment of the Years of Service Supplement throughout the conference year.

M. WILSON NESBITT, Secretary

COMMISSION ON TOWN AND COUNTRY WORK

As we come to the close of another quadrennium your Commission on Town and Country Work feels that definite advances have been made in town and country church work. Notable among these have been:

1. The publication of "Studies in Western North Carolina Methodism." It was published in 1953 under the guidance of Dr. Earl Brewer. Two supplements, giving the Records of Performance of each local charge, have been published.

2. The Student Summer Service Program which was begun in 1953 with two college students serving in Town and Country churches has grown remarkably. In 1954 nine students worked 42 weeks; in 1955 nine students served 55 weeks and in 1956 eleven students served 65 weeks.

3. By supporting the program of the Methodist Rural Fellowship the Fellowship has been able to hold an annual overnight retreat resulting in heightening the morale and efficiency of our town and country pastors and laymen.

4. A full delegation was sent to the National Methodist Town and Country Conference held in Bloomington, Indiana, in 1955.

5. The office of Executive Secretary of Town and Country Work became full time in 1954 enabling the Secretary to devote full time to the work.

During the current year, 1955-56, assistance has been given to local churches in discovering building needs, developing plans, church school organization, church locations, division of circuits and study of local church performance records. Institutes have been held and special studies made in Catawba, Caldwell, Iredell, Stokes, Surry, Yadkin, Clay, Cherokee, Graham, Cleveland, Rutherford, Davis, McDowell and Avery Counties.

Reports of the Bloomington Conference have been given with an emphasis upon what the National Town and Country Conference means to the local church.

Assistance was also given in two training schools and several informal study and training sessions of three days each.

Throughout this year, as in other years, an attempt has been made to assist pastoral charges on the basis of their needs and possibilities.

For the year, 1956-57, the Commission recommends that:

1. In order to strengthen the work of the local church special effort be made to have a School of Missions in every church using the text that grew out of the National Methodist Town and Country Conference held in 1955, "High Hours of Methodism in Town and Country Churches," by Charles M. McConnell.

2. The conference approve the following program of service to be rendered through the Commission on Town and Country Work during the ensuing year:

- a. The continuation of the Student Summer Service program in co-operation with the Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service to train and use young women college students to help in Vacation Church Schools and Youth Activities Weeks in small churches.
- b. The continuation of the research program to provide the conference with information on Records of Performance in the fields of evangelism, church schools, stewardship and benevolent giving.

We call attention to the Quadrennial Emphasis on the Local Church that will give special attention to a self-study of the local church and to the promotion of activities in the fields of the four commissions. The information gathered by the Commission on Town and Country Work is available to all agencies and individuals interested. The services of the Commission in the field of research and study will be available to all who desire them.

- c. The continuation of the research and survey services that assist in location of churches and parsonages, determining charge boundaries and dividing circuits, etc.
 - d. The continuation of the co-operation and support of the work of the conference Methodist Rural Fellowship.
 - e. Provide special services in the field of "Financing The Rural Church," giving assistance to pastoral charges in establishing sound financial procedures.
 - f. Provide in-service training opportunities for supply pastors and probationers through "Know-How Institutes" and Orientation Tours of conference offices and institutions.
 - g. Provide leadership training opportunities on the program of the local church through "Church Advancement Services" for groups of churches.
 - h. Assist in forming and nurturing sub-district co-operative organizations and work such as Group Ministries and Larger Parishes.
3. Wilson Nesbitt be appointed as executive Secretary of Town and Country Work for the ensuing year.

BIBLE BOARD

Your Bible Board rejoices in the action taken by the General Conference this year. The action is thought provoking and has in it some very timely suggestions. We are making this the main section of our report. The following is the report as adopted by the General Conference of 1956:

WHEREAS the problems which confront humanity in this century are such that men are seeking for knowledge and assurance which will stand the test of time and experience; and

WHEREAS the Bible reveals eternal truths concerning man's relationship with God in a manner which has satisfied the needs of people in every generation; and

WHEREAS a new interest in the Bible is evidenced in the popularity of books, magazine articles, plays, and motion pictures which deal with Bible subjects; and

WHEREAS ignorance concerning the facts and teachings of the Bible characterizes many professing Christians and members of the Church; therefore,

Be It Resolved, that the Methodist Church shall emphasize Bible Reading and Study during the Quadrennium 1956-1960; that the general agencies of the Church utilize all available means to help our people read, study, and know the Bible; that Bible study in classes and groups, Church School curriculum materials, Bible Conferences, personal and family Bible reading, articles in Church periodicals, and other means of approach be to strengthen our people in knowledge of the Bible and in the application of the truth of the Bible to the problems of our day.

We further recommend:

1. Since all Scripture is inspired by Almighty God and profitable for teaching, for correction, and for training in righteousness that the man of God may be complete for every good work, we recommend that our preachers give themselves to continued emphasis on Biblical preaching.

2. The Editor of our Church School Literature is giving special emphasis to the study of the Bible in our home. He suggests that parents and children study the Bible together. We rejoice in this emphasis and recommend its practice in every home.

3. We believe that carrying a copy of the Bible to the Church School is a wholesome and profitable experience and recommend that such procedure be followed by all our people.

4. We recommend the observance of Universal Bible Sunday and other days in which special emphasis can be given to the Book of Books.

5. The American Bible Society is doing an excellent job in publishing and distributing the Scriptures and is entirely worthy of our whole-hearted support.

6. We recommend that the Bible be accorded the central place in the programs and activities of our youth, that these essential truths be so clearly interpreted to youth that they will become a vital power in their lives and the standard by which they live.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Report No. 1

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES SECTION

1. Brevard College

Brevard College takes great pride in being completely owned and operated by the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church. The Board of Trustees, the President and the officers of the administration and staff join in expressing appreciation to the Board of Education, the Methodist College Foundation, and the pastors and laymen of this great conference for their financial and moral support. All members of the college family believe in Christian higher education and are happy to be a part of our Methodist program in Western North Carolina.

Statistics for 1955-56: Officers and instructors, 30; students, 328; value of property, $1,061,378; endowment, $576,881.47; scholarship awards, $33,660 to 179 students.

On the basis of the recommendation of the Board of Education and the approval of the annual conference last fall of increased support for Brevard College, a faculty salary schedule has been projected. The Board of Trustees in annual session in the spring approved a faculty salary schedule ranging from $3,000 to $4,500. Placing the faculty members on this scale according to degrees and number of years of experience will increase the average salary of the faculty members from $3,095 to $3,850. Including the seven additional faculty members that have been added to the staff this fall, this will mean an increase of from $55,600 for salary instruction to a figure of $91,460 for 1956-57. It is quite evident that an increase of this nature could not have been adopted nor considered without the increase in the Sustaining Fund which was approved last fall and which must continue if this institution is to meet this obligation.

This past year has witnessed physical progress at the college. $13,998.63 was spent out of the operating budget on new equipment and the improvement of facilities. From the capital funds account, four new homes have been constructed and two new streets have been paved at a cost of $36,000.

The Trustees of Brevard College requested permission of the annual conference last fall to project a limited solicitation campaign for capital funds with which to build a new campus center building and a music and fine arts building. This program was later approved by the Executive Council of the Methodist College Foundation. A campaign goal has been set at $500,000 for these two projects. In this campaign effort, there will be no church quotas nor solicitation of churches. The campaign is directed by the Board of Trustees to themselves, friends of the college, industries and corporations within the bounds of the Western North Carolina Conference. This campaign is now in progress and will be concluded by December 31, 1956. The campaign is not designed in any way to interfere or to conflict with the emphasis on higher education which will be projected by the annual conference during the next four years. If this campaign is successful, Brevard College will still need $1,000,000 with which to construct a new science and engineering building, a central heating plant and a new gymnasium and physical education building.

The Board of Education and the Conference is requested to confirm the election of the following persons to serve on the Board of Trustees of this institution:

Class of 1962: C. C. Boshamer, Mark Depp, T. A. Finch, C. G. Heffner, William M. Henson, Clyde R. Hoey, Jr., Leon Ivey, Frank Jordan, J. B. McLarty, W. B. Moore, C. E. Morgan, Clifford Perry, Norwood Robinson, Flake Sherrill, L. F. Tuttle, Guy Weaver.

Add to class of 1958: Dwight Phillips, Mrs. Dan K. Moore, A. G. Myers, Jr., Charles Wade, Jr.

Add to class of 1960: P. L. Shore, Jr., George Snyder, Haywood Robbins.

The following appointments (with annuity claims) are requested: Robert H. Stamey, President; C. Edward Roy, Professor of Bible and Christian Education; Nelson Adams, Head of Music Department.

2. Duke University

Officers and instructors, not including assistants, 663; students for the academic year 1955-56, 5,091; students for the summer school, 1,393; students in the Divinity School, 283; total assets, $88,445,295.25. No Trustees have to be confirmed at this Conference. The following appointments are requested: James Cannon, Dean of the Divinity School; Kenneth W. Clark, Professor, Divinity School; A. Durwood Foster, Jr., Professor, Divinity School; W. A. Kale, Professor, Divinity School; Creighton B. Lacy, Professor, Divinity School; McMurry S. Richey, Professor, Divinity School; James H. Phillips, Professor, Department of Religion. Gilbert T. Rowe, Professor Emeritus, remains in the retired relationship.

3. Duke Divinity School

The Divinity School has had an unusually good year. Two-hundred eighty-three students enrolled (an all-time high); of these 238 persons working for the B.D. and Master of Religious Education. Seventeen persons enrolled in the 1955 Summer Session only. Twenty-eight enrolled in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences as Ph.D. and M.A. degree candidates.

Divinity School students represent 93 institutions; Duke University has the largest number with 31. Fifteen denominations are represented with 237 of the 283 Methodists; twenty-six states and one foreign country. Sixty-seven persons received the B.D. degree June 6 and six the Master of Religious Education.

Action of Recent General Conference

- a. Increase support of Theological Schools from $800.00 per year to about $1,200,000.
- b. Voted $25,000 per year grants in aid to other institutions (non-Methodist) where large numbers of Methodist students are registered.
- c. Organize two new theological seminaries, one in Ohio and one in Kansas-Missouri-Nebraska area.

The number of applicants for admission during the present year has been much larger than ever before. The standard of scholarship for admission has been raised from a "C" average in a four-year college to a "C-plus" average and preferably to a "B" average.

For the last two years it has been necessary to close admissions by April 1 of each year. Since the Divinity School will reach and even exceed its maximum justifiable enrollment, it will not receive any large increase in the funds voted by the recent General Conference. This makes it all the more necessary that the funds which it is now receiving from the two North Carolina Conferences be maintained at not less than their present level and wherever possible should be increased. The particular case in point is the fund for the school for approved supply pastors. Each of the North Carolina Conferences this year gave $500 for this school, whereas over 40 students from each conference attended this year. The school ran this year for four weeks, thus increasing the cost for faculty and to the students. If students are granted only $50 scholarships, this would mean $2,000 from each of the North Carolina Conferences.

4. Greensboro College

A study of the charter of Greensboro College, which dates back through several revisions to the year 1838, makes it abundantly clear that Greensboro College was founded to serve all Methodists in North Carolina. Its history justifies that promise, for throughout the years almost equal numbers of our students have come from the eastern and western sections in the state. Greensboro College is owned and operated by the two conferences of North Carolina Methodism. When the College was founded there was only one conference in the state — the North Carolina Annual Conference — and the College was centrally located to serve all its people.

During the year 1955-56, the College worked toward an increased enrollment. Completion of the Greensboro Building will enable us to accommodate 435 resident students for the immediate future. Utilizing other college-owned properties may permit us to expand this to approximately 500 within the next few years. We should be able to add to this a town-student population of 75-100, thus bringing our total enrollment for the future to 575-600.

For 117 years Greensboro College has been assisting in the education of young women. Two years ago men were admitted to the College on a town-student basis. Increasingly prospective students and their parents have indicated that they prefer a co-educational institution. By accommodating these students and making the services of the College available to all young people, the College can meet its own need for additional students. For these reasons the Board of Trustees voted on March 19 to make the institution fully co-educational in the fall of 1956.

Greensboro College takes seriously its relationship to the Methodist Church. It is frankly and avowedly a church-related college. Our constant endeavor is to fuse the best in education with the highest Christian ideals. Costwise, we try to keep our fees within reach of the average Methodist family. This means that we can never charge the student the full cost of his education. Money given to the sustaining fund of this Conference goes directly to reduce the cost of instruction for each student who enrolls.

The following statistics for the year 1955-56 are subject to correction when the results of the audit are known: Officers and instructors, 54; students, 401; value of property,

$2,161,151 (book value); endowment, $831,235; endowment scholarship aid, $1,800; work awards to students, $16,750; other scholarships and grants, $5,300; tuition reduction to ministers' children and to ministerial candidates, $5,645.

The Board of Trustees recommends the election of the following persons to its membership: James G. Hanes, Winston-Salem, N. C. (term to expire December 31, 1960); Wilson O. Weldon, Gastonia, N. C. (term to expire December 31, 1960).

The Board of Trustees requests the reappointment of Raymond A. Smith as Professor of Religion and Harold H. Hutson as President of the College.

5. High Point College

The enrollment for the year ending May 28, 1956, was as follows: Regular session 963 different students; Summer School 573 different students; Extension 51 different students, making a total of 1,587. Between 80 and 90 pre-ministerial students and a similar number of young women preparing for Directors of Christian Education and other religious vocations have been enrolled this year. There were 72 faculty and staff members. We had 892 students enrolled during the last semester. For next year we are planning to hold the enrollment to the same number, certainly under 900, of students of high quality. The great majority of entering freshmen in September, 1956, will come from the upper halves of their graduating classes.

The College closed the year without a deficit. The value of equipment, buildings, and grounds has increased. The Endowment Fund has increased by $25,295.00 during the year. Approximately $10,000 has been received as current operating scholarship funds during the year.

High Point College is in desperate need of additional funds from the College Sustaining Fund of both conferences. Last year we received $22 per full-time student from the N. C. Conference Sustaining Fund and $53 per full-time student from the Western N. C. Conference, or a total of $75 from both conferences. The amount appropriated to each student at High Point College is no more than one-half, or perhaps less, of the amount appropriated by the two conferences to each student at these other colleges.

Immediate needs of High Point College in addition to greatly increased operating funds from the College Sustaining Fund: (1) $1,000,000 added to the endowment; (2) A new and adequate gymnasium and dining hall and kitchen ($400,000); a separate building for an infirmary ($60,000); (3) An adequate pipe organ for Memorial Auditorium and Chapel ($40,000).

The terms of these five members of the Board of Trustees from the Western North Carolina Conference expired at the July, 1956, meeting of the Board: Mr. H. F. Hunsucker, High Point; Mr. Charles W. McCrary, Asheboro; Dr. J. E. Pritchard, Asheboro; Mr. William F. Womble, Winston-Salem; and Mr. Elliott S. Wood, High Point. Each was re-elected by the Board of Trustees to four-year terms, closing with the July meeting in 1960, subject to confirmation by the Western North Carolina Conference. It is requested that this action be confirmed at the 1956 Annual Conference.

We ask that Dr. William R. Locke and Dr. C. Excellence Rozzelle, who are members of the Conference, be re-assigned to High Point College as Professors of Religion and Philosophy. They have been duly re-elected to these positions by the Board of Trustees of the College.

6. Pfeiffer College

Statistics for the year 1955-56: Total enrollment, 534; number of faculty, 32; number of staff, 29; value of buildings and grounds, $3,250,000; total budget for fiscal year 1955-56, $525,000; spent for Capital Expansion, $400,000; endowment, $1,625,000.

Pfeiffer College expects to enroll its first senior class in September, 1956, when the total enrollment will approximate 650 students. Our faculty will increase to nearly 50 and other expansion will be in proportion. We are now in process of completing a campaign for $1,500,000 which will make possible a new science building, new dormitory and 12 additional faculty homes. The dormitory and homes will be ready for occupancy this fall. The college is owned and operated by the Woman's Division of Christian Service and receives support from Methodist Women in all parts of the country.

7. Nominations and Appointments

We nominate and ask for confirmation of the following as members of the Inter Conference Commission: W. A. Kale, Mrs. D. D. Holt, H. C. Wilkinson, Miss Marion Craig, Carl H. King, Garland Young, M. S. Richey and J. G. Huggin, Jr.

Report No. 3

ANNUAL REPORTS OF CONFERENCE STAFF

Mrs. W. R. Reed, Miss Mary Ellen Harrell and George W. Rudisill have each given a full report on activities in the three age group divisions. Fine achievements have been realized in the entire program during the conference year. Certain general features of the program are as follows:

1. District Staff Meetings were held with each district superintendent in January. All members of the conference staff and the district directors of age group divisions were present. Plans were made for the eleven district conferences on Christian education and for other conference and district activities.

2. District Conferences on Christian Education were held in each of the eleven districts during April and May and were enthusiastically received by ministers, district superintendents, and church school workers. More than 4,000 persons attended these conferences and received help for conference and local church activities for the year.

3. The National Conference on Christian Education was held at Cincinnati, Ohio, in November and was attended by each member of the conference staff and by a number of directors of Christian education.

4. A Conference for Directors of Christian Education was sponsored jointly with the North Carolina Conference Board of Education at High Point College in April for continued in-service training for these directors. Dr. Leon Adkins, Nashville, was present and gave excellent leadership. High Point College and members of the college staff are rendering an excellent service with this annual occasion.

5. Full Time Workers in Christian Education are employed in approximately fifty churches in the conference. About half of these are certified directors with a year of experience in a local church. We are indebted to the conference program of Christian education that enlists these persons and to our church colleges and divinity schools that prepare them for this valuable service.

6. Forty-Four District Directors of Christian Education have rendered invaluable volunteer service in co-operation with the district superintendents and members of the conference staff.

7. Rhododendron Cabin, Camp Tekoa, was completed and used this year for the first time. This and other cabins cost approximately $2,500.00 and are made possible at this low cost largely by the efficient work of John Moore, superintendent of buildings and grounds, who cuts the lumber and does the carpenter, plumbing and electrical work.

8. Church School Membership is reported to be 212,594 in the 1955 Journal. This membership is the largest in the history of our conference. We have had a constant annual increase each year since 1944.

The conference year now ending has been filled with a multitude of responsibilities and opportunities. Each member of the staff has carried more than one person's share of responsibility. The devotion of Mrs. W. R. Reed, Miss Mary Ellen Harrell, George W. Rudisill, Miss Leona Morgan and Mrs. R. R. Richardson; the faithful co-operation of the executive committee and members of the Board of Education; the counsel and assistance of our Bishop and his Cabinet; the work of our ministers and church school officers and teachers have all contributed immeasurably to a most successful year for the cause of Christian education.

CARL H. KING, Executive Secretary

REPORT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

The progress made in children's work this year is cause for thanksgiving. Progress has been made in the number of children's leaders and the number of churches reached through the spring Educational Conferences; (the children's leaders enrolled in 1955 were 1610, the churches reached were 473; in 1956 leaders were 1745 and churches 507); in the number of children's workers enrolled in Christian Workers' Schools; in Laboratory and Observation classes; in the number of vacation church schools using Methodist Literature; in the number of vacation church schools; in the number of children in attendance and the number of schools having two weeks.

The director expresses her sincere gratitude to the persons who have helped to make this report—to the Executive Secretary, Dr. Carl H. King, to the Conference Staff, to the ministers, to the District Directors, to the hundreds of church school leaders for their faithful service, and to the entire Conference for the opportunities afforded her to endeavor to make more effective the ministry of the Methodist Church to the boys and girls whom God in his love and wisdom has entrusted to us.

Churches Visited: The director visited 60 local churches, meeting with building committees, workers' councils, commissions on education, teaching boys and girls and their leaders, and helping to plan missionary units.

District Visits: The eleven districts were visited twice during the year by the Conference Staff. The fall visit was for the purpose of planning the work of Christian Education with the District Staff. The spring visit was to conduct Educational Conferences for the promotion of Vacation Church Schools and other educational interests.

Duke University: The director taught a Laboratory class for Duke University in the fall and a vacation church school class during the Pastors' School.

Christian Workers Schools: The director taught in eleven Christian Workers' Schools, reaching one hundred-ninety-four churches.

Laboratory and Observation Classes: In five of the Christian Workers' Schools Laboratory classes were provided. The director and a group of leaders visited seven churches on Sunday mornings and taught Observation Classes.

Children's Division Workshop: The director led a Workshop in Winston-Salem which was attended by fifty persons, and reached eleven churches, and a workshop at Monroe for Union County.

Special Training: It was the director's privilege to attend the summer session at Hartford Seminary.

The Children's Vacation Church School Gift: Again this year the children responded to the call to provide better church schools for the boys and girls of Scandinavia. The offering amounts to $1,270.32.

Dr. Mary Alice Jones Visited the Conference: In May Dr. Jones reached leaders from the eleven districts of the conference. She spoke in three centers — Asheville, Charlotte, and Greensboro, on the topic, "The Use of the Bible in the Home and Church."

4. To encourage local churches to help each new teacher to become acquainted with the teaching materials and with teaching techniques.
5. To help local church workers to become aware of the urgent need for more time for teaching, for better use of the time, and for better prepared teachers.
6. To encourage the use of Methodist Literature in every Methodist Church.
7. To continue to enlist the interest of the total church constituency in the welfare of boys and girls.
8. To continue to strengthen the work of the Nursery Department in the local churches.
9. To continue to work with church school building committees to the end that the needs of children may be met.
10. To plan more district workshops.
11. To work toward closer co-operation between the church school and the home, especially in the use of curriculum materials.
12. To encourage local church workers to seek the most helpful ways of introducing children to Jesus, interpreting to them God's plan for their lives and bringing them into the church fellowship.

 MRS. WILLIS REED,
Conference Director of Children's Work

REPORT ON YOUTH WORK

Adult Workers With Youth

A special tribute is due our Adult workers with youth throughout this entire conference. Any success which has come to our youth program has been largely a result of their love and concern for youth, their commitment to Christ, willingness to work long hours in an already busy schedule and often working under difficult circumstances. Our adult leaders guide, train and inspire youth, preparing them for a good life of responsibility and service.

A total of 147 persons worked in a voluntary capacity with the youth program this summer in the Senior Workshops, Older Youth Week-End and Camp Tekoa. The time given to this work totaled 207 weeks. Thirty of these adult workers were ministers, six ministerial students (not including four Duke Foundation students) and the rest laymen.

This does not include time spent in training sessions and hours of study preparatory to service. These volunteers are ministers, directors of Christian education, nurses, college students, teachers, secretaries, housewives and other laymen in our church.

Because of the major role which adult workers play in the spiritual growth and development of our youth, a strong program of leadership training is recommended through convocations for adult workers with youth, leadership education courses, specialized workshops, laboratory schools, and other such programs on conference, district and subdistrict level.

Recognition is due our Executive Secretary, Dr. Carl H. King, who has been awake to the importance and potentialities of youth work for many years; our former Conference Director of Youth Work, Miss Marion Craig; District Directors of Youth Work; District Directors of Intermediate Work; Conference Secretary of Youth Work in the WSCS Mrs. Eugene A. Lamb and her District Secretaries of Youth Work.

Methodist Youth Fund

The goal of $18,000 was exceeded by $942.15 making a total of $18,942.15 which was sent in to the National office. Our contributions were third to the highest in the South-eastern Jurisdiction and fifth to the highest in the nation.

Large numbers of intermediates participated in Christian Adventure Week programs as well as Youth Activities Weeks.

Intermediate Fellowships

Nine adult leaders are at work throughout the Conference as District Directors and Associate Directors of Intermediate Work. They are Miss Lorene Weaver, Rev. Jesse Johnson, Rev. J. J. Shepard, Miss Pat Martin, Rev. W. F. Heffner, Rev. Kenneth Crouse, Rev. George Thompson, Rev. Jack Caudill and Miss Jean Beatty.

These directors are working to strengthen the intermediate fellowship in local churches through subdistrict and district work. Intermediate Fellowship programs on a subdistrict level are held on occasion for fellowship and inspiration.

Camp Tekoa

The eighth season at Camp Tekoa came to a close with nine full weeks of camping and 966 campers having shared a wealth of experiences in "Learning to Live Together as Christians." A new cabin for girls was completed during the winter. An "A" sanitation rating was maintained this year with a grade of 98.

On permanent staff were the program directors George W. Rudisill, Mrs. Carl H. King and Mary Ellen Harrell; camp secretary, Miss Clara Watkins; Dietitian, Mrs. Anne Enloe and four students serving on Duke Foundation: Reggie Cooke, Douglas Beard, Tom Lee, Elmo Knoch. Three nationals participated this season: Tony Wen, Indonesia; Anne-Lise Rossborg, Norway; Ben Zambrana, Bolivia. Mrs. Ralph Ward of Hong Kong visited two sessions.

World Friendship offerings reached $282.55 and Sunday offerings for camp improvement amounted to $173.89.

Camp Coaching Conference

This training program was held at Greensboro College early in May to acquaint counselors with the materials and program for the summer season and to give special training.

Staff meetings were held preceding each session at Camp Tekoa and once every day during the weeks of the summer.

Youth Activities Week

Again this year there has been an increase in the number of Youth Activities Week programs throughout the conference. Reports from these groups emphasizing the value of the programs include increased membership in the Methodist Youth Fellowship; increased attendance and participation; strengthened group fellowship; better understanding of the purpose and program of the Methodist Youth Fellowship; understanding how to use literature to better advantage; helped church groups, parents and other adults understand the youth program and their relationship to it; helped youth think through more clearly their beliefs, and to grow spiritually and socially. Excerpts read "It made the Bible more real and gave concrete ideas on how to study and read the Bible as well as giving training in planning programs, carrying them out and working together as a group", "It gave a better understanding of the MYF, a deeper knowledge of Christ and His part in our lives", "Youth Activities Week has become an indispensable part of the program of our charge and is appreciated by the entire congregation."

Senior Workshops

This new program replacing the assemblies met with unbounded success. The two Senior Workshops were designed to give specialized training to youth and adult leaders through participation in "MYF groups" where they could gain experience in planning and carrying through the total MYF program including council meetings, Sunday evening programs, projects, etc. Adult and youth leaders alike have asked for a repeat in this program.

Rev. Phil Shore and Rev. Mitchell Faulkner were inspirational speakers, Rev. Bob Bunch and Rev. Worth Sweet were deans and Mrs. Cecil Heckard head counselor. Miss Anne-Lise Rossborg of Fredickstad, Norway participated in the program as a national.

A total of 722 young people and 11 adult delegates shared in this experience with 74 staff members.

Senior Workshop Coaching Conference

Thirty-four adult leaders gathered at First Methodist Church in Salisbury for a two-day training session in preparation for the new workshop program held this summer. These leaders were of one opinion in emphasizing the importance of such a meeting in enabling them to do an adequate job of preparation and teaching in the summer agencies.

Older Youth Week-End

Older Youth Week-End was held Friday, June 15 through Sunday, June 17, with the theme "I Follow—Christ Above All".

Rev. and Mrs. G. G. Adams, Jr., served as dean and head counselor. The platform speaker was Dr. Harold Hutson, president of Greensboro College. Ben Zambrana of LaPaz, Bolivia, son of a Methodist minister and a student at High Point College, made a rich contribution as a National.

Special emphasis in reaching more working youth showed good results. A total of around sixty delegates plus staff seems small in comparison with the senior program, but makes a good showing in older youth summer programs at large.

A detailed study of Older Youth Work is recommended in order to give needed strength and development to this program.

Leadership Education Schools

Training schools offered 34 courses for adult workers with youth. 965 persons enrolled in these courses and 808 received credit. A general course on the Methodist Youth Fellowship was taught in five schools. Adult workers and youth received a large number of credits. Other adult leaders of youth received credit in related courses.

Conferences On Christian Education

Training was given to large numbers of adult leaders and youth in each district in planning and carrying through vacation church schools and Christian Adventure Weeks for intermediates and Youth Activities Weeks for Seniors and Older Youth.

Scandinavian Caravan

The conference youth council worked jointly with the Conference Board of Missions sponsored a youth caravan to Scandinavia for the second year. Counselors were Rev. and Mrs. Walter Miller and Miss Marion Craig. Youth members of the caravan were Betty Bullard, Janet Lineberger, Jane Johnson, Kate Gladstone, Garland Young, Frank Cook, Sarah Leak, Bob Ralls and Coy Lee Brown.

District Vocations Conference

Eight districts sponsored conferences on Christian Vocations in co-operation with the Conference Committee on Christian Vocations and District Superintendents. Through these conferences, hundreds of Methodist youth learned more about Christian vocations with special emphasis on church vocations.

Caravan

Miss Mary Jo Whitted of Canton served as counselor to a highly successful caravan program in the Conference this summer. Members of the team were Richard Howle, Hartsville, S. C.; Marilyn Lacy, Russell Springs, Ky.; Henry Flowers, Spartanburg, S. C.; and Connie Peakerson, Florence, Alabama. Effectiveness of the caravan is highlighted in one minister's evaluation: "An example of upright, clean, wholesome Christian youth in consecrated action: in daily contact, in prayer, praise, dedication and consecration all nicely blended to an evening of fellowship, teaching, singing that closed the day in moments of worship." The caravan reports 36 first decisions for Christ; 168 rededications; 151 to use talents for expression of Christ in the Church, School, Work, and home; and 24 to select as their vocation a task in the employment of the church. The churches visited by the caravan were: Macon County Subdistrict; First, Hendersonville; Midway, Lexington; Centenary, Greensboro; Central, Mooresville; and Grace, Greensboro.

United Nations-Washington Seminar

Working jointly with the Conference Committee on World Peace, the Youth Council helped sponsor the Seminar in which around sixty delegates participated. Rev. John H. Carper directed the program. Miss Hollyce Highfill and Rev. A. J. Clemmer were head counselors.

This trip made it possible for our youth to visit the State Department and United Nations headquarters, meet and hear national and international leaders allowing them to consider and follow major concerns from a Christian viewpoint.

International Week-Ends

An increasing number of local churches are having significant International Week-End programs where foreign students are invited from colleges and universities to visit in homes and churches sharing Christian faith, fellowship and international understanding.

Youth and adult leaders were represented in the following National and Jurisdictional Conferences: National Youth School of Alcohol Studies, National Conference of Methodist Youth, Jurisdictional Youth Workshop, National Conference on Christian Education, Southeastern Jurisdictional Recreation Workshop, National United Nations-Washington Seminar, Workshop for Conference, District and Subdistrict Directors, Leadership School.

Annual Conference Youth Rallies

Dr. Charles Laymon, editor of Church School publications and author of the Lenten reading book "I Follow—Christ Above All", will speak at two identical sessions of the Annual Conference Youth Rallies at Centenary Methodist Church in Winston-Salem, September 22, 1956. Two sessions are being held to accommodate the large number of Methodist youth and their ministers, counselors and advisors.

Special music will be provided by our Methodist College Choirs. Mark Rose, president of the Conference Youth organization, will preside.

Conference Youth Council

Rev. Emmett McLarty was the inspirational speaker at the Conference Youth Council which met in August at Camp Tekoa with fifty-two members representing the conference, district and subdistrict organizations present.

Youth and adult advisers carefully thought through the youth program for the entire year setting specific goals and plans for continued growth in the youth program. Mrs. Ralph Ward, wife of Bishop Ralph Ward of Hong Kong, Mrs. Carl King, Southeastern Jurisdictional Secretary of Youth Work in the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and Ben Zambrana of LaPaz, Bolivia spoke to the council.

The following goals were set by the Youth Council:

YOUTH GOALS FOR 1956-57

The Youth Council of the Western North Carolina Conference has accepted the following goals to be met in the year 1956-57 through our youth program.

I. Conference Youth Rally (formerly Youth Night): Dr. Charles M. Laymon, Editor of Adult Publications and author of the Lenten Reading Book, "I Follow—Christ Above All" will speak at two identical sessions at Centenary Methodist Church in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, September 22, 1956. Districts farthest away will come to the afternoon session at 4:00 and districts in the local area will attend the evening session at 7:30.

II. District Christian Vocation Conferences be held throughout the Conference giving special emphasis to church vocations.

III. The Conference Council send its quota of delegates to the United Nations Seminar sponsored by the General Board of Education. The Conference Youth Council co-operate with the Conference Committee on World Peace in planning and carrying through a Conference-Wide United Nations Washington Seminar.

IV. Each local church is requested to send carefully selected delegates to Camp Tekoa, Senior Workshops and Older Youth Week-End for specialized training and spiritual enrichment.

V. Conference-Wide Recreation Workshop to be sponsored by Conference Youth Council through the Christian Fellowship Chairmen and Advisors.

VI. Winning Youth to Christ.

A. Older Youth Chairmen and Advisors plan and carry through a Christian Witness Mission for Older Youth in one area of the conference as a starting point for expanding the program for older youth.

B. Have a Christian Witness Mission in every subdistrict in the Conference as a means of reaching unchurched youth and of re-enlisting inactive M. Y. F. members.

C. Encouraged by the increase in the Youth Division of our Conference last year, we urge that each local church strive to increase its membership. Also keep accurate records of membership and attendance, and maintain constant contact with college students and older youth in the armed services.

VII. Fall Action Project. We urge each local church to give special emphasis to the Fall Action Project, "Drinking and Christian Living" through well-planned programs, visual aids and specially prepared resources available through the Conference and General Boards of Education.

VIII. Goal for MYFund. A. The MYFund goal for the new year $20,000. Every local church have an MYFund pledge service stressing individual pledges. MYF's are asked to give interpretation of MYFund projects.

B. Send pledge and regular payments monthly to Miss Leona Morgan, Box 828, Salisbury, N. C.

C. Take advantage of all opportunities to familiarize youth with missions through missionaries, foreign students, films and skits.

IX. Working with M. Y. F.

A. A planning retreat for evaluation and planning.

B. Carry out Fall Action Project.

C. Watchnight Service December 31, concluding with Communion.

D. Stress attendance of youth at training school which offers courses on Christian Belief and Bible.

E. Plan a Youth Activities Week during summer 1957.

F. Make your M. Y. F. vital by having a functioning council.

X. Conference Youth Council sponsor a Convocation for Adult Workers with Youth, to give specialized training to adult leaders.

District Directors of Youth Work

District Directors of Youth Work who have worked continuously with youth and their adult leaders throughout the year are: Rev. Worth Sweet, Rev. Paul Duckwall, Miss Hollyce Highfill, Rev. Ralph Miller, Miss Pat Rothrock, Rev. Wayne Shelton, Rev. Roy Bell, Rev. Paul Lowder, Rev. Bill Rock, Miss Marion Craig. REPORT ON ADULT WORK

In II Timothy there is a statement attributed to the Apostle Paul which reads, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith." It is interesting to me just how accurately our work with adults has been summarized by this adult worker in the early Christian church. As I try to report, necessity demands that I do so in terms of "The Good Fight", "The Race", and "The Faith".

The Good Fight

The adults in all our churches should be involved in "the good fight" to grow into mature Christians. We are all faced with the Christian necessity of pressing toward the upward call of God in Christ Jesus. There are two main streams in our local churches which supply adults with opportunities to grow in Christian stature. The first stream is through our organized classes and fellowship groups. The Western North Carolina Conference has more adults enrolled in its church schools than any other conference in Methodism. During the last two years, a large number of our churches have organized new classes for their adults. We have been gaining three new adults for every hundred we have enrolled during the past few years. Our evangelistic ratio ranks very high when compared with other conferences. Yet, it is not enough. We need desperately to continue to organize new classes and study groups for the continuous fellowship needs of adults.

The other stream consists of growing opportunities in Christian living provided by study groups and adult activities which cut across all organized classes in our churches. Many of our churches can boast of Bible discussion groups, family life activities, mission study and work groups, social action projects, recreational activities for all age levels, and many other activities that reach out for every adult on the church roll. A good example of this is found in the report that 3,857 adults received credit in general study courses offered in our training schools last year. These extra opportunities must be multiplied.

Here is our "good fight". We are working to get all of our adults active in the growing processes that lead toward a more Christian life.

The Race

You will not have to talk with many of our church workers to find out how rapidly the adult work is moving. Every church has tremendous activity for all adults practically every week. Work with older adults, home and handicapped members, young couples, single adults, etc. is not just a movement. It is a race. Our laity is so concerned about this work that it is a man sized task just to provide advice, let alone trying to train leadership and examine objectives. Yet, we are working as hard as we can and here are just a few of our efforts:

Adult Division Superintendents: Last April, the district directors and I met with 279 of these superintendents in an effort to interpret the work with adults in the local church and to give them an analysis of their job. The adult division superintendent is the key person in the organization of new groups and in directing special study and activities for the entire adult membership of the church. We feel that this important task must have a well qualified and trained leader. We are making efforts to get qualified people elected to the job, and next fall we are planning meetings in every county for them.

The Adult Teachers: The Teachers' Clinics reached over 400 adult teachers last Spring. With the help of Miss Doris Dennison of the General Board Staff we conducted 42 clinics designed to help adult teachers prepare and teach lessons. We also have had 548 adult teachers and leaders receive credit in special adult courses in our training schools. Plans are in the making now to conduct more clinics next year and to conduct more special adult leader courses in the training schools.

The Adult Council of the Local Church: The conference director met with and planned with 24 local church councils last year and discussed adult work with 831 leaders. Many more of our churches need to organize an adult council as recommended in the manuals provided by the General Board of Education. The conference, district and sub-district directors of adult work are always glad to meet with local church councils to survey their needs, their possibilities and their leadership.

Young Adult Fellowships: Many local churches are organizing Fellowships for their young adults. Most of these meet monthly and provide young adults an opportunity to undertake a share of the church work. Some churches have a fellowship which is an extension of the Sunday class and others are dividing into single young adults, young couples and older young adult couples.

Young Adult Sub-districts: Most of these meet once each quarter and they aim to provide inspiration and to provide training for the local church young adults. We now have 12 active sub-districts in our conference and 6 or more are in the process of organization. We have groups in the following counties: Buncombe, Caldwell, Catawba, Davidson, Forsyth, Gaston, Guilford, Haywood, Iredell, Lincoln, Rockingham and Union.

Young Adult Assembly: We had 88 young adults from 45 churches come to Brevard College in June. Robert G. Tuttle guided the group's thinking along the theme, "A Christ Centered Faith." Other leaders were Miss Anita Harris, M. Wilson Nesbitt, Jr., Glen Lanier and Leo Rippe, Jr. The new officers and directors are: Mrs. George McLelland (Statesville) President; Raymond Smith (Greensboro) Vice-President; Mrs. Donald Thompson (Asheville) Evangelism and Church Loyalty; Mrs. Howard Russell (Charlotte) Study and Worship; Miss Mary Lou Self (Gastonia) Social Action and World Service; and Ed Fink (Salisbury) Recreation and Creative Arts. This council of officers has already met and is now planning the 1957 Assembly on the theme, "The Young Adult Group—A Redemptive Fellowship."

The Faith

Like the adults of the early church, we are keeping the faith. We are keeping it in the sense of belief since the very nature of our work is to communicate the gospel of Christ. The increase in our adult work has not come by high pressure methods but by adult groups who have worked to bring other adults into the knowledge of Christ.

We are keeping the faith in the sense of hope, also. This is seen best as our adults strive for Christian communities and a Christian world. Underlying all these efforts is the conviction that through united action by all Christians, the world can be Christianized.

We are keeping the faith in the sense of fulfilling our obligation to work together for Christ in our church. As Christians, we must work together. We must be loyal to the Church.

APPRECIATION

The conference is greatly indebted to the following who have served so splendidly as district directors: Ernest Fitzgerald, Rollin P. Gibbs, G. W. Bumgarner, Clark Benson, A. C. Kennedy, Jr., W. W. Blanton, Robert Foster, J. S. Bellamy, Glen Lanier, George C. Starr, Jr., and Glenn McCulley.

BOARD OF EVANGELISM

"Seventy million people in the United States have no contact with the church. Forty million young people are in no Sunday School. Four million babies are born annually. By 1975, the population of the United States will rise to a staggering 228,000,000 people.

"Just to hold our own in this expanding America, we must win 3,000,000 people for Christ and His Church in the next four years. We must win 360,000 a year on profession of faith to offset our normal losses. If we keep pace with the expanding population, we must win 600,000 in 1957; 700,000 in 1958; 800,000 in 1959; and 900,000 in 1960. Even so, such gains will only scratch the surface. We must have a new concern for the unchurched. We must enlist and inspire hundreds of thousands of laymen to live a life of witnessing."

This statement was made before the recent session of the General Conference by Dr. Ray W. Ragsdale, Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Board of Evangelism.

The report of the Committee on Evangelism to the Jurisdictional Conference included these statements:

"Today there are 70,000,000 unchurched persons in the United States, 11,792,051 of whom are in the Southeastern Jurisdiction. About 8,000,000 of these are more than twelve years of age.

"It is disturbing to note that from 1950-55 our population increased 10% and our church membership increased only 4.2%. Methodism has nearly always kept pace with the growth in population and usually exceeded it. The fact that we are not doing so now should cause us great concern."

These statements reflect a growing concern throughout our church for our evangelistic responsibility. But this concern expressed in the general sessions of the church must be brought down to the level of the local community. If the local church is to be strengthened, evangelism must be kept at the very center of its program, and the man in the pew as well as the man in the pulpit must have a new passion for the souls of men.

Stirred by this new concern for the salvation of men, the General Board of Evangelism has adopted as its slogan "Tell America About Christ." The Methodist Church has designated 1957 as a year of prayer and is calling upon every Conference and every local congregation to observe March 24-31, 1957 as "One Week of Evangelism." It has set a goal of 700,000 new members each year for the quadrennium. The Episcopal Message called upon the Southeastern Jurisdiction to set as a minimum goal for the Jurisdiction a net increase in church membership of 339,500 for the quadrennium. Of this number, the Western North Carolina Conference was asked to set as its minimum goal 33,675. If we reach this goal, that means that we must have a net increase of approximately 8,500 new members each year for the next four years. Surely we dare not undertake to do less than that, for North Carolina is one of the states expected to gain from 25 to 50% in population during the next twenty years.

Pursuant of these objectives, your Board of Evangelism offers the following program for our Conference:

I. LET US PRAY

A. Let us make 1957 a year of prayer in reality rather than merely in form by sponsoring a chain of prayer throughout the year, the ways and means of promoting this movement be worked out by the new Board early in the Conference year.

B. Let every District Superintendent and District Secretary of Evangelism encourage each church to join the prayer chain by observing a twenty-four hour Prayer Vigil within the congregation.

C. Encourage prayer services, prayer groups and prayer meetings throughout every congregation.

D. Encourage family altars in every home.

II. LET US PLAN.

A. On Conference and District Level:

1. One full day's planning retreat for District Superintendents and District Secretaries early in the Conference Year.

2. District and Sub-District training sessions for Pastors and Members of Commissions on Membership and Evangelism, led by District Superintendents and District Secretaries.

3. Three evangelistic rallies across our Conferences at the beginning of the Lenten Season.

4. Plan simultaneous revivals in each District some time during the year. Where it is possible, this may coincide with the Week of Evangelism, March 24-31 set by the General Church.

5. Plan Christian Witness missions for young people sponsored co-operatively by the Board of Evangelism and the Board of Education.

6. Join with other Churches and other Religious forces throughout America in promoting the "New Year to Easter" church attendance emphasis in every congregation.

7. Co-operate with the Candler Camp Meeting at Lake Junaluska and encourage every District Secretary of Evangelism to attend the Workshop on Evangelism held in connection with the Camp Meeting.

B. On Local Church Level:

1. Let each Pastor and his Commission on Membership and Evangelism hold a prayer and planning retreat for the local church.

2. Plan a step-by-step program of Evangelism for the entire year. Seek to get this program before, and adopted by, the entire church.

3. Let each church set as its minimum goal a net increase in membership of 5% a year for the next four years.

4. A report from each Pastor to the District Secretary at the beginning of the Lenten Season on plans and progress in the realm of evangelism.

5. Use the Lenten Season as a period of special emphasis on visitation evangelism and for training classes both for children and adults.

6. Utilize all accepted methods of training and conservation to stop our losses. As the report of the General Board expressed it, "we must shut the back door."

7. Seek to make every church a witnessing church, for every member has a responsibility to help "Tell America About Christ."

8. Let every church service be characterized by the singing of great hymns of faith and by a message that points men to Christ.

Along with other splendid reports to this Conference, the Board of Evangelism feels that in this area, too, excellent progress has been made during the past year. Whereas we do not know what the completed story on gains and losses will be until pastors' reports have been tabulated, we do know that our people have pursued the objectives of Christian Evangelism with great zeal. Co-operation given to the Lenten Visitation Mission was most encouraging. Due to the excellent leadership of District Superintendents and District Secretaries of Evangelism, we believe that program did much to unite our Conference in the common task of winning souls to Christ and we believe that final reports will indicate that our Conference has made significant gains. In all of this we recognize that we have done little, but that God working through us has done much. At best, we realize our accomplishments have been small in comparison with the opportunity. God has made us stewards of a great message. Let us dedicate ourselves anew to the sharing of that message with the people of North Carolina. If we do this our task well, then we will have made our contribution to the total effort of our great Church to "Tell America About Christ."

Adopted: Afternoon Session, September 19, 1956.

Report No. 2

The Board of Evangelism nominates for the office of Conference Secretary of Evangelism J. Clay Madison.

We express our hearty appreciation to the Reverend W. A. Rollins for the excellent leadership he has given in the capacity of Conference Secretary of Evangelism over a period of six years, a service which he has rendered gladly and efficiently.

We commend the work of our Conference Evangelists, the Reverend R. T. Houts and Dr. John R. Church, and request permission to print a condensed report of their services and activities for the year in the Journal. Dr. Church reported he had held 19 meetings; 980 made professions of faith; 164 united with the church. He reported 500 pledges to tithe and 450 volunteered for life service. His offerings amounted to $7,327.00.

We recommend that Dr. John R. Church be appointed as Conference Evangelist. We recommend that James D. Turner be continued as Conference Evangelist for the Conference year 1956-1957.

BOARD OF HOSPITALS AND HOMES

THE CHILDREN'S HOME

We have reached the end of what we believe has been a good year for our people at The Children's Home. As one walks in the midst of our young people and as one mingles with the members of the staff one feels a warmth of interest and a spirit of mutual helpfulness. It pleases an observer to see the happy smiles and he comes to feel that there is happiness here. There are many evidences of the growth. You have to stop and ask yourself if Jim could have grown up so much in one year. Then, too, you recall that he seems to be in much better spirits and it appears that he is coming to know what he wants and how he might get to where he wants to go. This too is important growth.

There are many different types of children's homes. There are very small ones and a few large ones. The large homes are largely in our Southeastern area. There are homes that have children for very short periods and there are those who have them for a longer period. There are those who have children for treatment purposes and there are those who think of children as coming to them to live. It appears that our Home must care for all calls. There are those who will be with us for a short time and there are those who will be with us for rather longer periods. There are those who will need treatment and there are those who just need a happy, wholesome environment in which to live. Our children are coming to us not so much because of the death of their parents as from broken homes. Their problems are more difficult. We must always recognize there is the possibility of their return to their original home. We have an obligation to keep in close contact with this possibility and to aid families in this regard. This year thirty-five of our young people did return to their families. There are always those to take their places.

Because of the treatment element in our care, it is highly desirable that we reduce our cottage load as much as possible. The disturbed, emotionally upset child needs individual attention. A great many of our homes are turning to trained personnel assistance to help in working with their children and in an effort to cope with their problems. We have made some advances in this direction.

We have added a very fine person in the field of guidance and are making use of other aids available to us in our community. It is definitely felt that our arts and crafts program, to be inaugurated with the completion of our building program, will be of great help. Added recreational facilities will mean much to us. Our new church will be of immeasurable assistance in guiding our people into wholesome growth. We are so thankful that these resources have been made available to us.

Our farm and dairy have had a good year. The cows just seem to know that we must have lots of milk and the soil yields its fertility in bountiful measures. The canning and freezing operations have been in full swing. The people who operate these facilities are most loyal and industrious.

We are probably as adequately staffed as we have been in sometime. It is good to be associated with these Christian people who are striving to serve to the maximum of their ability. Someone said that the finest things in life are wrapped up in human personalities. Surely this is so for young people.

We are proud of the results of the past year. We recognize that we must ever be alert to keep abreast of the best procedures in our field and to provide resources for the direction of the growth of the most priceless thing in life, human personality.

We desire to thank the people of this Conference for their splendid support and to recognize we stand as partners with you in this work we do.

Since the Board of Trustees has elected Mr. M. T. Lambeth as superintendent of the Children's Home, the Board of Hospitals and Homes respectfully requests the Conference to confirm Mr. Lambeth's election.

Report No. 2 THE METHODIST HOME

June, 1956, completed the eighth year of operation of the Methodist Home. At the present time, the Home is serving 168 persons whose average age is 80 years. During the past fiscal year, 42% of the total membership received supplementary financial support totaling $58,228.15. It is to be noted that due to the lengthening of the life span, by virtue of the quality of care rendered and the increasing number requiring financial supplements, it will be necessary for the Western North Carolina Annual Conference to increase its per capita giving to this most worthy cause, and we know that it will. In order for us to be able to discharge our financial responsibility in meeting this year's supplement to those who are not able to pay their full cost of care, it will be necessary for our Mother's Day offering to exceed $81,000.00.

On April 1, 1956, the Reverend C. W. Kirby became Superintendent of the Home, and has divided his time between the Gastonia District and the Home since his appointment. On October 1st, he will give his full time to the superintendency of the Home.

We are happy to report that during this year two 5-room cottages have been built along the lakeshore on the Home grounds. These cottages were presented to the Home by Mrs. Mary George and Mrs. George H. Terry. The Board of Managers has sold the property at 2132 Chatham Avenue, formerly used as the superintendent's home, and has constructed a beautiful 8-room ranch type home for the Superintendent on the Home grounds. It is located 800 feet south of the main building, on a lovely wooded elevated site.

Interest by prospective members continues high, and a total of 2,584 inquiries were received during the past year. Of the number inquiring, 73 have already made application. The Admissions Committee of the Home approved 39 applicants during the year, subject to their passing the medical evaluation and a room becoming available for them. During this year we have received 18 of these approved applicants as resident members. Space was made available for these by virtue of: 7 deaths, 3 withdrawals, 4 moving from resident area to the Infirmary, and 4 rooms being made available for membership which had previously been used for staff occupancy, or other administrative use.

Those of us who are associated with the Methodist Home are grateful to every member of the Methodist Church and to our friends for everything they have done to help us make this a successful year.

By careful study of the Home's rapid growth and progress, coupled with the actual 8 years of operational experience, the future needs of the over-all physical plant should be noted at this time. In the immediate future certain building improvements must be made to carry out recommendations of the Charlotte Fire Department for assuring maximum safety of the residents of the Home. The landscaping of the grounds adjacent to the Superintendent's home should be completed. The draining and cleaning of the lake, combined with the beautifying of the lake walks, has been badly needed for several years. In the near, or not-too-distant future, a one-story Infirmary should be built adjacent to the now existing main building, accomplishing two important factors. First, it would enable the members who, by virtue of their physical limitations and care requirements, need the services offered by Infirmary residence to live on the ground floor. This would afford them the opportunity to enjoy a possible courtyard area that living three floors up does not. Secondly, this would release approximately 45 rooms on the third floor for resident member usage, enabling the Home to make progressive strides in caring for a larger number of persons needing the care, comfort, and security the Home can offer. At the time of such Infirmary construction, it will be necessary to enlarge the existing dining room and kitchen facilities to care for the increase in population.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes respectfully requests the Presiding Bishop of the Western North Carolina Conference to appoint the Reverend C. W. Kirby as Superintendent and Minister of the Methodist Home For The Aged, Inc., Charlotte, North Carolina.

Conference confirmation is also asked for the following to membership on the Board of Managers of the Methodist Home:

Report No. 3

HUGH CHATHAM MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

AND

THE GOLDEN CROSS SOCIETY

The Methodist Church is active in a healing ministry because of the example of Christ. He commissioned His disciples to preach, teach and heal. The Church has established hospitals and homes and carried on this ministry because of Christ's command. Today the Methodist Church maintains 71 hospitals, 61 homes for the aged, 49 homes for children, and 9 homes for youth who need our guidance and instruction. Twenty-four hours a day the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital serves the sick. Last year 3,198 patients were admitted and 8,037 out-patients were treated, making a total of 11,235 patients who received hospital care. 600 babies were born. The operating budget for 1955 totaled more than $248,478.39. Value of the hospital and nurses home is $445,347.89. Ford Foundation has made a substantial donation to the hospital to be used in expansion and buying needed equipment.

Golden Cross

"What Is Accomplished"

Golden Cross funds are distributed as the Annual Conference directs. They are used to provide hospitalization for needy persons, to aid children who need a home, to give care for the aged, to pay part of the cost of hospitalization for ministers on low income charges, and to provide nursing care for the needy sick. Gifts to Golden Cross make possible many humanitarian services. Last year Methodist hospitals and homes served more than a million people in the name of Christ. This is "Christianity with its sleeves rolled up."

In 1955 patients in the hospital and throughout the Conference numbering 219 received aid from Golden Cross.

Since the Board of Trustees of the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital has elected Dr. J. S. Hiatt as Superintendent and Chaplain of the hospital, the Board of Hospitals and Homes respectfully requests the Presiding Bishop of the Western North Carolina Conference to appoint Dr. Hiatt as Superintendent and Chaplain.

Since the Board of Hospitals and Homes has elected Dr. J. S. Hiatt as Conference Director of the Golden Cross Fund, the Presiding Bishop is asked to appoint Dr. Hiatt as Conference Director of the Golden Cross Fund.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes has nominated Mr. J. L. Hall as Treasurer of the Golden Cross Fund and requests Conference election.

The following have been nominated to the Board of Trustees of Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital for a three year term, subject to confirmation by this Conference: W. M. Allen, Charles Ashby, A. L. Butler, R. T. Chatham, Jr., R. W. Harris, W. T. Medlin, Jr.

BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

The Board of Lay Activities of the Western North Carolina Conference respectfully submits the following as a report of the activities of the laymen of the Conference during the Conference year 1955-1956:

We are grateful to God for the opportunities which we have had during this year for service in his Kingdom. We have been blessed with substantial material prosperity and we feel that the work of our Church has progressed at an encouraging pace. The number of new churches built, the number of churches dedicated, the number of parsonages built and dedicated, the number of educational buildings built, remodeled and improved, the number of new churches established, the budgets which have been subscribed and overpaid, the contributions made to the causes of Missions and Church Extension, all reflect the general and increasing interest of Methodist laymen in this Conference in their church and in the work of their church. But these statistical facts alone do not tell the full story.

Within the last few years there has been an ever increasing awareness upon the part of our laymen that the laymen constitute a vital part of the Church and there has been a growing conviction among the laymen that laymen have responsibilities in all areas in which the Church labors and that their responsibility is not confined to the material affairs of the Church.

There has been a marked increase in the number of laymen who respond to the call to speak in the churches. In many areas of the Conference during the past year the pulpits of practically all of the churches were filled during the Lenten Season by lay speakers. More and more our Church is utilizing the laymen of the Church in speaking engagements to the enrichment of the Church and those laymen who undertake such a responsibility.

Laymen show a continuing and ever increasing interest in the field of evangelism. Laymen realize that evangelism is the growing edge of the Church and that there is a part to be played in this most important area by laymen who are willing to dedicate their lives and their efforts to their Christ.

There has been a large increase in the number of Methodist Men's Clubs throughout the Conference. This is gratifying, especially when these clubs are organized in the rural and semi-rural areas where it is felt especially significant work can be done by Methodist Men's Clubs. It should be noted however that any men's club which distinguishes itself must do so by the service which it renders. A working club is a worthwhile club and a club which does nothing is destined to die. We, therefore, desire to underscore in the minds and in the hearts of our laymen the necessity of ever keeping before their Methodist Men's Clubs challenging tasks in the local church and in the worldwide church. As these challenging opportunities are presented to our men and as they respond their spirits will grow and the life of the Church will be quickened.

Our laymen have not forgotten their responsibilities to God and to their church in the material areas of life. We have not done all that we should. There is still an appalling failure to accept the principle of tithing. Throughout the year in meetings across the Conference and in the local churches laymen have time and again sought to impress upon our people the wisdom and the necessity of supporting the church with our means as well as with our prayers. We are constrained to believe that these efforts have not been in vain and that the statistical reports which will be filed with this Conference in some way reflect in a small measure at least these efforts upon the part of our laymen to cause our people to realize their responsibilities in the area of worldly possessions. The laymen are deeply grateful to the District Superintendents of the Conference who have been of such great assistance in directing the layman's work on the district level, and we are grateful to the individual ministers who not only have brought their ministry to us but who have time and again afforded us the opportunity of self-expression and of service in our church. We would remind our ministers that we are anxious to make our contribution to our church and we suggest to our ministers that they not be reluctant to call upon us.

Looking to the year and the years which are ahead, your Board of Lay Activities makes the following recommendations and suggestions which we hope the laymen in every local church will give serious consideration to:

1. We most urgently recommend that there be a continuing effort to bring into the official boards, committees and commissions of the Church young men and young women. We believe that the future success of our Church depends in large measure upon our capacity to increase the interest and the efforts of the younger men and women in our congregations. Let those who are somewhat older graduate to the positions of elder statesmen and let's give these younger individuals an opportunity to place their strong shoulders and their active minds and their strong hearts behind the wheels of the Church.

2. We urge our laymen to maintain an active interest in all of the affairs of the Church and in every area in which the Church labors, including the spiritual areas as well as the material areas.

3. We urge more opportunities for our laymen to speak in the Church.

4. We urge our laymen to maintain an active interest in the meetings of the official boards of their local church and in the work of the various committees and commissions of the Church in carrying out the total program of the Methodist Church.

5. We bespeak the continued interest of our laymen in our church related colleges and urge their continuous support of these institutions. We recommend that an annual layman's retreat, to be held preferably at Lake Junaluska or at one of our church supported colleges in the state, be held annually beginning with the coming Conference year.

Respectfully submitted.

BOARD OF MINISTERIAL TRAINING AND QUALIFICATIONS

Report No. 1

The enlistment of ministers for service in the Methodist Church is one of the gravest responsibilities that devolves upon our Conference. In performance of the duty entrusted to it, the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications has had occasion to interview annually about 200 applicants in the several categories.

The 1956 General Conference enacted a number of revisions of the Discipline affecting the regulations under which the Board must operate. A summary of the chief revisions follows:

Significant Changes in the Discipline

Candidates for admission on trial who are students in approved seminaries are now required to do creditable work covering one-fourth the number of hours toward the B.D. degree. This requirement replaces the former stipulation of one-third such hours. Non-seminary candidates for admission on trial must take the introductory studies for the Ministry through the Department of Ministerial Education, Box 871, Nashville 2, Tennessee. The instruction and examination on the books for License to Preach and all correspondence work done in connection with the course of study must also be taken through the above mentioned office rather than through the correspondence school at Emory, as formerly. However, all such candidates are counselled to attend when possible the supply pastors' schools, where now a full year of a course of study may be taken at one session. All requirements for admission on trial now apply equally to women as well as men.

Candidates for full connection henceforth must have been graduated with a Bachelor of Divinity degree or an equivalent degree in a school of theology accredited or approved by the University Senate, or must have satisfactorily completed the entire four years' course of study. The two years' work under the supervision of a District Superintendent need not now have to have been done consecutively.

All the new provisions of the Discipline have been put into effect by the Conference Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications with the exception of those affecting candidates for full connection, who, at this Conference session only, will be recommended for advancement under the regulations of the 1952 Discipline.

The Short Year

Since the new Conference year will be only nine months in duration ending in June 1957, the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications will follow this course of action pending approval by the Annual Conference.

(1) It will treat the short year as a full year as far as the rights and privileges of ministerial candidates are concerned. This means that the next Conference year will count fully on time requirements related to the holding of a local preacher's license by a seminary student seeking Deacons orders, the two years on trial required of a non-seminary student seeking Deacons orders, etc.

(2) Those who wish to do so may take their regular year's work in the course of study through the Department of Ministerial Education in Nashville, Tennessee, and the Board encourages this action. The recommendation adopted at the Annual Conference meeting of 1955—that all written work through the course of study be sent in not later than three weeks prior to the meeting of the Annual Conference—shall be observed.

Seminary students, who are especially benefited by the holding of the session of the Annual Conference in June, are expected now to comply with the rule that they be present during the meeting of the Annual Conference.

All Candidates and the Board

All candidates associated with the Board of Ministerial Training are requested to report to the Registrar any changes in their addresses during the year. All seminary students are required hereafter to have a report sent to the Registrar from their seminary at the close of each academic year. When the student is seeking a new status (Admission on Trial, Deacon's and Elder's Orders, Full Connection) this report must be in the form of a transcript of credits. Students in the courses of study are requested to bring with them to the sessions of the Board and committees of the Board their own copies of the reports on their work sent from the pastors' schools or the Department of Ministerial Education, Nashville.

The initiative to meet all the above requirements is expected to remain with the candidates themselves.

Conference on the Ministry

After a year of planning, the Board is announcing a Conference on the Ministry, which will be held at Pfeiffer College on January 3 and 4, 1957. The purpose of this conference will be to seek to understand more fully the philosophy of the Methodist ministry and to correlate work with that of the District Superintendents, District Committees and other agencies. This gathering will seek to bring together for a two-day session all persons of our Conference directly involved in administration of the regulations pertaining to the standards of the ministry. Details will soon be published in the North Carolina Christian Advocate, and invitations to all persons involved will go out shortly after the adjournment of this Annual Conference.

Additional Requests

1. The Board calls specific attention to that section of its report adopted at the last Annual Conference which relates to exemption from military service. Once again the request is made that any young man seeking the support of this Board in his claims for military exemption carry out in full the suggestions about filing early a declaration of intention to enter the ministry. The pastors of these young men are asked to assist the Board in this important matter.
2. District Committees of Ministerial Qualifications are hereby once again requested to invite members of the Conference Board living in their districts to serve on the Committee as ex-officio members or observers, without the privilege of voting, in order to provide for helpful liaison between the Conference Board and the several committees.
3. Early in 1957 there will be published a new edition of Steps Into the Methodist Ministry, embodying the regulations of the 1956 General Conference and also the policies and procedures of the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications. The Board requests that all pastors, to whom the booklets will be sent, make them available to local preachers, supplies, and other candidates for the Methodist Ministry.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

METHODIST MISSIONS AGAIN A FORWARD MOVEMENT

The Methodist World Mission is again a forward movement! This joyous fact was announced by Dr. Eugene L. Smith, Executive Secretary of the World Division, at the annual meeting of the General Board of Missions in January.

"The Methodist World Mission enters the 1956-1960 quadrennium with a major asset which has been largely lacking for the last third of a century," says Dr. Smith. "That asset is mobility."

"In 1923 the parent agencies of our Board of Missions received $11,098,813 for foreign missions. This included the Woman's Division. Twenty years later that amount was $6,191,518, with each dollar worth far less than in 1923. In 1923, 2,529 missionaries served in foreign fields; in 1943, 1265. Since World War II missionary giving has increased. In 1955, $12,299,213 was received for foreign missions and 1513 missionaries now serve overseas. (Note: $1,500,385 was from the Korean Appeal.)"

Dr. Smith continues: "During these desperate decades of dropping income and slow recovery, much of our world mission has been a holding movement. Overworked missionaries and national leaders have struggled valiantly to honor obligations assumed by their Church in more prosperous days. Great opportunities have opened, but seldom could the Church move to meet them. It could hardly carry the burdens it already bore. . . . What was a holding action has become a forward movement. . . . Around the world Methodism is on the march. It has broken through roadblocks. Morale is high. We are regaining the spiritual power of initiative. For the first time in decades Methodism enters a quadrennium with the ability in its world mission to move with power to meet its maximum opportunities."

"To mobilize forces to strike with power at the places of greatest opportunity" is, in essence, the program of the Board of Missions in foreign fields for the 1956-1960 quadrennium. Evangelism will be greatly strengthened and emphasized in all mission fields. Furthermore, "we face four special opportunities in terms of specific areas. . . . These are places where the hour of decision is upon the Church. . . . This is the time to strike. As far as we can humanly tell for these countries these are the fluid moments when the shape of the future is being moulded; these are the years of maximum opportunity." These LANDS OF DECISION are: Sarawak in Borneo, Bolivia, the Belgian Congo and Korea. The Board of Missions is depending upon every minister, every local church and every Methodist to support this program with power.

Catching the spirit of this Forward Movement of Methodism in Missions, the Western North Carolina Conference has moved forward from $353,000 in giving to missions and church extension in 1950-51 to $588,000 in 1954-55 (the last available full report). This is an excellent increase of $235,000 or 67%. We have moved forward from $106,000 in General Advance Specials in the first year of the present quadrennium to $162,000 in 1955!

This is truly an excellent record for our Conference. All of our pastors, local churches and district superintendents are to be congratulated on their fine promotion and cultivation of missions to bring about this wonderful achievement.

WORLD SERVICE

Every local church in Methodism has a high obligation under God to accept its World Service increases in full. This is an urgent necessity for the continued forward movement of missions in the Methodist Church. Thousands on thousands of people in the world depend upon our local churches to accept this increase that they might know the Redeeming Love of God in Christ! Let no Methodist, no church, no minister betray the trust God has placed in us in these critical times.

World Service is the foundation, the framework upon which the forward movement of the Methodist missionary program is built. The total program, including the mobilizing of forces for the "lands of decision", depends on every local church accepting its World Service in full.

GENERAL ADVANCE SPECIALS

General Advance Specials now provide nearly half the income of the General Board of Missions. The continued increase in giving to General Advance Specials is as urgent as every opportunity that faces Methodism in over forty countries of the world today.

In giving to General Advance Specials (World, National and M.C.O.R.) our Conference moved forward 50% in the first three years of this quadrennium, from $106,000 in 1951-52 to $162,000 in 1954-55. Of the 105 conferences in Methodism the Western North Carolina Conference has moved forward in giving to World Division Specials from seventh place in the quadrennium ending in 1952 to fourth place for the four years of this quadrennium, with $430,946. Only three conferences in Methodism gave more: Florida, $676,299; Virginia, $751,875; and the Ohio Conference, $431,577.

We are justly proud of this forward movement. These opportune days demand, however, that we continue to move forward "on the double" in Christ's mission to the world.

RECOMMENDED GENERAL ADVANCE SPECIALS, 1956-1960

General Advance Specials that are Continuing Specials should have first claim upon the local churches that have been supporting them for these mission projects are depending upon that income. We recommend that local churches continue Specials they are now supporting.

In addition to these Continuing Specials, we recommend for our Conference for the coming quadrennium the following General Advance Specials:

World (Foreign) Mission Specials

LANDS OF DECISION

1. SARAWAK, BORENO. "The Ibans, or Sea Dyaks, are the dominant group in Sarawak. They were the 'wild men of Borneo' . . . Today a group of factors—economic, familial, sociological—are forcing them to seek a new pattern of living. They are clamoring for entrance into the Methodist Church. More than two thousand have been received in the past three years. The thrilling opportunity which they offer us for serving them is matched, however, by the opportunity for failure. Within a very short time these people will be forced to choose their new gods. Christ's call to Methodism to move with power among these people is unmistakably clear." Rev. Burr Baughman's magnificent leadership among the Sea Dyaks of Sarawak Borneo, is well known in our Conference and is heartily recommended for support by our churches through Mission Specials.

2. KOREA. "Korea may possibly become, in our lifetime, the first predominantly Protestant nation of Asia. Four factors contribute to the massive opportunity confronting Protestants in Korea: (a) Korean culture is animist . . . The collapse of animism has been a prime factor in all of the major mass movements into the Christian Church. (b) The upheaval in Korea has been felt in every village. Here is a nation uprooted, seeking to find the foundations of a new life. (c) Under the testing and turmoil the old religion has been tried and found wanting. The great mass of Koreans are today spiritual refugees, driven from their old animism but having as yet no new sanctuary. (d) In this situation there exist in Korea today strong Methodist and Presbyterian Churches . . . Korea can be won for Christ if we will answer his call."

3. BOLIVIA. "Bolivia is one of the hardest countries in the world in which to work for Protestant missions. After decades of desperate labor, suddenly now the opportunity opens before us to establish in Bolivia an indigenous church of real power. Through influential graduates of our schools and patrons of the hospital as they move in government and business circles, requests are being made that the Methodists bring moral and spiritual help into new areas. They are asking not only for schools and help in directing orphanages and other social institutions, but for churches. The rapid growth, the calibre of young men entering the ministry, stewardship, and spiritual power, together with urgent invitations, indicate that for Methodism in Bolivia now is the time of decision."

4. THE BELGIAN CONGO. "The Christian Church may face in Africa the most massive single opportunity of its history. Here is the first time that the challenge of an entire continent has confronted the Church with such a limited time-table. It is quite possible that within our lifetime central Africa might become one of the vigorous centers of world Christianity. . . . For Methodism the Belgian Congo is the African country where the next years are most critical. Our Church is confronted by vast numbers who believe that Christianity is their best chance for a new life, but who will turn to other faiths if they do not have an opportunity to try Christianity soon. We must bring them into the Church."

OTHER WORLD MISSION SPECIALS

1. HONG KONG. In Hong Kong a million and a half refugees from China try to find their places in a displaced world! With a mission that is only four years old in Hong Kong, Bishop Ralph Ward is doing a magnificent work in beginning a new Methodist Mission with these refugees. The General Conference authorized a Provisional Annual Conference for Hong Kong in recognition of the rapid growth of this work. Bishop Ward, whose home is in Hendersonville, was retired by the General Conference, but with no one to carry on his work in Hong Kong and Formosa he is leaving this month to return to Hong Kong.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lonnie Turnipseed of Statesville will go to Hong Kong in 1957 to serve under Bishop Ward. They are now in language school at Yale University.

In the Kowloon section of Hong Kong a new church site and church is desperately needed for the refugees there. The need is for $60,000 from our Conference. We recommend that our churches adopt Specials for the Kowloon Church.

2. INDIA. The Rev. and Mrs. Max Lowdermilk from Asheboro will begin their work in the Kennedy School of Missions in Hartford, Connecticut, this fall in preparation for going to India as missionaries next year. We commend their work to our churches for Mission Specials.

3. PAKISTAN. Dr. E. L. Rice's work in the United Christian Hospital in Lahore, Pakistan, is known to many of our churches and people. Our churches should continue and increase the fine support that they have given to this work.

4. GANTA MISSION, LIBERIA, AFRICA. Dr. George W. Harley, one of Methodism's most celebrated missionaries, is one whom we claim with great pride. His father was a minister in our Conference when Dr. Harley was born. He is known around the world for his marvelous mission work. We recommend his work for the generous support of our people.

5. OTHER MISSIONARIES FROM OUR CONFERENCE. We recommend also the heroic work of the following missionaries from our Conference for the generous support of our local churches: The Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Andrews, Brazil; the Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Clay, Brazil; the Rev. and Mrs. Carl W. Judy, Korea; the Rev. and Mrs. I. L. Shaver, Japan; the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Stokes, Korea; and the Rev. and Mrs. David L. Swain, Japan. We take great pride in the fine work that is being done by a number of missionaries from our Conference who are serving under the Woman's Division; we do not, however, recommend these for Advance Specials because their work is supported by the Woman's Division. This is in keeping with the expressed policy of the Woman's Division.

National (Home) Mission Specials

1. ALASKA METHODIST COLLEGE. Alaska has no four year liberal arts college. Young people wanting a liberal arts education must leave Alaska to get it. Only five per cent of them return to Alaska. Her leadership is thus being drained off. For her present and future generations Alaska needs a liberal arts college. Methodists are responding to this challenge for generations yet unborn.

2. NEGRO METHODIST CHURCHES (CENTRAL JURISDICTION) WITHIN THE BOUNDS OF OUR CONFERENCE. Facing days of tension between the races, we recommend that our churches establish ties of Christian fellowship and love with our fellow Methodists in the Central Jurisdiction and use this opportunity to develop more Christian leadership for the Negro race through the Methodist Church.

3. PUERTO RICO. Puerto Rico is our next door neighbor under the National Division of our Church. It is within easy visiting distance for caravans and others who wish to see mission work "first hand." We recommend it for Mission Specials.

M. C. O. R. Specials

The Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief (M. C. O. R.) is Methodism's ministry of mercy to the famine stricken, flooded, hungry, diseased and distressed of the world. We challenge our churches to take more Specials for M. C. O. R.

Conference Mission Specials

1. CULLOWHEE. In the small community of Cullowhee, Western North Carolina College has a thousand students. More than 250 of these are Methodist. Facilities are greatly needed in our Cullowhee Church for Methodist student work. We recommend $20,000 in Mission Specials for Cullowhee.

2. BOONE. In the town of Boone is Appalachian State Teachers College, with an enrollment of 1,500. About 400 of these are Methodist. Facilities are needed in the Boone Church to carry on work with the college students. We recommend $16,000 in Mission Specials for Boone.

3. BREVARD. Brevard College has 350 students this year. Across the street from the college the Brevard Methodist Church is erecting a beautiful new building which will serve as the chapel for the college. A student center for student activities in the Church is necessary. We recommend $10,000 in Mission Specials for Brevard.

4. CHEROKEE. The work at the Cherokee Methodist Center is growing rapidly in its service to the Cherokee Indians. The Woman's Society has provided a deaconess for the work. The clothing exchange provides good clothing at a nominal price for the Indians. We are now in the process of building an outpost chapel in the Big Cove community of the reservation, enlarging the clothing exchange and building an apartment for the deaconess. For this work we recommend Cherokee for a $10,000 Mission Special.

CHURCH EXTENSION

In this quadrennium twenty-four new churches have been started or organized with appointments to be made at this annual conference. This includes two churches which have been re-opened with new congregations. Nineteen of the twenty-four new congregations have been started since the Conference program of Church Extension was adopted two years ago. This report of twenty-four new congregations in one quadrennium is one of the finest reports on church extension made in many years in our Conference. Our district superintendents have given excellent leadership in organizing District Mission Societies and getting these societies under way in organizing new churches. Our pastors and local churches have co-operated and participated in a fine way in this program.

In this quadrennium the Charlotte District has started six new churches and re-opened one; the Gastonia District has four new churches; the Greensboro District has three new churches; the Salisbury District has two new churches and one re-opened; Winston-Salem District has two new churches; the Statesville District has two new churches; and the Asheville, Thomasville and North Wilkesboro Districts have one new church in each district.

The Church Extension program, however, is just beginning to get under way. It needs to be undergirded and strengthened on all levels; in the local church, in the District Mission Societies, and in the Conference-wide approach to the problem. We therefore recommend:

1. That every local church pay $1 per member to the District Mission Society for church extension.

2. That this $1 per member be put in the local church budget.

3. That this $1 per member be used primarily for newly organized congregations, except in the declining population areas.

4. That 10% of the income from the $1 per member be sent by the District Mission Society to the Conference Board of Missions.

5. That a Conference-wide survey of church extension needs be completed to determine these needs for church extension for the next quadrennium and the next twenty years.

6. That the Conference adopt a goal of one new church for each month of the new quadrennium.

7. That purchasing of new church sites be given priority by the District Mission Societies and the Conference Board of Missions and that we purchase two new sites a month until we have enough for our church extension for the next ten or twenty years. Church sites, at the time for organizing new churches, are so exorbitant in price that it is next to impossible to buy them or frequently they simply are not available at any price in desirable locations.

8. That three to five acres be bought for new church sites as a minimum.

9. That each District Mission Society organize a $10 Methodist Builders Club.

10. That a study be made, under the guidance of the Conference Board of Missions, on the advisability of the $10 Methodist Builders being organized into a Conference program.

METHODIST MEN AND MISSIONS

In every local Methodist Church a tremendous untapped resource for missions is in our Methodist men. Here is Protestantism's largest single block of untapped resource for missions in America.

One and three quarter million Methodist women gave eleven million dollars to missions through the Woman's Division of Christian Service last year. Nine million Methodists gave only one million dollars more, twelve million dollars, through the National and World Division of the Board of Missions.

In this quadrennium the largest single job in promotion and cultivation of missions in the local church is to enlist the support of Methodist men for missions. This should be done in every Sunday School class for men, every Methodist Men's organization and every Official Board. We suggest that the men of the church sponsor the church-wide school of missions each year and present the study under the guidance of the pastor and the Commission on Missions.

WEEK OF DEDICATION OFFERING

In giving to the Week of Dedication Offering our Conference has been either first or second of all the conferences in Methodism each year in this quadrennium. We are delighted to be in the vanguard in giving to this, the emergency needs of the Mission field. This is Methodist participation in Protestantism's ONE GREAT HOUR OF SHARING, so widely advertised on television and radio. We challenge our pastors, churches and district superintendents to continue to set the pace for the conferences of Methodism in the Week of Dedication Offering. Let every church set itself a goal of 25%, 50% or 100% above last year's giving.

"WORLD OUTLOOK" SUNDAY

In twelve colorful editions a year World Outlook vividly and dramatically presents missions to the families who subscribe to it. In picture and story the marvelous and heroic story of the builders of tomorrow's world, the missionaries, is told. Every Methodist family should be learning this story month by month and day by day.

Dr. Henry Sprinkle, co-editor with Miss Dorothy McConnell, is known in our Methodist homes through his former editorship of The North Carolina Christian Advocate.

We recommend that November 4th be WORLD OUTLOOK SUNDAY and that an every family canvass be made to get World Outlook in every home. For this a committee of representatives of the Commission on Missions, the Official Board, the Methodist Men, the Church School, the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and the Woman's Society of Christian Service should plan and make the canvass, thus reaching into every organization.

CHURCH-WIDE SCHOOL OF MISSIONS

The fullest opportunity for concentrated promotion and cultivation of missions of the whole year is through the church-wide school of missions. Here the whole church can come together in a rich and rewarding experience of learning about the far reaches of Christ's redeeming love. There should be classes and activities for all age groups. Excellent material is available for this.

Methodist men should be especially included in this program of the church-wide school of missions. Splendid success in getting them into the program has been reported by one of our churches in having men sponsor the school and lead the discussion. We recommend their leadership in the adult section of the school of missions.

The study for the school of missions this year is HIGH HOURS OF METHODISM IN TOWN AND COUNTRY by Dr. C. M. McConnell. It is available for 50¢ per copy from the Study Book Office, Methodist Board of Missions, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York 11, New York.

RECRUITMENT OF MISSIONARY PERSONNEL

Our Board of Missions had adopted a courageous and forward looking program for the new quadrennium. Included in this program is an increase of 25% in the number of missionaries in foreign fields, from 1,600 to 2,000. This means that 235 new missionaries must be found each year to meet this goal of an increase of 100 missionaries each year. Every Commission on Missions and pastor should work continuously for the recruitment of missionaries among our finest young people. They should seek out and speak personally to young men and women of talents and gifts, asking them to consider full-time Christian service in the mission field. Names of potential missionaries should be sent to the Conference Missionary Secretary.

CARAVANS AND VISITORS TO MISSION FIELDS

We commend the practice of local churches and other groups sending caravans and visitors, as well as those participating in evangelistic crusades, to the mission fields. A large number of ministers and laymen from our Conference have participated in these crusades. This direct contact with the mission field is one of the most productive means of arousing interest in missions.

During this year there have been four youth caravans from our Conference to mission fields. The Scandinavian Youth Caravan was sponsored by the Conference Board of Missions and the Conference Board of Education. There were twelve members of the caravan, with the Rev. Walter J. Miller, President of the Conference Board of Missions, serving as counselor and Miss Marion Craig, former Conference Director of Youth Work, as assistant counselor. Wesley Memorial Church in High Point sent a youth caravan to Havana, Cuba; this is the third such summer caravan that Wesley Memorial has sent to Cuba. The First Methodist Church in High Point sponsored, with the participation of other Methodist Churches in the city, a youth caravan to the Isle of Pines in Cuba. Churches in North Davidson County sponsored a youth caravan to Cienfuegas, Cuba, to work with Rev. John Stroud, our missionary there.

We commend these direct contacts with the mission fields and suggest that planning be done in co-operation with the Conference and General Boards of Missions.

THE LOCAL CHURCH AND MISSIONS

THE LOCAL CHURCH is one of two major emphases in the new quadrennium, which has been designated by General Conference as a period of self-inventory and self-study for every local church to determine its record of achievement, evaluate its record of performance and set high goals for the future. We call upon every local church to rise to its full stature and potential in its missionary outreach through missions and church extension.

As a Minimum Standard of Achievement to be used as a basis for an inventory of the local church's program of promotion, cultivation and support of missions and church extension, we recommend that in each local church there should be:

1. Recognition on the part of every church member that every appeal and offering for missions and church extension is a call of God to lead out in the name of Christ to the least, the lame, the lost and unchurched of the world.

2. Adoption of the full minimum askings for World Service.

3. Adoption of at least one Mission Special for the sacrificial giving of its people, and wherever possible adoption of a Mission Special in each of the fields: World Missions, National Missions, M. C. O. R. and Conference Missions.

4. Intensive promotion and cultivation of missions during the period from Christmas to Easter. This is an excellent time for the church-wide school of missions.

5. A special Easter Offering for Mission Specials with every Methodist being challenged to give sacrificially and generously to this offering.

6. A program of Ten Dollar Shares in Mission Specials in which every family will assume at least one Ten Dollar Share in a Mission Special, with this offering being in addition to the regularly assumed Mission Specials of the local church. We recommend that this family experience in giving to missions through the Ten Dollar Shares shall be promoted by the pastor and Commission on Missions in every organization of the local church: the Official Board, Methodist Men, Commission on Finance, Commission on Education, Church School and Church School classes, Woman's Society of Christian Service, and the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

7. An effective program of stewardship and tithing and relating of this program to missions and church extension.

8. A fully organized Commission on Missions that meets regularly (monthly, or at least quarterly) to plan the program of promotion and cultivation of missions for every member of the local church. On circuits we recommend a charge-wide meeting of the Commission on Missions.

9. A year-round program of cultivation in missions, with movies and filmstrips on missions, missionary speakers, missionary sermons, distribution of missionary literature and missionary offerings.

10. A church wide school of missions with classes and activities for all age groups. The text for this year is HIGH HOURS OF METHODISM IN TOWN AND COUNTRY by Dr. C. M. McConnell. On circuits we recommend a charge-wide school of missions.

11. Observance of World Wide Communion Sunday with a sacrificial offering for the Fellowship of Suffering and Service. We also recommend that the Communion Offering for the Poor, traditional in Methodism shall be taken at every Communion Service and that at least half of this shall go to M. C. O. R.

12. A Week of Dedication Program culminating in a sacrificial Day of Dedication Offering.

13. Observance of WORLD OUTLOOK SUNDAY, combined with a World Outlook canvass in every home. A World Outlook secretary should be appointed in the Commission on Missions.

14. Use of the Fourth Sunday in the Church School and Church for special promotion and cultivation of World Service and Missions, with offerings for these causes.

15. A goal of AS MUCH FOR OTHERS AS FOR OURSELVES.

16. Attendance at District Missionary Institutes, District Missionary Workshops, and Jurisdictional Missionary Conferences and Workshops by the pastor and the Commission on Missions chairman and members.

17. A constant alertness to the needs for church extension in local and surrounding communities, with surveys being made to determine these needs when necessary.

18. A Woman's Society of Christian Service, with leaders and members of the society participating fully in the total program of missions in the local church, giving leadership in all phases of the mission program.

19. A study of the per capita giving to missions of the local church, with goals being set to double and triple giving during the next quadrennium. The Conference Board of Missions will provide blanks for such self-studies. Goals should be set in terms of the giving of Methodism in its High Hour of Missionary Activity in 1923 when Methodists gave $1.29 per member for foreign missions alone.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

That a series of district meetings for ministers be held in January or February in which an Area Secretary of the Board of Missions will make a report from the field. These would be breakfast, luncheon and dinner meetings. We recommend Dr. Tracy Jones from Southeast Asia as this year's speaker.

That District Workshops for the Commission on Missions be held in each district.

That the District Missionary Secretaries be commended for their splendid work and leadership in missionary education, cultivation and promotion.

That the districts provide an expense account of $50.00 for their District Missionary Secretaries.

We respectfully request that Bishop Harmon appoint Horace R. McSwain as Conference Missionary Secretary.

ENABLING ACT

The Executive Committee of the Board of Missions and Church Extension is authorized to make such appropriations as, in keeping with the established policies, are necessary for the work of the Board of Missions and Church Extension "ad interim".

BOARD OF SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC RELATIONS

The Board of Social and Economic Relations is probably the youngest Board in our Conference organization. It was organized in the conference year 1954-1955 and has functioned during these past two conference years. It was natural that some period of time was necessary to acquaint our pastors and laymen with the work of the Board and with its possibilities in the local church. Therefore, during these past two years our efforts have been directed mainly toward educating our ministers on the way in which Boards of Social and Economic Relations could render service to the local church membership and to the communities in which our churches are located. We feel that with this period of orientation behind us it will now be possible for your Conference Board to move forward with a more positive program and we likewise feel that it will now be possible for Boards of Social and Economic Relations in our local churches to become active and helpful agencies in the community.

We, therefore, heartily recommend that a Board of Social and Economic Relations be created in each of our churches and that these boards in the local churches be staffed with men and women who have a vital interest in social and economic problems existing in their communities and in the world today. We recognize the fact that in many of our local churches it is difficult to find adequate personnel to staff the many boards and commissions which are organized and permitted under the Discipline of the Church. This Board, therefore, recommends that this Annual Conference approve a plan by which local churches may place the work of the Board of Temperance, the Board of World Peace and the Board of Social and Economic Relations in the hands of one board, which board may be entitled "The Board of Christian Relations" and which board may have committees in the different areas in which the board will labor. It is felt that such an arrangement will facilitate the work of the local church in the various areas referred to and will strengthen the local church committees and boards.

Your Board feels that there are certain significant areas in which local boards of Social and Economic Relations can render outstanding Christian service in the years immediately ahead and we desire to point out especially the following areas in which our local Boards of Social and Economic Relations should become interested:

A. One of the great problems facing the world today is the problem of race relations. In our own Southland this problem is presented in a very real manner. Much depends upon the way in which our people, both white and colored, proceed toward a solution of this problem in our own state. Your Board is convinced that the Church has a very definite responsibility in this area which it can neither forsake nor ignore. We, therefore, recommend to the Boards of Social and Economic Relations in the local church that they undertake to give guidance, direction and leadership to their people and to their communities in bringing about harmonious race relations in our day.

B. Western North Carolina is rapidly progressing from an agricultural to an industrial section. As more and more industrial plants locate within our boundaries we become increasingly aware of certain tensions which exist between labor and management. The Church has a mission to fulfil in these situations. Boards of Social and Economic Relations in local churches can do much to assure that industrial disputes are settled on a fair basis by helping to create a Christian atmosphere in the communities in which such disputes may arise and by so proclaiming the gospel of Christ that disputes of this nature are kept to a minimum.

C. Public health is a matter of concern to the Church. Local Boards of Social and Economic Relations can do much to center the attention of the public on conditions which should be remedied and in promoting adequate health facilities for our people.

We continue to be amazed and appalled at the slaughter on our highways. The Church cannot ignore its responsibility in an area where so many human lives are taken and so many persons are injured and where property damage extends into the billions of dollars every year. The driver of an automobile has a Christian responsibility just as definitely as does the businessman, the laborer or the minister.

D. We are concerned that our people shall know the full benefits of public education. We feel that one of the greatest treasures of our state is our public educational system, a system which must not be sacrificed. We, therefore, call upon our people to support those who educate our children and to improve the facilities which are available and the standards of instruction for educational purposes. We must impress and reimpress our youth with the wisdom of taking full advantage of educational opportunities which are offered in order that they may be competitive in a highly technological society.

Your Board feels that the Conference Board of Education should give serious consideration to offering courses on various social, human and economic problems in the leadership training schools, church school curriculum generally. It is our conviction that Methodist people are earnestly seeking for guidance in the solution of human problems affecting individuals and the community.

We also recommend that in Pastors Schools and Christian Convocations one or more courses be given in these areas of social conflict to better prepare our ministers for the responsibilities which confront them in their local churches.

Special consideration should be given to promote full and free discussion by our youth under competent leadership in all areas of social tension and conflict to the end that they may seek to solve these problems in the light of their Christian experience and convictions.

We urge that our ministers and laymen alike undertake in their individual lives and in their local churches to implement the actions of the General Conference of our Church as set forth in the Social Creed of the Church and in the statement on race relationships adopted by the last General Conference of the Church.

BRUNSON C. WALLACE, Secretary

BOARD OF TEMPERANCE

Again this year beverage alcohol takes top honors among the evils with which Americans must contend. F. B. I. figures make it responsible for 59% of all arrests. National Safety Council statistics credit it with direct responsibility for 24% of all highway fatalities; other authorities put the percentage much higher.

At a time when medical and health personnel are reporting outstanding gains in the battle against polio and tuberculosis, and hopeful progress in combatting cancer and heart disease, liquor continues to take a mounting toll in lives, in health both physical and mental, and in gainful and useful employment. In the midst of a culture which has literally pulled itself up by its scientific bootstraps, and which has performed much that seemed impossible, liquor continues to ravage our peoples, to break up our homes, to incapacitate our bodies, to dull the sharp edge of our intelligence, to deaden our spiritual sensibilities.

It moves among us freely, with a diabolical aimlessness, tolerated by the general public, publicized and praised, expensively and appealingly advertised. Amazingly enough, liquor walks among us as a veritable sacred cow of India. Among a people who highly value good health it appears as a strangely misplaced anachronism. Among a people who hold strong convictions on moral issues, its acceptance represents a throwback to a pre-Christian morality. Never before have so many people been spending so much to sell so shoddy a bill of goods to the American public, including women and children, as is true today.

The situation cries out for redress! It calls for the expression of justified righteous indignation, beginning in the pulpit and pulsating through every organization of the church. In kindness, to be sure, but with a firmness born of deep conviction, the truth about this sacred cow must be brought to light—the truth which has been “twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools.” Surely, after viewing the appalling facts concerning beverage alcohol, any Christian really worth his salt can find in the Temperance cause a "moral equivalent to war."

At its General Conference, meeting in Minneapolis, Minnesota, last May, the Methodist Church explicitly declared its conviction that "intoxicating liquor cannot be legalized without sin" and condemned "the confused moral judgments of our age with respect to drinking and the liquor traffic." In its Episcopal Address the General Conference further branded the liquor traffic as "a vicious business, unethical in its procedures, anti-social in its attitudes, entrenching itself by broken promises, circumventions, powerful governmental lobbies, high-powered and expensive advertising and the exploitation of the young."

Let those within our church who would suppose that Temperance, as interpreted by Methodists, means moderation in the use of liquor restudy the traditional position of the church founded by John Wesley, and re-examine the findings of the Minneapolis General Conference. They will note this vibrant conviction: that Methodist people and all others would be immensely better off not to drink; that the exploitation of the personality through the use of liquor is a desecration of the temple of God, which temple we are; that the encouragement of others to drink, as well as one's own use of it, is a grievous sin. When you add to this a growing concern for the alcoholic, and a genuine interest in helping him or her and his family you have the sum and substance of the Methodist view on Temperance. In the application of this principle let every minister and every layman use initiative and imagination as may suit his particular situation, but let him sound a clear note!

Your Conference Board of Temperance has carried out the following activities during the past year.

1. Commitment Day for Temperance:

This was effectively promoted under the direction of Rev. F. E. Howard. Reports from 308 of our 559 charges indicated that 26,446 persons made personal commitments to total abstinence, which represents an increase of about 10% over last year.

By authorization of the Annual Conference of 1955, a special offering was received for Temperance from many churches, the amount thus received being something in excess of $4,000.

2. District Workshops:

Between October 31 and November 14, 1955 a Workshop on Temperance was held in each of our eleven districts. The general response to this new venture was gratifying. A total of 752 local church leaders were reached. The District Secretaries of Temperance rendered fine leadership. The Rev. Ray F. Swink represented the Conference Board at all of these workshops as one of the speakers. The Rev. Richard Irvin, staff member of the General Board, Dr. Sidney Davies of Jacksonville, Fla., and Dr. Wayne Womer of Richmond, Va., were key speakers, and many of our pastors who have been leaders in Temperance assisted as resource persons.

3. Lectureship in High Schools:

On a limited basis, your Board, in co-operation with Allied Youth, Inc. engaged in a temperance educational effort among high school students. This was carried out under the direction of Rev. James Clemmer. A nationally known representative of Allied Youth, Inc., Mr. Edward Branson, spoke attractively and appealingly in a number of high schools in and near Statesville and Charlotte. The response was most favorable, and it is hoped that this activity can be extended next year.

4. Audio-visual aids:

Your board has been building up a film library for the use, without charge, of pastors and churches. Acquisitions for this year include five prints of the film FAR FROM ALONE, released this spring by our General Board of Temperance. The Rev. L. E. Mabry has faithfully directed this important activity.

5. Training Schools and Pastors' School:

Two youth leaders in the conference were sent to the National Youth School of Alcohol Study and Social Action at Southern Methodist University, and two pastors, Rev. Ray Swink and Rev. J. T. Shackford were official representatives to the National Adult School.

Your Board, as co-sponsor, was instrumental in the appearance of Dr. Caradine Hooton, Executive Secretary of the General Board of Temperance, at the North Carolina Pastor's School as leader of a Workshop on Temperance.

In co-operation with the Conference Board of Education, the course "Facing The Alcohol Problem" was taught at the Gastonia Training School, with the Rev. Robert L. Wilcox of the Holston Conference as Instructor.

The film "Far From Alone" has been shown at the summer youth assemblies of the conference at Lake Junaluska, at the request of Miss Mary Ellen Harrell, Conference Director of Youth Work.

Board members and district secretaries have been brought together several times in briefing and planning meetings which have been largely responsible for making the above activities possible.

6. The Allied Church League:

This conference continues to co-operate in the interdenominational Temperance program of the Allied Church League. Representing most of the evangelical churches of North Carolina, it provides an agency for promoting total abstinence and civic righteousness, and for opposing the aggressive tactics of the liquor traffic. Year by year it steadily seeks the election to public office of men of sound Christian character and ideals, and the enactment of legislation which will alleviate the evils of the liquor traffic. As such, we recognize the Allied Church League as an important part of our total Temperance effort.

We offer the following recommendations for your careful consideration and adoption for 1956-1957:

1. That Commitment Day for Temperance be observed in every charge on December 2, or as near thereto as possible, as set up by the General Conference, and that, pending favorable action of this Conference upon the recommendation of the World Service and Finance Commission request to this end, there be taken on that day in every charge an offering for the work of this Board of Temperance, to be handled through the Conference Treasurer. Also we request that the Rev. F. E. Howard be designated as Conference Director of Commitment Day.

2. That we continue to give our full support to the Allied Church League. In this connection we recommend that our various local churches enter co-operatively into the effort to get voters' signatures to the petitions being distributed through the Allied Church League as described above.

We also recommend that the Rev. R. M. Hauss of this Annual Conference, be reappointed to his present duty as Executive Director of this organization.

3. That the District Secretaries of Temperance be made ex officio members of the Conference Board of Temperance.

4. That closer co-ordination and co-operation be established between the various committees and other agencies in our local churches which are set up to operate in the field of Temperance and Social Action, and that Temperance education be given its rightful place in the educational program.

5. That the film "Far From Alone" be given a widespread showing among our congregations this year, and that the problems it raises be made the subject of constructive discussion.

6. That the Rev. L. E. Mabry be designated as Audio-Visuals Librarian for the Board of Temperance for the year 1956-1957.

JAMES C. STOKES, Chairman
J. T. SHACKFORD, Secretary

Adopted: Afternoon Session, Sept. 20, 1956.

CONFERENCE ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

The 1955 session of the Western North Carolina Annual Conference instructed its Entertainment Committee "to make a study of the places and methods of entertainment and the cost thereof" and to publish this report 30 days before the 1956 session.

Place of Entertainment

Your Committee recommends that the Conference accept the invitation to hold the 1957 session at Lake Junaluska. No attempt was made to secure invitations or to determine places for the Conference to meet in future years, but it was decided to leave that open for invitations and for the decision of the Annual Conference from time to time. With the plan of entertainment recommended below, it was the consensus of the Committee that Lake Junaluska and such cities as Asheville, Charlotte, Winston-Salem, Greensboro and High Point, which have been in the habit of entertaining the Conference, could do so with greater ease.

Method of Entertainment

From the early days of Methodism the ministers and delegates to the Annual Conference sessions have been offered the gracious hospitality of Methodist homes. This custom has been the source of great blessings to our ministers, laymen and people. With the enlarged membership of our Conference, and the modern method of living, however, it now seems advisable to propose that we adopt a plan of entertainment which will relieve the host community of this responsibility, simplify Conference entertainment, and permit the ministers and the lay delegates to entertain themselves in hotels, motels, etc., with the minimum cost of entertainment being provided by the Conference and the charges. There are several principles which have guided your Committee in making its recommendations. For the Conference to provide the expenses for both laymen and ministers would increase the cost of entertainment to the Annual Conference unduly. For the local charge to provide the per diem for both clergy and laity would work a hardship on the smaller churches and would not provide entertainment for our retired men and those not serving churches. Since the lay delegates are elected by local churches, it was felt that most of the local churches would be glad to pay a per diem for their delegates rather than increase unduly the Conference Entertainment Fund at this time.

We therefore recommend that:

1. The Annual Conference through its Conference Expense Fund, provide for room and meals of the lay and clerical members, all supplies serving charges, probationers and men coming into the Conference on trial, and deaconesses, at a rate of $3.00 per day for days in actual attendance.

2. That the District Superintendents and other officials of the Conference whose duties require them to be at the site of the Annual Conference prior to the Conference sessions, be allowed $6.00 per day for each day required.

3. That each charge be requested to provide a $3.00 per diem for its pastor and lay delegate (or delegates if proposed constitutional amendment is adopted) and that this amount be placed in the local budget at the Quarterly Conference at which the lay delegates are elected, and that a similar amount be provided from the Conference Expense Fund for retired ministers and other members of the Conference who have no charges, and that the amount per diem for each charge shall be sent to the Conference Treasurer by the charge treasurer at a time designated by the Conference Treasurer in an amount to cover the duration of the Conference.

4. That the Bishop, special speakers and other special guests who are invited to the Annual Conference by the Resident Bishop or the Program Committee shall be entertained at Conference expense.

5. That we request the Bishop and the Program Committee to consider the advisability of shortening the sessions of our Conference with the Board and Committees completing their work as far as possible prior to the convening of the Annual Conference.

6. That we request the Commission on World Service and Finance to recommend the sum of $18,000 annually for Conference Entertainment (in past years the amount expended for meal tickets and hotel bills for those required to stay at hotels has amounted to approximately $10,000 annually).

7. That the Conference Secretary and Treasurer be authorized to work out plans for ascertaining the days in attendance and paying the per diem for those for whom the Conference is liable.

E. H. BLACKARD, Chairman

COMMITTEE ON WORLD PEACE

1. We deeply appreciate the fine co-operation and support that we have received from the members of the Board of Education, the District Superintendents, the Secretaries of Christian Social Relations, WSCS, at the conference, district, and local church levels. We especially commend each active local Committee on World Peace for their action during the conference year.

2. Our recent General Conference meeting in Minneapolis, April-May, adopted a most comprehensive and constructive statement on the issues of war and peace. We believe that the best action the local Peace Committee can take is to thoroughly acquaint our people, especially our youth, with this document. This will be found in the 1956 Discipline. Reprints of this Section can be obtained free of charge from the Conference Committee on World Peace.

3. Through our District Directors of World Peace, your Committee seeks to present Church-wide programs related to Peace, to help secure resource leaders, to disseminate literature, to promote and plan district institutes, work-shops, study groups, and leadership training opportunities. We undertake to keep the pastors and chairmen of Local Church Peace Committees informed on subject matter relevant to our work; we also promote the High School World Peace Study and Speaking Program in co-operation with the Extension Division of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C.

4. Year by year, more charges are conducting special study programs in the area of World Peace. This year in a large number of our local churches, the World Peace Committees co-operated with WSCS in presenting the study of their book, "To Combine our Efforts for Lasting Peace."

5. The Conference Committee on World Peace, with the co-operation of the Youth Council and the Board of Education conducted our first "M.Y.F. Christian Citizenship Washington-United Nations Seminar and Tour", June 5 through June 9.

In both Washington and New York City we took regular conducted tours and saw the scenic and historic landmarks of these two great cities. We also visited Constitution Hall in Philadelphia and saw the Liberty Bell.

In Washington, we visited Senator Scott's office and a member of his staff took us on a tour of the Capitol. We also spent 3½ hours at the State Department Building where State Department officials discussed with us problems of World Peace and international relations and the part private citizens play in formulating U. S. foreign policy.

Through the efforts of Dr. Charles F. Boss, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Board of World Peace, we had the exceptional privilege of spending an entire day in the United Nations Buildings under the guidance of several persons especially familiar with the details of UN operations. The Trusteeship Council was in session and we spent a most interesting hour listening to their deliberations. Another high spot of the tour was when the entire group spent a few minutes in silent prayer for World Peace in the United Nations Meditation Room.

6. We urge that all Conference, District, and Local Peace Committee members promote attendance of such meetings as The World Affairs Institute, Blue Ridge Assembly Grounds, Blue Ridge, N. C.; Foreign Relations Institute, Chapel Hill; and the American Friends Service Committee Institute at Guilford College.

7. For the past 3 years, the Committee on World Peace has been co-sponsoring with the American Freedom Association, the World Affairs Institute held at Blue Ridge Assembly Grounds, and recommends that it be used as a summer peace retreat by our people.

8. We are very much gratified to be able to present Dr. Edwin M. J. Kretzmann to this Conference as our speaker. Dr. Kretzmann is Public Affairs Adviser for Near Eastern, South Asian and African Affairs, State Department, Washington.

Recommendations

I. Within each district of our conference we urge the following action and projects.

(a) Set up district peace committee or council composed of the ministerial and lay member of the Conference Peace Committee, the district superintendent, the district secretary of Christian Social Relations of the WSCS, the district director of youth, and the district director of Lay Activities.

(b) Each district plan and supervise Youth Peace Caravan to Washington and The United Nations Headquarters, New York, by chartered bus for early June.

(c) Promote use of speakers and materials, and giving guidance in church, civic, and educational groups.

(d) Each District Committee conduct district or sub-district peace institutes during fall or spring. The dates of these institutes should be co-ordinated so that outstanding leaders can be used to visit several or all in rotation.

(e) In keeping with the policy of this Conference over the past quadrennium we recommend that the Conference Secretary of Christian Social Relations of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, be named to this committee and that two representatives from the Conference MYF, named by the Executive Council of said organization, likewise be named yearly to this Conference Committee on World Peace.

II. Within the local churches we encourage and urge:

(a) The setting up of local peace committees to study, promote and act in matters of peace. (The peace committee being appointed by the official board and answerable to it monthly, or organized as a part of the commission on education or missions, that the work of peace education may be adequately cared for.)

(b) Working closely with WSCS and MYF in promoting peace programs and projects.

(c) Promoting peace projects in the local church and co-operating with community activities such as: United Nations Day observance (Oct. 24); Halloween "Trick or Treat" parties for the World's Children, UNICEF.

(d) Studying current national and international issues before Congress and the State Department, presenting and sharing views with local groups and with our government officials.

(e) Subscribing to the Methodist Peace Courier for the chairman and each member of the peace committee.

We the retiring Peace Committee urge the pastors and local church leaders to call upon the members of the new Quadrennial Committee for assistance in promoting peace activities in the local church.

THE APPROVED SUPPLY PASTORS' SCHOOL FOR 1956

The Annual Approved Supply Pastors' School at Duke University is a joint project of the Duke Divinity School, the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference, and the Department of In-Service Training, Dr. J. Richard Spann, Director. The school provides in-service training which affords credit to supply pastors and conference members in the Course of Study required by the Discipline. This year the school was lengthened to four weeks, July 17-August 10, 1956, to allow each student to complete a full year's work in the Course of Study.

The 1956 school enlisted a total of 195 students, instructors, and special lecturers, from eleven annual conferences. Of the 178 students, 44 were from the Western North Carolina Conference, and 24 of these were given scholarship grants-in-aid. The $500 allotment from the Western North Carolina Conference Board of Education made possible ten of these $50 grants.

The school was planned, in co-operation with Dr. Spann, by a Divinity School committee consisting of Dean James Cannon, W. A. Kale, A. J. Walton, and McMurry S. Richey. Ten instructors offered sixteen courses in Biblical studies, theology, Christian ethics, Protestant and Methodist history, and the work of the minister in preaching, worship, church administration, music, counselling, study, and Christian education. Faculty members were: John W. Carlton, Leon Couch, A. Durwood Foster, O. Kelly Ingram, W. A. Kale, Creighton Lacy, William R. Locke, Clyde L. Manshreck, H. E. Myers, J. H. Phillips, and Gilbert T. Rowe (whose illness prevented his teaching). Students faculty members, and visiting preachers led the daily services of worship in the Duke University Chapel, under the direction of the classes on "Preaching" and "The Methodist Hymnal and Worship." Evening programs included special lectures by Professors Kenneth W. Clark, William H. Brownlee, and W. A. Kale, and four films, "Martin Luther," "John Wesley," "Our Bible: How It Came to Us," and "Far from Alone." Tentative dates for the 1957 school are July 16-August 9.

Ordered to Record, Morning Session, Sept. 22, 1956.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE BROTHERHOOD

The Western North Carolina Conference Brotherhood met in annual session Thursday, September 20, 1956. H. G. Allen, president of the Brotherhood, presided at the meeting. The secretary-treasurer made a financial report and then read the recommendations of the Executive Committee which were as follows:

1. That the Conference Board of Lay Activities be asked to sponsor the securing of new lay contributing members of the Brotherhood as one of their special projects.

2. That the layman appointed by the Conference Board of Lay Activities to direct the program of securing new lay members be a member of the Executive Committee of the Brotherhood.

3. That a review of the action of the last Annual Meeting of the Brotherhood limiting the number of calls issued to clergy members in any one year, involves a constitutional amendment, that advance notice of such change had not been given as required by the Constitution, and that the action was, therefore, invalid. The Executive Committee regards it as an unsound fiscal policy and recommends that the matter be dropped.

4. That the question of extending Brotherhood membership to supply pastors be left for further study, but that the judgment of the Executive Committee is that conference membership remain a requirement for Brotherhood membership as an inducement to get supply pastors to meet the study requirements for conference membership.

5. That the amount of benefit paid to the wives and children of deceased ministers be increased from $2,300.00 to $2,500.00 effective at the close of Annual Conference.

6. That the Executive Committee recommend as treasurers the following:

J. G. Wilkinson, Secretary-Treasurer, Western North Carolina Conference Brotherhood

G. G. Adams, Jr., Treasurer, Hospital Care Association Group Hospital Insurance (sponsored by the Brotherhood)

A nominating committee consisting of H. C. Sprinkle, Jr., R. G. Tuttle and H. L. Creech, Jr., brought in the following report:

For President: H. G. Allen; Vice President, R. C. Goforth; Secretary-Treasurer, J. G. Wilkinson; Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, G. G. Adams, Jr.; Director of Laymen's Division (to be selected later). In addition to the above the following as members of the Executive Committee; E. H. Blackard, C. C. Herbert, Jr., J. W. Braxton, and W. J. Miller.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Signed:

INTER-CONFERENCE COMMISSION ON STUDENT RELIGIOUS WORK

The Inter-Conference Commission has sought to give direction to the program of student religious work carried on at all of the fifty-nine colleges of North Carolina. Financial assistance has been provided for the student work being carried on at the following colleges: University of North Carolina, Rev. Murry Unruh, Director; Duke University, Rev. Art Brandenburg, Director; Woman's College, Mrs. Ira Shelley, Director; Western Carolina College, Rev. and Mrs. Milford Thumm, Directors; Appalachian State Teachers College, Rev. and Mrs. Everett Lowman, Directors; Raleigh colleges, Rev. Neal McGlamery, Director; Wake Forest College, Rev. Leonard Ranson, Director; East Carolina College, Miss Mamie Chandler, Director; Catawba College, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hardesty, Directors; and Davidson College, Rev. Jerry Murray, Director. Only a small amount of money is being provided at Davidson and Catawba Colleges to assist in program planning. The Reverend J. Robert Regan, Jr., is employed on a half-time basis as State Director of the Methodist Student Movement. The names of the Boards of Directors of all Wesley Foundations will be filed with the Conference Secretary for publication in the Journal.

At the present time, we have twenty-six organized units of the Methodist Student Movement and we co-operate in the inter-denominational programs being carried on at thirty-one campuses. At those colleges where MSM units are not organized, either because of administrative policy or because of the infeasibility of organizing such a group, the inter-collegiate program and projects of the MSM are emphasized. At each of the colleges where Wesley Foundations are organized, the influence of the Methodist Church is keenly felt and college officials are looking to us for constructive student religious development. Programs on Christian faith, vocations, social issue, missions, and fellowship are well attended at each college, and it is clearly seen that the Christian religion can and must make an impact on the college campuses.

The Inter-Collegiate program of the MSM was expanded this past year. In October, a retreat for presidents and advisors of MSM groups and a Deputations and Fellowship Team Leadership Conference were held which were attended by thirty-five and fifty leaders, respectively. A series of three weekend District Conferences was held in November which brought together 260 students and in February 70 students attended the first Collegiate Church Vocations Conference held in Chapel Hill. High Point entertained the State Conference in March which attracted 225 students from throughout the state and an April weekend saw 70 recreation leaders from various colleges gather for the State Recreational Leadership Conference. The weekend of June 21-23 was the date of the Annual Nurses Retreat which attracted student nurses from fifteen of the schools of Nursing in the state. In addition, North Carolina has been well-represented at the State, Regional, and National Conferences of students—most notable being the attendance of thirty students at the Student Volunteer Movement Conference in Athens, Ohio, during the Christmas holidays. Also, the MSM has co-operated very closely with the State Ecumenical Movement which sponsored a conference in May on Christian Unity. The State Director serves as advisor for this ecumenical group. The entire program of activities was carried out under the direction of the State Student Council, Jim Murr of Davidson, president, Garland Young of High Point College is incoming president.

With 5,167 Methodist students in State Institutions of Higher Learning, 2,959 in Methodist Colleges, and 2,317 in other private or denominational colleges, this means that we have over 13,000 Methodist students in the colleges of North Carolina when we include those enrolled in our thirty-four Schools of Nursing. Every Methodist in North Carolina has a responsibility for the religious training and guidance of these students. This responsibility carries with it tremendous financial obligations. To meet the increased needs of expanding college enrollments, the annual appropriation of funds coming from both Annual Conferences will have to be doubled during this Quadrennium. To take care of the future leadership of our Church, we must strengthen our student program.

THE METHODIST BOARD OF PUBLICATION, INC.

We are happy to report that subscriptions to the North Carolina Christian Advocate have maintained the level set last year. For the first ten months of the fiscal year the income from subscriptions has amounted to $46,284; job work, $76,314; other income, $6,168; total, $128,768.

During the year, the editor, the Rev. R. P. Marshall, has travelled 20,000 miles on Advocate business and has spoken 145 times in 130 churches.

We call attention to the fact that, with the loss of the weekly Christian Advocate, as a general news-magazine, ministers and laity will be left without any source of church news and promotional material, except for a very small amount which will appear in the new monthly publications. This means that the North Carolina Christian Advocate will be needed more than ever during the coming years and must expand its news coverage to take care of church-wide interests. To do this, we must have the co-operation of all pastors and official boards in an increased effort to secure subscriptions.

In order to meet the challenge of the future, we recommend that a goal of ten per cent of the membership as subscribers should be set by each church.

The term of W. B. Hall, expires with the present Conference year, and we recommend his re-election for another five-year term by the Western North Carolina Conference.

THE METHODIST COLLEGE FOUNDATION OF NORTH CAROLINA, INC.

There is a Methodist College in North Carolina to meet the needs, both intellectual and spiritual, of every Methodist boy or girl. No other denomination is so fortunate in what it has to offer young people in the field of Christian higher education. From the Junior College level to the great University, our colleges are surpassed by none and superior to many.

The colleges that make up the Foundation are owned and operated and supported by the North Carolina and the Western North Carolina Conferences. These are Brevard, Duke, Greensboro, High Point and Louisburg. All these colleges are accredited by the regional accrediting agency and by the University Senate of the Methodist Church. They stand for the most excellent in spiritual and intellectual achievement. Their faculties are among the best. They are committed to the proposition that to train the mind only is not enough—motive must be trained as well. Your Christian colleges are the only educational institutions that put the Christian religion and ethic at the center of the educational process. They offer the only kind of higher education that is concerned primarily about what the church exists for. They teach the Bible as the “word of God,” and are committed to the fundamental belief that all human life is sacred and that it should be guided into its most creative possibilities.

These are your colleges. You should know that in these colleges the Methodists of North Carolina have an investment of more than fifty million dollars in property value. In addition are the endowments that run into the millions. More than 8,000 students are enrolled annually.

During the next four years the Methodists of North Carolina will be working together to make these colleges stronger and more effective in the instilling, deepening, and making more vital the insights and faith of our young people who enroll there. Let us pray and work and give “For Youth and The Kingdom.” Remember this: To strengthen the colleges is to strengthen the church! The most that we can do for our colleges is the least we should do!

NORTH CAROLINA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

HIGHLIGHTS OF 1955-56

Christian Education

Five area Leadership Training Institutes were led by Dr. Randolph Thornton in Fayetteville, Raleigh, Greensboro, Salisbury, and Asheville. Miss Kate Crowell, of the First Methodist Church, Charlotte, was on the staff. The Council continues to serve as co-ordinator and clearing house for the local Weekday Bible Teaching Programs in fifty-one communities with 63 teachers reaching almost 33,000 students in 136 schools. A Family Life Workshop was held in Chapel Hill in 1955 and in Charlotte this year. The Committee on Use and Understanding of the Bible reached thirty-five communities in 1955. Dr. W. Arthur Kale serves as Chairman of this Commission.

Christian Social Action

Over 60,000 pounds of used clothing were collected for needy persons over the world through area center in Greenville, Raleigh, Durham, Winston-Salem, Charlotte, and Asheville. A conference on alcoholism was co-sponsored this year at Kanuga with the Episcopal Church. Conferences on Church and World Affairs were held in Greensboro and Chapel Hill.

Town and Country Work

1. Migrant program:

Beginning with two workers covering eight camps in Elizabeth City and Hendersonville in 1951, the Council's Migrant Ministry has grown to seven workers, plus three supervisors, this year covering approximately fifty camps in Camden, Currituck, Pasquotank, Tyrrell, Beaufort, and Henderson Counties. Largely through the co-operation of Albert G. Harris, Jr., of First Church, Morehead City, the Council's Executive Director in two visits to Carteret County was able to obtain approval for a new ministry to the migrants of that area. It will begin next summer after the necessary planning is done.

The station wagon purchased in May, 1955, continues to serve and has since been completely equipped as a mobile chapel. The scope of the ministry now requires two additional cars which must be used during the season running from May to September.

One of the biggest forward steps in the entire six years of the ministry came this year with the opening of a fully equipped Day-Care-Center for migrant children up to six years of age in Hendersonville. Three trained women plus a helper staff this center which affords a great opportunity to reach the children in their formative years. Centers like this are urgently needed in the eastern migrant centers.

This is a great and vitally needed Christian service to almost 15,000 of our badly neglected fellow citizens. Police and court officials are agreed that this ministry has greatly decreased crime and immorality in the camps.

As a result of the Council's program, our governor last year created a State Migrant Commission headed by Agriculture Commissioner, L. Y. Ballentine, to look into labor, educational, and living conditions of our migrants. Four members of the commission are representatives of the State Council of Churches.

2. Christian Rural Overseas Program:

The Christian Rural Overseas Program completed its ninth year of service in 1955. In North Carolina twenty-two counties organized for participation and returns were received from thirty-five. A sense of loyalty, a concern for the needy, and the spirit of Christian brotherhood have been displayed by many in very fine fashion, thus combating the negative effects of natural disaster and human failure.

The sum of $18,280 was received during the fiscal year of 1955. In addition to regular and surplus commodities made possible by these funds, 10,000 pounds of peanut butter were shipped from North Carolina and 100 plows for India provided.

CROP's tenth year should be its greatest. Two-thirds of the world are hungry, one-third agonizingly so. On December 14, 1955, the United States released wheat, corn, beans, and rice to the voluntary agencies for use in their programs of alleviating world suffering. For less than $20 a ton—less than animal feed—wholesome food can be delivered to an overseas hospital, refugee camp, home for the aged, orphanage, or stricken community. North Carolina's goal for 1956 is $60,000, with the national goal being $1,200,000. Forty counties are marked for organized community canvasses, and it is desirable that every county share through use of the Children's Kit, Trick or Treat Youth campaigns for CROP at Halloween, and Share our Surplus offerings from union Thanksgiving services.

Three institutes for Rural Church pastors and laymen were held this spring in Clyde, Bethania, and Farmville under the leadership of the Rev. Wilson Nesbitt. Dr. A. J. Walton heads the Council's Town and Country Commission.

Pastoral Ministry

The Annual State Pastors Conference was held in First Church, Burlington in January featuring Dr. John A. Mackay and Dr. Lee J. Gable.

Ecumenical Relations

Three area TV Institutes were held in Durham, Greensboro, and Wilmington. A new Council sponsored TV program began this spring weekly over WUNC-TV, channel 4 and will feature programs of all member churches. A survey of churches in North Carolina was begun, and will list membership of all groups in state for the past fifty years, along with other information to be gathered.

Summary

Your state Council of Churches' program is steadily growing. It is doing an effective and needed job in co-operative planning and action on behalf of our Protestant Churches at a minimum cost. Its growth is limited only by a lack of adequate financial support. Although the Council is the creation and the servant of its member church bodies, only 37% of its 1955 budget was underwritten by members on the Synod and Conference level. The rest must be literally scraped together from local churches, individuals, business firms and other sources. Last year only $106.26 was the margin between a surplus and a deficit. Until additional support can be given, your Council will have to do the best it can on our inadequate budget.

THE NORTH CAROLINA PASTORS' SCHOOL AND CHRISTIAN CONVOCATION

Another successful Pastors' School and Christian Convocation was held on the campus of Duke University, Durham, during the period June 5-8, 1956, with 460 persons in attendance. The advance preparations were handled by the Board of Managers and the Convocation Committee of the Duke Divinity School, Dean James Cannon, chairman. Helpful assistance was provided by Dr. J. Richard Spann, director of the Department of In-Service Training of the General Board of Education.

The featured lecturer was Dr. John Knox, Baldwin Professor of Sacred Literature, Union Theological Seminary, New York City, who delivered the seventh series of James A. Gray Lectures speaking daily in Page Auditorium on the general subject, "The Integrity of Preaching." These lectures will be published at a later date.

Each night in Duke Chapel sermons were brought by Dr. Robert Bruce Pierce, minister of Broadway Methodist Church, Indianapolis, Indiana. His themes were: "Tourists of the Common Way," "Crosses Are in Style," and "Sane Living in an Insane World." Dr. Pierce also directed the "Workshop on Preaching."

The daily schedule was changed from the pattern of previous years to provide two other series of lectures in Page Auditorium. These were brought by Dr. James W. Henley, minister of West End Methodist Church, Nashville, Tennessee, on the subject "Parish Administration" and Dr. Gerald O. McCulloh, director of the Department of Theological Schools of the Methodist General Board of Education, whose subject was "The Pulpit Ministry and Christian Doctrine."

The afternoons were spent in workshops in the following areas:

1. "Alcohol Study," led by Dr. Caradine R. Hooton, Executive Secretary of the General Board of Temperance, Washington, D. C.
2. "Youth Work" directed by Dr. Joseph W. Bell, a staff member of the Department of Youth Work of the General Board of Education.
3. "The Vacation Church School" led by Mrs. W. R. Reed of Salisbury.
4. "Preaching" led by Dr. Robert B. Pierce.

The Convocation Communion service was led by Bishop W. W. Peele of Laurinburg, North Carolina, assisted by the Reverend Clyde Dunn, the Reverend D. M. Sharp, the Reverend B. B. Slaughter, and the Reverend Kermit Wheeler.

Each morning at 8:15 in Page Auditorium a period of hymn singing was led by the Reverend E. K. McLarty, Jr., minister of First Methodist Church, Salisbury.

On Wednesday of Convocation Week the Divinity School Alumni Association held a luncheon with some two hundred persons attending. The Reverend R. W. McCulley, of the class of '38 and president of the association, acted as toastmaster. An address was delivered by Dr. James W. Henley, whose son, James W. Henley, Jr., is now a student in the Divinity School. New officers were elected as follows: President, the Reverend Warren Petteway of the class of '46; Vice-President, Dr. A. Purnell Bailey of the class of '36; Secretary-Treasurer, the Reverend Russell Montfort of the class of '53.

At the end of the school Dr. James Cannon announced that the James A. Gray Lectures for 1957 will be delivered by Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles, California.

THE ROBERTS BEQUEST

The 44th annual accounting of the Roberts Bequest was made in January, 1956, in the office of the Clerk of Court of Forsyth County.

Subsequent to this annual audit, receipts have amounted to $275.00, and disbursements have been made totaling $250.60. Also, from the assets of the trust fund the sum of $955.68 has been used to purchase an additional $1000.00 United Treasury bond. These transactions leave the net assets of the Roberts Bequest as follows:

United States Treasury Bonds	$22,000.00
In Checking Account	414.46
Loans to Ministerial Students	411.98
TOTAL	$22,826.44

By court action now pending, it is hoped that the funds of this Bequest can be brought more directly under control of the Methodist Church, thus making them more readily available for loans to worthy young men studying for the ministry, and thus carrying out the provisions of the will of the late J. C. Roberts.

SUPERANNUATE ENDOWMENT FUND OF THE WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST CHURCH

We are attaching hereto the auditor's report from the Trust Department of the Wachovia Bank & Trust Company giving detailed information on the funds held by the Superannuate Endowment Fund of the Western North Carolina Conference. Also are attached four typewritten pages giving a condensed summary of our financial report by W. Reynolds Cuthbertson, Treasurer of this fund. This covers a one year period ending September 6, 1956.

We are happy to state that this year our net income reached an all-time high of $21,703.29 which is $1,460.45 more than last year and indicates the splendid income that we are receiving from our investments. A check for the $21,703.29 has been delivered to the Conference Treasurer who has endorsed the check to the Conference Board of Claimants.

It is with a sense of deep thankfulness and gratitude that we announce the receipt this year of a gift of $1,000 of paid-up Building and Loan stock from one of the ministerial members of our Conference who is himself in humble financial circumstances. It is such sacrificial gifts as these that continue to increase the corpus of this fund, and at the same time increase the yearly income which accrues to the benefit of the Conference Claimants.

The term of office of four of our Trustees expire this year and we re-nominate them for election for a three-year term:

J. C. Cowan, Jr.
George D. Finch
N. M. Harrison
W. F. Womble

If the next Conference meets in June, we ask permission for the annual meeting of the Trustees of this Superannuate Endowment Fund to be held sometime within the thirty day period prior to the beginning of the next Annual Conference, and that the meeting be held in Charlotte which seems to be a more convenient point. If the next Annual session of Conference is again held in September, we request permission for the annual meeting of the Trustees of the Superannuate Endowment Fund to be held sometime within the thirty day period prior to the beginning of the next conference.

Respectfully submitted,

W. REYNOLDS CUTHBERTSON, Secretary
EDWIN L. JONES, President

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE

As the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Western North Carolina Conference ends its sixteenth year, a feeling persists that although progress has been made, the best is yet to be. A tremendous challenge is still before us.

These sixteen years have seen three groups united and working together in harmony in one great goal: "to unite all the women of the church in Christian living and service; to help develop and support Christian work among women and children around the world; to develop spiritual life; to study the needs of the world; to take part in such service activities as will strengthen the local church, improve civic, community, and world conditions. To this end the organization seeks to enlist women, young people and children in this Christian fellowship, and to secure funds for the activities in the local church and support of the work undertaken at home and abroad for the establishment of a World Christian Community."

As you know the legislation of the Woman's Division and Woman's Societies is determined by General Conference. The major change in legislation at this last conference in Minneapolis was the separation of "Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities." Requests for this action have been coming for several years from the Woman's Societies in local churches. A second change makes the pastor a member of the executive committee, ex officio. The exact legislation is found in paragraph 253, article 5. After sixteen years the legislation of the Woman's Society of Christian Service needed few changes. It is hard to remember when there was no Woman's Society. Following the annual meeting of the Woman's Division in January 1955, some generous reporter wrote the following in the Christian Advocate:

"Perhaps what makes the period of unification seem longest is the record of the Woman's Society of Christian Service: no one can remember any more when Methodist women weren't working together! The scope of the program of the Woman's Society's 2,000,000 members would be a little awesome if it weren't concerned with such homely, tender, warmhearted things: the needs of old folks and little children, of the sick, the needy and the underprivileged here at home and also in some of the most unlikely spots on this earth."

As Mrs. Brooks, our Division president said, "Such words warm our hearts and make even legislation interesting."

As we look backward in this year just past, we see we have moved steadily forward in our conference work. Though dollars are needed to carry on the work, we like to feel that we are not dealing in dollars and cents, but in people! In making her annual report our conference treasurer said, "Do we fully realize that our money actually becomes: FLEET, carrying books for Christian teachers going to the ends of the earth with the light of knowledge of God? Or BUILDING PLANS for needed buildings, or WALKING with students of the world? HANDS, carrying doctor's kits as our missionaries follow the Master in His healing ministry? PRAYERS of intercession crossing time and space to help answer our own petition in a swift unselfish gesture? Our money is our OTHER SELF — either hard and cold, like cash in a cash-box—or warm and compassionate—tenderness in action".

The total receipts for 1955-56 was $276,433.09. . . . an increase during the past year of $15,188.63.

1955 saw two new missionaries from this conference go into the foreign field: Mrs. P. A. Masten to the Philippines, and Miss Elizabeth Callis to Rangoon, Burma. This brings to a total, eleven missionaries from the Western North Carolina Conference serving in other lands. Letters from this area of service are full of enthusiasm, but are ever crying that there is such a need for more.

Working within the bounds of our own conference we have one missionary and seven deaconesses in active service. There are also two U.S.-2's, serving as Rural Workers in Macon and Surry counties. This short-term program offered now has only been in effect for the past few years. It gives a girl an opportunity to work for a limited time before deciding to make it a full-time service. Sometimes, she is unable to continue for a longer period, perhaps for physical or emotional reasons, but quite frequently she decides to make it her life work. But in having the privilege of working for a short term makes for a happier situation all around. This program offers a two year term for workers within the United States—the U.S.-2's, and a three year term for workers in a foreign field.

Twenty-one girls used conference study grants last year. Of these 14 were at Pfeiffer, 4 at High Point, 2 at Greensboro and 1 at Vashti. Approximately the same number will have scholarships again this year.

One of the greatest undertakings of the conference society is the establishment of a Chair of Religious Life at Pfeiffer College, Misenheimer, in the amount of $100,000. This action was taken at the annual meeting in June and is a joint project of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild. Pfeiffer College is the only four-year college for white students operated under the Woman's Division of the Board of Missions. Bennett College, Greensboro, is a four-year college for Negro girls. It is impossible to estimate the true worth of Pfeiffer to the young men and women in this area. The Chair of Religious Life will insure a positive and progressive religious program throughout the life of the college. Income on the total sum will pay the salary of the Director of Religious Life and expense connected with this department. It is further hoped that through this sponsorship a much closer relationship will develop between the women of the conference and Pfeiffer College. It is furthermore anticipated that because of this close relationship the women of the conference will take initiative in the recruitment of qualified and consecrated men and women to prepare at the college.

The 892 societies and 174 guilds which make up the Conference Society show an increase in membership last year of 3,606. The membership now stands at 45,211. That number represents many women working together in this wonderful missionary program. However, there are still 197 churches in the conference without an organized Woman's Society or Guild. Herein lies one of our greatest challenges: to enlist ALL women of the church in this great work. Not only does a society strengthen the work of missions at home and abroad, but the church with a Woman's Society is a stronger local church.

As we look to the new year ahead, we see special emphasis placed on the local church, and this is right, for only as we put our faith and action to work at home, can it spread to the far corners of the earth.

As we look to the new year in the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild, not only do we plan for a new year, but a new quadrennium as well. We have a NEW THEME, NEW SYMBOL, and NEW GOALS, towards which to direct our attention and efforts. The Symbol shows the figure of Christ, stepping forth with arms outstretched to the world in invitation, compassion, benediction. He expects us to make our step firm as we stride out in helping Him to bring peace and love—and the hope of life eternal—to our fellowmen throughout the whole earth. The sheaves of wheat are a familiar Christian symbol, for the Bread of Life which sustains us and gives us the strength for the task we have chosen.

The Theme: THE SPIRIT OF CHRIST—FOR ALL OF LIFE, is self-explanatory and at the same time limitless.

The Call—which comes to every woman of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild is voiced through seven Goals. They are expressed as goals for each individual woman, for only as we seek to attain the ideas as individuals can the group move forward.

The emphasis is on the local church and the educational institutions of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, with special regard for the enrichment of spiritual life for the individual woman. The seven Goals include responsibility toward people of other races and a concern for all people who are exploited in any way, who do not have equal opportunity, or who do not know the joy of Christian living.

The Woman's Division has always said, "It is the local woman who counts!" . . . so the effort the individual woman in the woman's societies and guilds throughout the Western North Carolina Conference could well make a tremendous movement which could be felt throughout the world. This is the challenge before us at this time.

We always need to be looking beyond what we are doing to see what more we may do. Christ stepping forward with arms outstretched is the symbol of the example He gives us to follow.

MRS. CLARENCE C. CRANFORD, President

Historical

1. Historical Sketch

"The Western North Carolina Conference shall include all North Carolina west of the North Carolina Conference, except Savannah Church, in Alleghany County, North Carolina; and also that part of North Carolina lying north of New River, and including that part of Virginia lying south of that river in the loop in Grayson County, Virginia; including all the territory in Carroll and Patrick Counties, Virginia, south of the crest of the Blue Ridge, and west of the Dan River." (Discipline, 1948, paragraph 1757.)

This territory is identical with that of the Western North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South. All three branches of Methodism forming The Methodist Church are included in this new Conference. From the Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church came thirty-nine ministers and 11,901 church members. The North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Protestant Church contributed seventy-four ministers and 22,361 church members. The Western North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, added 377 ministers and 167,028 church members. This gave the new Conference 490 ministers, with twenty-eight others on trial, and 201,290 church members. The Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference had held 62 sessions, the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, 112, and the Western North Carolina, 50. (See Journal, 1939, Pages 115, 166).

DORUS C. BALLARD

May 7, 1881-October 6, 1955

Dorus C. Ballard was born May 7, 1881 in Lincoln County, the son of the late Robert H. and Margaret Goodson Ballard. His early life was spent in Lincoln County; he was educated in the schools of Lincoln County and at Rutherford College.

He was granted a local preacher's license by the Quarterly Conference of the Lowesville Circuit June 27, 1902. He was admitted on trial into the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1905 and was ordained elder at the Annual Conference of 1912. He served his Lord as a traveling minister in the Church for 28 years. Among the charges served were: Creston, Farmington, Linwood, Davie Circuit, Waxhaw, Polkton, Bethel, Crouse, Bryson City, McDowell Circuit, Rural Hall, East Flat Rock and Swannanoa Circuit.

After his retirement from the traveling ministry, he and his family lived for a few years in Newton. He later moved to Lincolnton to spend his last days in his native county among relatives and friends. Following a short illness, he was called to his eternal home October 6, 1955.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma Johnson Ballard, and three children, Mrs. Roberta Jackson, Woodland Hills, California, Calvin G. Ballard, Greensboro, and Mrs. Ruth V. Harvey, High Point.

Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church, Lincolnton, on October 8, 1955 by J. W. Braxton and C. W. Kirby. His body was laid to rest in the cemetery in Newton by the side of a son who had preceded him in death.

"O Thou Good Shepherd of the sheep
Thou Master of the fold,
Watch o'er us, Master, while we sleep,
And shelter us from cold.
O keep us, Lord, throughout the night,
From danger from our foes;
Protect us, Lord, by Thy great might,
From this dark world of ours.

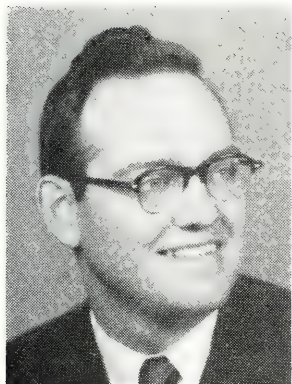

"And then when night of death shall come,
And we must leave this sphere,
Transport us Lord to Thy great home,
Where Thou art ever near.
Where we may eat and ever live,
Upon the living green,
And slake our thirst and there revive
On things that are unseen."

ROBERT NEAL BAREFOOT

January 16, 1926-August 25, 1956

Tragedy is no respecter of persons, and on Thursday, August 23, on a winding mountain highway, tragedy struck the parsonage of the Marshall Methodist Church. On that day about noon the car in which the pastor and his wife and four other occupants were riding was struck by a truck laden with hot asphalt. There were no survivors.

A news broadcast might be told thusly but it cannot tell adequately the sorrow which came to the people of Madison County in the passing on Saturday, August 25, of the Reverend Robert Neal Barefoot and on Sunday, August 26, of his wife, Louise.

Bob Barefoot was born in Greensboro, January 16, 1926; he received his college and seminary training at Asbury College and Seminary. He was licensed to preach in 1947 and while still in college served a small church in Kentucky. While he was in seminary he served a circuit of three churches in the Indiana Conference.

He joined the Western North Carolina Conference in 1951, was ordained deacon and received into full connection in 1953 and was ordained elder in 1954.

On March 17, 1951 he was united in marriage to Miss Dorothy Louise Hutcheson of Atlanta, Georgia.

A memorial service was held on Sunday, August 26, at the Marshall Methodist Church by his district superintendent, J. W. Fitzgerald, and the pastors of the local Baptist and Presbyterian Churches. Funeral services were conducted at Rehobeth Methodist Church near Greensboro on the following Tuesday.

On July 1, 1953 he received his only appointment in the Western North Carolina Conference. He was sent to the Marshall charge composed of the Marshall and Walnut churches. Although he did not have a large membership and there were small prospects of growth, for more than three years he undertook with cheerfulness and courage what to others might have appeared to be rigorous or trying.

He was active in the civic affairs of Marshall and was a member of the Civitan Club; he was a leader in the young people's work throughout Madison County and had served as Scoutmaster and member of the district Boy Scout council. He played a leading role in the American Red Cross membership drive and in promoting the blood bank program.

He won a big place in the hearts of his parishioners, his fellow townsmen and his brother ministers. His cheery smile and his pleasant manner bespoke his deeper friendship with his God.

He loved the Methodist Church and often publicly thanked God for the privilege of preaching in it. His life can best be summed up in his own words. When he applied for admission into the Western North Carolina Conference and was asked to describe his religious experience, he spoke briefly but with deep feeling, "I know Jesus has saved me and filled me with His Holy Spirit. I want His will for my life always."

"If I should suddenly be called to go
 With death, on some far journey, on a day
 When life besought me joyously to stay—
 Why should I then consider him my foe!
 He has appeared so often—now I know
 That he is but the guide upon the way
 To such divine adventures as we may
 Not even dream of here on earth below.
 Death takes the film of earth-dust from our eyes
 And frees the spirit from its flesh outworn,
 That we may journey through the morning skies
 Within the Everlasting Arms up borne,
 Till on our new-found vision shall arise
 The glory of our resurrection morn."

HENRY WILLIAM BELL

November 29, 1892-January 27, 1956

Henry William Bell was born in Randolph County, North Carolina, November 29, 1892, and passed to his heavenly home January 27, 1956. He was the son of Lincoln and Hannah Ridge Bell. He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Veta Mae Loffin, to whom he was married August 3, 1912, and two sons, Willie R. Bell of Marion and Vester C. Bell of Rockingham.

He was licensed to preach in Davidson County October 23, 1926 and was ordained an elder in the Methodist Protestant Conference in 1932. He served in the pastorate of the Methodist Church continuously until the time of his death serving the following charges: Democrat, West End; Thomasville, Rockingham, Roberta, Marion Circuit, Welcome, Shelby, Prospect, Homestead; Charlotte, and Webster Charge.

Funeral services were held in Webster, Saturday, January 28, by Frank C. Smathers, Superintendent of the Waynesville District, and Roy E. Bell of Sylva. Final rights were held on Sunday afternoon at the Pee Dee Methodist Church in Rockingham by C. E. Ridge, assisted by Rev. Paul Whitesides and Rev. Alfred Bennett; interment was made in the cemetery there.

Brother Bell was a lovable and gracious minister and gave unselfishly of his best to the ministry of Jesus Christ. We saw him live in every human relationship of home and church. We saw him live in the beauty of holiness; we saw him live in the glory of service. We saw him live in the hope of eternal life which had been set in his heart here. Heaven cannot seem strange to him for he had lived in its climate so long.

He only knew and believed the best in everyone. No one could have trusted people to a greater extent, and with all his strength he had infinite patience in reaching his objectives. He was one of the most steadfast and deeply consecrated men I ever knew. He was loyal to his family, to his friends, to his church and to his God. There was a tremendous strength in the directness and the simplicity of his faith.

He loved to preach the useachable riches of Christ. He had great love and admiration for his people, and he was loved and greatly appreciated by the congregations he served. His laymen frequently referred to him as one of God's good men. With a full heart we thank God for his life.

Now he has crossed the Great Divide and entered into his eternal rest where there is no more death, neither sorrow or unmet need. Brother Bell, your life was a good life. Our world is better for you having lived in it. The world over there is better for you having entered it.

CLARENCE CLINTON BENTON

May 25, 1895-April 28, 1956

On April 28, 1956 I lost one of my dearest friends in the person of Clarence Clinton Benton. I was a young Marine returning with the horrors of war still in my mind, and he provided a home and church to which I could turn and work through my problems.

It was his understanding, ability to listen, and warm friendship that helped to put my feet back on the road to the Christian ministry. My life is only an illustration of the many who, when they pray today, thank God for the ministry of C. C. Benton. In that group are husbands and wives who found an understanding counselor in their home problems, alcoholics who were led into an association with Alcoholics Anonymous and the Church, returned service men with the need of a place to talk things through, and young preachers who found in his Church and home encouragement not to be content with dull preaching. He worked hard at the job of being, not a professional minister, but a good preacher and counselor, and the testimony from my life and from countless others tells the story of one who was successful in his work.

It could well be said "that he was a friend to sinners."

C. C. Benton was born May 25, 1895, near Athens, Tennessee, son of the late William B. and Martha Sleiger Benton. He attended Tennessee Wesleyan College and Vanderbilt University.

He entered the ministry in 1921 becoming a member of the Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference. He served pastorates at Old Fort, Cherryville, East Radford, Virginia, Rose Hill, Winston-Salem and Canton and served as District Superintendent of the Asheville District from 1934 to 1939. He became associate pastor of First Methodist Church, Charlotte, in 1940, was pastor of Central Avenue between 1941 and 1946 and then was sent to First Street Methodist in Albemarle. He was appointed again as minister to the Central Avenue Church where he died as pastor. His funeral services were conducted by Frank Jordan, District Superintendent, at Central Avenue Methodist Church in Charlotte April 29, 1956. Graveside services were held Monday, April 30, 1956 in the Tranquility Methodist Church Cemetery in Athens, Tennessee.

C. C. Benton was a member of Saint Andrews Lodge 702, AF & AM, a member of the Scottish Rite Bodies and Oasis Temple of the Shrine, and he had been made an honorary member of Alcoholics Anonymous with which he had worked to salvage the lives of men and women.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace Evans Benton; one son, Paul Garfield Benton; three grandchildren, Paul Garfield Benton II, Alessandra Benton, Valgrve Benton of California; a sister, Mrs. Emma T. Dyer of New York City; two brothers, Samuel D. Benton and George W. Benton of Athens, Tennessee.

This writer does not even propose to believe he possesses the capacity or ability to write a tribute to this man who was his spiritual father.

C. C. Benton loved to preach and even in his illness he would talk to this writer about new sermon ideas. It was a deep desire of his life to have something worthwhile and moving to say when he stood in the pulpit. His preaching was simple and moving, and few people ever went away saying, "I did not understand what he was talking about." During the period of his illness he reminded this writer that although all through his life he had been trying to learn to be a good preacher, now he had been called upon to learn to be a good sufferer. All who knew him know that he was successful in this as he was in his preaching. Perhaps the greatest sermon of his life was preached during his illness making true again the words "my strength is made perfect in weakness."

C. C. Benton, just plain "C. C." to his friends, was a stranger to fear, and he took a firm stand on issues and, with his wealth of common sense and humor, won many a man to Christian principles and the church.

Those who knew him thought of him as a man of integrity and courage. He did not bootlick the rich and powerful, nor impose upon the weak. He was fair in his dealings with others and was instinctively sympathetic with the underdog.

In a sermon to his congregation before his death he used a poem by Fredrick Knowles that expressed his faith:

"This body is my house—it is not I!
Here in I sojourn till, in some far sky
I lease a fairer dwelling, built to last
Till all the carpentry of time is past.

"When from my high place viewing this lone star,
What shall I care where these poor timbers are?
What though the crumbling walls turn dust and loam,
I shall have left them for a larger home . . .

"When this clay cottage fallest, I'll immerse
My long-cramped spirit in the universe . . .
This body is my house—it is not I!
Triumphant in this faith I live and die!"

—D. EDWIN BAILEY

ELPHUS ABEDNEGO BINGHAM

February 22, 1892-April 15, 1956

One of the poets tells us

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths;
In feelings, not in figures on a dial."

He might have added, "nor in dates on a calendar." Yet, they are all important as we try to evaluate a man's life. The dates are important for inspiration as well as for information.

Let us think for a moment of the dates as information:

Elphus A. Bingham was born on February 22, 1892, in Cleveland County, on a farm near Fallston, the son of Samuel J. and Druzella Wright Bingham. He graduated from Fallston High School. Answering the insistent call to the ministry, he graduated from Elon College in 1918, and from Westminster Theological Seminary in 1922.

He was married to Sarah Willis on December 24, 1918. To this union were born three children: Mrs. William L. Maynard, of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Thomas C. Boone, Jr., of Graham, and E. A. Bingham, Jr., of Charlotte.

He served the following charges: Mebane (while in Elon College), Lewistown and Catocton Churches, Maryland (while in Seminary), and the following charges in the North Carolina Annual Conference of the former Methodist Protestant Church: Maple Springs, Graham, Bess Chapel, Denton, South Davidson, Saxapahaw, Union Grove, and Albemarle. Since Methodist Union he has served the following charges in the Western North Carolina Annual Conference: Marshville, Concord-El Bethel, Danbury and Old Fort. He was pastor of Grace Chapel Church when he passed away on April 15, 1956.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, April 17, 1956, at the Friendship Methodist Church in Fallston, with Ralph H. Taylor, District Superintendent, officiating, assisted by J. J. Shepard, the pastor of the church, and W. B. A. Culp, pastor of St. James Methodist Church, Charlotte, of which his son is a member.

He was taken seriously ill on March 3, but recovered sufficiently to preach on Easter Sunday morning, April 2, using as the subject of his sermon, "Immortality." Then a relapse came which ended with his death on April 15.

He became a Christian in his early boyhood and united with his home church, Friendship, in Fallston. He entered the Conference on trial in 1918 and was ordained an elder in 1922.

Back of these brief facts is the inspiration of a long life of faithful and devoted service to Christ and His Church. Those of us who knew him over many of these years testify to the unsullied purity of his personal life and of his unfagging zeal in his life as a minister of the Gospel. It could be said of him as was said of another long ago, "He was a good man, full of the Holy Ghost and of faith."

It was this writer's privilege to have Brother Bingham assist him in several revival meetings. He preached the pure Word without compromise and with intense conviction. He lived as he preached. Men who knew him could "see a sermon any day."

The Book of Proverbs says, "The memory of the just is blessed." Those to whom Brother Bingham was nearest and dearest will ever cherish the remembrance of a loving husband and a devoted father, one whose footsteps they will follow as he followed the footsteps of the Master whom he loved and served, until the road ends in the City that hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

OAKLEY EASLEY CROY

January 21, 1899-January 6, 1956

Oakley Easley Croy, good minister of Jesus Christ, passed away in the North Carolina Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem in the early hours of Friday morning, January 6. Dr. Croy had been in declining health for approximately two years but had been critically ill for only about two weeks. His funeral was conducted in the Union Ridge Methodist Church, where he served as pastor at the time of his death, on Saturday, January 7, by Kenneth Goodson, C. A. Cranford, and R. L. Young. Brother Croy was laid to rest in the Cane Creek Cemetery of the Fairview Community, near Asheville. In this community, some twenty-eight years before, he had taught school; and it was in the Cane Creek Community that he had met his wife, and on January 27, 1928, married Miss Elizabeth McCracken, a member of the prominent medical family in Buncombe County. She has been his faithful companion in the Methodist parsonage for these twenty-eight years and survives him. In addition to his faithful wife, he is survived by a daughter, Miss Patricia Croy, a junior at Greensboro College; a daughter of the parsonage, who is preparing herself in the field of Christian Education and service to the local church; also surviving is a brother, Sidney Croy, of Swannanoa.

The active pallbearers at the funeral were officers of the Union Ridge Church. The honorary pallbearers were the stewards of the church and many members of the Western North Carolina Conference, who came to pay final tribute to him, in addition to his good and loyal physicians, who attended him in his closing days.

Oakley Easley Croy was born January 21, 1899, in Bluefield, West Virginia. He was the son of James Averil and Addie Mae Bosterwick Croy. He spent his early life in Roanoke, Virginia, and was educated in the public schools there. Later he graduated from Weaver College in Weaverville and attended Pasadena College, University of Southern California, Duke University, Boston University, and received his Ph.D. degree at Central University, Indianapolis, Indiana. He possessed five graduate degrees. Upon the closing of Weaver College, where he was teaching, he joined the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church in October 1928. For the next twenty-eight years, he served as an itinerant preacher of the Methodist Church, winning for himself a place in the hearts and the affections of the people he served, and of his colleagues in the ministry, who worked with him down through the years. Scarcely, if ever, has this writer seen so many members of the Annual Conference come together at a funeral service as did come to bid farewell to O. E. Croy. He was a good minister of Jesus Christ.

When I think about O. E. Croy, I think in terms of several things. First of all, I think of the man's determination. Always there seemed to abound in his heart, a determination to do a good and acceptable job wherever he was sent in the itinerant ministry of his church. There was within his makeup the kind of determination that was forever unsatisfied unless it could see the job accomplished with some degree of personal satisfaction. This kind of determination was exemplified in the education ambitions of the man. Hardship and trying circumstances, one after another, confronted him in the days of his youth, and always there was an unwillingness to stop until he had received the kind of an education that he wanted.

One who knew him well would also have been impressed by his family devotion. I believe, to be sure, that by the very nature of the life itself, there grows up within the parsonage a closeness of family ties unlike family ties anywhere else in the world. This family seemed to exemplify the best in parsonage life, a devotion one to another, a concern for the family's welfare, and a sense of tremendous security when in the presence of the family that he so deeply and so dearly loved. He presided over his home with dignity and a quiet reverence for the God who presided over all their lives. His home was marked by a reverence for the institution of the home itself and a deep sense of consideration for those who shared his life as well as his parsonage home. One who has gone in and out of his home across the years would remember with tender recollection the loveliness of this parsonage home.

One who has known something of the itinerant record of O. E. Croy and the charges to which he has been sent, and the record he was able to put together while serving on those charges, would be equally appreciative of the man's service to the church and through the church to the Kingdom of God. He went in many places as a pioneer preacher. The easy appointments were not to be his life; and, yet, wherever he went there was a kind of a graciousness of spirit in his going, and the community knew that in their midst had come a representative of Jesus Christ. He made the rough ways smooth, and in the hard places he preached the great Gospel. His service to his church is admirable and noteworthy. He was a good minister of Jesus Christ.

Then, I am also impressed by the faith of the man. During the time that he and I were neighbors in the city of Winston-Salem, freedom from sickness or overshadowing disease had not been his. More than once had he gone to the hospital, even for surgery, in the period in which he resided in this lovely town. Then as the days of his illness wore on and the human mind began to comprehend far more than it ever was willing to acknowledge to the outside world, and the shadows of death began to hover about him, there remained within the man a quiet dignity, a sense of serenity and of peace, a kind of confidence that is born out of the fact that "I know in whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed against that day." He did not anticipate death with enthusiasm—who among us does, but he met it with confidence, that within itself is a tremendous accomplishment.

He was a man of many parts. He had a tremendous desire to serve his church. He had a burning ambition to receive an education that would equip him to do the job that he needed to do. He had a love for people. I hold in my hand some lines written by the great American poet, Edwin Markham. During Brother Croy's student days at Boston University, he became a close friend of Edwin Markham. I thought of that friendship as I read these lines:

"When in the dim beginning of the years,
God mixed in man the raptures and the tears,
Scattered through his brain the starry stuff,

He said, 'Behold this is not enough,
For I must test his spirit to make sure
That he can dare the Vision and endure.'

"I will withdraw my face,
Veil me in shadow for a certain space,
Leaving behind me only a broken clue,
A crevice where the glory glimmers through,
Some whisper from the sky
Some footprints in the road to track me by.

"I will leave man to make the fateful guess,
Will leave him torn between the No and Yes,
Leave him unresting till he rests in me,
Drawn upward by the Choice that makes Him free,
Leave him in tragic loneliness to choose,
With all in life to win or all to lose."

O. E. Croy did choose. He chose to cast his life on the side of God, and to work as a loyal and faithful servant of Jesus Christ as long as he was able to do so, that he did.

This writer was standing by the man's bed when he died. He died well. He had lived well. I came from the hospital in the early hours of the morning after he died. I turned on the television set for a few minutes at my parsonage to try to relax for awhile before going to sleep. It was a strange coincidence, but the announcer giving the late evening news was telling about the death of a great statesman in the world that night, and he used this sentence in so describing the statesman that lingered in my thinking for a good many days. The announcer said, "When a hero dies, you do not mourn him—you salute him." I said, "Amen." I had just come from a great hospital. I had seen a good faithful servant of Jesus Christ die. He had served the church as long as he had been able to do so. I shall not mourn him—I shall salute him. He was one of the heroes of the faith, and when a hero dies you do not mourn him, you salute him. I salute Oakley Easley Croy, servant of Jesus Christ.

ROBERT LEE FORBIS

May 2, 1886-January 15, 1956

On January 15, 1956, the golden key that opens the door of eternity turned in the lock of life, and the soul of Robert Lee Forbis gently passed to that undiscovered country from whose shores no traveler has ever returned.

"Life's labor done as sinks the clay,
Light from its load the spirit flies,
While Heaven and earth combine to say
'How blest the righteous when he dies.'"

He was born May 2, 1886 at Waxhaw, the son of William C. and Margaret Chapman Forbis. On November 19, 1905, he married Margaret Ellen Moore, and this union was blessed with five children; Maie Link, Ruth Lockman, Coburn, William, and Edith Saunders. On May 6, 1950, his wife preceded him in death. His second marriage was to Mrs. Bessie Roberts who survives.

He was educated at So. I. L., Charlotte, and Rutherford College. In 1911 he joined the Western North Carolina Conference and served faithfully the following charges: Gold Hill Circuit, Concord: Westford, Kanapolis Circuit, Charlotte: Chadwick, Prospect Circuit, Circuit, Gastonia: Trinity, Winston-Salem: Grace, Balls Creek, Lenoir Circuit, Sulphur Springs, and El Bethel.

Ranlo, Goodsonville, Shelby Circuit, Gastonia: Trinity, Winston-Salem: Grace, Balls Creek, Lenoir Circuit, Sulphur Springs, and El Bethel.

Due to ill health he retired in 1951 and lived near Shelby until his death. Funeral services were conducted by C. C. Murray, J. L. Rayle, Bill E. Bass and the writer. His body was laid to rest in Asbury cemetery.

The greatest tribute I can pay is to say that "Brother Forbis was a good man." Great men are good men, and a man is not great because he owns something but because he is something. Goodness is an enduring virtue that never grows less or disappoints those who come in contact with it. He was a man of gentle spirit, one who was governed by conscientious principles in dealing with his fellow man. He was sincere, humble, and brotherly. His trust in God brought him peace. He was a faithful pastor and evangelistic preacher, one whom the people loved and heard gladly. A builder of churches and parsonages, the beautiful Asbury church near Lincolnton stands as a monument to his earnest desire to build a house of worship even though his health was waning.

For forty-one years this faithful servant of God accepted gladly whatever appointment was given him and at each church the work prospered under his leadership. When the summons came the sunset was clear. There were no clouds to dim the glory of his crossing and we feel that when he met his Master face to face again he told the story "Saved By Grace."

"When the night shades gently are falling
And the lights softly glow in the sky,
Then I think of the Home over yonder
And it seems to be so near by.
Whatever the task that is given
I will faithfully labor on.
Contented if, when it is finished,
The Father shall say, 'Well done.'
And when my day here is ended
And the twilight of life I've won,
I will face Home in the evening
And wait for the lights to come on.
Oh, the glory awaiting in the Homeland
When our day's work here is done!
We will be safe with the Father
And no sorrow shall ever come."

—JOSEPH S. HIATT

ROY CLINTON MOTSINGER

November 15, 1914-May 12, 1956

Among the men who make up the ministry of The Methodist Church are the large number of devoted and consecrated servants of the Church who are referred to as supply pastors. They are men whose loyalty and devotion to the Methodist Church and to Jesus Christ is none the less than the men who are regular itinerant preachers in full connection of the church. These men who are supply preachers find themselves for one reason or another members of the Conference but on a supply basis and not in full connection. They do a fine and noble service for the church, and except for them many fine pulpits across American Methodism would go unfilled.

One of these men, Roy Clinton Motsinger, died during the course of this year while serving as supply pastor at Hiatt's Memorial Methodist Church in the city of Winston-Salem. Roy Motsinger was born in Mt. Airy, November 15, 1914, the son of Lindsay and Eva Crouch Motsinger. He served with the Army Air Corps for four years during the second World War. He was married to Ruth Elizabeth Carroll, who survives. Other survivors include a son, E. C. Motsinger, of Winston-Salem; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Motsinger of Lewisville; and eight brothers.

I do not know if in a long while I have known a man who loved to preach this gospel any more than Roy Motsinger. He has been a layman in Winston-Salem for a good many years. In 1950, he joined the Mt. Carmel Methodist Church, and from the moment he repeated his vows until the day of his death, he was every day in every way a Christian gentleman. Always there was burning within this boy's heart a desire to go into the ministry of the church. Against odds that would have caused defeatism to a lesser man, Roy Motsinger kept going. He worked at his job at the bakery here in Winston-Salem. He gave a full time ministry to Hiatt's Methodist Church, where he was sent as a supply preacher at the last session of the Conference. He was busily engaged, and doing it acceptably, in passing off the Conference Course of Studies at Emory University. He was a good faithful minister of Jesus Christ. Roy Motsinger gave all the strength he had and finally early in the morning of May 12, while on his bread route, he died at his work in a local grocery store. Nearby him in his truck was a copy of his Sunday sermon on the Christian home. He had tried to build one, now he was trying to help others so to do. We in Winston-Salem miss him and mourn his passing. He represented that host of noble laymen who are supply preachers in The Methodist Church and who render an invaluable service to our church and to the Kingdom of God.

ALVA WASHINGTON PLYLER

September 14, 1867-June 28, 1956

When the heroic spirit of gallant Alva Washington Plyler took ship for the other shore in the early hours of Thursday, June 28, 1956, a stalwart ambassador of the Lord marked the finish of a notable earthly career. For fifty years he labored effectively in the ministry of the Methodist Church as an active and influential member of the Western North Carolina Conference. Having entered the ministry in the year 1892 as a graduate of Trinity College, he gave himself immediately and enthusiastically to the work of the pastorate. Within the bounds of the Western North Carolina Conference the following towns and cities were the grateful beneficiaries of his sympathetic, understanding and tender ministries: Hot Springs, Pineville, Winston-Salem, Waxhaw, Asheboro, Weaverville, Charlotte, Lexington, Wadesboro and Greensboro. In each and all of these pastorates A. W. Plyler exhibited a great love and concern for people and an obsessionate devotion to his sacred calling. In a convincing manner he demonstrated the personal possession of the true shepherd's heart and an unwavering regard for the salvation and abundant living of every individual entrusted to his care.

Also Dr. Plyler served valiantly and with discerning leadership as the Presiding Elder of the Asheville, Salisbury and Greensboro Districts.

As acceptably as he fulfilled his stewardship in both the pastorate and presiding eldership, A. W. Plyler's surpassing distinction awaited him in the field of religious journalism. In 1921, side by side with his twin brother, the Rev. Marion T. Plyler, himself a recognized leader in the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church, Dr. Plyler became one of the two editors of the North Carolina Christian Advocate. Then from the vantage point of an able editor's desk, he wielded a fluent pen as he preached with forceful eloquence and challenging prophecy through the pages of a journal which attained enviable prestige among the religious periodicals of our area and country. Thus did he invest his exceptional talent until his retirement in 1945.

Surely his life was an unbroken chain of enriching experiences. Here and there it was punctuated by meritorious achievements and high honors, fully deserved. Alva Washington Plyler was one of identical twins born to proud parents in Iredell County, North Carolina, September 14, 1867. Reared in the Christian faith and inspired by his parents to take full advantage of his educational opportunities, the youthful Plyler enrolled at Trinity College where he applied himself with determination and zest whether as a football player or as a student. His love for Trinity College, Duke University and football continued unabated throughout all Dr. Plyler's days. It was at the University of Chicago that he pursued graduate studies, and honorary degrees were conferred upon him by Asbury College and Duke University. Also he was a member of the Editorial Council of the Religious Press of America and a member of the joint board for the sesquicentennial celebration of American Methodism. He represented his conference as a delegate to six general conferences, to the Ecumenical Conference in Atlanta, and the Uniting Conference in Kansas City in 1939.

He served as trustee of the Methodist Assembly and of Brevard College. He was a member and a former president of the Southern Methodist Press Association, and a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Beta Kappa Associates, and Duke University Varsity Club. He was the author of "The Iron Dukes of the Methodist Itinerancy" in 1925, and joint author of four other literary productions.

It was on July 20, 1911, that Alva Washington Plyler and Grace Davis Barnhardt were joined in happy matrimony. To this union were born three daughters, the eldest of whom died on the day of birth. Mary, the second child, also died at an early age. Helen who is now Mrs. Richard Maxwell, Jr. of Westfield, New Jersey, survives her father along with her three children and her mother.

A. W. Plyler and his wife Grace were a devoted couple. They seemed to have had an almost perfect understanding of each other and their aesthetic tastes were so admirably attuned that they found mutual enjoyment in travel, art, music, literature and religion. Furthermore, these two congenial lovers were as one in their constant dependence upon God. Even when they were stunned by the untimely passing of their precious child, little Mary, they were baffled only momentarily for their strength was quickly renewed in a sense of the peculiar presence with them of Him "who is closer than breathing, nearer than hands and feet."

Funeral services for Alva Washington Plyler were conducted at the West Market Street Methodist Church in Greensboro on Friday, June 29, 1956, with Charles P. Bowles, Emmett K. McLarty, Jr. and Eugene C. Few as officiating ministers.

After more than eighty-eight years crowded with blessed usefulness, A. W. Plyler has gone from among us in physical person to continue to live, and more abundantly, in the heaven prepared for him among the many rooms in the house of our Heavenly Father.

HENRY LEE POWELL

September 14, 1867-December 1, 1955

Henry Lee Powell, 88, died at his home in Fair Grove, Thomasville, on Thursday, December 1, 1955. Funeral services were conducted on Saturday afternoon, December 3, at Fair Grove by A. W. Wellons, his pastor, assisted by T. G. Madison and the writer.

A native of Surry County, he was born near Pilot Mountain on September 14, 1867, a son of the late Ben H. Powell and Alma Louise Jordan Powell. Of pioneer stock, from the rolling foothills of Carolina, he grew up during the reconstruction era and learned early in life how to live frugally. Fresh air, pure water, simple food, and clean habits were conducive to the growth of a strong body. The influence of a Christian home and a burning desire to serve led him as a young man to dedicate his life to the Christian ministry. After absorbing all the knowledge the public schools of his community had to offer, he continued his education at Oak Ridge Institute and Yadkin College. So determined was he to prepare for his life-work, that he walked eighty-five miles from Pilot Mountain to "old" Yadkin College to enroll. Here he did his own cooking, laundry, and cut hair for his fellow students to pay his tuition.

He joined the Methodist Protestant Conference in 1893 and for forty-two years served faithfully and well the following appointments: Albemarle, Halifax, Trinity-Lexington, Littleton, North Davidson, Orange Circuit, Pleasant Grove, Tabernacle, Thomasville-First, Vance Circuit, Yadkin College, and appointments in South Carolina and Virginia.

Due to impaired hearing, he retired in 1935 and moved to the Fair Grove community where he spent twenty years of golden sunset in a rich and fruitful service in the Church and community.

He was married twice, first on March 6, 1900, to Miss Dora Butner of Bethania, who died October 15, 1910; surviving this union are three daughters, Mrs. Helen Clary and Mrs. A. J. Bristow both of Roanoke Rapids, and Miss Louise Powell of the home; twin sons, Herman L. of Thomasville, and Henry E. Powell of the home. On May 1, 1912, he was married to Miss Josie Reavis of Henderson, who survives with two children; Mrs. Christine Kennedy of Thomasville, and Bryan W. Powell of Fair Grove. There are twelve grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

My first recollection of Brother Powell goes back to my early boyhood when he served the North Davidson charge. He often passed our home on his way to and from Canaan. He was never in too much of a hurry to stop and talk with those along his route of travel. In the pulpit and out he was a man of regal bearing, always immaculate in dress and aware of the simple dignity of a Christian minister. His philosophy was: "Do your best, and wait on the Lord."

During the five years of our pastorate at Fair Grove, where he attended regularly and taught the Men's Bible Class, his steps became visibly slower, but the light of the love of God shone even brighter in his soul. With a gleam in his eyes and a chuckle in his voice, he lived each day to the full. As he neared the time of his departure, it seemed that God pulled back the curtain and the great panorama of heaven was clearly visible to him. From his conversation God must have let some of the companions of former years come and stand near him and talk with him. In those moments of heavenly ecstasy he lived in two worlds and would say to his devoted wife, "Thank God, I shall soon be with my Lord."

It was in his home that the love-fires burned most brightly. He was a venerated patriarch. The children called him "Papa," and his wife always affectionately addressed him, "Mr. Powell." The doors of this home were always open to all, rich and poor, old and young. A number of "foster" children were taken in and reared as their own. Truly, his earthly home was a "haven of blessing and a place of peace," as nearly like his heavenly home as love and devotion could make it.

To have known his gentle spirit has made many of us long to walk in closer fellowship with Christ.

"His life was gentle, and the elements so mix'd in him
That nature might stand up and say to all the world,
'Henry Lee Powell was a man!'"

—BYRON NIFONG

BENJAMIN REID WALL

November 11, 1905-October 18, 1955

"None knew thee but to love thee
None named thee but praise."

Since the last Annual Conference, our church has suffered the loss of one of its most valuable members in the death of Benjamin Reid Wall.

Reid, as he was known to all of us, was born November 11, 1905, in Coffee County, Georgia, in a Methodist parsonage. His parents were the Reverend Allen Benjamin and Mattie Johnson Wall of the South Georgia Conference. The influence of his environment was manifested in the decision at an early age to dedicate himself to God as a Christian minister.

He received his undergraduate and theological education at Emory University and at the University of Chicago, and it was at the University of Chicago that he was awarded a fellowship in the Department of Church History. It was there, also, that he met his wife, the former Miss Inez Bolin, of Oakland, Nebraska, and they were married June 18, 1932. To this union two children were born, a son, Robert, and a daughter, Carolyn.

His pastorates were as follows: Saluda, Gibsonville, Bethel-Grace, Catawba, Granite Falls, Burkhead in Winston-Salem, and Memorial in Thomasville.

Our esteemed friend served with distinction as a minister in the Methodist Church. He was a student and scholar, an excellent organizer and promoter, and a hard and continuous worker. In his quiet, effective manner, he always endeared himself to the people of his parish as he served them with a pastor's devotion. The particular church where he was serving and the entire surrounding community were always blessed immeasurably by his gentle, Christian spirit and leadership.

Although he was very successful as a pastor, many of us who were closest to him felt that he reached his field of richest and fullest service when he assumed the superintendency of the Methodist Home. His creative and scholarly approach, his administrative and business ability, his love for people, his wholehearted commitment to a life of service, his courteous, patient and kind manner, and his humble and understanding spirit qualified him in a peculiar way for the responsibilities as head of this new institution.

During the seven years of his leadership, which began in October, 1948, the Methodist Home attained nationally known recognition and became one of the outstanding institutions of its kind in the United States. He played the role of pioneer as he led his church to new horizons of service in ministering and caring for those in the retirement years of life. He was the incarnation of the special love and attention people need at that stage of life. The Home will always stand as a monumental tribute to his selfless commitment to Christian service. He furnished a unique leadership in which humility, strength and understanding were combined with practical and resolute judgment. His unflagging efforts enabled the realization of a great and noble venture.

The loss of one who so exemplified those Christian graces which inspired trust and confidence will be felt for a long time throughout the church in this area. We cannot soon forget his influence, example, prodigious, courageous and sacrificial service. We shall long remember his brotherly and Christ-like spirit and his compassionate heart. His life will continue to be an inspiration and joy to those who knew and loved him.

These words of John Ellerton seem especially fitting at this time:

"Now the laborer's task is o'er;
Now the battle day is passed;
Now upon the farther shore lands the voyager at last.
Father, in Thy gracious keeping leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

"There the tears of earth are dried;
There its hidden things are clear;
There the work of life is tried by a juster Judge than here.
Father, in Thy gracious keeping leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

"Earth to earth, and dust to dust;
Calmly now the words we say;
Left behind, we wait in trust for the resurrection day.
Father, in Thy gracious keeping leave we now Thy servant sleeping."

—H. L. CREECH, JR.

CHARLES BUNYAN WAY

May 20, 1889—September 10, 1956

Charles Bunyan Way, the son of William Franklin and Mary Ellen Way, was born in Alamance County, North Carolina, May 20, 1889.

While attending public schools in Alamance County and in Burlington, he joined the Davis Street Methodist Church and was active in Sunday school and young peoples work. In 1922, he was elected secretary-treasurer of the Board of Young Peoples Work of the North Carolina Conference.

It was during this time that he strongly felt the urge to enter the ministry. After his ordination in the Methodist-Protestant Church, he was sent to the South-Davidson Charge, Lexington. Later, he served pastorates at Shelby, Tobaccoville, Forest City, Kernersville, Burns-ville, and Stokesdale. He was a veteran of World War I.

Brother Way served the church with devotion and courage across the years. For a number of years he was conference reporter for the Annual Conference of the Methodist-Protestant Church. Always eager to serve, Brother Way left this world with his boots on. He labored faithfully all of his life right up until the moment in which sudden death came.

"Fold up the tent!

The sun is in the West.

Tomorrow my untented soul will range

Among the blest.

And I am well content,

For what is sent, is sent,

And God knows best.

"Fold up the tent,

And speed the parting guest!

The night draws on, though night and day are one

On this long quest.

This house was only lent

For my apprenticeship

What is, is best.

"Fold up the tent!

Its slack ropes all undone,

Its pole all broken, and its cover rent,

But mine—tho' spoiled and spent

Mine earthly tenement—

Is but begun.

"Fold up the tent!

Its tenant would be gone,

To fairer skies than mortal eyes

May look upon.

All that I loved has passed,

And left me at the last

Alone—Alone!

"Fold up the tent!

I hear a clear voice calling, calling, clear,—

"To rest! To rest!"

And I am glad to go,

For the lamp burns, low,

And rest is best!

PRE-CONFERENCE SESSION

Bishop Nolan B. Harmon presided and announced the opening hymn after which he turned over a Wesley Gavel to H. R. McSwain for the regular session of the Conference Historical Society in the George R. Stuart Auditorium, Lake Junaluska, N. C., Thursday night, June 13, 1957.

Dr. Elmer T. Clark spoke concerning the hymns of Charles Wesley after a number of these hymns had been sung. The following resolution was adopted as presented by G. W. Bumgarner:

"Therefore, Be it Resolved, that we authorize a committee to select a historian for the Western North Carolina Conference. Furthermore this historian shall be subject to the approval of the executive committee of the Historical Society of the Western North Carolina Conference. We furthermore nominate the following persons to constitute the aforesaid committee: F. C. Smathers, J. H. Carper, J. C. Madison, Vernon A. Morton, and H. R. McSwain.

Signed: G. W. Bumgarner, J. E. Carroll, E. H. Nease, Sr."

Dr. B. G. Childs gave the address, "Gleanings from North Carolina Methodist History." This address follows:

HISTORICAL ADDRESS

B. G. Childs

I saw a wayworn trav'ler
In tattered garments clad,
And struggling up the mountain,
It seem'd that he was sad;
His back was laden heavy,
His strength was almost gone,
Yet shouted as he journeyed,
Deliverance will come!

The summer sun was shining
The sweat was on his brow,
His garments, worn and dusty,
His step seem'd very slow;
But he kept pressing onward,
For he was wending home;
Still shouting as he journeyed,
Deliverance will come!

Then palms of victory, crowns of glory,
Palms of victory I shall wear.

These poignant words with their plaintive melody might well enough have been heard almost anywhere in North Carolina a hundred years or more ago. They could have been on the lips of any of that "endless line of splendor"—Methodist circuit riders as they traversed the Old North State from its Manteo to its Murphy or its Camden to its Cherokee.

If only this hymn had been written by Reverend John Matthias as much as a quarter of a century earlier, that hymn-singing circuit rider could have been Francis Asbury crossing the Cataloochee Trail, skirting the banks of Jonathan and Richmond creeks on his way to Vater Shooks, whose very home still stands only a half-dozen miles from here along the highway to Canton. In Asbury's Journal we find this entry: "Thursday, November 29, 1810: We were in doubt whether we should take the old or the new route; we took Mahon's road, and got along pretty well. Friday, our troubles began at the foaming, roaring stream, which hid the rocks. After crossing other streams, and losing ourselves in the woods, we came in, about nine o'clock at night to Vater Shook's. What an awful day!"

It is to draw aside the veil and look briefly at a part of a saga as romantic and virile as belonged to Erickson or Columbus, that thrills like the story of the Pilgrims and other pioneers that I have come to talk briefly with you. Let me assure you at the very forefront that I shall undertake to touch only a few of the high places in this recital. From the pages of what I hope to be a 350 to 400 page volume covering nearly 200 years, I must select only a minimum of parts, the lifting up of which may be of some interest to this distinguished gathering. Like others similarly engaged, I must confess to an inadequacy that many names of people and places have been omitted—even many equally worthy of a place beside those whose names do appear. Only a little can be told, perforce of circumstances; far more will not be told. All omissions, I must insist, are mistakes of the head and not of the heart. Then, too, I am not allowed to ignore the fact that an annual conference of this Methodist Church is to convene here tomorrow morning, and important business transactions must transpire; albeit, I rather suspect that the curbstone cabinet has already gone into session and that the prognostications of a columnist for one of our state's popular dailies have settled most of the new appointments for next year.

Early Beginnings, 1739-1784

Dr. Hugh Lefler, professor of history at the University of North Carolina, does well to remind us that "the Methodists were the last Protestant sect to appear in North Carolina". The Reverend George Whitefield, great orator-preacher, who could make "hell so vivid that one could locate it on the atlas," undoubtedly passed along our shore-country roads several times between 1739 and 1765. He seems to have left little permanent trace except to cause a Church of England preacher to complain that "the Methodists have of late given me much trouble," but later to predict that "the Methodist fervor is much abated and will be totally lost in a few months." How very much he under-rated the sons of Wesley, didn't he?

In a quiet little cloister in historic St. George's Church, nestled at the foot of the new Delaware River bridge in Philadelphia, I have read entirely through the memoirs of the man who is credited as Methodism's trail-blazer in North Carolina. Reverend Joseph Pilmoor, whose name is chiseled on a marble tablet in old St. George's as its first pastor, preached the first "Methodist sermon" in North Carolina at Currituck Courthouse (near Elizabeth City) on September 12, 1772. Pilmoor seems to have possessed the unhappy faculty of disagreeing with bishops and others; he became offended first with Asbury and later with Wesley. In 1784 he retired from the Methodist ministry, took orders in the Church of England (or the Protestant Episcopal Church) and finished his career as the rector of one of the larger churches in New York City.

If Pilmoor could claim the honor of the first N. C. Methodist preacher, Robert Williams could claim the equally coveted distinction of being the first Methodist pastor. Here was an Englishman, trained as a circuit-rider in Ireland, sailing for America in 1769 with only a pair of saddle-bags, a loaf of bread, and a bottle of milk. Williams indeed landed in New York ahead of Pilmoor and his companion Boardman, preached for a while at old John Street Church there, worked with Strawbridge in Maryland and later began a ministry in Norfolk and Portsmouth in Virginia. It appears that "early in 1773 he went to Petersburg and shortly afterwards, with Thomas Rankin and Devereaux Jarratt — an Episcopal clergyman Methodists can never forget — began the well-known revival of 1775. Jarratt reports that "this revival of religion spread through 14 counties in Virginia and Bute (now Warren and Franklin) and Halifax counties" in North Carolina. No man can measure the ultimate worth of this pioneer undertaking, but it is written into the record that at least 683 members were, as it were, "swept into the field."

The new preaching circuit formed about the same time bore the name of Brunswick, so designated for the Virginia county which borders Halifax and Warren counties in Carolina. Its preachers were John King, John Wade, and Isaac Rollins; and at the Baltimore Conference of May, 1776 the first so-called "North Carolina Circuit" was established with its pastors to be Francis Poythress, Isham Tatum, and Edward Dromgoole, about the latter of whom much more must be said later. The "appointments" for the following year sent four preachers to the Carolina Circuit, among them John King and John Dickens, both of them "giants against the sky" amongst all those early path finders.

John King, graduate of Oxford University and of a leading London medical college as well, disinherited by his family for becoming a follower of Wesley, preached the first Methodist sermon in Baltimore. He served as a circuit-rider for several more years, then "located," resumed his medical practice, took up residence near Raleigh in North Carolina and died in 1794, full of years and honor.

His colleague, John Dickens, once a student at Eton College, had left his native England as a young man and had begun his ministry in 1777. He rode the Bertie Circuit in North Carolina as late as 1785. Now, here, Mr. President, I crave the indulgence of my listeners to violate chronological sequence in order to record some of the more interesting highlights in the life and career of this rather remarkable John Dickens. June 18, 1780 found Francis Asbury preaching to 500 people at "Brother Bustian's" house on the Roanoke Circuit, with Dickens as pastor of the group. Asbury discovered Dickens a preacher who "reasons too much, is a man of great piety, drinks in Greek and Latin swiftly; yet prays much and walks close with God." A man with such dimensions comes naturally to three distinctions. First, on June 19, 1780, "early in the morning," John Dickens drew up the document that was to solicit funds for a so-called Kingswood School in America, to which Gabriel Long and Brother Bustian, members of Asbury's congregation the day before, were among the first, if not the first, contributors. If Dr. Coke prevailed upon Asbury for these moneys to be applied to the subscription fund for Cokesbury College instead, soon to open, as some have surmised, it is not for us here to argue. Suffice it to say with Abel Stevens, "this was the first project of a literary institution among American Methodists" — and Long and Bustian were no doubt Roanoke Circuit Methodists living between the Tar and Roanoke Rivers in North Carolina.

Cokesbury School, an academy instead of a college, for that was the name given the new venture, did open some time prior to 1793 in Surry County, now Davie, "on the west side of the Yadkin River, near Phelps's Ferry, overlooking the lowlands and Yadkin River." In that year (1793) James Parks was removed from the presiding eldership of a district comprising Yadkin, Salisbury, and Anson Circuits to be made principal of Cokesbury.

A second distinction for John Dickins inheres in the fact that it was he who proposed to the far-famed Christmas Conference in Lovely Lane Chapel in Baltimore that the "new church in America" be named "Methodist Episcopal Church," a name worn with honor for more than 150 years and then its mantle laid across the shoulders of a worthy successor, The Methodist Church, in 1939.

Dickins' final claim against our appreciation and recollection is to be credited to the part he has played in American Methodism's world of books and reading. The late Dr. Wm. K. Boyd, sometime professor of history in Trinity College, reminds us that "it is a matter of record that the Discipline of 1786 and also the first number of the Arminian Magazine were prepared for the press in North Carolina, the former by John Dickins and the latter by Coke and Asbury in 1789" — and we have reason to believe Dickins' pen contributed to this second enterprise, too. In that same year, he became Book Steward in Philadelphia and there with $600 (of his own money) laid the foundations for our great Methodist Book Concern. Dickins became publisher of The Methodist Magazine, another pioneer periodical, in 1797 and so remained until his death in 1798. We shall not too often see his like again for capacity and endowment and for energetic devotion to the great cause of spreading the good news about a Kingdom that shall be unending.

And now, my friends, may I indicate at the end of this section on the early beginnings of our Carolina Methodism that I have attributed extraordinary time and interest to this point? I shall trust not to have belabored the idea, but I have had three impressions more or less constantly in mind: (1) due to the meagerness of records, we know far too little of those hard and heroic days, (2) those sons of Wesley called Williams and Asbury and Jesse Lee and Edward Dromgoole — an unnumbered host — builded far better than they knew, and (3) in these our relatively soft days of automation, prosperity, and luxury, we need to reflect often and in gratitude upon the hours in Carolina when the times called up men to match mountains and all came to see our God marching on.

Circuit riders of colonial years — these are they who are truly the great of our faith. On horseback or in flatboat, swimming creeks and rivers, preaching in little schoolhouses and under brush arbors, they searched out scattered, lonely settlers to tell them of a God who cares and a Savior who saves. Preaching and praying where man never prayed before, they planted the Church in valleys and on mountains, in hedges and by highways with a burning zeal and a glowing courage that know no parallel since the days of early martyrdom.

One stands in reverence before each of them and wishes for words. In a moment like this, one could easily borrow from the senior member of our Jurisdictional College of Bishops his eloquent picture. Arthur Moore says in effect, "We are justly proud of that long procession which crowds the pages of our history of those early days. Their eyes were on far horizons bent. No range of mountains has been high enough to stay their steps, no river deep or broad enough to daunt their courage, no forest dark or dense enough to withstand their advance." Of very truth,

"No sculptured stone in stately temple
Proclaims their rugged lot;
Like Him their great ensample,
This vain world knew them not.
But though their names no poet wove
In deathless song or story,
Their record is enscribed above;
Their wreaths are 'crowns of glory.'"

A New Church in A New Country (1776-1839)

As a backdrop for the first major event of this period we may hurriedly remind ourselves of a few of the happenings just before it opened. A Liberty Bell had rung almost in sight of old St. George's Church in Philadelphia, battles had been fought at Bunker Hill and Saratoga, victories won at King's Mountain and Guilford Courthouse, freedom gained at Yorktown. When the captains and kings had departed it was discovered that Methodism had suffered losses as well. Wesley had been misunderstood by loyal Methodists in America, Pilmoor and Boardman and other preachers had returned to England more or less for safety's sake, and Asbury had been forced to seek refuge for nearly two years at the home of a friend in Maryland.

Meantime, in North Carolina significant developments were occurring. The year 1780 saw Methodism in our state grown to the point that four circuits now appear on our Methodist map — Roanoke, Tar River, New Hope, and Yadkin, although the name of the latter seems not to have appeared in Conference minutes until several years later.

Roanoke included Bertie, Northampton, Halifax, Warren Counties;

Tar River — Franklin, Nash, Edgecombe;

New Hope — Orange, Chatham, Cumberland, Wake;

Yadkin — Lincoln, Rutherford, Burke, Mecklenburg, Rowan and the valley of the Yadkin. Like many of our colonies and counties (which stretched, on the map, to the "far away Pacific") this Yadkin reached "to the banks of The French Broad and the waters of the Nollichucky River."

These were days and years which produced Andrew Yeargen, Daniel Asbury, and Samuel Edney, not to mention laymen like the Littlejohns, Davenports, Harpers, and Killians. Such was the devotion of clergymen that in this area the cold of winter failed to daunt them; indeed a proverb of those years became: "Nothing out today but crows and Methodist preachers."

Christmas is always to be remembered in every land and among every generation. Christmas, 1784 is no exception! Ten o'clock in the morning of December 24, 1784 — what a day and what an hour! Sixty out of the 81 (or 83) traveling preachers had responded to the call carried out by the speeding rider, Freeborn Garretson — a new kind of Paul Revere. Unfortunately, written records of this momentous gathering have not been preserved for the benefit and appreciation of posterity, but we do have the names of 29 young preachers, for at least two-thirds of the sixty in attendance were less than 30 years of age. We do know that North Carolina was well and worthily represented among those present — Asbury himself (North Carolina could claim him as well as others could), Le Roy Cole, James O'Kelly, Richard Ivey, and John Dickens, just to mention a handful. Dr. Thomas Coke presided, and I hope the Conference opened with the singing of "And Are We yet Alive?" One of the highlights of the Conference I sincerely recommend to any interested persons present. If any of you gentlemen aspire to the episcopal relationship, I suggest as to how it has been done in three easy lessons. Francis Asbury was made a deacon on Saturday, an elder on Sunday, and was consecrated a bishop on Monday — just three days in all! The Conference in its ten-day session adopted Wesley's modification of the Anglican Prayer Book, as well as 24 of the original 39 Articles of Religion, but added a 25th — one having to do with obligations to the government of the United States!

Once dismissed with an episcopal benediction, the youthful representatives of a new church in a new country sprang to their saddles and were off with the speed of the wind to their new parishes. Many historians imply that the War of the Revolution had laid heavy toll against the Methodist Church — its numbers and program, and the enthusiasm and loyalty of its members. William K. Boyd seems not fully to agree, but observes that for North Carolina this would hardly hold. He writes, "in 1776 membership in the State was 683; by 1783, the year of the treaty of peace, it had risen to 2,229, and the number of circuits in North Carolina was then increased from 4 to 10." The new work went forward by leaps and bounds. New Circuit names like Camden and Pamlico, Guilford and Caswell, Wilmington and Goshen, Yadkin, Lincoln and Swannanoa appear in the records almost overnight, and North Carolina Methodism appears on its way to higher and still "higher ground".

The first annual conference of the newly organized Methodist Episcopal Church was held on April 20, 1785, only 4 months after Lovely Lane. It assembled under the wide roof of a loyal Methodist preacher, Reverend Green Hill, near the town of Louisville, in Franklin County, North Carolina. Let me pause here, Mr. Chairman, long enough to observe that far too many North Carolina Methodists hear the name of Green Hill and think of a "hill with green grass growing all around" — a place instead of the person who not only acted as host pastor, but stands out as another "giant against the sky" in Carolina Methodism.

Hill has been called "a man of large mind, but of larger heart" — one of the great men of Methodism and of the State. A member of every provincial congress, for a time the state treasurer, a major and a chaplain in the American army during the War of the Revolution — his worth cannot be discounted.

Coke and Asbury were both present at Green Hill's, as were John King, Jesse Lee, John Dickins, Edward Dromgoole, James O'Kelly, and others — 20 in all, and they slept in one upper room. Reports presented there indicated 7 new circuits had been formed; 18,000 members were now enrolled — a gain of 1000 in one year — and 104 preachers were now numbered in American Methodism. It may be observed that this 1785 Conference saw the office and title of "presiding elder" born; three of these new "cabinet statesmen" were selected at Green Hill's.

At a called General Conference, November 1792, a matter of discontent was brought to a focus. James O'Kelly, a man of outstanding strength and power and a Methodist circuit-rider for 14 years, he who had slept alongside Francis Asbury in the Green Hill upper room, was now proving a "rebel in the ranks." Warren Sweet reminds us that "he was a man of ability and was popular in the region, where for 8 years he had been a presiding elder." O'Kelly objected to episcopal life-tenure and insisted that a preacher dissatisfied with an appointment should be allowed an appeal and perhaps a new appointment. In an open clash between him and Bishop Asbury, the latter won, whereupon O'Kelly withdrew from the Methodist Church, formed the new Republican Methodists, and some of these merged later with followers of Barton Stone to form the Christian Church.

The second major schism or separation in Methodism following O'Kelly's resignation began to develop very early. Bishop Francis Asbury died in Virginia in March, 1816. A little more than a month afterwards the General Conference of 1816 — for the quadrennial pattern of meeting every four years was being set by now — and the next three general conferences found themselves facing another problem and division of thought and feeling within the Church. This was at first thought of as a reform movement which came finally to stand for three measures: (1) the election of presiding elders, (2) the representation of laymen, (3) representation of local preachers in the general conference. In short, this issue resolved itself into a conference position against the reformers, which in turn precipitated the withdrawal of a considerable number of members, both ministers and laymen, who after withdrawal, assembled in convention at Baltimore in 1830 and organized themselves into the Methodist Protestant Church.

The final schism involves the separation of Methodism in 1844 by the withdrawal of a large number of members, chiefly from the southern states, and the formation of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The late J. Marvin Culbreth was of the opinion that "the germ of division was present in the body of the Methodist Episcopal Church at its very birth." Action taken at the Christmas Conference in 1784 shows that already the question of slavery had become a matter of grave import. Further important action was taken by the General Conference of 1816. At the 1836 General Conference in Cincinnati there appeared a cloud "no bigger than a man's hand"; but by 1840 the cloud had grown to vaster proportions. The situation reached its climax in the New York General Conference of 1844 in New York, where discussions, debates and voting resulted in a "plan of separation." Thus, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was born and arrangements were made to hold a general conference of that body in 1846.

It is not too surprising that 150 years of Methodism — from 1784 to 1939, the year of reunion — should have been visited by those disagreements and separations. In the first place, rifts and differences have always characterized the growth and development of religion. Christianity versus Judaism, Protestantism versus Romanism, the presence of Dissenters, Separatists, Puritans and others, even of the Wesleyan movement itself in England — all these attest to the inevitable appearance of misunderstandings and divisions. Further, the times and "modes of men" lent themselves to revolution, secession, and other kinds of division. Frontier living, wars, and rumors of wars, the spirit of adventure, the feeling of national independence, provided good seed-bed for the sprouting and maturing of almost any new idea or action. Dr. Boyd is of the opinion that, after all, "these revolts were safety valves for discontent. They did not impede the growth of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which continued to surpass other denominations in point of numbers."

North Carolina Methodism without question played no small part and held no small stake in all these divisions and developments. The Methodist Protestant Church seems to have centered upon North Carolina as a building ground. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, flourished in extraordinary dimension here, and even the Methodist Episcopal Church itself established conferences and congregations in many places throughout the southern region. At the end of the succeeding century (1839-1939) each one of these three branches of Methodism active in the Old North State brought great contributions and influences to the Uniting Conference of 1939 at Kansas City.

Just as Methodism may be said to have come late to Colonial North Carolina, it may be asserted that the North Carolina Conference, as such, was late coming into being. Carolina Methodism, for the first half-century or more, was absorbed in and by the annual conferences of Virginia and South Carolina. The North Carolina Conference was set off from the Virginia Conference in May, 1836; in 1850 and again in 1870, North Carolina territory in the South Carolina Conference was transferred to this Conference. In 1890 further North Carolina territory in the Holston Conference and in the Virginia Conference, except that beyond the Chowan River, was transferred to the North Carolina Conference, and the Conference was then divided into the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences. In 1894 the remaining North Carolina territory in the Virginia Conference was transferred to the North Carolina Conference.

The North Carolina Conference of The Methodist Church, from the Uniting Conference in 1939, is composed of the North Carolina Conference of the former M. E. Church, South, and parts of the North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Protestant Church, together with the former Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church. The former Methodist Episcopal Church gave to the North Carolina Conference of The Methodist Church 9 preachers, 11 charges, and 1,837 members; the former Methodist Protestant Church, 23 preachers, 20 charges, and 9,152 members; the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, 273 preachers, 226 charges and 132,735 members. Thus, the united church in the Old North State began its new career with a grand total of 305 preachers, 257 charges, and 143,724 members. By 1955 the total number of members in the North Carolina Conference was 178,548 persons, and that for the Western North Carolina Conference stood at over 240,000 — or a grand total of over 400,000 for the two annual conferences in Carolina Methodism.

Neither my time nor your patience, my friends, will permit my giving more than a token of full justice to the inspiring examples of sterling service and heroic sacrifice of those 100 years between 1839 and 1939, adding still more luster to the pages of the annals of North Carolina Methodism. It is to be hoped that in the forthcoming volume there may be room enough to bring to its readers more nearly a befitting story of the men and the moments of that remarkable century.

It has been said that one of the strong traditions of Methodism is that "it was born in a college." True to this tradition, the Methodist Church in North Carolina has written its name high with respect to founding and maintaining church-related institutions of higher learning. Names like Yadkin, Weaver, Davenport, Rutherford, Littleton, Carolina (in Anson County,) Maxton stand out as sentinel peaks against the horizon of the years; alongside these one must place Jamestown, Greensboro, Louisburg, High Point, Brevard, Pfeiffer, and Trinity-Duke — and some as worthy or worthier of a place may have been unintentionally omitted. The men and the women who have loved and labored in these institutions, whether the halls are crowded today with eager, young life or the "ivied walls stand a-crumbling" — these are men and women who have builded far better than they knew; their lives and their deeds can never be forgotten.

One could scarcely write anything of the educational history of Methodism in North Carolina without at least mention of her Sunday schools. Boyd believes the first Sunday school in America to have been founded in Virginia by Francis Asbury in the year 1786, followed by another in South Carolina in 1787. North Carolina's Sunday school movement may not have been started so early but rapid strides were made in the century between 1839 and 1939, attested by the fact that in 1955 the North Carolina Conference reported 138,000 church school members and the Western North Carolina Conference reported over 212,000.

Too, the Methodists of North Carolina have played their part in the promotion of Christian literature among the members. From the days of John Dickins to the present, innumerable books, tracts, pamphlets and the like have gone into Methodist homes with the silent admonition: "Study to show thyself approved of God." Chief among these influences upon which the circuit-rider could depend for aid have been the North Carolina Christian Advocate and its predecessors. Rev. Sidney Bumpass and his Weekly Message, published first in 1851, were followed by such stalwarts of the editorial pen as Heflin, Hudson, Bobbitt, and the Plylers. All these and the others have placed us much in their debt for timely articles and inspiring examples of church statesmanship. Truly is the pen mightier than the sword.

Time marches on and this paper must be closed, but I cannot fail to mention revivals and campmeetings, missionary undertakings, and youth enterprises. North Carolina came through that remarkable century of sectional and world-wide wars, depressions and defeats with firm faith that

“The darkness shall turn to dawning
And dawning to noon-day bright;
And Christ’s great kingdom shall come on earth,
A kingdom of love and of light.”

And in that relentless march of time the yesteryears give way to 1957. Younger sons of Wesley and Asbury have foregathered again beside the waters of the Jonathan. Tomorrow morning your beloved bishop will announce once more, “And Are We yet Alive?” and your voices will lift with your hearts in gratitude and praise even as your fathers have done for these 200 years and more.

Had I a hearty wish or a fervent prayer in this eve of the convening of your annual conference it well might be the prayer of the ancient prophet who prayed for another young man, and his words you find in chapter 6 of II Kings: “Lord, open his eyes” to the mountains full of horses and chariots of fire. From Pisgah to Mitchell and upon the other tall peaks around this beautiful little new Lake Gennesaret may your eyes be opened to God’s eternal horsemen of the uncounted years. There they stand, giants against the sky — Fitzgerald, Paine, Pierce, Peele, Harrell, Garber and Harmon. Alongside I catch the figures of Jesse Lee, John King, Samuel Edney and John Dickins — yes, and George D. Herman and Emmett K. McLarty, Sr. Their eyes too have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord; they too have heard the challenge of the Bold Galilean as He rides ahead: “Lo, I am with you always.”

And high over Eagles Nest comes another song, as if caught from the waters of the Nollichucky, rising higher and higher, sweet and clear like the song of morning birds or the pipes of a shepherd, played after “God washed His mountains last night.” Listen, for it is the song of the Traveler again; it is akin to incense from an holy altar or a benediction after prayer.

Up the Cataloochee, along the Jonathan, through Wagon Road or Hickory Nut Gap, around the shoulder of Grandfather Mountain, I hear Methodism singing — singing its way down to the rocky waters of the Eno and the swamps of the Cape Fear. But, somehow, sir, the song of the Traveler is now different: he is no longer wayworn but triumphant and victorious. North Carolina Methodists stand in reverence as for the Hallelujah Chorus, and we catch the strains of the final refrain:

Palms of victory,
Crowns of glory,
I shall wear. Amen.

The committee met again on Friday, June 14, at 4:00 p.m. Appearing before the committee were E. J. Ingram of the Albemarle Circuit and J. W. Almond of the Pine Grove Church. The committee considered the report of a district committee appointed by the Reverend Paul W. Townsend, District Superintendent of the Salisbury District, to pass on the claim of the Pine Grove Church for an equity in the parsonage of the Albemarle Circuit under Paragraph 190 of the 1952

Discipline, which was in effect when the Pine Grove Church was removed from the Albemarle Circuit in 1955. The committee is of the opinion that the appeals to the Annual Conference are appeals requiring a hearing "de novo". The aforesaid laymen were heard in the matter. Let it be said that each of them came in a fine Christian spirit and that this was not the settlement of a quarrel or grudge, but more in the nature of a friendly suit to settle the matter. We commend them highly for their attitudes and judgment in the matter. The committee is unable to find that Pine Grove Church has an equity in the Albemarle Circuit parsonage. We recommend that the Annual Conference deny the claim of the Pine Grove Church. Respectfully, G. W. Bumgarner, Secretary and J. H. Brendall, President.

Resolution on Re-districting: J. Garland Winkler, Secretary of the Cabinet, read the following resolution on re-districting which was adopted: Pursuant to a report adopted by the Western North Carolina Conference in 1956 requesting the Bishop and his Cabinet to continue the study of re-districting the Conference and to report to the 1957 session, this resolution is offered:

BE IT RESOLVED that this Annual Conference fix the number of districts to be twelve in the bounds of the Conference, and this number be arranged for and made effective at the beginning of the conference year 1958-59; and,

The Committee suggests that the Gastonia District have the name of the district imprinted on the binding.

The Committee suggests that in future years a complete statistical report be included in all District Conference Minutes.

With the above suggestions in mind, we find all records in order.

3. That the Annual Conference, should it accept the above recommendations, be asked to set up the necessary committee, upon nomination of the cabinet, to put these recommendations into effect.

WHEREAS, the Allied Church League presented to the 1957 session of the General Assembly of the N. C. Legislature petitions calling for a state-wide referendum on the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic beverages, signed by 295,817 N. C. Citizens of voting age;

WHEREAS, the principle of 15% of the voters registered in the previous elections has for long been the basis upon which redress may be sought in matters of public concern in North Carolina;

WHEREAS, the number of signers on the said petition greatly exceeds the 15% generally accepted as a basis of appeal for redress;

AND WHEREAS, the General Assembly recently came to a close without the enactment of any favorable legislation upon this matter which has for so long been of grave concern to the moral and religious forces of this commonwealth;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Western North Carolina Conference of The Methodist Church that we roundly deplore the failure of our General Assembly to provide for the requested referendum and that we reaffirm our conviction that the citizens of this state should be allowed to vote upon this important issue. We call upon the leadership of this Conference to continue its affirmation of this position.

James C. Stokes, President
Joseph T. Shackford, Secretary

This Annual Conference is much disturbed over the fact that legislation to ban the serving of alcoholic beverages aboard the nation's commercial airlines remains buried in committee as the first session of the 85th Congress nears adjournment. This stalemate upon a matter of evident public welfare is the more difficult to understand in light of the unequivocal testimony of the airline pilots and stewardesses, so convincingly affirmed, that public safety is involved in this dangerous practice to an alarming extent. Sensing the early need for corrective legislation at this point by our National Congress,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Western North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Church now in session at Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, strongly declare itself as favoring the bills now before the Congress calling for the halt of alcoholic beverage service on commercial aircraft which have been introduced in both the House and the Senate — such bills being known as, for the House, H. R. 301, H. R. 1009, H. R. 1111, H. R. 4502; and, for the Senate, as S. 4 and S. 593; and that the Conference urge our National Congress to enact favorable legislation in this matter before the adjournment of its present session.

James C. Stokes, President
Joseph T. Shackford, Secretary

Resolution: Upon motion of Lee F. Tuttle, the Conference passed a resolution to the effect that the Western North Carolina Conference communicate to Governor Luther Hodges our interests in the "Free Liquor" episode which has recently continued to corrupt our state legislature and urge that he prosecute the investigation of this matter vigorously until the full and true facts are uncovered and made public.

Social and Economic Relations: Clifford H. Peace spoke for the Board of Social and Economic Relations; Courtney B. Ross presented the report which was adopted (see reports). Guy Weaver presented the following resolution which was adopted:

"We believe in the freedom of choice of the individual and that no person should be coerced into joining any organization as a prerequisite to his employment and right to work.

Guy Weaver."

Local Church Emphasis: J. Elwood Carroll explained some charts which will be used in connection with the Local Church Emphasis.

Resolution: The conference adopted the following resolution presented by H. I. Ridenhour:

"The 1955 session of the Annual Conference named a Conference Planning Committee to survey the work of the Annual Conference and report its findings to the Planning Conference preceding the Annual Conference of 1956. This committee asked the 1956 session to continue it so that it might make further study. The work of this committee has been completed and we therefore move that it be dissolved.

Walter R. Kelly, Chairman; Henry I. Ridenhour, Secretary."

Weldon presented the report of the North Carolina Pastors' School, the Secretary presented the reports of Bible Board, Deaconesses Board, the Inter-Conference Commission on Student Work, The Methodist College Foundation, the North Carolina Council of Churches, the Approved Supply Pastors' School which were ordered to record. The Secretary presented the reports of the Board of Lay Activities, the Eugene M. Cole Foundation and the Conference Trustees which were ordered to record with necessary elections (see reports).

Resolution: R. Dwight Ware presented the following resolution which was adopted by a standing vote:

RESOLUTION OF THANKS

For the first time and with universal pleasure, we have had a summer session of our Annual Conference at the well-beloved and far-famed Lake Junaluska. Beyond doubt, it has been a memorable experience.

The leadership of our presiding bishop, whose kind and understanding consideration has been enheartening and beautiful, increasingly endears him to us all. His counsel in arranging the program, and his help in bringing here distinguished speakers: Dr. Bonnell, Dr. Bollinger, Dr. Calhoun, Dr. Hardin, Mr. Anderson, and Bishop Franklin, whose presence and ministry have added so much, are warmly appreciated. We esteem, also, his generous use of conference personnel.

James W. Fowler, Dr. Geo. Clary, Professor Glenn Draper (choir director) and their staffs, and the people of Waynesville and Canton, as well as all those who have entertained us on the grounds and nearby, have gone, it would seem, to the utmost limit of care and thoughtfulness in assuring our comfort and pleasure. No detail has been overlooked in providing for our convenience and for inspiring our hearts. Surely the impact of the spirit of our fellowship upon the great area of our cherished mountains will be fruitful for good for many years.

It would seem that the innovations of this Conference — its time of meeting, its new plan for entertainment — have been well-conceived, well executed, and well-pleasing. We shall leave from this session with hearts full of thankfulness for the many whose labors have brought these joyful seasons to our lives.

For the Committee:

R. Dwight Ware
Harlan L. Creech, Jr.
Philip Magruder

Transfer: Bishop Harmon announced the confirmation of the transfer of K. M. Taylor from the Florida Conference which had tentatively been announced earlier.

Motion to Adjourn: Upon motion of the Secretary, the Conference voted that after the reading of the appointments and the benediction, the Western North Carolina Annual Conference be adjourned sine die.

REPORTS

COMMISSION ON WORLD SERVICE AND FINANCE

As we have come to the end of the first year of this quadrennium, your Commission on World Service and Finance is pleased to report that the Western North Carolina Conference has successfully met the financial challenge of the Church and that each Charge throughout our Conference has responded in such a fine manner that this Conference Year just ending has produced creditable financial results in all corners of our several districts. We hope that this general acceptance of the great forward program of The Methodist Church will continue and that the ensuing years of the quadrennium will be even more productive both spiritually and financially.

Since the 1958 session of our Annual Conference will again meet in June, your Commission on World Service and Finance recommends that the Conference Year 1957-1958 begin June 1, 1957 and end on May 31, 1958, thereby conforming with the fiscal year of our National Offices. We further recommend that each pastor submit his financial reports by June 3, 1958, and that all charges complete their payments to the Conference Treasurer by the same time. With all pastors and local church treasurers conforming to these requirements the work of your Treasurer and Statistician will be made much more effective.

This Commission commends the local churches and pastors for the many improvements which have been made to church properties throughout the Conference. For several years our Conference has been one of the leaders in the program of erecting new buildings, additions to existing buildings, parsonage renovations, etc. We strongly urge the continuance of this program in all local churches. Reports also show that there has been considerable improvement in pastor's salaries during the past several years; however, increases to these salaries must continue if the Ministry is to be sufficiently supported and maintained on an adequate level with the constant increase in costs of living. We strongly urge the leaders in each local church to continue giving prayerful and careful consideration to the proper support of the pastor.

We recommend that the total apportionments be divided as follows:

World Service	$270,752.00
Conference Benevolences	$207,450.00

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

Note: The following recommendations are based on 1956-1957 (short year figures, all of which must be projected to a twelve month basis. Eight month figures—take $1\frac{1}{2}$ times amounts reported for 1956-1957. Nine month figures—take $1\frac{1}{3}$ times amounts reported, make computations on the projected amounts.

1. That all monies for World Service and Conference Benevolences, Inter-Denominational Co-operation Fund, Minimum Salary Fund, Episcopal Fund, District Superintendents' Fund, Conference Claimants' Fund, College Fund, and Town and Country Fund be handled through the Conference Treasurer.

2. That all Boards and Commissions whose annual appropriations are $5,000.00 or less shall use the Conference Treasurer as fiscal agent, in order to save expense of separate audits and bonds.

3. That the Episcopal Fund shall be an amount equal to 2% of the salary of the pastor and ministerial assistants for the preceding year after projecting those salaries to a twelve month basis.

4. We recommend that an amount equal to $4\frac{1}{2}\%$ of the salary of the pastor and ministerial assistants for the preceding year be assessed for the support of the District Superintendents, after projecting those salaries to a twelve month basis, and that the salary of each District Superintendent be fixed at \$7,800.00.

5. The Board of Conference Claimants is asking for an apportionment of an amount equal to 18% of the salary of the pastor and ministerial assistants for the preceding year, after projecting those salaries to a twelve month basis.

6. That each charge pay to the Minimum Salary Fund an amount equal to 3% of the amount raised by the charge the preceding year on the following items, after they have been projected to a twelve month basis:

a. Paid Other Current Expenses and Incidentals (Item 44 of Pastor's Report).

b. Paid for Church School Administration, Supplies, etc. (Item 45 of Pastor's Report).

c. Paid Minister and Associate Minister(s), (Item 47 of Pastor's Report).

That the schedule of Minimum Salary for the ensuing year be $3,200.00 for effective Conference members in full connection; $3,000.00 for Conference members on trial; $2,800.00 for full-time approved supplies; $2,600.00 for other full-time supplies; $2,400.00 for retired supplies; and that salaries for part-time supplies and student supplies be on an adjusted basis ranging from $1,200.00 to $2,400.00.

The schedule shall include the following increments:

Conference Members, $150.00 for each five years of service up to 25 years.

Full-time Approved Supplies, $100.00 for each five years of service up to 25 years (except retired supplies).

That the Board of Missions continue to administer the Minimum Salary Fund.

7. That each charge pay to the College Fund an amount equal to 5½% of the amount raised by the Charge the preceding year on the following items, after they have been projected to a twelve month basis: Items 44, 45 & 47 of the Pastor's Report—see (6) above. Of this fund 5% shall be designated for the College Sustaining Fund and the remainder of ½ of 1% for Wesley Foundation Centers Building Fund.

That the Board of Education distribute the College Sustaining Fund on the basis of 30% to Brevard College, 30% to Greensboro College, 30% to High Point College, and 10% to Duke University to include a provision for scholarships in the Divinity School.

That the Wesley Foundation Centers Building Fund be administered by the Inter-Conference Commission on Student Religious Work.

8. We recommend that the Conference approve the following method of distribution of the 1½% voluntary apportionments and payments for the College Sustaining Fund as paid during the Conference Year 1955-1956; that one-half of one percent (or one-third) of the voluntary payments be paid to Brevard College and that the remaining 1% (or two-thirds) be distributed equally between High Point College, Greensboro College, and Duke Divinity School.

9. That any overpayment of World Service and Conference Benevolences be held in reserve by the Conference Treasurer.

11. That the apportionment for the Children's Home in Winston-Salem shall be an amount equal to 10% of the salary of the Pastor and Ministerial Assistants for the preceding year, after projecting those salaries to a twelve month basis, and that each charge voluntarily adopt a total charge goal, including the 10% apportionment on the following basis:

Charges paying less than $1,000.00—10%.

Charges paying $1,000.00 but not over $1,499.00—$100.00 plus 15% of the amount over $1,000.00.

Charges paying $2,500.00 but not over $3,499.00—$355.00 plus 21% of the amount over $2,500.00.

Charges paying $3,500.00 but not over $4,499.00—$565.00 plus 25% of the amount over $3,500.00.

Charges paying $4,500.00 and over—$815.00 plus 30% of the amount over $4,500.00.

12. That we approve the recommendation of the Conference Board of Missions for Church Extension on the District level and that we recommend that every charge pay to the District Missions Society at least $1.00 per member for Church Extension; and that each District Missions Society transmit 10% of its receipts to the Conference Board of Missions.

13. The Board of Managers of the Methodist Home for the Aged has pointed out that 45% of the members now living in the Home are dependent upon the Mother's Day offering to assist them in paying their cost of care and that during the year 1957-1958 the Home will need $96,000.00 for this purpose alone. In light of the urgent need we recommend that the Conference accept on a voluntary basis a goal of not less than $100,000.00 for support of the Home during the coming year.

We further recommend that each District attempt a District Goal of not less than the following amounts:

Asheville District	$ 7,200.00
Charlotte District	14,900.00
Gastonia District	10,800.00
Greensboro District	15,000.00
Marion District	5,600.00
North Wilkesboro	2,000.00
Salisbury District	11,600.00
Statesville District	8,000.00
Thomasville District	9,800.00
Waynesville District	4,300.00
Winston-Salem District	10,800.00
Total	$100,000.00

We also recommend that Mother's Day be set as a time when all churches are to receive special free-will offerings for the Home, such offerings to be a part of the attempted goals. Funds realized from these offerings are to be used to provide care for those who cannot pay the cost of their own maintenance and to finance the further building and equipment of the Home. The Board of Managers of the Home shall be granted the privilege of soliciting and receiving free-will contributions for the expansion of the Home and its charitable work.

14. After careful consideration we recommend for your approval and adoption the report of the Quadrennial Commission on Higher Education calling for a Capital Fund Campaign to raise $3,000,000.00 for our Conference supported colleges and Wesley Foundations during a three year period possibly beginning during this current year.

15. That the month of April be designated as Golden Cross Month, during which time our churches are urged to receive an offering to be expended at the direction of the Board of Hospitals and Homes.

16. That we approve the request of the Board of Temperance that every church observe Commitment Sunday with an offering for the work of this Board.

17. That George Curtis Smith be designated Conference Auditor.

18. That we commend F. D. Russell, Conference Treasurer, for his efficient and capable services.

19. That out of the Annual Conference Operating Fund the following expenditures shall be made:

a. An all-inclusive salary of $3,000.00 for the Conference Treasurer and necessary clerical help.

b. $750.00 salary, plus postage and extra clerical help for the Conference Secretary.

c. $400.00 salary, plus extra clerical help, for the Conference Statistician.

d. $400.00 remuneration for the Conference Auditor.

e. $15.00 remuneration for each District Statistician.

f. $1,200.00 for the Episcopal Area Fund.

g. Necessary expenses for the Conference Treasurer, Conference Secretary, and Conference Statistician to attend Jurisdictional meeting of those officers.

h. That all necessary expenses in connection with the entertainment of the Annual Conference be authorized by the Committee on Conference Entertainment and that the Chairman or Secretary of the said committee approve all bills incurred in entertaining the Annual Conference.

i. That each charge pay to the Conference Treasurer $24.00 plus $12.00 for each Ministerial Assistant and that this fund be used to defray a portion of the cost of entertaining the Annual Conference and that this fund shall be called the Conference Entertainment Fund.

j. We recommend that the Conference Treasurer be authorized to pay any deficit in Annual Conference Expenses from the reserve on hand.

20. That the Conference Treasurer be authorized to advance from the reserve fund amounts not to exceed $1,000.00 or 50% of the annual appropriation, whichever is lower, to the several commissions and committees of the Conference for the purpose of meeting current expenses where the appropriation has not been received from current collections.

21. The books of the following treasurers have been audited or are in the process of being audited and each treasurer is bonded by his institution as follows:

Brevard College	$ 10,000.00
Greensboro College	35,000.00

Ordered to record, Morning Session, June 17, 1957

We have examined the books and records of Mr. F. D. Russell, treasurer of the Western North Carolina Conference, for the Conference Year 1956-1957. Our examination consisted of the auditing procedures which we deem necessary. In our opinion, the foregoing statements correctly reflect the Conference transactions for the year 1956-1957.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK P. BUCK COMPANY,
Certified Public Accountants

Conference Auditor

COMMISSION ON CHRISTIAN VOCATIONS

Our Commission has become an influential factor in the life of The Western North Carolina Conference. The first year of the new quadrennium has been a rich, full period in spite of there being only nine months in which to work. Based on the excellent achievements of the previous Commissions we are now facing a greater opportunity because of the growing need for full time Christian Workers. The foundation was laid under the effective leadership of the Reverend J. Elwood Carroll who has served as Commission Chairman since its first organization two quadrennia ago. The new Commission officers are seeking to continue with an ever increasing emphasis.

I. ACHIEVEMENTS

1. District Conferences on Christian Vocations. No doubt the most effective work done during the year was that under the leadership of six of our District Directors who with the District Directors of Youth Work, promoted district conferences for youth. Such workshops were held in the following districts: Charlotte, D. B. Mullis, Director; Gastonia, H. C. Wilkinson, Director; Marion, J. H. Barnes, Director; Statesville, Paul Lowder, Director; Thomasville, E. H. Nease, Jr., Director; Waynesville, W. B. Bobbitt, Director.

2. "Methodist Service Projects." Again we have distributed a thousand copies of the booklet, "Methodist Service Projects." This publication has reached the hands of youths, ministers, Directors of Christian Education, counselors, and many other interested persons.

3. File of Candidates. Our Commission maintains a central file of young people who are interested in Christian Vocations. This information is available to our Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications, Colleges, Ministers and other similar agencies. We anticipate a continued growth and effectiveness of this tool for Christian Vocation work.

4. Budget. Our policy over the years has been to operate within our budget. This year we have spent $594.44. With an increasing number of District Conferences and the hope for another major central conference, our expenses will no doubt increase next year.

5. Films. We have purchased the colored film "Reply to Reality" and have made it available to numerous local churches and conferences. We also have a limited number of other audio-visual aids.

II. RECOMMENDATIONS

1. District Conferences. We recommend that a Christian Vocations Conference be held in every district under the leadership of the District Director of Christian Vocations. We earnestly solicit the continued co-operation of the District Director of Youth Work and of the District Superintendents.

2. Pastors. We urge every pastor to encourage likely young people seriously to heed the call of God to full time church vocations. Let every pastor counsel personally those young people who give promise of entering these vocations. Each pastor will please inform the Chairman of the Commission of such youths, furnishing for the files such data as will be needed in cultivating these persons.

3. Homes. We recommend that our Christian homes furnish the atmosphere and the inspiration for youth to weigh carefully the decision of life's vocations.

4. Methodist Service Projects. We propose to continue the distribution of "Methodist Service Projects" to all ministers of our annual conference and to all directors of Christian Education in the churches of our conference.

5. Summer Assemblies. We expect to continue our co-operation with the Board of Education in presenting this cause to the youth in our summer camps and assemblies.

6. Counseling. We urge our district directors to co-operate with other vocational counseling agencies in the local communities, with the purpose of keeping the Christian emphasis in the forefront.

7. Publications and Films. We recommend that all local churches make available to their youth adequate supplies of the excellent publications dealing with Christian vocations. We encourage a wider use of the colored film "Reply to Reality," which is available free of charge to our local churches, for the return postage.

8. Workers' Conference. We recommend that one Workers' Conference during the year be given over to a consideration of how best to help young people choose Christian careers.

9. Methodist Student Movement. We expect to continue our co-operation with the State Methodist Student Movement in order to help college students to face the opportunities of Christian Vocations.

10. Co-operation. We propose to continue working closely with our Conference Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications in finding suitable youth to heed the call of Christ, "Follow Me."

COMMISSION ON MINIMUM SALARY

The Commission on Minimum Salary recommends:

1. That the composition of the Annual Conference Commission on Minimum Salary and the District Committees and their respective duties remain the same as outlined in the Report to Annual Conference September, 1956; and that the Minimum Salary Fund be administered by the Executive Committee of the Board of Missions and Church Extension.

2. That all pastoral charges receiving Minimum Salary Funds, under the direction of the District Superintendent and the District Committee on Minimum Salary, secure increases in salaries and develop sound financial programs. This should include: (a) An every member canvass; (b) use of envelopes and record systems; (c) regular reports to the members of monies received and spent; (d) voluntarily adopting a schedule of increases whereby a charge will within a period of one to five years be completely self supporting, and if this is impossible that study be made under the direction of the District Committee with the idea of increasing the pastoral load, or developing a larger parish program, or becoming either a student or part time supply appointment.

3. That before a circuit charge divides to form two or more charges the report entitled "Constituting Pastoral Charges," adopted by the Annual Conference and found on page 116 of the Journal for 1954, be studied and followed, and

That if a newly created charge will need to receive Minimum Salary Funds the plans for the division should be approved by the District Minimum Salary Committee and reported to the Conference Commission at least six weeks before the meeting of Annual Conference.

4. That the Commission on World Service and Finance approve an apportionment for the Minimum Salary Fund of 3% of the amount raised by each pastoral charge the preceding year, projected on a 12 months basis, on the following items: (a) Paid Other Current Expenses and Incidentals (Item 44 of Pastor's Report), (b) Paid for Church School Administration Supplies, etc. (Item 45 of Pastor's Report), (c) Paid Minister and Associate Minister(s) (Item 47 of Pastor's Report).

5. That an expense account or other monetary compensation provided the pastor by the local pastoral charge shall be counted among the total resources making the total minimum received by the pastor.

6. That any pastoral charge that pays less than 75% of the total minimum necessitates special action and must be referred to the Administrative Committee by the District Superintendent.

7. That in the case of establishing new congregations the Minimum Salary Fund may be used to supplement the salary up to $4,500.00 for a period up to four years, provided that within the Conference year the amount spent for this purpose shall not exceed 8% of the total minimum salary gross collected during the Conference year.

8. That the schedule for 1957-58 be:

A. Basic Schedule: Student Supplies (including all Supplies, Probationers and members of Conference serving pastoral charges and attending school), from $1,200.00 to $2,400.00 on an adjusted basis; Retired Supplies, $2,400.00; Full time Supplies, $2,600.00; Full time Approved Supplies; $2,800.00. Probationers (members of Conference on trial), $3,000.00; Conference Members, $3,200.00.

B. Years of Service Supplement: Full time Supplies (except Retired Supplies) $100.00 for each five full years of service up to 25 years. Conference Members $150.00 for each five full years of service up to 25 years.

C. Student Pastor Schedule:

	Living on Charge	Living off the Charge
(1) Seminary
A—Man, Wife, Children	$2400	$2200
B—Man, Wife	2200	1900
C—Single	2000	1700
(2) Junior-Senior Undergraduate

(3) Freshman, Sophomore Undergraduate
A—Man, Wife, Children	2000	1800
B—Man, Wife	1800	1600
C—Single	1600	1200

9. That each pastoral charge to receive Minimum Salary Funds be required to make application at the Fourth Quarterly Conference for funds with which to supplement the pastor's salary for the following year, the blanks to be filled out in triplicate, a copy for each, the District Superintendent, the Conference Committee on Minimum Salary, and the Recording Steward.

10. That each pastoral charge when it pays its pastor an amount equal to a total of $3,200.00 shall be considered as having paid the Minimum Salary schedule, and should then work toward a minimum goal of $4,000.00 for the pastor's salary.

11. That the status at the time of Annual Conference and that the years of service accredited by the Board of Pensions shall determine the basis for the payment of the Years of Service Supplement throughout the conference year.

12. That the Commission on Minimum Salary meet at mid-year with the Bishop and the Cabinet for review and study of the Minimum Salary Program.

COMMISSION ON TELEVISION, RADIO AND FILM

Your Television, Radio and Film Commission came into existence as a Conference organization last October; thus it is, perhaps, the youngest of your conference commissions. We have had to begin on the ground floor to organize a commission whose job it is to emphasize a very important facet of The Methodist Church's ministry. The 1956 General Conference recognized the importance of this phase of the church's ministry through the enactment of special legislation relative to it. Paragraph 1591 of the 1956 Discipline says in part, "There shall be a Conference Television, Radio and Film Commission in each annual conference. The commission, in co-operation with the program boards and agencies in the conference, shall have for its purpose the promotion use, and production of mass communications media, including radio, television, and audio-visual education materials and training of selected persons in the local churches for effective use of these materials."

We have been limited thus far in what we have been able to do, because we have had no budget. At a meeting of the Commission in Charlotte in February, a formal request was made to the Commission on World Service and Finance for operational funds.

Realizing the tremendous possibilities of both radio and television as mass media for propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ, your Commission urges every minister and congregation in the Western North Carolina Conference to make every available use of these mediums. Wherever an outlet is available, we urge the ministers to impress upon the official board the importance of broadcasting or telecasting one or more of the Sunday services of that church.

There are four cities within the boundaries of the Western North Carolina Conference with television outlets. This gives almost complete television coverage to the Methodists of Western North Carolina; therefore we urge those living in these cities to secure time for the telecasting of "The Way" series, which is an excellent series of programs, produced by the Television, Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church. Already more than 145,000,000 persons have been reached by "The Way" series, with over 165 television stations over the United States co-operating. When this series is shown in your locality, we urge the ministers to urge their people to write letters of appreciation to those stations carrying the series.

If the Methodist Church's Television Ministry is to continue on the same high level, funds must be made available. Each local church in the Conference can help in this vital phase of our Church's ministry by accepting a TV Ministry Special. The amount needed for the Methodist Television Ministry each year is $1,050,000 or a little more than 10¢ per member per year. From June 1, 1956 to February 28, 1957, the Western North Carolina Conference contributed $6,980.46 to this fund. Your Conference Commission urges each minister to stress this matter to his local congregation this year, so that we can do even more.

When funds become available to us, we have plans to set up one or more Television and Radio workshops within our Conference. Such a workshop will be for the purpose of making available to each minister desiring it, training in the best use of time made available to him on television or radio. When these workshops are held, we will have available professional personnel for our instructors.

Attention is called to the many excellent films, filmstrips, and slides available to the local church. We urge our ministers and directors of Christian education to make use of these audio-visual materials. Now that films from "The Way" series are available for local church showing, it is suggested that we make use of them.

COMMISSION ON TOWN AND COUNTRY WORK

The activities of the Commission on Town and Country Work for the Conference Year 1956-57 are as follows:

1. The publication of "Some Records of Performance and Measures of Effectiveness of Local Pastoral Charges in Western North Carolina Methodism 1955-56." These were distributed to the pastors and at least one to each church in the Annual Conference and have been used as the basis for further study in several districts and local pastoral charges. We encourage the continued use of these records and suggestions in making self analysis in the Local Church Emphasis.

2. The Commission has co-operated with the Board of Missions in producing colored slides on "Town and Country Methodism in Western North Carolina Conference" and in the promotion of the church wide School of Missions. The Executive Secretary has participated in approximately 25 Schools of Missions in addition to more than 45 preaching services in which Town and Country Work was presented.

3. The Executive Secretary has met with 60 groups and local churches to study or make plans for programs and activities.

4. The Commission sponsored a "Workshop for Town and Country Pastors" for the North Wilkesboro District and other pastors from various sections of the Annual Conference. A total of 45 participated in the Workshop under the leadership of Bishop Nolan B. Harmon, Dr. James W. Sells, and others.

5. Two Seminars on "Serving the Town and Country Church" were held at Salem Church, Morganton, and Pleasant Hill Church, Asheville, with 32 present at Salem Church and 40 present at Pleasant Hill Church.

6. The Commission co-operated with the Methodist Rural Fellowship in sponsoring the Annual Overnight Retreat at Shiloh Church, Rt. 4, Lexington, N. C., March 25-26 in which Bishop Nolan B. Harmon, Dr. Earl Brewer, and Dr. Henry Shissler participated.

7. Five students have been recruited to participate in the Student Summer Service Program for 1957.

For the Conference Year 1957-58, we recommend:

1. That the Commission co-operate with the Board of Missions and Board of Education in helping to sponsor the Caravan from Scandinavian countries to our Conference.
2. That more ministers be encouraged to participate in the Church Community Institute to be held at Emory University July 2-18.
3. That the Commission continue to give support to the program of the Methodist Rural Fellowship in sponsoring the Annual Overnight Retreat and the Banquet at Annual Conference.
4. That attendance to the Jurisdictional Town and Country Conference to be held at Lake Junaluska August 20-23 be promoted in each of the districts. "The Program of the Methodist Circuit" will be the theme of the Conference and the goal is to have every district well represented.
5. That the Commission co-operate in the Town and Country Church Development Program of the Southeastern Jurisdiction in which a charge from each district will be nominated for recognition. One of the charges will be selected by the Steering Committee of the Commission for recognition in the Jurisdiction. Development packets may be ordered from the Southeastern Jurisdictional Office, 63 Auburn Avenue, NE., Atlanta 3, Ga.
6. That the Student Summer Service Program be continued as a co-operative effort with the Woman's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild.
7. That the Commission give support to the Christian Rural Overseas Program under the direction of the Reverend Ralph Jacks, a member of this Annual Conference.
8. That a "Church Advancement Program" among Town and Country churches be promoted in the following ways:
 - a. Through continuation of a program of research and survey designed particularly for rural churches to make self analysis studies and to set up plans for the programs.
 - b. Through Workshops for Town and Country pastors, particularly those serving circuits, in which the pastors would be trained in the planning and promotion of a program of the church through the official board, the commissions and committees.
 - c. Through co-operation with the Board of Evangelism in promoting rural revivals.
 - d. Through seminars on the group ministry and other types of co-operative activities.
 - e. Through co-operation with the Cabinet in seeking to provide effective ministerial leadership in every town and country pulpit.

BIBLE BOARD

It is significant that the Bible continues to be the best seller. New interest in it is being stirred up all the while. In many homes, however, perhaps it is only an ornament or a "good-luck" book. For some it is a convenience as a place to keep clippings, photographs, and prized letters. Others use their Bible only for the purpose of keeping records of births, marriages and deaths. Still others use the sacred book merely in times of crisis or bereavement, then store it away.

The Bible should be kept in a handy place. It should be used faithfully and prayerfully. It would be well for our people to remember a question in the Ritual of our church asked of children and youth who are candidates for baptism: "Will you diligently study the Bible as God's holy Word, and in all things strive to make it the rule of your life?"

This question is in keeping with that part of the third general rule of our church, indicating that members of the societies "shall continue to evidence their desire for salvation . . . 'By searching the Scriptures.'"

There are many fine books and other helps on the Bible. Our publishing house can supply all our needs in that field, but none of these are to take the place of the Bible itself. In our teaching and reading, as certainly as in our preaching, the Bible should be the central text.

The Bible should be displayed in a prominent place in all our Church School classrooms and other meeting places.

Your Board recommends:

That the pastor or other qualified person teach courses on the Bible from time to time in the local church;

That films, film-strips and like helps be used as often as is considered to be practicable and helpful, especially for children and young people;

That Universal Bible Sunday be wisely planned and made a day on which our people will get a new vision of the place and power of God's Word;

That we all continue faithful efforts to distribute copies of the Bible and portions of it. Let us not fail to keep in mind our young men and women who are in the armed services of our country who may not have the Scriptures in any form;

That every charge be informed about the work of the American Bible Society and the support that is given this worthy institution by The Methodist Church. Let all continue their co-operation with the society in their wide distribution of the Word.

May we all renew and extend our interest in the Book that records above all others man's search for and grasp of God.

C. Trustees

There are no Trustees of the University whose terms will expire before the Conference meets in June, and no new Trustees have been elected from the Western North Carolina Conference since the last meeting of the Conference.

D. Professors

The following Professors are assigned to Duke University by the Western North Carolina Conference and it is requested that they be reassigned:

James Cannon, Dean of the Duke University Divinity School
 W. A. Kale, Professor, Duke University Divinity School
 Kenneth W. Clark, Professor, Duke University Divinity School
 J. H. Phillips, Professor, Duke University
 Thomas A. Langford, Professor, Duke University
 McMurtry Richey, Professor, Duke University Divinity School
 A. Durwood Foster, Professor, Duke University Divinity School
 Creighton B. Lacy, Professor, Duke University Divinity School
 Howard C. Wilkinson, Chaplain, Duke University

II. THE DIVINITY SCHOOL

The statistics of the Divinity School for 1956-57 show a total of 278 students enrolled in the following categories: 235 candidates for the B.D. and M.R.E. degrees, 30 students enrolled in the Department of Religion of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences as candidates for the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in Religion and 13 students enrolled for the 1956 summer session only. Thirteen denominations are represented coming from 25 states and 2 foreign countries. Previous training was received by these students at 87 institutions. Sixty persons are candidates for the B.D. degree at the 1957 commencement and 4 are candidates for the M.R.E. degree. Seven are candidates for the Ph.D. degree in Religion and 1 for the M.A. degree in Religion.

In keeping with the general University policy of selective admissions, not all of those who apply for admission to the Divinity School can be accepted, but a comparison of our admission statistics with those of the other nine Methodist Theological Schools for the current year shows a very little difference in the percentage of applicants not admitted to the Divinity School as compared with the other schools. We find that the caliber of the Divinity School students is constantly improving and their service in the Church vindicates our confidence.

By the wise and generous provisions of the Duke Endowment, the Divinity School is able to make more generous provision for the assistance of its students than is found in any other American theological school. The current report on theological education made by the Survey Committee of the American Association of Theological Schools makes this statement: "The plan at Duke University which allows students a certain subsidy during the school year in exchange for summer service on the field is most unusual."

The allocation of support to the Divinity School from the World Service Funds through the Board of Education of The Methodist Church has been increased by about 25% since the action of the 1956 General Conference. Also the support from the two North Carolina Conferences through the College Sustaining fund showed measurable increases during the 1956-57 conference year, and the schedule now in effect shows additional increases during the remainder of the present quadrennium.

2. Greensboro College

During the academic year 1956-57 the college has shown a marked increase in enrollment. Four hundred ninety-five students have registered for full and part-time courses. The addition of the Greensboro Building has permitted our resident population to increase by 96 persons and has given our dining service long-needed facilities.

Still ahead in terms of capital needs are the following: (1) a gymnasium, (2) a residence hall to accommodate 120 persons, (3) an additional $2,000,000.00 for endowment, and (4) $150,000.00 needed to bring existing structures to higher standards. The college is working toward additional operating funds from sources outside the church. In addition, however, we shall need at least $125,000.00 per year in sustaining funds from the conferences to place our instruction on the highest quality basis.

The following Statistics for the year 1956-57 are subject to correction when the outside audit is completed at the end of the fiscal year: officers and instructors, 55; students, 495; value of property, $2,721,000.00; endowment, $1,000,000.00; endowment scholarship aid, $2,100.00; work awards to students, $17,500.00; other scholarships and grants, $6,000.00; tuition reductions to ministers' children and to ministerial candidates, $6,225.00.

The Board of Trustees recommends the election of the following persons for its membership:

C. C. Herbert, Jr., Charlotte, N. C. (Term to expire December 31, 1959)
George M. Ivey, Charlotte, N. C. (Term to expire December 31, 1961)
J. C. Cowan, Jr., Greensboro, N. C. (Term to expire December 31, 1961)

The Board of Trustees requests the appointment of the following persons to the staff of the college:

Raymond A. Smith, Professor of Religion
Harold H. Hutson, President
Luther A. Bennett, Librarian
Kenneth M. Taylor, Assistant Professor of Religion

Greensboro College is happy to have had, through the years, a close relationship with The Methodist Church. Over 80% of our students have been Methodist and many of them have gone directly into active professional and lay work in our church. We are frankly and avowedly a church-related college, endeavoring to fuse the best in education with the highest Christian ideals.

3. High Point College

High Point College wishes to express its appreciation and gratitude for the interest in and appropriations toward the financial support of the College. Especial thanks are given for the College Sustaining Fund and the capital funds without which the College could not operate.

Student religious activities play an important part in the life of the College. Faculty leadership for these activities heads up in the Department of Religion and Philosophy. In the regular life of the College the Student Christian Association is responsible for morning devotionals, Wednesday evening prayer services, Sunday evening Vespers, Religious Emphasis Week, the support of two orphan children in Korea, and other campus-wide activities.

The enrollment for the year ending May 26, 1957, was as follows: Regular Session—1,009 different students; Summer School—586 different students; making a total of 1,595. Between 80 and 90 pre-ministerial students and a similar number of young women preparing as Directors of Christian Education and other religious vocations have been enrolled this year. There were 72 faculty and staff members. We had 922 students enrolled during the Fall semester. For next year we will continue to hold the enrollment to approximately the same number of well-selected students of high quality. In view of the number of applications for admission High Point College could now have enrolled 1,500 or 1,600 qualified students if ample funds and facilities were available. The majority of entering freshmen in September, 1957, will come from the upper halves of their graduating classes.

In an operational budget of well over $700,000.00, the College closed the year without a deficit. The value of equipment, buildings, and grounds increased more than $168,000.00. The Endowment Fund increased more than $28,000.00 during the year. There is no indebtedness.

Our most immediate needs for the present enrollment, in addition to double the amount of operating funds from the College Sustaining Fund: (1) $1,000,000.00 added to the endowment; (2) a new and adequate gymnasium, dining hall, kitchen, and additional classrooms, $400,000.00; a separate building for an infirmary, $60,000.00; (3) an adequate pipe organ for Memorial Auditorium and Chapel, $40,000.00.

Since the terms of Board members expire at the annual July meeting of the Board each year, no terms have expired since the last meeting of the Annual Conference; therefore, the Board has no nominations of Board members for confirmation at the forthcoming session of the Conference.

We ask that Dr. William R. Locke, who is a member of the Conference, be re-assigned to High Point College as Professor of Religion and Philosophy and that W. E. Hudgins be assigned as Assistant Professor of Religion and Director of Religious Activities.

4. Brevard College

Brevard College is one of the foremost institutions of Junior college education in Methodism. The buildings have a current evaluation of $1,845,000.00 with contents valued at $263,500.00. There are 120 acres in the campus and a farm valued at $120,000.00. The total assets in land and buildings are $2,228,500.00. The endowment is $576,881.00. The total liabilities, excluding the cost of the Campus Center Building, are $26,997.14. This amount represents loans for the construction of four faculty houses. The rent from these units will retire this indebtedness.

A budget in the amount of $368,821.00 was approved for the year. A surplus of $5,071.00 is anticipated. Financial assistance in the amount of $31,000.00 was granted to 150 students through the scholarship and work program.

During the fiscal year 493 students matriculated. Of this number 350 were academic students earning credit toward an Associate in Arts degree, a Junior College diploma, or a certificate in Secretarial Science. One hundred forty-three were enrolled as special students. Thirteen states and four foreign countries were represented in the student body.

Six faculty members were added to meet the needs of an increase in student enrollment from 328 in 1955-56 to 493 in 1956-57. There are 27 full-time faculty members and 15 staff members. At the spring meeting of the Board of Trustees, a 5% increase in salaries was approved for the faculty and staff.

The beautiful new Campus Center Building was completed and occupied in May. Four major needs of the institution were met by the construction of this new building—an auditorium, kitchen and dining facilities, a student center, and administrative office space.

The Board of Trustees, Faculty and Staff join in expressing appreciation to the Board of Education, the Methodist College Foundation, and the pastors and laymen of this Conference for their financial and moral support. We believe in Christian higher education, and are happy to be a part of the Methodist program in Western North Carolina.

The Board of Education and the Conference are requested to confirm the election of Mr. Ross Puette to serve on the Board of Trustees in the class of 1960. Mr. Puette fills the vacancy created by the death of Mr. Ralph Edwards.

5. J. B. Cornelius Foundation

Due to the change in meeting of Annual Conference, it was impossible to have the audit of this year. W. K. Goodson, President, reported that the audit from last year has not changed. There are forty-five young women attending the Methodist Colleges sponsored by the Western North Carolina Conference, as recipients of grants from the J. B. Cornelius Foundation.

6. Pfeiffer College

This Methodist College, situated within the bounds of the Western North Carolina Conference, and operated by the Woman's Division of the General Board of Missions, has the following report:

Total enrollment, regular session	772
Total enrollment, summer school session	75
Enrollment, extension course	15
Number of faculty	50
Number of staff	34
Value of buildings and grounds	$3,650,000.00
Total budget for fiscal year 1956-57	720,000.00
Spent for property expansion	400,000.00
Endowment	2,000,000.00

Outstanding in the work of the past year was the successful conclusion of the campaign for $1,500,000.00. Funds from the campaign will make possible the completion of twelve new faculty homes, the dining hall addition, the new men's dormitory, and a new science building. Methodist women of the Western North Carolina Conference pledged $100,000.00 for the Mary Floyd Chair of Religious Life at the College.

The College asks that the following be re-appointed to Pfeiffer for the year 1957-58:

J. Lem Stokes II, President

Dr. George M. Schreyer, Professor

B. C. Russell, Professor

A. James Clemmer, Director of Religious Life

7. Higher Education

Attention is called to the report of the Quadrennial Commission on Higher Education, which is especially responsible for a long-range program of cultivation in the interests of our schools and colleges. This Commission will supervise the raising of capital funds while the Board of Education will continue supervision of the Sustaining Fund.

REPORT NO. 2

ANNUAL REPORTS OF CONFERENCE STAFF REPORT BY THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Full reports have been given on children's work and adult work by Mrs. W. R. Reed and George W. Rudisill. The following general activities were carried by members of the staff working together:

1. District Staff meetings were held with the district superintendents and district directors soon after conference. Dates, places and district programs, including the district conferences on Christian education, were agreed upon in these meetings and our conference wide activities in Christian education have moved along on schedule with fine co-operation from each district superintendent.

2. District Conferences on Christian Education were held in each of the eleven districts in January and in April with the best results yet in these meetings. More people were in attendance and more churches were represented than in any previous year. More than 5,000 people attended these conferences and received help for conference and local church activities for the year.

3. Forty-four District Directors of Christian Education rendered invaluable service in these conferences and in many other ways during the year. This volunteer service strengthens and extends the work of our board considerably through the year.

4. Full Time Directors of Christian Education are employed in approximately fifty churches in the conference. These people not only give guidance (to the cause of Christian education) in their own churches but also undergird the work of Christian education in other church, sub-district and district meetings. A conference wide meeting of these directors was held jointly with the Duke Seminars in January where the topic discussed was Christian Education in the Local Church.

5. Church School Membership is reported to be 217,257 in the 1956 Conference Journal. This membership has grown annually since 1944 and is now the largest in the history of our conference.

6. Church School Day offerings by Districts

Asheville	$ 723.18—	Salisbury	$1,406.96—
Charlotte	1,588.54—	Statesville	1,068.31+
Gastonia	1,615.33+	Thomasville	1,137.24—

Marion	793.69+	Winston-Salem	1,508.26+
North Wilkesboro	188.74—
		Total	$12,571.92

+ or — indicates whether or not the district goal has been met.

7. Race Relations offerings by Districts as of May 2:

Asheville	$ 275.08	Salisbury	$ 690.31
Charlotte	659.04	Statesville	621.87
Gastonia	951.54	Thomasville	974.11

Marion	362.95	Winston-Salem	833.54
North Wilkesboro	212.86
		Total	$7,281.19

These offerings continue to show that our people are interested in better race relations even though the total amount is $515.82 less than last year.

8. Student Day offerings by Districts as of May 2:

The Student Day offering is greatly handicapped this year because June 9 is the last Sunday before Annual Conference. The total offering is $2,044.59 which is $2,483.78 less than the previous year.

Asheville	$ 155.82	Salisbury	$ 187.93
Charlotte	251.59	Statesville	144.00
Gastonia	224.74	Thomasville	270.05
Greensboro	453.54	Waynesville	118.80
Marion	100.00	Winston-Salem	113.12
North Wilkesboro	25.00
		Total	$2,044.59

9. Leadership Education continues to be a major feature of our program. A total of 10,542 persons were enrolled in 30 training schools and 8,400 of these received certificates of recognition. We are indebted to ministers, lay teachers, college professors, and the loyalty of our church school teachers for the success of this feature in our program:

Asheville	501—	Salisbury	1,117+
Charlotte	1,218—	Statesville	839—
Gastonia	1,221—	Thomasville	690—
Greensboro	791—	Waynesville	268+
Marion	934+	Winston-Salem	821—
North Wilkesboro	0—
		Total	8,400—

+ or — indicates record for this year in comparison with last year. Total credits issued are 769 less than last year.

The short conference year now closing has been crowded with responsibilities. Our program has suffered because of inadequate time. Statistical figures indicate a decline at many points. Perhaps the losses can be regained as we enter into a second full year of the quadrennial emphasis. Any success during the current year is the result of leadership given by Mrs. W. R. Reed, Mrs. John Bullard, Mrs. Leona Hayworth, George W. Rudisill, Mrs. R. R. Richardson and Mrs. Edna Emerson; the counsel and assistance of Bishop

Harmon, his cabinet; the work of our executive committee and members of our board of Education; the loyalty of our ministers and church school leaders have all contributed immeasurably to the cause of Christian education during this year.

CARL H. KING, Executive Secretary

Mrs. W. R. Reed is giving her last annual report as Conference Director of Children's Work. On July 3 she will sail from New York on the Queen Mary on a Brownell Tour that will take her to nine countries in Europe during July and August. On her return from Europe she plans to teach and write at her leisure and as her interest dictates. She is scheduled for training schools in this conference in September and October and again in February. It is hoped that she will be available for continued service during the years ahead.

During the past eight years Mrs. Reed has given outstanding leadership in children's work and has rendered invaluable service to the total program of Christian education in our conference and in The Methodist Church at large. She will be greatly missed by her friends and fellow-workers. Frequent return engagements, we trust, will serve to continue her influence in the many areas of church work where she has served faithfully and effectively. As a teacher, writer, public speaker, administrator, counselor and unfiring worker, she has advanced the cause of Christian education and the influence of the church on the lives of children and teachers of children. Along with her many other achievements, it is a most appropriate honor that she is currently serving as President of Children's Workers Section, National Conference on Christian Education, The Methodist Church, that will be meeting in Cincinnati, November 5-10, 1957.

CARL H. KING, Executive Secretary

ANNUAL REPORT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

Recognizing the fact that the future of the church and the spread of the Christian gospel around the world are dependent upon what happens to boys and girls, our Board promotes Christian Workers' Schools, Laboratory Schools, Vacation Church Schools, day camps, institutes, and other training opportunities for those who teach our children.

Our purpose in teaching children is to guide them that they may have experiences in Christian faith and conduct. We seek to help them to grow in a knowledge of and fellowship with God; in understanding the life and teachings of Jesus and a commitment to Him and His way of life; in discovering in the Bible inspiration and guidance for living; in growth in Christian attitudes and conduct; in love for and loyalty to the church; in world brotherhood and Christian social relations.

I thank you for the privilege of working in this conference over a period of eight years. It has been a pleasure to serve as director of children's work. I trust that you will continue to support the work in the same fine way with your new director. As I relinquish the leadership in the children's work in this conference, I am persuaded that it is ready for great achievements in the years ahead.

The progress made during the past eight years is cause for thanksgiving. Progress has been made in the net gain in children enrolled in the church schools, in boys and girls uniting with the church, in the number of boys and girls enrolled in vacation church schools, in the number of vacation church schools, in the number of volunteer workers with children, in the number attending Christian Workers' Schools and Laboratory classes, in the provision of more adequate space and equipment for children in the church schools, in the use of Methodist Literature in the children's division.

It is worthy of note that there is now a visiting team of volunteer workers in every district except one. These teams have visited in seventeen churches, doing laboratory teaching this year.

We have a good report which has been made possible by the co-operation of the large number of Christian leaders who have given their time so generously. To all of them I give my thanks. I feel most grateful for the help given by the eleven district directors.

Churches Visited

The director visited fifty local churches, meeting with building committees, workers' councils, commissions on education, parents' groups, teaching boys and girls and their leaders and helping to select equipment.

Districts Visited

Early in the year the Conference Staff met with the District Staffs to evaluate the program of children's work in the conference, and to plan ways of meeting the needs of children more adequately. Later in the year Educational Conferences were conducted in each district for the promotion of vacation church schools and other educational interests.

Vacation Church Schools

Plans are well under way for vacation church schools and we have every reason to believe that this conference will keep up the good work of the past in both the quality of work and the number of schools.

The Children's Vacation Church School Gift will be directed to buying booklets--Stories of Jesus for Children Everywhere. These are small booklets of eight pictures and stories of Jesus to be distributed by missionaries to the millions of children who do not know Jesus.

Christian Workers' Schools and Pastors' School

The director participated in a Vacation Church School Workshop at Duke University during the Pastors' School. The director also taught in twelve Christian Workers' Schools, reaching one hundred fifty-two churches. In four of these schools laboratory classes were taught.

Other Items

A sign of progress has been the attendance of some of the pastors in Children's Division Classes in the Christian Workers' Schools. One of the most gratifying achievements is that ten of the leaders with children in this conference have prepared course plans and have their certification to teach in Christian Workers' Schools.

There has been an increase in the number of nursery children enrolled in the church schools. More workers are reading recommended books. More effort is being made to help the parents to guide children in Christian growth throughout the week.

SUGGESTED OBJECTIVES FOR 1957-1958

1. Continued Emphasis on Laboratory Schools.
2. Laboratory Classes in several of the larger Christian Workers' Schools.
3. At least three all day District Work Shops in the following districts--Asheville, North Wilkesboro and Waynesville.
4. The district teams visiting at least two churches during the Conference year.
5. One night meetings in each district in an effort to reach church schools that are not now being reached. This work may be done by the district teams. The greatest need is for help in the use of the literature.
6. The organization of a district team in the North Wilkesboro District.
7. A meeting of the district directors early in the year, with the Executive Secretary and the new Director of Children's Work for planning the program for children's leaders.
8. A concerted effort to enlist and train more children's leaders to teach in Christian Workers' Schools.
9. At all district meetings to lift to the forefront the use of Methodist Literature in the Children's Division.
10. A page, at least quarterly, in the Advocate in the interest of children's work, to the end that the entire church constituency may become interested in and concerned about the children of the conference, and their needs, remembering that children do not wait; that what is done for them must be done now.
11. To continue to strengthen the work of the Nursery Department in the Local churches.
12. To encourage every church to help each new teacher to become acquainted with the teaching materials and with teaching techniques.

EDITH WILLIS REED

REPORT ON YOUTH WORK

October 1, 1956 to May 15, 1957

With our conference year ending in June, no camps and assemblies have been held during the present conference year. This first session at Camp Tekoa is now under way and workshops are scheduled for seniors at Junaluska in July and at Camp Tekoa in August for Older Youth. These activities will be a part of the report for the next conference year.

I. The following objectives for the year now closing were formulated by the Conference Council in session at Camp Tekoa last August and have been kept constantly before youth groups during the past eight months:

1. A youth rally during Annual Conference.
2. A fall action project which dealt with the problems of social drinking among our young people.
3. A goal of $20,000.00 for the Methodist Youth Fund.
4. Christian Vocational Conferences in each district.
5. United Nations Seminars to be attended by young people from each district.
6. Presentation of summer activities for youth at the district conferences on Christian education.
7. Christian witness missions for the purpose of winning more youth to the Christian way of life.
8. Representation in camps and assemblies from more churches.
9. Continuous effort through the year to enrich the MYF activities in each local church.

II. Planning sessions were held in December with the deans and representatives of the youth council responsible for the senior workshops and for the older youth. Invaluable service has been given by Robert Bunch, Paul Duckwall, Gilreath G. Adams, Mrs. Russell Young, Mrs. Gerry White and others who are giving their time and leadership to youth work.

III. A mid-year council meeting was held in December at Pfeiffer College at which time objectives for the year were reviewed and re-emphasized.

IV. A final planning session for the senior workshops was held in Salisbury, May 10-11 and was attended by approximately fifty of the people who will serve as Counselors and discussion leaders.

V. Plans are now complete for ten weeks of Christian Adventure camping for intermediate boys and girls at Camp Tekoa. We are indebted to George W. Rudisill, Miss Marion Craig and Mrs. Carl King for planning and directing this important part of our summer youth program. Miss Clara Watkins, Valdesse, and Miss Louise Worley, Canton, will also be staff members at Tekoa for the camping program.

VI. Contributions to the MY Fund have been received from the districts as follows:

Asheville	$ 1,155.64—	Salisbury	$ 2,742.94+
Charlotte	2,656.92—	Statesville	1,950.94+
Gastonia	2,451.88+	Thomasville	2,687.00+
Greensboro	2,284.00—	Waynesville	964.00+
Marion	940.12—	Winston-Salem	2,077.24—
North Wilkesboro	360.00—
			<hr/> $20,270.68

+ or — indicates whether goal for the year has been reached.

In addition $1,516.54 was received in late payments and was sent in with this year's payments.

Two staff members in our youth department, Miss Leona Morgan and Miss Mary Ellen Harrell, were married during the year. Mrs. Leona Morgan Hayworth has continued in her position as office secretary and treasurer of the youth fund. Mrs. Mary Ellen Harrell Bullard is now living in Montgomery, Alabama, and the position formerly held by Mary Ellen Harrell is now vacant.

We are indebted to these two people, to district directors of youth work and other friends of youth for the progress made during the year.

CARL H. KING, Executive Secretary

REPORT ON ADULT WORK

There is an interesting message in the report on adult work this year. Our statistics and detailed information show that we have made considerable progress in both our main concerns. In the first place, we have made progress in the procurement and training of leadership for adult work. Progress in certain counties point up the fact that we now have counties with well trained subdistrict directors of adult work. Last fall, we reached almost 80 new adult division superintendents in training programs for churches previously without such an important leader. This progress is due largely to excellent planning and constant evaluation of the conference council of adult workers.

Secondly, we are receiving more requests for guidance from local church leaders where we help them to plan activities which enable adults to take a more active part in the life and work of the church. We have found that a large percent of the teachers of adult classes are anxious to learn better methods of teaching. One of our district surveys revealed an almost unbelievable load of projects carried by adult classes in support of the church's work. For constructive activity and better groups, local church workers need guidance badly and are requesting help more frequently.

That you might be acquainted with our efforts, I am making brief comments about our major activities this year.

District Conferences on Christian Education: This year, we reached 696 workers with adults through these conferences. Two hundred ninety-five worked in administrative procedures for classes and groups; 240 teachers discussed better ways to use the Bible in teaching; 161 young adult leaders discussed ways to program activities for their groups. These workers came from 278 churches. This more than doubles our response last year.

Christian Workers' Schools: In the training school program, 443 credits were issued for courses designed to help workers with adults. These leaders spent at least four evenings learning better procedures. These specialization courses are vital in our leadership efforts.

Sub-district Councils of Adult Division Superintendents: I have reports of 13 such councils meeting last fall. By bringing together these leaders on a county level, we hope to provide better guidance for local church adult work.

Clinics for Teachers of Adults: We have had a number of clinics this Spring but reports are not complete yet. By bringing together teachers of adults on a county level, we can help them to develop good lesson plans and to use better methods. These teachers actually plan a specific lesson, teach that lesson and then evaluate this teaching. The clinic is reaching a number of teachers that we have not been able to reach otherwise.

Local Church Meetings with Adults: Often we can do our best work by meeting with an individual church group. In these meetings the purpose is to help adults learn new methods of teaching and to help lay plans for the organization of new groups. I met with 21 churches this year reaching 711 adult leaders. The district directors could also report a number of such meetings.

Conference Young Adult Fellowship: The report of the president of the Conference Young Adult Fellowship is attached. I am proud of the conference young adult leaders. They have assumed remarkable responsibility in planning their assembly and in extending our work with young adults. Through their fellowship teams and their subdistrict work, we should see much advancement in young adult work during the next few years.

The Third Convocation for Methodist Adults: On August 2-5 at Lake Junaluska, we are having our third jurisdictional convocation for adults. Promotion of this convocation is underway with many county leaders trying to get adult classes to send their leaders. The purpose of this convocation is to provide motivation and guidance for local church classes that they might make a greater contribution to the redemptive task of our church.

Objectives 1957-58

The Conference Council of Adult Workers meeting at Statesville on March 5, has selected the following objectives for next year.

1. To expand and improve our work with young adults.
2. To provide guidance for churches interested in developing a program with single young adults.
3. To continue our efforts to obtain and train a sub-district director of adult work for every county.
4. To provide training for the local church director of home members that thousands of home members might be brought into an active relationship with their church.
5. To extend guidance for local church leaders who are interested in organizing older adult fellowship groups.
6. To continue our training for teachers of adults through clinics and specialization courses in training schools.
7. To continue our efforts for county councils of adult division superintendents.

I would like to express appreciation to the members of the conference staff for their co-operation and to the district directors of adult work who have made many sacrifices to extend our work with adults.

BOARD OF EVANGELISMREPORT NO. 1

For the first time in our history, the growth of Methodism is failing to keep up with the increase in population in this country. It is imperative that this startling fact arouse us from our complacency, and stir us with a renewed evangelistic zeal. The unpleasant truth is that the church known as the fastest growing denomination in this country during the decades of the expanding frontier, has slowed down until at the present time, it must be said that our increase is not even holding its own against the rising birth-rate.

And yet, in the face of this present failure, we are told that we can expect further population gains of staggering proportions. An increase in population of 63,000,000 is predicted by the year 1975. Furthermore, there is predicted an industrial expansion for the area served by the Western North Carolina Conference, which will cause the population of this section to grow even faster than the nation as a whole. Will we be ready to meet the challenge thrust upon us by this tremendous evangelistic opportunity? The real opportunity offered by the recent increase in births will come within the next few years. We believe that Methodism has within her theological and organizational framework the answer to the religious needs of our growing population.

The seriousness of our situation, with diminishing net gain in membership each year in the face of rising population impresses itself upon us with greater force when we remember that everything the church does is dependent upon the success of her recruitment program in winning and keeping persons in vital relation with Christ and His church.

An honest appraisal of this situation demands that we re-examine our methods to be sure they are adapted to contemporary life; that we re-think our motives, lest they be something less than the fulfillment of God's purpose in us; and that we re-study our message confident that it is the "power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

We have become increasingly disturbed by the failure of our Conference to report a net gain in church membership in keeping with our opportunities. Sometimes we have been so preoccupied with the number received into local churches that we have not given the attention to the trends in total membership that we should.

The table below demonstrates how in general the net gain in the membership of our churches has decreased steadily over the past ten years (column 1). This has been true in spite of the fact that there has been no corresponding drop in total accessions to local churches (column 2). A closer study reveals where the failure to hold up our net increase in membership lies. Each of the ten years included in this study, there was a larger number reported in the column, "Transferred to Other Methodist Churches and Discontinued" than in the column, "Received by Transfer from Other Methodist Churches and Restored" (compare columns 3 and 4). It is reasonable to assume that, considering our Conference as a whole, the number transferring in will be approximately the same as the number transferring out. Therefore, the big difference so noticeable in these two columns must be accounted for by those who were discontinued from our rolls. One will notice readily how the difference in these two columns (see column 5), or the names discontinued from our rolls has increased during the past decade. Apparently, the dropping of names from our rolls has been serious enough to account for the steady decline in net gain.

It would seem that our loss in church members due to names discontinued over the past ten years has amounted to 26,643. This astonishing figure is almost as large as the entire net increase in membership during the same period. This represents as many people as are members of one of our larger Districts.

	Net Increase (1)	Total Accessions (2)	Transferred Out and Discontinued (3)	Transferred In and Restored (4)	Difference Between Columns 3 & 4 (Members Lost) (5)
1947	3,498	16,697	11,725	10,524	1,201
1948	2,416	13,104	9,237	7,879	1,358
1949	3,693	14,499	8,129	6,088	2,041
1950	3,216	14,504	8,188	5,797	2,391
1951	4,028	15,457	8,221	5,927	2,294
1952	3,068	14,922	8,631	5,995	2,636
1953	4,507	17,297	9,282	6,246	3,036
1954	1,748	14,268	8,996	5,592	3,404
1955	681	15,180	10,680	6,169	4,511
1956	1,884	16,115	10,199	6,428	3,771
Total	28,739	152,043	93,288	66,645	26,643

In other words, our failure has been not so much our weakness at the point of getting new members into the church as our incapacity to sustain the continued interest of those we have received. It is at this point that we must develop a more successful strategy in our evangelistic program of the future. For too long now, we as a church have apparently regarded evangelism as simply adding names to our church rolls.

In order to keep members in contact with the living fellowship, we recommend that the following be done in the local churches.

1. Membership classes for adults, in addition to the classes for children to be conducted under the direction of the pastor.

2. Larger attention should be given to instructing our Methodist people in the meaning of The Sacrament of The Lord's Supper and the importance of regular and frequent participation in it.

3. Baptism of Infants be encouraged with a meaningful service and the keeping of accurate preparatory membership rolls.

4. An impressive ceremony of reception conducted in such a way as to lift up the significance of the vows taken.

5. Use facilities of the Church School and other organizations of the church to help in assimilation of new members.

6. New members be assigned to an established member whose duty it is to help him to find his place in the active program of the local church. This person is called a Fellowship Friend.

7. Keep in correspondence with young people away from home in college and in the armed services.

8. The Commission on Membership and Evangelism should keep in touch through regular correspondence with non-resident members.

9. Make positive efforts to get non-resident members to transfer membership to Methodist churches in the communities where they live. Names and addresses should be sent to pastors.

10. Sub-divide membership into small community groups, for the strengthening of ties to the living fellowship.

11. Arrange for The Upper Room to get into every home in the membership, and encourage the use of other publications.

12. Arrange for each family to receive regular visits from other members of their church to keep the contact.

13. Use every means available to stress to our people the importance of regular attendance at public worship.

14. In so far as possible, find jobs for all the members to do in the local church, so that each one will feel needed.

15. Have designated persons alert to discover the first signs of declining of interest and participation in the church.

16. Do all you can to reactivate inactive members.

17. Do not discontinue names without making thorough investigation.

The above is not to be taken in any sense as implying that we can afford to slacken our efforts in the winning of new members on profession of faith and by transfer. There are now 70,000,000 unchurched persons in this country, and we have our share of them in western North Carolina. We recommend the use of every effective means of appealing to men in the name of Christ. To use the phrase which has challenged the Methodist people across the nation, we must "Tell America about Christ." It is our sincere hope that the best creative thought of our people in every local church will be applied to the question, "How can we best win persons for Christ?"

We cannot feel proud of the numbers received into church membership because there are too many spots where embarrassingly little has been done and so few places where all that could have been done was accomplished. The charge reports for 1956 indicate there were 18 charges with no additions on profession of faith for an entire year. In addition to these, there were 10 others receiving only one new Christian for that period. We had, in our Conference last year, 127 (23%) of our charges which had five persons or less to receive the vows of church membership. We find such reports an embarrassment to our entire Conference and urge District Superintendents and District Secretaries of Evangelism working with the District Committees to take such steps as are necessary to assist the pastors in seeing that every charge be able to report members received on profession of faith.

That we may give ourselves to the task of reaching the unchurched, we recommend that in each local church special emphasis be given to:

1. Prayer. We must strengthen our efforts by contact with the Source of Strength.

2. Finding Prospects. Many methods are available to be sure no one is overlooked.

3. Training Workers. It is folly not to make use of methods proved to be effective.

4. Visitation Evangelism. Records prove that churches with the greatest evangelistic success are those in which both minister and laymen visit to win decisions for Christ.

5. Evangelistic Preaching. There is no substitute for preaching as a means by which God breaks through to the consciousness of men. Every preacher can use effective means for bringing people to definite commitment.

That pastors and others responsible for leadership in the evangelistic work of the local churches receive inspiration and guidance, we propose the following:

1. A two-day training retreat for ministers in their first year's experience as pastors to be held in late summer at a suitable place to be chosen.

2. District and subdistrict evangelistic retreats to be held by District Superintendents and District Secretaries early in the conference year to strengthen the motives and map out the plans for evangelism during the year.

3. Attendance at Candler Camp Meeting, August 18-25, at Lake Junaluska, be promoted, and that District Secretaries be encouraged to attend the Workshop on Evangelism held in connection with the Camp Meeting.

4. Four Evangelistic Rallies to be held across our Conference early in January.

The Board of Evangelism would call attention to the fact that the change of date for the meeting of our Annual Conference releases the autumn months for special work in the field of evangelism. This is an excellent time for conducting Revivals and programs of lay visitation.

NATION-WIDE WEEK OF EVANGELISM—MARCH 2-9, 1958

We propose that our Conference co-operate to the fullest with the plans of the Council of Evangelism and the General Board of Evangelism for a Nation-Wide Week of Evangelism, March 2-9, to begin with "One Great Day of Witnessing" and to continue with a week of evangelistic preaching in every charge. Let the week of operation itself be preceded (as the General Board suggests) by:

1. A Nation-Wide Religious Census during the week of January 26.

2. Spiritual Life Retreats for ministers, on the district level.

3. Spiritual Life Retreats for Official Boards and church members.

4. An exchange of pulpits among ministers on February 16, with a special evangelistic emphasis in the service. Where more than one church is on a charge, laymen are to be used to see that every church has a service.

5. A 24-hour Prayer Vigil in each local church.

We recommend that the execution of our part in the Nation-Wide Week of Evangelism be undertaken as a "major program" of our Conference for the coming year.

It is the recommendation of the Board of Evangelism that overtures be made with the South Carolina Conference with the view of making arrangements for a United Evangelistic Mission, involving an exchange between our two conferences, sometime during the conference year, 1958-59.

BOARD OF HOSPITALS AND HOMES

THE CHILDREN'S HOME

I found in the program of the annual convention of the National Association of Methodist Hospitals and Homes this statement, "The church has a divine mission to meet human need." I like to think that is an accurate statement of what is taking place at The Children's Home. The church through this institution is meeting many needs of a great many boys and girls. These needs are varied. We might classify them under the following categories: (1) physical, (2) mental, (3) social, and (4) spiritual. As we plan our program we must try to include activities that provide for development in all these phases of a child's development.

Under the physical we would include the feeding, housing, and clothing of our children. But surely that would not be sufficient. We know the child is growing and slowly becoming aware of himself and of his developing personality. One can readily see that much more is needed than good food, comfortable and attractive clothing, and comfortable and attractive home environment. There must be understanding and wise counseling for each growing boy and girl. We attempt to give this through our house parents, our guidance director, and our counselors. Every effort is made to see that no one is forgotten in the program. This is a bit difficult with our large groups. We still have an average of approximately twenty-three per house parent or per cottage. We are advised that this should be reduced to twelve or fifteen per cottage.

Our mental program is centered in our school activities. Our elementary pupils are attending the school on the campus. Our high school students attend the Richard J. Reynolds High School. We benefit greatly from the psychological and child guidance clinics of the city school. We feel most fortunate to be a part of the Winston-Salem City School System. We have been highly pleased with our school record this year. It has been noted that out of ninety-seven high school students twenty-two made a honor average for the six weeks preceding the time of this report. Our elementary record is equally as good. Achievement tests given to the seventh grade at the end of the seventh month revealed that our group had a rating of 8.2. Normal progress would have placed them at 7.7. You readily see the group was five months advanced. Plans have been about completed for our high school group graduating this year to continue their formal education or to enter a vocation. The armed services claims some of our boys soon.

We readily recognize that social growth, progress, is important in the life of our youth. They must learn to handle themselves properly in their relationships with others. We know that it is good for them to be interested in other people as individuals and in groups. This means that activities should be provided that will give them opportunity for such growth. We do this through organized and informal recreation activities. We try to provide all the social activities that are normal for young people. This includes parties, dating, visiting on the campus and away from the campus. We strive hard to provide activities that will lead to the development of individual personality. Our recreation center recently completed is of great benefit to us in this phase of our work.

The fourth phase of our activity, the spiritual, was not put last because of an indication to rate it of any lesser importance. It is of greatest importance. Nothing has made us quite as happy as our church has these months that we have had it. It is giving an atmosphere to our campus that is so greatly needed for Christian growth. It is now become somewhat of a center about which all our activity revolves. As we pass through its portals or as we stand and admire its lighted spire in the night we hear that voice, "Be still and know." How all of us need to be reminded that God is near and a very present help. Children and adults alike cannot live the good life without such an influence. Our church is bringing this to us.

Our farm and dairy have had an excellent year. These not only provide excellent training opportunities but they more than pay their way. We are very fortunate to have the fine leadership that we do in these activities.

At this season of the year one is impressed by the beauty of our campus. A campus the size of ours calls for much labor and planning in keeping it properly. We are pleased that we have those who do this so well.

At our annual meeting of our Board of Trustees this year we learned with deep regret that two of our members, Dr. J. S. Hiatt and Mr. James G. Hanes, because of an age limitation, would have to retire from the Board. These men have served the children in our Home in a most able and devoted manner. We know that we shall miss them greatly but find some reassurance in the caliber of the men replacing them, Rev. John H. Carper and Mr. Gordon Hanes.

We request the confirmation of M. T. Lambeth as superintendent of The Children's Home. Mr. Lambeth was unanimously elected to this post by the Board in its annual meeting for the conference year.

We ask the Conference confirmation for the following as members of the Board of Trustees of The Children's Home for a six-year term: Gordon Hanes, John H. Carper, W. J. Huneycutt, Lawrence S. Rankin, J. Raymond Smith, and Lee F. Tuttle.

Our annual audit showed that for the nine-month period 429 children were cared for. We try to hold our intake as much as possible to the summer months because of school activity. Our waiting list at this time indicates it will be difficult to meet all our requests. A recent study made by the National Association of Methodist Hospitals and Homes indicates that our per capita cost is one of the lowest for our area, which would make it low for the nation.

We are most grateful for the excellent support we receive from our people and are happy to consider ourselves as partners with the fine churches of this Conference in meeting human need.

REPORT NO. 2 THE METHODIST HOME FOR THE AGED, INC.

Today there are more than 14 million Americans aged 65 or over; it is estimated that by 1975 there will be 21 million Americans in that category. This fact alone points up the necessity for our Church to assume a reasonable share of the care of our aging population.

We feel that the older persons of our Church who have through the years been active and devoted members are entitled to certain basic privileges, economic security; adequate health services; suitable housing; recreation and participation in community life; and self-expression.

States and local communities have increased their efforts to meet the needs of older persons. The Federal Government shows a steadily growing interest and activity which benefits this segment of our population. Many of the activities and services of the Department of Health and Welfare are directly related to the problem of the aging. Medical research in geriatrics is expanding, and the Department is supporting almost 5,000 research projects relating to aging or chronic illnesses. In the public assistance program for the needy aged, this federal department is seeking increased emphasis on services which will help more older persons to financial independence. Marked improvements have been made in the Social Security program. Can the great Methodist Church do less than these agencies?

Your Home for the Aging, known as the Methodist Home in Charlotte, N. C., is now in its tenth year of operation and is making a home for as many of our worthy members as it is possible for us to do with our present facilities. We now have 177 resident Members, which means that every available space is taken. While serving eleven more persons than in the previous year by efficient management, the monthly per capita cost was reduced $5.82 over the previous year's operation. The administration noted the lowest death rate yet, but on the other hand it is alarmed over the crowded Infirmary. Through the last fiscal period, there has been an average occupancy of 44 persons daily, or 25% of the Home's total population, in the Infirmary, leaving a leeway of vacant beds available for temporary or short term illnesses far below the recommended number for a population as large as ours. This brings home most forcibly the need of a new larger Infirmary. Too, at the time such facility might be constructed, plus the enlarging of the dining room and kitchen facilities, the Home would then be in a position to serve approximately 50 more persons, or a number almost equal to those already approved by the Board who are eagerly awaiting admission. This condition should receive the attention of our Church. We feel that our Church, when properly informed about the tremendous need in caring for the aged of our Conference, will do something constructive about it.

The Aldersgate Retirement Homes project, under the direction of the Board of Managers, is making progress and has completed house No. 1 of the first unit. It is the intention of the Board to secure founders for additional houses in this first unit. Inquiries regarding this new plan of independent living—designed especially for our aging population—are invited.

Our Home is well staffed with capable men and women who love their work. Too, it should be pointed out that our staff and workers are interested in our resident Members, and are doing everything within their power to help make their lives worthwhile and our Home Christian.

Our people are happy and interested in the Christlike way of life. Many of the 177 keep busy during the day engaged in many activities that the Home provides. The spiritual state of our Home is good. The Superintendent and all of those who are associated with him are fully aware of their responsibility in this direction. Spiritual and inspirational services are held every day in the Chapel. A great deal of time is given by the Superintendent and other members of the staff in counselling with Members of the Home.

Our Home has responded to the ever-increasing requests of our Churches to serve more of those whose lives have been rich in service to the Church, but whose resources are not adequate to pay their full cost of care. At the present time we have 75 Members, or 44% of our total membership, in our Home who depend on this supplementary care.

The Home continues to stress to the members and friends of the churches of our Conference the need of stepping up its giving toward the payment of this supplement. For the 1957-1958 fiscal year, the total money needed for the work covering the difference between the amount the Members are able to pay and the actual cost for their care will amount to more than $90,000.00.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes respectfully requests the presiding Bishop of the Western North Carolina Conference to appoint the Reverend C. W. Kirby as Superintendent and Minister of the Methodist Home for the Aged, Inc., Charlotte, North Carolina.

Conference confirmation is also asked for the following to membership on the Board of Managers of the Methodist Home:

Term to expire 1960: Orton A. Boren, George D. Finch, A. W. Lawing, Tom M. Little, Charles W. McCrary, F. Grainger Pierce, Mrs. Geo. H. Terry, John R. Rankin, C. C. Herbert, Jr., Dr. G. Aubrey Hawes, George Snyder, Edwin Jones, Jr., Norman Stockton, E. R. Bucher, R. A. Mayer, Stan R. Brookshire.

REPORT NO. 3

HUGH CHATHAM MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The Methodist Church is active in a healing ministry because of the example of Christ. He commissioned His disciples to preach, teach, and heal. The Church has established hospitals and homes and carried on this ministry because of Christ's command.

Today the church maintains 48 child-caring institutions, 80 homes for the aged, and seven homes for youth who need our care and instruction.

Methodism, through the agency of hospitals, provides service through the willing and loving hands of persons skilled in healing. Rendering the highest Christian and scientific service to 1,240,466 persons annually, these 72 hospitals fulfill the great Commission, "Go ye into all the world . . . Healing . . ."

Since the opening of the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital in 1931, twenty-four hours a day the hospital has served the sick.

THE GOLDEN CROSS AT WORK

Golden Cross funds are distributed as the Annual Conference directs. They are used to provide hospitalization for needy persons, to give care for the aged, to pay part of the cost of hospitalization for ministers on low income charges, and to provide nursing care for the needy sick. Gifts to Golden Cross make possible many humanitarian services. To share in this worthy cause you help children so that they can run and play and enjoy life normally, and fathers to regain their health so that they can provide for the needs of their families, and mothers who need hospital care and treatment to be made well that they may enjoy the blessings of health and minister unto their loved ones.

Since the Board of Trustees of the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital has elected Dr. J. S. Hiatt as Superintendent and Chaplain of the Hospital, the Board of Hospitals and Homes respectfully requests the Presiding Bishop of the Western North Carolina Conference to appoint Dr. Hiatt as Superintendent and Chaplain.

Since the Board of Hospitals and Homes has elected Dr. Hiatt as Conference Director of the Golden Cross Fund, the Presiding Bishop is asked to appoint Dr. Hiatt as Conference Director of the Golden Cross Fund.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes recommends to the Conference that Mr. J. L. Hall be re-elected as Treasurer of the Golden Cross for 1957-58.

The Board of Trustees of the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital has made the following nominations for Trustees for a three-year term, subject to confirmation by the Western North Carolina Conference. J. C. Cowan, R. G. Tuttle, George Royall, Charles Neaves, and Alex Chatham, Jr.

A. C. WAGGONER, President
W. T. MEDLIN, JR., Secretary

BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

The Board of Lay Activities of the Western North Carolina Conference submits its report of the activities of the laymen of this Conference during the Conference year 1956-57.

One of the most noticeable advances in recent years in church life has been the resurgence of interest and activity on the part of the laity of the church. The laity have become increasingly aware of their responsibilities and opportunities for service in the Kingdom of God in all areas of life. They are stressing stewardship, tithing, lay witnessing, lay evangelism, church extension, Christian fellowship, and are greatly concerned about support of all the various institutions of The Methodist Church.

The underlying reason for the ability of our conference forces to establish the new churches that are being established is the fact that the laity are willing to band themselves together and start new congregations in which they will make and are making financial and personal sacrifices in order to get new churches established.

This increasing concern of the laity for the ongoing program of Methodism means that as the combined interests and resources of the laity are channeled into church extension, lay evangelism and the like, that our church can receive a new birth and a growth that will surpass all previous efforts.

Our laymen are now well-organized on a district basis; the laymen have shown an eagerness and a willingness to push church extension in each district so that the District Superintendent and the Conference Board of Missions and Church Extension have the leadership and facilities at hand to do a superlative job of church extension in the days ahead. We trust that our church leadership will take full advantage of the interest and eagerness of our laity in this field and will lead on to the establishment of new Methodist churches wherever they are so urgently needed. Our laymen know that evangelism and witnessing are the life blood of our church. They want to be used in this field. Where laymen have gone out on home visitation and personal evangelistic teams, they have shown marked success. Every church in our Conference should be using the laity to the fullest extent in this endeavor. The laity are begging to be used.

The Methodist Men's Clubs which have been organized throughout the Western North Carolina Conference offer to the pastor and to the great causes of our church a ready to hand instrument for utilizing the manpower of the local congregation. Because of poorly conceived programs of work, or failure to enlist the interest of the Methodist Men's Club in the total program of the church, too often their time and energies are dissipated in things that give little benefit to the church of which they are a part. It is hoped that each pastor and church lay leader will use the utmost efforts to channel the activities and interests of the Methodist Men's Clubs into ways for supporting and undergirding the total program of our church.

We are the first to admit that the laymen as an organization, although they have been active in the promotion of stewardship and of tithing, have not done a complete job. Much remains to be done. Because of the size of our Conference, the number of congregations involved, it may be wise for the Board of Lay Activities to utilize the services of one or more full time secretaries who would be available to local congregations for cultivation in stewardship and tithing. We have only touched the fringes of what can be done in this area. If our people are giving 1% of their income, and if they could be persuaded to average 2% then we would double our total giving. This is a tremendously important field and the laymen ask for guidance and advice as to how best this great responsibility can be handled. Some think it almost needs a professional help in order to bring our giving up to the level that we know is necessary. There are many congregations in our Conference that testify to remarkable advances that have been made in their congregations in total giving where there has been an active cultivation of stewardship of possessions.

The Conference Board of Lay Activities during the past year held a one and a half day workshop in First Methodist Church, Charlotte. The attendance was much better than anticipated. The results were most constructive. Out of this first annual workshop has come a recommendation that three similar workshops be held in September or October of this year in Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Asheville. In this manner we hope to reach a far larger number of the laymen throughout the Conference.

Number two on our program is "no silent pulpit during Lent." In order to make this effective we hope that every District Superintendent will call on the District Lay Leader to supply enough lay speakers so that no Methodist pulpit will be silent during the Lenten period of the coming year. This can be done and the laymen are anxious to be used.

Our third objective is to make the observance of Layman's Day 100% effective throughout this Conference. An increasing number of our churches are observing Layman's Day. It is fitting that the laymen comprising our church should have one day set aside during the year in which their participation can be emphasized. Every church will find its total program richer if it will observe Layman's Day during the coming year.

We are anxious that a large number of laymen attend the Laymen's Conference of the Southeastern Jurisdiction to be held at Lake Junaluska on August 16, 17 and 18 of this summer. We urge the support of our pastors in securing the attendance of the church lay leader, the chairman of the official board, the chairman of the finance commission, the president of the Methodist Men's Club and any other layman who can attend at this most important meeting. They will bring back to their local church great enthusiasm and increased information for being better laymen and doing a better job in their local church.

Robert M. Smith, Associate Conference Lay Leader, has reported, as of March 8, 1957, that Ten Dollar Clubs have been organized in the Charlotte, Gastonia, Salisbury, Thomasville and Winston-Salem Districts.

The Charlotte District has four hundred (400) active members and hopes to secure five thousand (5,000) members. The Gastonia District has five hundred (500) members and has made three calls. Two calls have been made in the Salisbury District to a membership of six hundred (600). Three new churches have been helped by the Thomasville District Club which is operated on a county basis. The Winston-Salem District has approximately one thousand (1,000) members and has made two calls.

The majority of the district lay leaders feel that the Ten Dollar Clubs should be operated on a district level rather than on a conference level.

The District Missionary Society seems to be very important in the church extension program and should be expanded. Also the 10% that is to be sent to the Board of Missions for work in the mountain districts is very important. The Board of Lay Activities of the Western North Carolina Conference is very anxious to help in any way possible in advancing the Ten Dollar Clubs and the work of the district missionary societies. Any information or help in the work of these two organizations may be obtained from our conference lay leader, Edwin L. Jones, or any of the associate lay leaders.

REPORT NO. 1

In preparation for the work of the current quadrennium, the Conference Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications has this year undertaken an intensive training program for its own members. An orientation session for new Board personnel was held at Belmont early in the Conference year, followed at intervals by additional sessions for the Executive Committee and the intra-Board committee chairmen.

Conference on the Ministry Held

A significant feature of the Board's training work this year was a Conference on the Ministry held at Pfeiffer College, January 3 and 4. The Conference was attended by approximately 80 persons, including District Superintendents, District Committees on Ministerial Qualifications, and the Annual Conference Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications. Certain representatives from various colleges and universities where our young men are trained were also invited.

The purpose of the Conference was to restudy the philosophy of the Methodist Ministry, examine the tasks of the above mentioned groups in the light of General Conference legislation, and seek to correlate the work of these groups in order that each might do its work more effectively. As a result of the Conference, those present came to a clearer understanding of the regulations relating to the standards of the ministry. Also, a closer co-operation has been brought about between the District Committees and the Conference Board.

Intra-Board Committees

The four committees within the Board which will carry the greatest work-load during this quadrennium are as follows: Committee for Admission on Trial—Harold M. Robinson, chairman; Committee for Seminary Students—A. Mitchell Faulkner, chairman; Committee for Course of Study—Walter R. Kelly, chairman; Committee for Approved Supplies—J. E. Yountz, chairman. Each committee carries on its own correspondence, arranges and conducts interviews and prepares its report. Each report, after approval by the entire Board, goes to the Annual Conference session for approval. Candidates for full connection, all unusual cases and those involving appeals are handled by the full Board. The four elected officers, as well as the committee chairmen, stand ready to assist any candidate.

Raising the Standards of the Ministry

Our General Conference of 1956 gave definite emphasis to raising the academic standards of the ministry. Under the new legislation of our Church the most acceptable way of entering into the Methodist Ministry is by having attained the Bachelor of Divinity degree. This does not mean that only men or women with such degrees can enter; however, it does mean that persons who come in on trial by taking the Introductory Course to the four-year Course of Study must be adjudged exceptional, both in their abilities and in their circumstances, denying them the opportunity of seminary training. Particulars of each case must be stated on the individual recommendation forms which are sent to the Conference Board by the district committees. If these particulars are not written down by a district committee, it will be assumed that such a committee will have its representative ready to explain orally when requested to do so (par. 675.7).

The Course of Study

All Approved Supplies and others taking the Course of Study are urged whenever possible to attend the Approved Pastors Schools at Duke or Emory, where a full year's work may be taken. The years do not have to be taken consecutively, in order. Indeed, at the Duke Approved Pastor's School for 1957, courses for the second and fourth years only will be offered. The candidate should take whichever one he has not already had. This arrangement will be satisfactory for candidates who get off one year each year. In this connection the Board interprets the spirit of the 1956 Discipline regarding the Approved Supply to mean one who is qualified to administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. All applicants for the Approved Supply relationship should prepare themselves for this privilege. (For particulars, the candidate is referred to par. 314ff of the Discipline.)

Taking the Course of Study by Correspondence

Candidates who take the Course of Study by correspondence should take note of the following regulations: (1) Complete one book a month for each of the twelve months of the Conference year. Mail the examinations in to the Correspondence office each month. The Correspondence School at Emory University will be discontinued June 30, and its work transferred to the Board of Education. Therefore, beginning June 25, all papers should be sent to Correspondence Office of In-Service Training, Department of Ministerial Training, P. O. Box 871, Nashville, Tenn. (2) The last correspondence papers must be in the Nashville office three weeks in advance of the Annual Conference, if credit is to be reported to the Annual Conference. (3) The correspondence office will report the student's progress to the Board Registrar at the end of the first six months of the Conference year.

Other Disciplinary Provisions

Additional notations on Disciplinary provisions and the Conference Board's interpretations may be found in the North Carolina Christian Advocate for May 2, 1957, in an article entitled "New Requirements in Ministerial Training."

Recommendations

The Executive Committee of the Board directs attention to the "Workshop on Worship" to be conducted by Dr. Clarence Seidenspinner of Racine, Wisconsin, at the new Brevard Methodist Church on April 9 and 10, 1958, with the co-operation of Brevard College. Attendance at this workshop is recommended for all who are serving churches with the "open" or "divided" chancel arrangement.

The Board views with alarm the sharp drop during the past year in the number of applicants for admission on trial into our Conference. This sudden reduction sets forth in bold relief the urgency of our need to step up the tempo of recruitment for the preaching and pastoral ministry. The Board recommends careful study of this situation by all pastors and local churches, and especially by the Cabinet, with the hope that bold measures might be undertaken to encourage larger numbers of our promising young people to seek their personal destinies in this service of our Lord. The Board specifically recommends that special emphasis on the call to the ministry be made the central theme of the 1958 session of the Western North Carolina Conference.

DOUGLAS CORRIHER. Chairman

BOARD OF MISSIONS

Your Board of Missions is bringing to you its report with the earnest hope that the churches, the ministers, and the Commissions on Missions, will give it careful and diligent study. We realize that reports are no good except as they inform, inspire, and challenge us to greater, more intelligent, and consecrated efforts.

A YEAR OF GRATIFYING GROWTH AND ACHIEVEMENTS

It will be noted below that in five years, missionary giving to missions and church extension in the Western North Carolina Conference has increased 121%, from $349,295 (1951-52) to $774,000 this year (1956-57).

These figures are estimated on the basis of a 12-month year—1956-57.

	For Church Extension	For Missions & Church Extension
World Service (for Missions)	$ 62,000	$228,000
General Advance Specials*		175,000
Conference Specials	40,000	40,000
District Mission Society	250,000	250,000
Week of Dedication		31,000
Fellowship of Suffering		20,000
$10 Methodist Builders	30,000	30,000
TOTALS	$382,000	$774,000

The $382,000 for Church Extension is about 300% more than the $105,000 which was given for this purpose five years ago, 1951-52.

*The $175,000 General Advance Specials includes $30,000 for Hungarian Relief. World Service increased from $309,905 five years ago (1951-52) to $554,000 (12 months) in 1957, or an increase of 78.7%.

THE LOCAL CHURCH AND ITS MISSIONARY OUTREACH

The local church today is experiencing one of its most phenomenal advances in history. Membership increases, building expansions and budget advances have reached an all-time high. If there is one respect in which the church has failed to keep pace with its progress on the local levels, it is at the point of missionary outreach through Missions and Church Extension.

Church Extension

The local church emphasis in the year ahead is directed toward Church Extension. Let every local church survey the surrounding communities for possible new church extension opportunities.

The new residential developments are made up primarily of young adults and their children. By 1965 one half our population will be under 22 years of age. They will need and want a church.

The future possibilities of the Church are bound up with the establishment of new churches in the mushrooming communities about every city and town.

Ten Dollar Clubs and $1.00 Per Member contributions for local enterprises can enable the church to keep pace with the rapid growth of the population. Experience has proven that the returns on these investments have been the largest ever made to missions. Each new unit established becomes a potential for future service to the missionary enterprise.

Missions

Once again the church is called upon to dramatize the appeal of missions at home and abroad. Every medium of publicizing the needs must be utilized:

1. Missionary sermons from the pulpit, both by the pastors and by visitors from home and foreign fields.
2. The printed page made accessible to every home—The World Outlook, The Methodist Woman, leaflets and books which tell the story of missionary labors.
3. Conferences, study classes and institutes to which young and old alike are exposed to missionary education. The chairman of the Commission on Missions should be sent to the Workshop and Missions Conference at Lake Junaluska, July 19-25.
4. Visual aids in the form of motion pictures, color slides, and recordings for use in every local church. Radio and television facilities need far greater utilization.
5. A Fourth Sunday emphasis that is more than just a monthly gesture.
6. A Week of Dedication experience carefully planned in advance.

The sharp, cutting edge of missionary appeal has been taken off by the fact that, year after year, the local church has gone through the same dreary motions. The letter of observance has been fulfilled but without the exciting use of imagination to give a fresh insight into the program of Kingdom Building. Commissions on Missions, following disciplinary regulations, have been appointed only to remain dormant throughout the year. These Commissions, wherever activated, are proving that they can stimulate spectacular advances in missionary giving. They should be at the core of local church activity.

Mission specials are today pitched to the levels of all classes and groups of church people. One or two individuals, leading the way in each church, can result in scores of church members assuming support for native and missionary workers and their projects around the world. There is a mission special available to fit the means of every person and every organization of the local church. This fact needs to be underscored at every possible opportunity.

GENERAL ADVANCE SPECIALS

The General Advance Specials now provide almost half the income of the General Board of Missions for its vast work in 42 countries of the world and in the United States and its possessions. The urgent necessity of a continued forward march in Mission Specials is underscored by humanity's urgent needs in the Atomic Age, in the face of militant communism and resurgent religious faiths of the world. We are happy with the forward movement in our Conference in giving to Missions and Church Extension. These opportune days of Decision in the world, however, demand that we move forward "on the double" in Christ's name in the four Lands of Decision and other areas of critical need.

RECOMMENDED GENERAL ADVANCE SPECIALS, 1956-1960

General Advance Specials of continuing work, such as work budgets, salaries, etc., should be maintained by our local churches. These opportunities depend upon our local churches to continue support for these projects.

In addition to the Continuing Specials, we recommend that every church adopt one or more additional Specials from these recommended below:

World (Foreign) Mission Specials
Lands of Decision

1. Sarawak, Borneo. "The Ibans or Sea Dyaks, are the dominant group in Sarawak. They were the 'wild men of Borneo' . . . Today a group of factors—economic, faminal, sociological—are forcing them to seek a new pattern of living. They are clamoring for entrance into The Methodist Church. More than two thousand have been received in the past three years. The thrilling opportunity which they offer us for serving them is matched, however, by the opportunity for failure. Within a very short time these people will be forced to choose their new gods. Christ's call to Methodism to move with power among these people is unmistakably clear." Rev. Burr Baughman's magnificent leadership among the Sea Dyaks of Sarawak, Borneo, is well known in our Conference and is heartily recommended for support by our churches through Mission Specials.

2. Korea. "Korea may possibly become, in our lifetime, the first predominantly Christian nation of Asia. Four factors contribute to the massive opportunity confronting Protestants in Korea: (a) Korean culture is animist . . . The collapse of animism has been a prime factor in all of the major mass movements into the Christian Church. (b) The upheaval in Korea has been felt in every village. Here is a nation uprooted seeking to find the foundations of a new life. (c) Under the testing and turmoil the old religion has been tried and found wanting. The great mass of Koreans are today spiritual refugees, driven from their old animism but having as yet no new sanctuary. (d) In this situation there exist in Korea today strong Methodist and Presbyterian Churches . . . Korea can be won for Christ if we will answer his call."

3. Bolivia. "Bolivia is one of the hardest countries in the world in which to work for Protestant missions. After decades of desperate labor, suddenly now the opportunity opens before us to establish in Bolivia an indigenous church of real power. Through influential graduates of our schools and patrons of the hospital as they move in government and business circles, requests are being made that the Methodist bring moral and spiritual help into new areas. They are asking not only for schools and help in directing orphanages and other social institutions, but for churches. The rapid growth, the calibre of young men entering the ministry, stewardship, and spiritual power, together with urgent invitations, indicate that for Methodism in Bolivia now is the time of decision."

4. The Belgian Congo. "The Christian Church may face in Africa the most massive single opportunity of its history. Here is the first time that the challenge of an entire continent has confronted the Church with such a limited time-table. It is quite possible that within our lifetime central Africa might become one of the vigorous centers of world Christianity . . . For Methodism the Belgian Congo is the African country where the next years are most critical. Our Church is confronted by vast numbers who believe that Christianity is their best change for a new life, but who will turn to other faiths if they do not have an opportunity to try Christianity soon. We must bring them into the Church." (Quotations from Dr. Eugene Smith.)

Other World Mission Specials

1. Hong Kong, Kowloon Church. In Hong Kong one and a half million refugees from Communist China try to eke out an existence. Here, one of Methodism's youngest missions, only four years old, under Bishop Ralph Ward, moves into a heroic ministry. Bishop Ralph Ward is from Hendersonville. Rev. and Mrs. Lonnie Turnipseed, from Statesville, will go to Hong Kong this winter. Bishop Ward, retired by General Conference, continues valiantly to carry on because there is no one to take his place. A new church site and church is desperately needed to minister to the refugees in the Kowloon section of Hong Kong. This will cost $60,000. Specials of $50 can be carried to house one student in the church school or one worshipper in the sanctuary.

2. India. Rev. and Mrs. Max Lowdermilk from Asheboro will go to India to begin their work this fall. We recommend their work for Mission Specials.

3. Pakistan. Dr. E. L. Rice's work in the United Christian Hospital in Lahore, Pakistan, is known to many of our churches and people. Our churches should continue and increase the fine support that they have given to this work.

4. Ganta Mission, Liberia, Africa. Dr. George W. Harley, one of Methodism's most celebrated missionaries, is one whom we claim with great pride. His father was a minister in our Conference when Dr. Harley was born. He is known around the world for his marvelous mission work. We recommend his work for the generous support of our people.

5. Other Missionaries from Our Conference. We recommend also the heroic work of the following missionaries from our Conference for the generous support of local churches: The Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Andrews, Brazil; the Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Clay, Brazil; the Rev. and Mrs. Carl W. Judy, Korea; the Rev. and Mrs. I. L. Shaver, Japan; the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Stokes, Korea; and the Rev. and Mrs. David L. Swain, Japan. We take great pride in the fine work that is being done by a number of missionaries from our Conference who are serving under the Woman's Division; we do not, however, recommend these for Advance Specials because their work is supported by the Woman's Division. This is in keeping with the expressed policy of the Woman's Division.

National (Home) Mission Specials

1. Alaska Methodist College. Alaska has no four year liberal arts college. Young people wanting a liberal arts education must leave Alaska to get it. Only five per cent of these return to Alaska. Her leadership is thus being drained off. For her present and future generations Alaska needs a liberal arts college. Methodists are responding to this challenge for generations yet unborn. Continue and increase your Alaska Methodist College Specials.

2. Negro Methodist Churches (Central Jurisdiction) Within the Bounds of Our Conference. Facing days of tension between the races, we recommend that our churches establish ties of Christian fellowship and love with our fellow Methodists in the Central Jurisdiction and use this opportunity to develop more Christian leadership for the Negro race through the Methodist Church. Adopt Specials for these churches.

3. Puerto Rico. Puerto Rico is our next door neighbor under the National Division of our church. It is within easy visiting distance for caravans and others who wish to see mission work "first hand." We recommend it for Mission Specials.

M.C.O.R. Specials

The Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief (M.C.O.R.) is Methodism's ministry of mercy to the famine stricken, flooded, hungry, diseased and distressed of the world. We challenge our churches to take more Specials for M.C.O.R.

Conference Mission Specials

1. Cherokee. The work of the Cherokee Methodist Center is growing rapidly in its service to the Cherokee Indians. The Woman's Society has provided one deaconess for the work and is considering a second one soon. The Clothing Exchange provides good clothing at a nominal price for the Indians. An outpost Chapel is being built in the Big Cove community of the reservation. The Clothing Exchange is being enlarged and the apartment for the deaconess is being completed.

We recommend Specials by local churches to complete this work and maintain the work of the mission.

2. District Specials under the guidance of the District Superintendents and approved by the Conference Board of Missions.

The Easter Season Affords Great Opportunities for Missions

The Easter season, beginning with Lent, is becoming increasingly a time for more and more churches to lift up the cause of missions. We commend this practice to our Methodist Churches. We believe this moving and holy season, commemorating our Lord's last days on earth, with His crucifixion and Resurrection, afford our Methodist people a rare opportunity to give sacrificially to the great cause of missions. Many of our churches are raising large sums of money during this period of the year. Our people are perhaps more responsive to the call of Christ and more alert to the needs of missions than at any other time during the year.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service

The women of the Church, through the Woman's Society of Christian Service, have consistently publicized the story of missions. An active Society in every Church will give added strength to the missionary outreach. The Board of Missions would like to pay a special tribute to the Western North Carolina Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service. Under the leadership of Mrs. Clarence C. Cranford, the Woman's Society has again reached new goals.

The time is far past for the dedication of the finest of our young men and women to missionary service. Psychological barriers, whether relating to profession or to separations, must be broken down. The youth of the church must be given the opportunity to choose freely to become "fishers of men" wherever the open door of opportunity confronts them.

THE DISTRICT AND ITS MISSIONARY RESPONSIBILITY

Recommendations

The expansion of the present churches and organization of new churches must be a vital concern of the district. Our Board of Missions strongly urges each district to strengthen its District Mission Society and to see that the District Mission Society is active in the following:

1. Have a well organized executive committee of the District Mission Society that is constantly on the alert to promote new church congregations; to study new developments with the idea of purchasing new church lots; to aid any church in the district that is having unusual problems or needs help in any way. The executive committee should help the district superintendent carry out the mission program and advise him of needs in different areas of the district. A strong active executive committee would help inform the membership of the churches in the district of the needs for expansion and also the need to strengthen churches that are not making the progress they should. Efforts should be made to make every Methodist in the district realize that he is a member of the District Mission Society and is having a part in the expansion of the Methodist Church; also to realize that the mission program is dependent on him. The executive committee should be elected by the annual meeting of the District Mission Society.

2. The District Mission Society, under the supervision of the district superintendent, should promote the Ten Dollar Club. If no Ten Dollar Club has been organized in the district, this should be done as soon as possible. The Ten Dollar Club should be organized primarily for building new churches and may include new parsonages. Most of the active Ten Dollar Clubs in our conference limit the number of calls to three in any year. Each member agrees to give ten dollars or more for the building of a new church by a new congregation. In each church a layman should be given the responsibility for promoting the Ten Dollar Club.

3. The District Mission Society should be ever alert to the task of securing new church locations in growing communities. Especially is this true in large new real estate developments. A new site purchased in advance of a large growth in population gives the church a favored location and also a much lower price for the lot. The purchase of new lots often determines the growth of our Methodist Church in fast expanding cities and towns.

4. The financing of new locations, churches, parsonages and salaries of personnel to do missionary work in a district will cost large sums of money. Every church should be urged to include the $1.00 per member in the local church budget. Also additional funds may be secured by donations to the District Mission Society by interested laymen. Too many churches are asking what do we get out of this program rather than what can we do to promote the program of missions. The District Mission Society should strive to change this thinking. The Board of Missions urges each District Mission Society to send 10% of the income from the $1.00 per member to our Conference Mission Treasurer, Mr. R. E. Kerr. The Board of Missions will use this money for mission projects in the districts.

5. The District Mission Society, with the district superintendent, is urged to promote the mission program at the district conference.

Our Annual Conference Faces a Great Hour

Perhaps never has our conference been so missionary minded as it is today. Evidence of this fact is seen on every hand. Increasing numbers of our churches, both large and small, are taking mission specials. This is a most hopeful sign. It indicates that our Methodist people are becoming better informed of the needs of world missions and more spiritually sensitive to their responsibilities.

The missionary program has always been in season and out of season the life line of the Christian church. This has never been more true than now. That we must give the world Christ or perish is no over-stated fact.

Your Board of Missions believes that one of the greatest opportunities a church has for growth is to become vitally concerned about the mission needs of the world. The gospel grows by sharing it. Mrs. Charles C. Weaver, former president of the W.S.C.S. of this conference says: "The gospel is the only possession we have that becomes larger by giving it away."

A vital missionary program in the local church can literally transform it into a great spiritual force and power.

Give Your Church the Message, the Need, and the Opportunity

Your Board of Missions believes that one of the immediate goals ahead is to inform our people about the overwhelming needs which our world crisis has brought about.

Through mission study classes, by the use of visual aids, and talks, we have the opportunity to instruct our people on the needs of missions. A church-wide mission study course can strengthen the base of giving to missions and bless our people in a large way.

Mrs. J. W. Harbinson, former president of our W.S.C.S. in the Western North Carolina Conference, makes a discerning statement: "Our giving to missions could be easily doubled if Methodists could be made aware of the great work accomplished with the funds we give for mission work." Your board believes that our lay people are ready to move out into this quadrennium with a quickened faith and a daring vision. We must give them the truth and they will respond nobly and sacrificially.

A Great New Study Book

We are convinced that the new study book, "Lands of Decision," written by some of our ablest leaders, can bring a new day to the local church in its missionary outreach. We earnestly urge our people to use this book in every church. Dr. Henry Sprinkle, Jr., editor of the World Outlook, says: "The mission study book deals especially with Korea, Sarawak, Bolivia, and the Belgian Congo, lands in which the Methodist witness during the next few years may be decisive for whole peoples. This book sets forth the quadrennial emphasis of the church in foreign missions."

New Opportunities for the Commission on Missions

Your Board of Missions is convinced that a new day could come to the local church provided the commission on missions is an active, well organized body. This commission is not enough, however. "It must become," in the words of Dr. Henry Sprinkle, "a dynamic body, leading the church in a year round program of study, service, and stewardship."

The World Outlook

The World Outlook continues to be the number one mission periodical in America. It is beautifully illustrated and ably written. To read it is to take a trip to the faraway mission fields of The Methodist Church. We heartily commend this magazine to every church and urge the commission on missions to assist the Woman's Society in placing it in as many homes as possible.

The Week of Dedication

The Week of Dedication has become one of the high weeks of the Christian calendar for the people called Methodists. The continuing crisis in the world makes this week imperative. There should be no letup in the emphasis on this week, both in the opportunity of giving to the emergency causes which the week helps and the spiritual renewal it affords to every Methodist. These two great emphases . . . giving of our means and rededicating our lives . . . are truly one.

Using Our Missionary Personnel

Our board is aware that always in our conference and the surrounding conferences there are missionaries who are on furlough. We believe we should make wider and more constructive use of these prophets of God. They could be used on the local, district, and conference level to the inspiration of great numbers of our people. We believe to use them is to honor them. We urge our ministers to take advantage of this opportunity wherever possible.

The Caravans Bring Inspiration

The Board of Missions and Board of Education continues sending caravans overseas and bringing like groups to America. We believe this exchange of young people will do great good and strengthen both the missionary and educational causes of the church. These youth are truly missionaries and ambassadors of Jesus Christ.

A Great Hour for Lay Participation

It is becoming increasingly evident that we need more and more lay speakers who will go out across the districts and speak in behalf of missions. The layman's voice can be a great force for good in promoting missions and challenging our young people to give their best. There are now good lay people sponsoring mission specials and missionaries across the church and we heartily commend this practice.

Our Large Churches Helping the Weak Churches

The board of missions is not forgetful of the wonderful work many of our large churches are doing in helping establish new church congregations. We believe the essence of missions is that the strong will help the weak. That more and more of our large churches assist in this work is the prayer of the board.

Bishop Nolan Harmon's Leadership

Our board is deeply grateful to Bishop Harmon for his abiding interest in missions. Close to his heart is the cause of missions. No one realizes more than he the great need at the present time for an enlarged church extension program in this conference and the need to strengthen the mission base around the world. His leadership will be a source of continuing blessing to this conference.

The World Service Asksings

It is gratifying to note that practically all our churches in the conference accepted the full asksings of World Service. We deeply regret that a few did not. We believe all Methodist Churches can and should accept the full asksings for 1957-58. We are aware that 1956-57 was a year of adjustment in the change of conference dates. It is unthinkable for any Methodist Church to reject the full asksings in 1957-58. The proclamation of the gospel of Jesus Christ depends upon our acceptance of the World Service asksings. We dare not betray our Lord in this crucial hour when pagan religions are bidding for the heart and mind of man, and when millions of people are still crying out: "Come over and help us." The World Service dollar is basic in our far-reaching missionary program. To give the full asksings is to keep faith with our beloved Methodist Church.

M.C.O.R. Specials

We urge our Methodist people to continue their giving to the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief. Many of our churches are directing the offering which is taken during the Holy Communion to this cause. This offering goes to aid the most stricken and needed peoples of the world. Our Lord said: "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these my brethren ye did it unto me."

OUR HONORED MISSIONARIES

We recognize our honored and beloved people who are serving in the far-away fields. These servants of God are bringing rare blessings to our conference, and continually challenge us to match their devotion and loyalty. Their names are as follows:

THE FUTURE FILLED WITH PERIL AND OPPORTUNITY

Let us ever be aware that during this quadrennium the Division of World Missions will have three great emphases:

1. Evangelism will be given unusual emphasis. There is to be an increasing effort to reach the unreached.
 2. Higher education is to be strengthened in Asia and other parts of the world. Already in the Philippines, Hong Kong, India, and Latin America Christian education is being given needed help.
 3. The Lands of Decision are now in the forefront of our thinking. These lands will be given special consideration in the new study book.
- These three emphases are to be given wide publicity and great support from the Methodist people of the world.

Dr. Tracey K. Jones, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Division of World Missions, is alert to the vast changes taking place in the world and has, with keen insight, pointed out:

1. "There will be a long period of unrest ahead and we must plan for it. This is a part of the world revolution in which we live."
2. "We must be aware of our rivals. They include all of the great classical religions and they have come very much back to life. We will confront these classic religions in the United States as well as confronting them in Asia and Africa. Hinduism and Buddhism will be increasingly in the thinking of western man and he might as well prepare for it and realize that the days of our having full initiative are probably passed."
3. "We should also realize the situation economically and politically. No longer will we have the advantages of a powerful western world. That western world is now on the retreat and we must confront, therefore, a very different situation in the years to come. We have the resources to do it, but we must be aware of the new facts that confront us."
4. "We must also keep in mind that the younger churches now are our equals. They qualify to be our partners. It is no longer a question of the entire mission responsibility resting upon western churches. The younger churches are assuming increasingly their responsibility."

More and more, Dr. Jones thinks, we should get over to our 800,000 Americans overseas the opportunities they have of being good lay missionaries. This great host of people have an unparalleled opportunity to represent the best in American culture and the imperative of lifting up Christ in their lives.

The Board of Missions wants to commend Rev. Horace McSwain for the outstanding leadership he is giving to our conference in missions, and respectfully requests that Bishop Harmon reappoint him as conference missionary secretary.

The Board of Missions believes it is taking a forward step in securing Rev. Rollin Gibbs as the Director of Finance and Field Service for our conference, and we respectfully request that Bishop Harmon appoint him to this position.

THE CALL OF GOD TO HIS CHURCH

In such a critical hour as this God is again summoning His church to rise up in new power and strength and give the message of Christ to a world that is in grave peril. To be missionary minded is the mandate of Jesus Christ. No person who calls himself a Christian should dare shun his responsibility now. Our Lord calls us . . . every Christian . . . to give himself anew in carrying the gospel to every creature. We must recapture the meaning of those words that John Wesley uttered long ago: "The World Is My Parish." Then we shall obey the call of Christ:

"GO INTO ALL THE WORLD . . . PREACH . . . TEACH . . . HEAL"

W. KENNETH GOODSON, President
CECIL G. HEFNER, Secretary

Adopted, Morning Session, June 14, 1957.

ENABLING ACT

The Executive Committee of the Board of Missions and Church Extension is authorized to make such appropriations as, in keeping with the established policies are necessary for the work of the Board of Missions and Church Extension "ad interim."

BOARD OF PENSIONSREPORT NO. 1

The Board set the rate of pay for retired ministers at $54.00 per service year. Widows of preachers receive an amount equal to 70% of the rate paid to men: $37.80 per service year.

For full time approved supply years of service to regular conference claimants the rate of pay for service year is $32.20. For widows, 70% of that amount.

For retired approved supplies the rate of pay is $45.00 for service year. For widows of retired approved supplies, 70% of the amount above.

The Board designated the following banks as depositories: Concord National Bank Concord, N. C.; City Savings Banks, Charlotte, N. C.; and the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Charlotte, N. C.

The Board requests permission to omit reading of the allotments to the Conference and that they be approved as printed in the Conference Journal.

REPORT NO. 2

In compliance with the General Board of Pensions, we would like to call attention to paragraph 1624 in the 1956 edition of the Discipline, which in substance states that the pastor's salary and the conference claimant fund must be paid on the same proportionate ratio. The Charge treasurer and the pastor are made responsible for seeing to it that this paragraph is complied with. If the conference claimant fund is not paid in proper ratio, the pastor will be held responsible for any deficit, and on his retirement this deficit will be deducted from his pension, subject to paragraph 1634.

SPECIAL NOTE!

In calculating the number of service years for each minister, please take note that his years of service begin on the day the conference closed, the year he joined the conference; and his years of service end on the day the conference closed, the year he retired. In computing fractional years, the formula set forth in paragraph 1618 (2i) is used. This will account for the fractional years of service recorded in the Chronological Roll and Service Record in the Conference Journal.

We would like to urge the District Superintendents, the Pastors, and Charge Lay Leaders to be on the alert as to any acute needs of our superannuates and widows, and report the same to the Board of Pensions.
Adopted, Morning Session, June 15, 1957.

A. G. LACKEY, President
V. A. MORTON, Secretary

BOARD OF SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC RELATIONS

HISTORY

The General Conference of 1948 directed the Council of Bishops to appoint a special committee to study the field of Social Action and to report its findings to the 1952 session of this Conference of the Church.

The report of the special committee to the General Conference of 1952 said: "From its studies your Committee has become convinced that the concern of many people of The Methodist Church goes beyond a mere statement of the Social Creed, and calls for action by the Church in dealing with social and economic problems, affecting human welfare . . . The Methodist Church should implement its Social Creed by providing an official and co-ordinated channel of study, expression and action within the organizational structure of the Church." (See pages 1725-1727, General Conference Journal, 1952.) This General Conference did establish such a Board in these historic words: "There shall be a Board of Social and Economic Relations." (Paragraph 1555, Discipline, 1952.)

The Western North Carolina Conference elected its Board of Social and Economic Relations at its 1954 session. A new Board was elected at the 1956 session.

If our Board was created with a major responsibility for teaching and implementing the Social Creed, a restatement of it is in order at this point.

THE METHODIST SOCIAL CREED

I. OUR HERITAGE

The interest of The Methodist Church in social welfare springs from the gospel, and from the labors of John Wesley, who ministered to the physical, intellectual, and social needs of the people to whom he preached the gospel of personal redemption.

In our historic position we have sought to follow Christ in bringing the whole of life, with its activities, possessions, and relationships, into conformity with the will of God.

As Methodists we have an obligation to affirm our position on social and economic questions.

II. OUR THEOLOGICAL BASIS

The Methodist Church must view the perplexing times and problems which we face today in the light of the teachings of Jesus. Jesus taught us to love our neighbors and seek justice for them. To be silent in the face of need, injustice, and exploitation is to deny him.

We believe that God is Father of all peoples and races, that Jesus Christ is his Son, that all men are brothers, and that man is of infinite worth as a child of God.

We believe that "the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof." Our own capacities and all we possess are gifts of the Creator, and should be held and used in stewardship to him.

We believe that a Christian society is essential to the full nurture of a Christian person.

We believe that sin, both individual and social, stands under the judgment of God, and that the grace of God in Christ is available for redemption in all areas of life as we seek in penitence and obedience to do his holy will.

We believe that all persons have supreme value in the sight of God, and ought to be so regarded by us. We test all institutions and practices by their effect upon persons. Personality is oppressed in many parts of the world, and we seek its emancipation and those things which will enrich and redeem it. Since Jesus died for the redemption of human life, we believe we should live to help save man from sin and from every influence which would harm or destroy him.

III. OUR DECLARATION OF SOCIAL CONCERN

Applying the foregoing principles, The Methodist Church declares itself as follows:

A. The Family

We seek equal rights and justice for all men; protection of the individual and the family by high standards of morality; Christian education for marriage, parenthood, and the home; adequate housing, proper regulation of marriage, and uniform divorce laws.

We stand for regulation of working conditions for women, especially mothers, and safeguards for their physical and moral environment; for the abolition of injurious child labor; for the protection, education, spiritual nurture, and wholesome recreation of every child; and for religious and educational programs which will secure these ends.

B. Economic Life

1. Christianity and the Economic Order—With full acknowledgment of stewardship under God and accountability to him, we stand for the acquisition of property by Christian processes and the right of private ownership thereof. We refuse to identify Christianity with any economic system. We test every economic order by the commands of our Christ and judge its practices by the Christian gospel. We believe that it is our duty not only to bring Christ to the individual, but also to bring the society within which we live more nearly into conformity with the teachings of Christ. We believe that the free democratic way of life ruled by Christian principles can bring to mankind a society in which liberty is preserved, justice established, and brotherhood achieved. We therefore pledge ourselves to sustain these values and to implement the teachings of Christ by voting our Christian convictions in all elections, by participating in political action as party members or independents, and by offering and supporting candidates who will translate our social ideas into social reality.

2. Poverty and Unemployment—We believe that the economic development which makes possible material plenty for all places upon us great moral responsibility, in that the physical and spiritual development of millions of persons throughout the world is now needlessly hindered by poverty. We therefore stand for the abatement and prevention of poverty everywhere.

We believe that it is our Christian duty to provide for all men opportunity to earn an adequate livelihood. Since lack of significant employment tends to destroy human self-respect, we believe that workers must be safeguarded from enforced unemployment.

3. Wealth—We recognize the perils of prosperity. Our Lord has told us that we cannot serve God and mammon. As Christians we must examine earnestly before God both our personal and our business practices, lest we unwittingly adopt the standards and assumptions of a materialistic society to the exclusion of our Christian stewardship.

Since churches and their institutions as well as individuals own property, invest funds, and employ labor, care must be exercised that all such relationships conform to the highest Christian standards. Any judgment upon society must "begin at the house of God."

4. Working Conditions—We oppose all forms of social, economic, and moral waste. We urge the protection of the worker from dangerous and unsanitary working conditions, and from occupational diseases.

We stand for reasonable hours of labor, for just wages, for a fair day's work for a fair day's wage, for fair working conditions, for periods of leisure, and for an equitable division of the product of industry.

5. Social Benefits for Workers—We stand for security for old age, for insurance against injury to the worker, and for increased protection against those preventable conditions which produce want.

6. The Right to Organize for Collective Bargaining—We stand for the right of employees and employers alike to organize for collective bargaining, protection of both in the exercise of their right, and the obligation of both to work for the public good.

7. Rural Life—We recognize the basic significance of rural areas in relation to population supply, natural resources, community life, and Christian culture. Methodism, because of its large rural membership and world-wide impact, must lead in developing an adequate Christian program in rural areas everywhere. This should pertain to people in their relationship to God, to the soil and all natural resources, and to family, church, and community welfare. We believe the farmer should have opportunity to earn a fair income.

8. Urban Life—Our society is becoming increasingly urban. The city is a center of power for good or ill, and its shifting multitudes desperately need the guiding and healing power of religion. The church must recognize that the city exhibits great needs and offers amazing opportunities for Kingdom building.

9. Christian Vocation—We believe that every adult should be engaged, so far as possible, in some vocation productive of common good. Every such vocation should be viewed as a Christian calling, and our daily work as a sphere of service to God for the advancement of his Kingdom.

C. Intoxicants and Narcotics

Total abstinence is the historic position of our church. We seek to protect the individual, the home, and society from the social, economic, and moral waste of any traffic in intoxicants and habit-forming drugs and from the invasion of the home by the advertising of alcoholic beverages. We urge objective and scientific study of the effects of alcoholic beverages and narcotics, and the use and support of educational processes in teaching abstinence through knowledge of these effects. The church should also seek to understand the causes of alcoholism and drug addiction, and to give help to their victims in a healing and redemptive ministry and fellowship.

D. Treatment of Crime

We stand for the application of the redemptive principle to the treatment of offenders against the law, to reform of penal and correctional methods, and to criminal court procedure. For this reason we deplore the use of capital punishment.

We recognize that crime, and in particular juvenile delinquency leading to crime, is often a result of bad social conditions. Christian citizens and churches have a special opportunity and responsibility for creating those conditions of family life, wholesome recreation, vocational training, personal counseling, and social adjustment by which crime may be reduced.

E. Freedom from Discrimination

We stand for the rights of racial groups and insist that the social, economic, and spiritual principles set forth in this creed apply to all races alike. We urge individual Christians and churches to make a serious and prayerful examination of their own attitudes and practices in regard to racial equality and fellowship with the determination to bring our practices into conformity with Christian ideals.

F. War and Peace

1. Principles—We stand for these propositions: Christianity cannot be nationalistic; it must be universal in its outlook and appeal. War makes its appeal to force and hate, Christianity to reason and love. The influence of the Church must therefore always be on the side of every effort seeking to remove animosities and prejudices which are contrary to the spirit and teaching of Christ. It does not satisfy the Christian conscience to be told that war is inevitable. It staggers the imagination to contemplate another war with its unspeakable horrors in which modern science will make possible the destruction of whole populations. The methods of Jesus and the methods of war move in different directions.

It is not enough to declare the evil of war; we must actively and constantly create the conditions of peace. Among these are the promotion of understanding, reconciliation, and good will; the relief of suffering; the lifting of living standards around the world; concern for the freedom and welfare of dependent and subject peoples; the removal of racial tensions; the taking of all available steps toward disarmament; the giving of encouragement and support to patient negotiation by our leaders. These efforts must be viewed as a personal Christian responsibility and steadfastly undergirded with prayer.

2. International Co-operation—We believe that the United Nations, as the agency and symbol of international co-operation, should be given our support. The issues before it merit our careful and continuous study. In the realm of international affairs the United Nations is our best hope for peace.

We believe that world peace is advanced by the United Nations and other international organizations and by more social use of our national resources. To missionary work as in the past we need to add new forms of international social co-operation.

3. The Christian Conscience and War—The Methodist Church, true to the principles of the New Testament, teaches respect for properly constituted civil authority. It encourages both love of country and love of all men. Believing that government rests upon the support of its conscientious citizens, it holds within its fellowship those who sincerely differ as to the Christian's duty in regard to war. We ask and claim exemption by legal processes from all forms of military preparation or service for all religious conscientious objectors, as for those of the historic peace churches. We also recognize the right of the individual to answer the call of his government according to the dictates of his Christian conscience. In both these situations members of The Methodist Church have the authority and support of their church.

G. Civil Liberties and Civil Rights

We stand for the recognition and maintenance of the rights and responsibilities of free speech, free assembly, and a free press, and for the encouragement of free communication of ideas essential to the discovery of truth.

We stand for the right of all individuals and groups to advocate any peaceful and constitutional method for the solution of problems that may confront society.

We stand upon the principle of testing every such proposal in the light of the teachings of Jesus.

IV. OUR MANDATE—READ, STUDY, APPLY

We recommend that this Social Creed be presented to our congregations orally or in printed form at least once a year, and that frequent references be made to it. We further recommend that in every local church a committee shall encourage the study of our Social Creed and seek in every possible way to apply its principles. (Paragraph 2020, Discipline, 1956.)

PRIMARY OBJECTIVES

In explaining the reasons for establishing our Board, Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke, Chairman of the General Board of Social and Economic Relations, has said: "The General Conference suggested that we become literate enough to read the Social Creed; intelligent enough to try to understand it; courageous enough to try honestly to translate this magnificent statement of Christian idealism into action; and Christian enough to project a growing edge into unoccupied territory open for continuous exploration." (See page 15, A Board of Social and Economic Relations, 1955.)

Your Annual Conference Board takes its mandate seriously and seeks to "project a growing edge" through these primary objectives:

1. Continuous study of the magnitude and scope of our assigned task; exploration of the social and economic problems of our time, and Christian solutions for them.

In seeking to achieve this objective, two members of your Board have attended national meetings for Conference Board Chairmen. Bishop Nolan B. Harmon has addressed our Board on its purpose and functions. Appropriate literature has been presented to each member of our group for study and discussion. There have been three meetings of the Board and three meetings of its various committees.

2. Our next objective is to help others study areas of social and economic concern and venture Christian solutions whenever and wherever possible.

To this end your Board is now planning a Seminar for the early fall.

3. To co-operate wherever possible with all other Conference agencies having related goals, such as the Board of Temperance, the Committee on World Peace, Board of Education, the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Lay Activities, the Methodist Youth Fellowship, etc.

During the Conference year there has been a meeting of the Chairmen of the Committee on World Peace, and Boards of Temperance, and Social and Economic Relations, for the purpose of exploring areas of co-operation.

RECOMMENDATIONS

We recommend that the Western North Carolina Conference approve and support the following propositions:

1. That The Methodist Social Creed be read in each church, on either United Nations Day, the Sunday next preceding October 24th; Race Relations Sunday, the second Sunday in February; or the Sunday next preceding Labor Day.

2. That whenever possible courses in social and economic concern be included in our Leadership Training Schools.

3. That pastors and local church schools encourage the use of the elective units in the Adult Curriculum of our Church School literature entitled "Christian Action in Society," and more especially the course on "our Social Creed."

4. That pastors and local churches seek to establish more effective communications with and more helpful relations towards neighboring pastors and churches of the Central Jurisdiction.

5. That each local church elect a Commission on Christian Social Relations as provided for in paragraphs 144, 219 and 176 of the Discipline, combining at this level, the work of the Committees on Temperance, World Peace, and Social and Economic Relations.

That an alternative be the election of a Committee on Social and Economic Relations in each local church, as authorized in paragraph 278-11 of the Discipline, with concern in such areas as: (a) brotherhood and race relations, (b) citizenship and civic affairs, (c) civil rights and religious liberties, (d) economic life and industrial relations, (e) public morals, (f) family life and welfare, (g) social health and welfare, (h) rural conservation and agriculture, and (i) ethics in the church.

CLIFFORD H. PEACE, Chairman
COURTNEY B. ROSS, Secretary

THE BOARD OF TEMPERANCE

OUR APPROACH TO THE PROBLEM

Your Board of Temperance has no startling new program to offer, no sensational facts, no spectacular break-through in the temperance area. We must report that the basic facts, the fundamental problems, the general statistics remain very much the same as last year. In the problems growing out of the use of beverage alcohol we have as tough a situation as can be found in the life of America. Every area of society is affected, every home is in some way touched adversely by the liquor traffic, and some nine million of us are crippled in personality because of the use of liquor.

We see no easy solutions and find no true answers in ready clichés or in over simplifications of the problem. We heartily endorse the four-fold approach which The Methodist Church has officially adopted, as being realistic, positive and effective. This program, set up by our General Board of Temperance, recognizes the following areas in which Methodists should be concerned: Personal Commitment to total abstinence; Education, especially among young people and young adults; Rehabilitation of alcoholics and counselling with them and their families; and fitting and proper Legislation for the protection of the public and for the safe-guarding of moral standards and personal rights.

We view with regret the tendency upon the part of some of our ministers and laymen to go only part way in carrying out this program. Some of our good brethren go all the way on a rehabilitation program, but take a dim view of our program for personal commitment. Others are strong for personal commitment but desert the cause when it involves the promotion of legislation in the interest of sobriety and Christian morals. Still others believe in all three of the areas mentioned above but have never begun to use effectively the educational approach. We hereby appeal to laymen and ministers alike to go all the way with The Methodist Church in its effort to render a redemptive service in the temperance field. Let us not set any one approach over against the others as sufficient in itself. Let us make our approach as broad as the problem is wide, as intense as the problem is deep, as sympathetic as the needs are heartrending, as persevering as the solution is difficult.

REPORT OF ACTIVITIES

Your Conference Board has engaged in the following activities since the last annual conference.

1. Planning Conference:

A two-day Planning Conference was carried out in October for board members and district secretaries at which the program for the year was outlined, responsibilities assigned, and necessary information given.

2. District Workshops:

These were held in every district under the direction of the Reverend Ray Swink. The Reverend Elmer N. Hassell, president of the Virginia Conference Board of Temperance, was guest speaker. The color film "Far from Alone" was shown and evaluated. The attendance at these meetings, which took place in November, was more than a thousand persons.

3. Commitment Day:

The Reverend Fletcher E. Howard, as Conference Director of Commitment Day for Temperance, was in charge of this activity. We are happy to report that the total number of Covenant card signers was over 36,000, an increase of more than 8,000 since a year ago. The Commitment Day Offering at last report was $4,338. The break-down by districts is as follows:

District	No. Charges	No. Reporting	Commitment Signers	Offering
Asheville	48	20	1,112	$ 201.16
Charlotte	64	44	3,530	310.69
Gastonia	62	51	5,239	519.39
Greensboro	69	64	6,758	906.90
Marion	40	23	1,707	160.81
North Wilkesboro	26	10	692	140.64
Salisbury	57	43	4,625	427.31
Statesville	43	40	3,607	512.15

Thomasville	65	42	4,747	356.31
Waynesville	35	24	1,408	133.81
Winston-Salem	62	35	2,603	669.20
	<hr/> 571	<hr/> 396	<hr/> 36,028	<hr/> $4,338.37

4. Audio-Visual Aids:

This department has done a thriving business under the direction of the Reverend L. E. Mabry. Our prints of the motion picture Far From Alone have been loaned out for more than 200 showings since last October. The following films have also been widely used: Not My Community, Cats and People, and How to Say No. These have been offered to Methodist churches at no charge other than the return postage.

A new color film What About Alcohol, with a running time of nine minutes, has been purchased for use among our churches. It has been prepared to be used as the basis for discussion, and has been highly recommended by the General Board of Temperance.

5. Training Schools:

While only one course was taught in a leadership training school this year, we are hopeful of more activity in this important area. The Reverend J. T. Shackford has been placed in charge of a program to select and guide key leaders in our conference, who wish to qualify as accredited teachers. We shall continue to co-operate with the Conference Board of Education in promoting Temperance Education through Training Schools.

6. The District Secretaries:

In carrying out much of the above, these persons have given excellent leadership on the district level and are to be commended for their faithful service.

7. The Allied Church League:

We have continued to co-operate with other denominations through this agency, which has been putting forth considerable effort in the field of legislation. The Executive Secretary, the Reverend R. M. Hauss, is a member of this conference.

FUTURE PLANS

1. Southeastern Regional Briefing Conference:

We are co-operating with the General Board in a briefing conference for newly appointed District Directors of Temperance and other leaders who have had no previous instruction. This is to be September 10-12 at Lake Junaluska.

2. Seminars on Rehabilitation of Alcoholics:

We are planning a series of three seminars for ministers and other specialized leaders on counselling alcoholics and their families. It is hoped that the Reverend Tom Shipp, pastor of Lover's Lane Methodist Church in Dallas, Texas, will accept an invitation to lead these.

3. We propose to carry out a vigorous cultivation program for Commitment Day.

4. We hope to co-operate with the Committee on World Peace and the Board of Social and Economic Relations in seminars which are now in the planning stage.

5. We are planning to send six persons to National Schools of Alcohol Study, two each to the adult school, to the school for college aged youths, and to the one for Senior young people.

6. We have tentative plans for reaching our high school students in a series of lectures using leadership furnished by Allied Youth, Inc.

7. We are resolved to establish closer contact with the Temperance Committees in the local churches and to give them greater support and guidance.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That Commitment Day for Temperance be observed in every charge on December 1, or as near thereto as possible, as directed by the General Conference, and that with the approval of the Commission on World Service and Finance an offering be taken on that day in every charge for the work of this Board of Temperance.

We also request that the Reverend Fletcher E. Howard be designated Conference Director of Commitment Day.

2. That the Reverend R. M. Hauss be reappointed to his present position as Executive Director of the Allied Church League.
3. That every pastor and lay leader give diligence to see that a Temperance Committee is set up in every local church, or the alternate arrangement, as provided in the Discipline in paragraph 276.
4. That the Reverend L. E. Mabry be continued as audio-visual librarian for the Board of Temperance circulating library of these aids.
5. That Deans of our Area Training Schools give careful thought to the early inclusion of the course on Alcohol Study in the curriculum of their schools for the effective training of able leadership in this crucial problem of modern society.

J. T. SHACKFORD, Secretary

COMMITTEE ON WORLD PEACE

The Committee on World Peace during this year has given principal attention to the planning for and the promotion of District Institutes on World Peace, the Washington-United Nations Seminar for Youth and the co-operative sponsorship of the World Affairs Workshops held at different points over the Conference.

Through the District Institutes effort was made to acquaint our people with the action of the General Conference on War and Peace, through competent leadership to inform the attendants as far as possible of national and international issues before Congress, to challenge the sharing of personal views of local citizens with government officials, and especially to present programs of study and action for the benefit of local church committees on World Peace.

With the co-operation of the Conference Youth Council and Dr. Charles F. Boss, Jr., of the General Board of World Peace, the Conference Committee conducted its second Washington-United Nations Seminar for Youth, June 4-8, 1957. Seminar programs were held in the State Department of Washington, D. C. and at the United Nations headquarters of New York. The program made provision for the hearing of national and international personalities, for learning in part how foreign policy is formulated and for guided visits through government and United Nations buildings, directed sightseeing tours of Washington and New York City, and visits to historic points of interest to and from Washington and New York.

The Workshops were designed to help "interested people work more effectively for world understanding." These were sponsored in co-operation with the American Friends Service Committee, such Committee having secured the services of Dr. Frank C. Graham, United Nations representative to India and Pakistan; Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, Minister of Central Methodist Church of Detroit; Dr. Samuel R. Levering, Chairman of the Executive Council of the Friends Committee on National Legislation; along with other prominent state and national personalities.

Encouragement has also been given by the Conference Committee to district and local church committees and leaders:

1. To co-operate with the High School World Peace Study and Speaking Program of the Extension Division of the University of North Carolina.
2. To attend the Foreign Relations Institute at Chapel Hill and similar institutes promoted in the interest of world peace.

During the forthcoming year we recommend that:

1. Each district set up a District World Peace Council to be composed of the ministerial and lay members of the Conference World Peace Committee, the district superintendent, the district secretary of Christian Social Relations of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, the district director of youth activities, and the district lay leader.

2. Each district plan and conduct one or more World Peace Institutes on a district or subdistrict basis with the dates co-ordinated as far as possible to allow for the securing of more competent leadership for use in the several institutes.

We would especially encourage each official board to elect a Committee on World Peace with such committee to be responsible for studying and promoting a program of world peace in the local church and for co-operating with the Conference and Jurisdictional Committees and the General Board of World Peace.

INTER-CONFERENCE COMMISSION ON STUDENT RELIGIOUS WORK

The work of the Inter-Conference Commission is concerned with providing a program of student religious work for the 13,000 Methodists enrolled in our 58 colleges and 34 Schools of Nursing in North Carolina. At the present time, we have MSF groups or Wesley Foundations organized at 29 colleges, and we co-operate in the inter-denominational programs being carried on at three of our Methodist colleges and the remaining 26 colleges. The increased interest that is being evidenced toward our state program of student religious work because of the Quadrennial Emphasis on Christian Higher Education encourages all of us. Our college officials look with favor on what The Methodist Church is attempting to do to give pastoral and educational services to our students. They only ask that we provide more of the same types of services so that we might reach many more of our Methodists enrolled in the several colleges in the state.

Financial assistance for student religious work is provided at the following colleges: University of North Carolina, Rev. Murry Unruh, Director; Duke University, Rev. Arthur Brandenburg, Director; Woman's College, UNC, Miss Mauriel Shipp, Director; Western Carolina, Rev. & Mrs. Milford Thumm, Co-Directors; Appalachian State Teachers College, Rev. Bob Barefield, Director; Raleigh, Rev. Neal McGlammery, Director; East Carolina, Miss Mamie Chandler, Director; Pembroke, Miss Alta Nye, Director; Catawba, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hardesty, Directors; Wake Forest, Rev. Bob Younts, Director; and Davidson, Rev. Jerry Murray, Director. Only a small amount of financial assistance is provided at Davidson, Catawba and Pembroke to assist in program planning. The State Director, Rev. J. Robert Regan, Jr. is employed on a half-time basis; although a full-time State Director will be employed next year.

The inter-collegiate program of the MSM attempts to provide a "beyond the local campus" expression for student leadership training and personal enrichment. During the year, we held a retreat for 40 local MSM presidents and advisors, a series of three District Conferences which involved 200 students, and in March the State Conference brought together 240 students at College Place Church and the Wesley Foundation in Greensboro. Also, in May, a state recreation work-shop was held to train 75 recreation leaders. Our work in the 34 Schools of Nursing is carried on jointly with the Baptist Student Union. We sponsor a Nurse Retreat each June which attracts approximately 50 student leaders. North Carolina Methodists were also well represented at the other state, regional and national Conferences such as the USCC Student Regional, the Junaluska Regional in June, the Inter-Collegiate School of Alcohol Studies, and the UN-Washington Seminar to mention only a few. Also, the MSM has been one of the main supporters of the State Ecumenical Movement which sponsored a conference in April involving all of the major denominational student movements. The State Director served as advisor for this group. Garland Young has served as president of the State MSM this year and Jim Thompson is incoming president.

The 13,000 Methodist students enrolled in the colleges were divided as follows: 5,952 in state institutions of higher learning, 3,275 in Methodist colleges, and 2,767 in private or other denominational colleges with the remainder in the 34 Schools of Nursing.

Notable projects of the MSM this year have been the publishing of a bi-monthly page of MSM news in the North Carolina Christian Advocate, the raising of $2,500 for the Methodist Student Fellowship Fund, and the establishment of active Wesley Foundations at Wake Forest, A & T College in Greensboro and N. C. College in Durham.

During the remainder of the Quadrennium, we look forward to a new vigor that is arising in our student religious program. We only hope that all of the needs that are envisioned may be met as we find more and more people becoming interested in Christian Higher Education. Our present accredited Wesley Foundations need more adequate financial help. Staffs need to be enlarged to take care of the doubling of our student population. New centers must be built at UNC, Appalachian, and Western Carolina, and the centers at Duke, N. C. State, ECC and Wake Forest must be completely finished and equipped. Also, there is a need for part-time staff leadership at Guilford, Atlantic Christian, Elon, Catawba and Lenoir Rhyne, and some financial help needs to be provided for several of the smaller colleges. The Inter-Conference Commission is approving the plan of the General Conference to seek to secure an average of 30 cents per member for student religious work. If this were accomplished, we would have $120,000 for this work in North Carolina instead of the present $35,000. In addition, the Commission is asking the two Conference Commissions on Higher Education to provide $500,000 to build and equip new Wesley Foundations. We believe that both of these goals will be realized.

The work of the Inter-Conference Commission has a special interest in the Wesley Foundations and therefore we include the following reports from the Wesley Foundations and major MSF groups.

Appalachian

Out of a total enrollment of 1,741, there were 445 Methodists enrolled at Appalachian. Of this number, approximately 225 have been vitally or casually reached by the Wesley Foundation in the various programs of worship, study, and fellowship. There is an intense need for facilities at Appalachian. A building lot is now being bought for the sum of $7,500 and $100,000 will be needed to build the building.

Woman's College

Six hundred thirteen out of 2,500 students at WC are Methodist. Two hundred fifty are members of the Wesley Foundation. Many others attend the church services of the churches in Greensboro. The Woman's College Wesley Foundation has adequate facilities now in the education building of College Place Church, but a much larger appropriation of funds is needed for maintenance of the facilities.

Duke

There are 1,100 under-graduate Methodists at Duke out of a total enrollment of 5,000. The new Methodist Student Center is completed and will be ready for use in the Fall. Four hundred eighty of the Methodists are being reached by the Methodist Student Fellowship now. Others attend the Chapel services or down-town churches but do not become involved in the Methodist Student Fellowship. Rev. Arthur Brandenburg could use another part-time staff member and increased appropriations are needed for program and maintenance.

East Carolina

The college enrollment is 3,693. Out of this number, 734 are Methodist. Two hundred sixty-nine of these were involved at the Methodist Student Center with various activities. Others were worshippers in the churches of Greenville. Because of the consecrated work of the women of the North Carolina Conference and the help of the North Carolina Conference, a new $100,000 student center will be completed during the coming year.

Western Carolina

Out of an enrollment of 1,065, 266 are Methodist. One hundred thirty-five became members of the Wesley Foundation. Plans for a new student center have been drawn for Western Carolina and can be built as soon as we raise $50,000 for it.

Wake Forest

The new Wesley Foundation at Wake Forest College has gotten off to a good start. Two hundred seventy-one of the 2,000 students enrolled at Wake Forest were Methodist and 60 of these became members of the Wesley Foundation this first year. With a full-time director there and new facilities, this Wesley Foundation will continue to make an impact on the campus.

University of North Carolina

With 1,700 Methodists at UNC out of an enrollment of approximately 6,000 students, the Wesley Foundation has an unusual opportunity of reaching a vast amount of Methodist leadership. Crowded and inadequate facilities prevent us from doing the job that is needed. Four hundred fifty Methodists are reached by Wesley and many more attend the church services at University Methodist Church, but until we have more facilities and staff, the job is not going to be adequately done. We rejoice over the accomplishments of the Wesley Foundation at UNC working under the handicaps that are there. Special projects at UNC this year, in addition to Sunday morning and Sunday night programs and 5-night a week Vesper services have been Wesley Weekend, Drama, Choral and Folk-Dancing groups, deputations to other colleges and the direction of Christian Adventure Week for 80 intermediates at University Methodist Church. At least $300,000 is needed for a new Center at UNC and an Associate Director is needed to assist in taking care of the expanding program and college enrollment.

N. C. State, Meredith, Peace, and Rex Hospital

One thousand five hundred sixty-five Methodists out of 6,378 enrolled at the 4 institutions served by the Raleigh Wesley Foundation come from dozens of Methodist churches from throughout the state. At present, 325 are active in the Wesley Foundation and many others attend the various churches in Raleigh. A new Center in under construction and will soon be ready for use. During the next few years, this figure of 1,565 will be nearly doubled; therefore, to prepare for the influx, a much larger appropriation of funds is needed to employ an associate director and provide funds for building, maintenance and program.

METHODIST BOARD OF PUBLICATION, INC.

In spite of rising costs of labor and materials, we are happy to report that the Advocate has had a good year. Subscriptions have increased and the circulation is at an all-time high of more than 32,000.

Because of the fact that the Every-family Plan has proved so popular, subscription revenue has not kept pace with the increase in costs, and it has been necessary to raise the price of these subscriptions from $1.50 to $2.00, which is still slightly below cost. We believe, however, that the saving of fifty cents on a subscription will still be attractive enough to insure the success of the Every-family Plan and warrant its continuance.

We would emphasize the fact that this magazine is the only Conference Organ in the Church which is not subsidized in any way by the sponsoring organization. The Advocate asks nothing of North Carolina Methodism except co-operation in securing subscriptions and printing business. The losses in subscription revenue must be taken care of by the profits of the printing plant, The Piedmont Press, which, for many years, has served the churches and institutions of the state.

During the past year, it has become increasingly difficult to meet the rising cost of material and labor, and we must have more printing business, if we are to continue to support the Conference Organ. Therefore, we ask that all church institutions give their printing orders to the Piedmont Press.

During the past year, the Advocate has given free space to the various agencies, which, if charged at regular advertising rates, would have cost at least $50,000.

We recommend that each district assume a subscription quota equal to ten per cent of the membership and that November be set as Advocate month in the North Carolina Conference.

The term of Wilson O. Weldon expires with the present conference year, and the Board recommends his re-election for another five-year term by the Western North Carolina Conference.

METHODIST COLLEGE FOUNDATION

The Methodist College Foundation of North Carolina, Incorporated has continued its office at 107 Odell Place, Greensboro, under the direction of Mr. J. C. Cowan, Jr., President of the Foundation. Dr. D. D. Holt resigned his position as Executive Director of the Foundation on December 1, 1956, to accept a similar position with the Quadrennial Commission on Christian Higher Education with offices in Nashville, Tennessee. The services of its secretary, Mrs. J. D. Crowder, were retained to complete collections on the United College Appeal, continue promotion already initiated for Wills and Bequests and maintain its files.

All United College Appeal pledges are now past due and pastors are urged to bring this matter to the attention of their Official boards. Any communication should be addressed to the Foundation's office.

Your continued support of the Foundation as it works with the two Conference Commissions on Christian Higher Education during this quadrennium is earnestly requested.

J. C. COWAN, JR., President

NORTH CAROLINA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

A new committee on Camping was formed to co-sponsor Regional Camping Conference, held this year at Camp Monroc. A state-wide College Student Christian Conference was held in the Spring of 1956 and again in 1957 under the impetus of the Council's College Work Committee headed by Dr. Warren Ashby. Family Life Conferences took place in Charlotte likewise each Spring. The Reverend Rollin P. Gibbs was a member of the Planning Committee. The Use and Understanding of the Bible Project made thirty-one community presentations and visited eight colleges. Weekday Bible teaching continues to thrive, reaching over 33,000 boys and girls in our high schools and elementary schools, 20% of whom never attend Sunday School. The Commission on Christian Education is under the able leadership of Dr. W. Arthur Kale.

CHRISTIAN SOCIAL ACTION

Over 72,000 pounds of clothing and bedding was collected for our needy friends over the world—refugees, victims of war, and such natural disasters as floods, earthquakes, and hurricanes. Centenary Methodist Church in Winston-Salem has served as a collection center for several years. A workshop on the Institutional Ministry for pastors was held at Butner. Workshops on World Affairs, featuring such leaders as Frank Laubach, Frank Graham, and Henry Hitt Crane, were held in Rocky Mount, High Point, Salisbury, Asheville, and Chapel Hill, in co-operation with the Friends Service Committee. A new committee on Public Affairs is reporting to our churches on legislation out of Raleigh of concern to Christians.

PASTORAL MINISTRY

The Third Annual Pastors' Conference in Winston-Salem featured Dr. A. T. Mollegen, Dr. G. Ray Jordan, and Dr. J. McDowell Richards.

ECUMENICAL RELATIONS

The Survey of Churches project was completed, showing present status and gains over the last decade of all churches in the state. Further studies in this important field will be made as funds are available. The Council sponsored a second series of five television programs over WUNC-TV, Channel 4, this spring, on two of which The Methodist Church was presented. Other series are planned for the Fall and Winter.

TOWN AND COUNTRY WORK

1. The Migrant Program: The Council's ministry to the 15,000 migratory workers entering North Carolina each year continues to show amazing growth and development. Following the opening of the first Day Care Center for Migrant children last year in Hendersonville, the second center is being opened in June of 1957 in the Elizabeth City area. Each of these centers will serve thirty children with a trained staff of workers and complete equipment.

The Ministry in the camps covering six counties of the state continues, including the new ministry this year in Carteret County. A total of ten staff workers will be employed to carry on the program this summer.

Miss Ada McCrackan, an official in the State Welfare Department, is the new chairman of this committee. This ministry has the enthusiastic support not only of our church people in the areas concerned, but of state officials and civic groups who recognize the great good being done in lifting the standard of these underprivileged people. The Council of Churches continues to be represented on and co-operates with the Governor's Migrant Commission. Another station wagon and additional workers will be needed by next year to carry on an effective service in this wide spread operation.

2. The Christian Rural Overseas Program: North Carolina CROP completed eight years of service to the hungry overseas in 1956. Twenty-six counties conducted campaigns for commodities and cash and receipts came from fifty-three. Total giving amounted to $24,700.73, an increase of 35% over 1955. Value of contributed commodities was $1,337.88. County campaigns continued to be the major source of income, supplemented by significant gifts from individuals, united youth groups, Sunday School Classes and designated special gifts.

The Christian Rural Overseas Program has been alert to new areas of acute need as in Egypt and in Hungary while at the same time carrying on its programs of ongoing aid to children, the aged, refugees, students, and war widows. Moreover, a number of self help projects have been realized as in the distribution of seeds, gifts of hand pumps, establishment of an artificial insemination station, and the provision of plows or garden tractors.

One third or more of CROP's funds are used in the distribution of government surplus foods. Expenses on this activity were so low that more than 200 pounds of food were delivered for each dollar so used. However, the kinds of food available as surplus are disappointingly limited so that it is necessary to continue the purchase of fats and other foods that are essential in a balanced feeding program.

With the worldwide distribution channels of its parent agency, Church World Service, CROP is unexcelled as the relief arm of North Carolina Protestants. So long as refugees languish in despair in their wretched camps by millions, or street cleaners remove a hundred dead tubercular bodies daily from Hong Kong streets, or Haitian children's bellies bloat for lack of food can we be satisfied with a mere token offering on their behalf. Their pains must be in our hearts relieved only as on a broad front we care and share enough to meet their needs.

SUMMARY

Your State Council of Churches is endeavoring to serve a vast field on an extremely limited budget. It is now operating at a deficit, and will continue to do so unless adequate support is obtained. A new staff person in the field of Christian Education, especially Weekday Religious Education, is urgently needed; more funds to support the rapidly developing Migrant Ministry is likewise a necessity. Local churches and individuals must be asked for help until such time as the conference can accept its full share of the Council budget.

THE NORTH CAROLINA PASTORS' SCHOOL AND CHRISTIAN CONVOCATION

The 1957 session of the Pastors' School and Christian Convocation was held on the West Campus of Duke University, Durham, during the period June 4-7, 1957.

An outstanding program was arranged by the Board of Managers, featuring Bishop Gerald Kennedy, Bishop Nolan B. Harmon, Dr. David A. MacLennan, Dr. Eugene L. Smith, and Dr. W. McFerrin Stowe. Other leaders were Dr. Russell Dicks, Mrs. W. R. Reed, and Miss Clarice Bowman.

Bishop Kennedy delivered the James A. Gray Lectures on the subject "The Methodist Way of Life." Bishop Harmon gave the morning meditations, and was in charge of the Convocation Communion Service on the opening night. Dr. David A. MacLennan, who is pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church, Rochester, New York, spoke each evening in Duke Chapel on the theme "Respectable Sins." Dr. MacLennan also directed the seminar on preaching.

Dr. Smith's lectures were on the subject "The Christian Mission and the Making of History." Dr. Stowe's theme was "Parish Administration." All lectures were delivered in Page Auditorium.

The afternoons were spent in seminars in the following areas: (1) Pastoral Counseling (Advanced), led by Dr. Russell Dicks of the Duke Divinity School faculty; (2) The Vacation Church School, led by Mrs. W. R. Reed of the Staff of the Board of Education of the Western North Carolina Conference; (3) Youth Work, led by Miss Clarice Bowman of the faculty of High Point College; (4) Preaching, led by Dr. David A. MacLennan.

Advance preparations were handled by the Board of Managers, Wilson O. Weldon, Chairman, and the Convocation Committee of the Duke Divinity School, Dean James Cannon, Chairman. Helpful assistance was provided by J. Richard Spann, Director of the Department of In-Service Training of the General Board of Education.

During the School the annual luncheon of the Duke Divinity School Alumni Association was held with Dr. W. McFerrin Stowe as the speaker. Reverend Warren Petteway, President of the Association, was the toastmaster.

During the School Dean James Cannon announced that the James A. Gray Lectures for 1958 will be delivered by Dr. John Marsh, Principal, Mansfield College, Oxford, England.

CONFERENCE BROTHERHOOD

The Annual Meeting of the Western North Carolina Brotherhood was held in the Stuart Auditorium at Lake Junaluska on Friday, June 14, 1957, at 11:05 A. M. President H. G. Allen presided and called for the reading of the minutes of the Executive Committee meeting held during this Conference year. The minutes were read by G. C. Adams, Jr. Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, in the absence of J. G. Wilkinson, Secretary-Treasurer, who had been called home because of a funeral. On the motion of A. C. Swofford the minutes were approved as read. The financial report was then read and ordered to record.

President Allen appointed the following nominating committee: C. E. Rozzelle, Chairman; L. P. Barnett, Rollin Gibbs, Harlan Creech, and R. A. Smith.

M. S. McKibben, Sales Director for Hospital Care, was presented. He spoke briefly regarding the progress of the hospitalization group, sponsored by the WNC Brotherhood. He referred to the list of claims mailed recently to all of the ministers and mentioned that ten men have received over $500.00 and three men over $1,000.00 since the group was formed in October, 1955. Mr. McKibben invited those interested in joining the hospitalization group to go by the Blue Cross table at the back of the Stuart Auditorium. He emphasized that after new members are members of the group for two years they will receive full coverage of all chronic illnesses.

C. E. Rozzelle then gave the following report from the nominating committee:

President—H. G. Allen

Vice-President—R. C. Goforth

Secretary-Treasurer—J. G. Wilkinson

Assistant Secretary-Treasurer—G. C. Adams, Jr.

Members of the Executive Committee:

E. H. Blackard, J. W. Braxton, W. J. Miller, and C. C. Herbert, Jr. and the officers of the Brotherhood listed above.

Upon the motion of W. K. Goodson, the report of the nominating committee was accepted by acclamation.

R. J. Parker, Sr. asked for a privileged matter to speak about how much the Hospital Care group helped his family recently when his wife was a hospital patient for 104 days. He urged all ministers who have not yet joined to do so during this Conference.

There being no further business, the Annual Meeting was adjourned by the President, H. G. Allen.

Respectfully submitted,

H. G. Allen, President

G. C. Adams, Jr., Asst. Sec.-Treas.

(for J. G. Wilkinson)

SUPERANNUATE ENDOWMENT FUND OF THE WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST CHURCH

We hand you herewith our check of our Treasurer for $15,922.88 for the use and benefit of superannuate ministers and ministers' widows for this conference. This is for an eight months conference year. Figured on a twelve-month basis, this payment would be more than $1,000 above the payment we were able to make last year to the Conference claimants. We are happy that the investments and handling of this fund is making it possible for us to yield a rich return as the donors of the fund would want it to do. We are hopeful that liberal Methodists will from time to time make substantial gifts to this fund so that its income yielding investments will increase and its net income will increase for the benefit of the Conference claimants.

The term of office of three of our Trustees expires this year and we nominate for election for a three-year term the following:

W. R. Cuthbertson
George M. Ivey, Sr.
Marshall I. Pickens

We also nominate for election as Trustees Emeritus, two long time friends and trustees of this fund:

I. F. Craven
J. B. Ivey

The Trustees of this fund in their annual meeting on Monday, June 10, 1957 elected the following officers of the Board of Trustees to serve one year, or until their successors are elected:

Edwin L. Jones, Sr., Chairman
George M. Ivey, Sr., First Vice-President
J. Spencer Bell, Second Vice-President
W. Reynolds Cuthbertson, Sr., Secy-Treas.

Attached is the itemized report of W. Reynolds Cuthbertson, Treasurer of this fund.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWIN L. JONES, Chairman

W. Reynolds Cuthbertson, Treasurer

QUADRENNIAL COMMISSION ON HIGHER EDUCATION

Western North Carolina Conference

Following the vote of the General Conference in 1956 to place a special emphasis on Higher Education during 1956-60, the Conference Commission has formulated preliminary steps in implementing this decision.

For the first time our Annual Conference has the benefit of an objective study of its colleges, this study having been made under the supervision of the division of Institutions of the General Board of Education, by a committee appointed by Dr. John O. Gross, Secretary. This committee included Dr. Myron F. Wicke, Chairman, Dr. D. D. Holt and Dr. William F. Quillian, Jr. Copies of this study are submitted with this report.

Under the preview of our responsibility are these institutions:

Brevard College, which is the property of the Western North Carolina Conference.

Greensboro College, jointly controlled with the North Carolina Conference.

High Point College, jointly controlled with the North Carolina Conference.

Duke University, jointly controlled with the North Carolina Conference.

Wesley Foundations, sponsored and directed by the Inter-Conference Commission on Student Work of the two Annual Conferences.

Candler School of Theology of Emory University, which is the property of the Southeastern Jurisdiction.

With suggestions from our presiding Bishop, Nolan B. Harmon, and after careful evaluation, the following recommendations are presented to the Annual Conference:

1. We commend the present contributions to Higher Education through the Sustaining Fund and World Service, which approximates an average of one dollar ($1.00) per member to the Methodist-related institutions and a goal of thirty cents (30c) per member to the Wesley Foundation programs. We strongly recommend the continuance of this program and a gradual increase, as deemed advisable.

2. We recommend that an Executive Director of the Commission on Higher Education be selected, whose duties will be to guide, promote and carry forward, under the supervision of the Commission, an active program, which shall include the following:

(a) Interpretation of the needs of our colleges and of our Wesley Foundation program to the constituency of the Annual Conference through each local church and to each Methodist.

(b) Interpretation to the colleges and Wesley Foundations of the needs of the local churches, which each institution can help to meet and also, how each institution can be more closely related to the Methodist Church.

(c) Promotion of an appeal to members in the local churches to leave in their wills a bequest, in some amount, for institutions of learning, the Wesley Foundations and for the total program of Higher Education.

(d) Direction of a campaign for capital funds, primarily for buildings, through the use of all appropriate and effective methods, to individuals, corporations, foundations and local churches.

(e) It is anticipated that following this quadrennium it will be recommended that this program be closely identified with the North Carolina Methodist College Foundation, Inc. and further, that during this quadrennium the office and the facilities of the said Foundation shall be utilized to the best advantage.

3. In addition to endowment needs, the minimum needs for buildings, as listed on page 24 of the Survey Study Report, for Greensboro, High Point and Brevard Colleges, total $3,330,000.00.

Also cognizant of other interests in the cause of Higher Education, we are recommending a goal of three million dollars ($3,000,000.00), to be raised during a period of three years, to be appropriated as follows:

Brevard College	$850,000.00
Greensboro College	850,000.00
High Point College	850,000.00
Duke Divinity School	200,000.00
Wesley Foundations	200,000.00
Promotion expenses	50,000.00

Cultivation, solicitation and payments of pledges to be conducted during this period under plan to be formulated by the Quadrennial Emphasis Committee and submitted to the Commission on World Service and Finance for approval. It is expected that individual institutions will continue to solicit funds for endowment from corporations and foundations during this period, but to avoid over-lapping in appeals to individuals and local churches. It is recommended that where gifts are made directly to an institution for purposes other than endowment, the amount be credited toward this goal, to the individual from whom it comes and to the local church thereby affected.

4. We have been associated with the North Carolina Annual Conference in the support of Duke University, Greensboro College, High Point College and the Wesley Foundation programs, mainly on a historic ratio of sixty per cent (60%) from our Conference and forty per cent (40%) from the North Carolina Conference. We have taken note of the decision of that great Annual Conference to promote and build two new four-year Methodist institutions, one at Fayetteville and one at Rocky Mount.

We deem it advisable for the two respective Annual Conferences to promote each its own campaign for capital funds and that our contributions be made to those institutions with which we have been historically related. We believe that our contributions to these institutions, with which we have a joint relationship, namely, Duke University, Greensboro College, High Point College and Wesley Foundations, will be on a considerably increased ratio, ranging from eighty to seventy per cent (80 to 70%) of the estimated building needs, as recommended by the Survey Study Report.

We trust that the continuance of the sustaining funds for Duke, Greensboro, High Point and Wesley Foundations, from the North Carolina Conference, along with whatever funds that Conference may appropriate for capital funds, will with our gifts, enhance the effectiveness of these institutions and jointly enable North Carolina Methodism to continue its wonderful record of usefulness.

This represents a program, broad and comprehensive, carefully studied and eagerly planned, to place the cause of Higher Education on a stronger and firmer basis. It is designed to provide long-range benefits, executed with professional and sympathetic leadership. It does call for our daring, energetic and consecrated responses, coupled with our sincere sacrifices. It is urgently needed! We commend this program to every Methodist and to each local Church in Western North Carolina!

Wilson O. Weldon, Chairman
Mark Depp, Vice Chairman
D. W. Holt, Secretary

THE APPROVED SUPPLY PASTORS' SCHOOL

The Approved Supply Pastors' School at Duke University provides in-service training for non-seminary candidates for the ministry, and is designed to aid such persons in fulfilling the requirements of the Course of Study, prescribed in the 1956 Discipline, Paragraphs 2044-2048. This School is jointly sponsored by the Department of Ministerial Education of the Board of Education, the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference, and the Divinity School of Duke University. The School runs for four weeks and grants credit for an entire year's work in the Course of Study.

The 1956 School was held July 17-August 10, with an enrollment of 178 students, 44 being from the Western North Carolina Conference. The 1957 session is scheduled for July 16-August 9, and the present indications are that the enrollment will be slightly above the figures of the year before. The instructors for the School will be: Reverends Leon Couch and O. Kelly Ingram of the North Carolina Conference; Professor William R. Locke of High Point College; Professor Raymond A. Smith of Greensboro College; Professors Boyd Daniels, T. A. Langford, and Clyde Manschreck of the Department of Religion, Duke University, and Professors John Carlton, Creighton Lacy, McMurry S. Richey, and John J. Rudin of the Divinity School at Duke. The School is planned each year by a committee headed by Dean James Cannon of the Divinity School. Other members are: W. A. Kale, M. S. Richey, Creighton Lacy, and A. J. Walton. Supervision is given by J. Richard Spann of the Department of Ministerial Education, The Board of Education.

The majority of the men attending the Supply School need financial help. Last year 101 students were given scholarships. About twenty men were unable to come because scholarship funds were not available for them. Since the contribution to the School by the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference is not sufficient to take care of all scholarship needs, it has become necessary for the participating Annual Conferences to make supplementary contributions. The leaders of the School are sincerely grateful to the Western North Carolina Conference for past and present allocations. It is believed that a continuation of sizeable financial contributions by Annual Conferences will be necessary throughout this quadrennium, and perhaps for a longer period. The Supply School is a reputable institution. The morale of the student body is unusually high, and serious work is done. Members of the faculty not only are leaders in their fields and, therefore, provide stimulation for the students, but look upon the Supply School as a significant opportunity for service.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE

With the quadrennial theme, "The Spirit of Christ—for All of Life," claiming the personal dedication of every Methodist woman, a dedication which must penetrate every facet of one's being and arouse the desire to meet the claim—the first year of the quadrennium has brought about a continued devotion to His work among the women of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in the Western North Carolina Conference.

It is the aim of the Woman's Division that the women in The Methodist Church realize their privilege to witness for Christ in all phases of their lives, whether it be the employed woman at her work, the home-maker with her family, or whether it be in social or community activities.

There is real cause for thanksgiving when the work of the past year is held in review: 25 new societies and 15 new guild units have been organized, bringing the total to 906 societies and 197 guilds.

The contribution the Woman's Societies of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild has made to missions has passed that of previous years. The total giving have been $222,521.30, an increase over last year of more than $15,000. The per capita giving of the women in the Conference is $5.27.

The salaries of ten missionaries are paid entirely by the conference: There are eleven missionaries and eight deaconesses working under the Woman's Division from this conference. In addition we have two U.S. 2's and other workers.

Letters have been written to—and received from—our missionaries working in the foreign field. Each letter received is another inspiring reason to continue the work we are doing in their support.

Working under the Board of Town and Country, there are four Rural Workers in the conference, two of whom are deaconesses and two are U.S. 2's. Beginning June 1, an extra worker was being placed at Cherokee. She will work during the summer months, and it is hoped that a regular worker may be secured by that time to take over her duties.

Twenty-four girls have received scholarships during the past year, six of whom graduated this spring. Twenty girls have been approved for this help for the coming year. One graduate of this year will teach under the Woman's Division. Another will work as a U.S.-2. Work continues with students, youth and children.

The work of the committee on program within the local societies has been increasingly effective. A larger number of active committees were reported than for any previous year. The Woman's Division has provided excellent program material and this has been put to practical use in the local society.

Almost every society has participated in at least one mission study, with many having four, and many of these classes being for jurisdiction credit. This action is a direct result of the Conference School of Missions held at Pfeiffer College in August. The "Outreach of the Woman's Division," an extra study suggested for this year, has been held in many societies. This study has presented a wider scope to the understanding of the work the women are undertaking.

Workshops and Clinics held on the conference and district levels have given the local officers an excellent opportunity for learning more about the responsibilities of their office.

As Methodist women are called to action the total program of the Woman's Society of Christian Service must be carried forward by the local woman in her church and community. Many foundations have been laid upon which we can build without delay.

We have come to be better informed concerning legislation in our town, county, state and nation. We must continue to assume our share of the responsibility for good legislation by being more interested in the issues involved, and by applying Christian principles in the selection of candidates who seek office. Citizenship Brunches are one device for helping groups understand and act.

A study of the United Nations is a part of the program of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the United Nations Credo, adopted by the Woman's Division at its annual meeting, will be of much help in proceeding with this great emphasis of the United Nations Organization.

Two sub-regional Workshops on World Understanding have been held within the conference under the direction of the Christian Social Relations department. District Workshops have been held in almost every district and a few have been held on the local level.

Three events have taken place within our conference this year which should have special mention: In October, Dr. Willa B. Player was inaugurated as the new president of Bennett College in Greensboro. In January, the Bethlehem Center in Charlotte moved into new and modern quarters, and was dedicated. The Woman's Division, always eager to secure new missionaries and workers, does not lose interest in them when they reach the age when their services can no longer be rendered. Realizing the need for a new Home for Retired Workers, a questionnaire was sent to all workers under the Woman's Division in order to help reach a decision as to where this home should be placed. After all requests were considered, Asheville was chosen. A suitable place was located and was purchased. At the present time two workers are now living in the home, and plans are progressing rapidly in order that more may come in later this summer.

Understanding our world—in the spirit of Christ, is a continuing challenge to us. We know that without the spirit of Christ, we can never be instruments in God's hands to promote His Kingdom here on earth.

DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS' REPORTS

ASHEVILLE DISTRICT

The purpose of this report is not to give detailed facts of all the achievements in the District for one given period of time. It is intended to give detailed information of progress made in a program well planned and initiated that because of its magnitude must extend over a number of years. With this in mind, we list the following facts:

PARSONAGES

1. All the charges have a parsonage except Groce.
2. Seven new parsonages should be built.
3. Three new parsonages are ready for dedication.
4. We have completed construction on three new parsonages this year.
5. We have contracted for the construction of one new one.

CHURCHES

1. Four new churches have been cleared of debt and are ready for dedication.
2. Construction of four new churches has been completed during the year.
3. Contracts have been awarded for ten new churches this year.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

1. We have received 506 members on profession of faith.
2. More than 500 have been received by transfer.
3. Church School enrollment has increased by 112; average attendance by 310.

CHURCH FINANCES

1. We have $6,900 increase on Pastor's Salaries for next year.
2. The District will pay $2,000.00 surplus on World Service.
3. All benevolent apportionments will be paid in full.
4. The District contributed $1,800 for Week of Dedication offering.
5. The offering for Hungarian Relief was $2,048.00.
6. National and Foreign Advance Specials was $5,790.00.
7. District Church Extension was $9,200.00.

The items listed above and many other facts indicate that in the short year of 8 months, we have accomplished as much as any previous year of 12 months. A spirit of victory and optimism is evident in every church of the District. As plans and projects are accomplished, new ones are initiated. We have every reason to Thank God and take courage.

J. W. FITZGERALD, D.S.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT

I would like for this report to be a tribute to the ministers and laymen of the Charlotte District. The cooperation of both groups has been all that anyone could ask, and the spirit in which the churches took their apportionments and went about their work this year has been a source of real joy and satisfaction.

The District set aside a two week period before Easter for simultaneous evangelistic effort and membership cultivation, and there have been received into the churches 841 members on Profession of Faith and 1299 members by transfer and otherwise. Our Church Schools have continued to show a healthy growth, and, in a good many of our churches, the matter of adequate space to care for those who come is one of our most serious problems. One church in particular, Myers Park, has one of the largest Church Schools in Methodism, and certainly one of the finest.

The District continues to follow a good pattern in Church Extension. Each year brings us a little closer to our goal of $1.00 per member for extension work in the District. In addition to this, we have the largest number of members in our Ten Dollar Clubs that we have ever had. Several of our churches are engaged in building programs. The church at Wingate is building a Sanctuary to go with the new Education Building they built five years ago. St. Luke's, established five years ago, is adding an Education Building. St. Paul's will move into a beautiful new church this month. Commonwealth has just completed a new Education Building. Faith, our newest church, has moved out of its first quarters in the motion picture theatre into its first unit. There are other churches that are ready to expand their facilities and are only waiting for the easing of the money situation to continue their plans of expansion. In the month of May a four acre site was purchased by the District Mission Society and Aldersgate Church will soon be on its way. It has been a good year in the District.

I could not close without saluting one of the Conference's ablest preachers, W. A. Rollins. Illness brings to a close the ministry of one of our most brotherly and most effective preachers, as Brother Rollins retires at this session of the Conference.

FRANK JORDAN, D.S.

GASTONIA DISTRICT

In evangelism the ministers and lay members of our District have worked faithfully and written a good record. 719 souls have been received into our churches on profession of faith, 567 by transfer of membership. Some of the charges this year report a considerable net loss in membership, but that is due to revision of rolls which has been encouraged. We believe it is part of a program of honest evangelism not to report members you haven't got.

Church extension is very much in the foreground of our thinking and planning. Under the vigorous leadership of the former District Superintendent a District Mission Society was set going and has this year maintained its momentum. Although no new churches have been organized this year, plans are laid for the year ahead.

Dividing circuits and creating new charges, a process under way for three years in our district, continues with unabated zeal. Two new charges will be created this Conference. Plans are afoot for the division of other circuits at a time already set.

Two churches and two parsonages have been dedicated this year gone.

Teacher training is a cause of live concern in our district. Men and women and youth will drive many miles for five successive nights to attend a school for Christian workers. In point of fact, the report from the Conference Board of Education is that the Gastonia District gained more credits this year than any other district of the Conference.

The lay people have been in all quarters faithful and true to their church task. They have borne effective witness. In their way they have been evangelists, teachers, even priests. They make you sure all over again of the priesthood of all believers.

There is no column to report it, but the work of the ministers in their daily round of duty deserves high praise. They have lived godly lives. They have courageously stood against the wrong and in favor of the right, and have risked the goodwill of neighbors and friends, some of them, to maintain their stand. They have cheered many a heart which was sad and started a song again. They have stood with those waiting beside the silent sea for the muffled oar, and assured them the waters were safe. They have revealed to many the mystery of Christ's mighty power to save.

JAMES G. HUGGIN, D.S.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT

In giving account of its stewardship for the past eight months, the Greensboro District acknowledges thanks unto God for His guidance and strength, making possible the projection of many noteworthy undertakings, and the achievement of some gratifying aims.

During this abbreviated conference year the District Superintendent has dedicated the attractive and well appointed Hickory Grove parsonage and the Hinshaw Memorial Church. The education building of Lebanon Church in High Point has been cleared of all indebtedness and is now ready for formal dedication. Education buildings have been completed at Rehobeth Church and at Lee's Chapel, and one is nearing completion at Mount Pleasant station, while a church building has been completed at Eagle Falls Church and is now awaiting dedication.

Either an education building or a sanctuary is now under construction or nearing the point for beginning construction, at Proximity, Mt. Pleasant Church on the Mt. Pleasant Circuit, Burnett's Chapel on the Guilford Circuit, First Church in High Point, Lindsay Memorial in High Point, Wesley Memorial, High Point, Mitchell's Grove, Mt. Pisgah, First Church, Reidsville; Spray; and Rankin Memorial and Ward Street in High Point.

Parsonages have been completed at Wesley Chapel in High Point, and at Mount Carmel and Summerfield. On the Flat Rock Charge a parsonage is far along on the road to completion and also at Tabernacle Church.

The Vickery Church on the Guilford Circuit has undergone extensive and radical remodeling by which it has experienced such a face lifting as to give it almost an entirely new exterior appearance. Already, West Market Street Church in Greensboro is on the way to a renovation of its sanctuary at a cost of some seventy-five thousand dollars.

Historic Centenary Church has purchased a new parsonage and a strategically located lot of nearly five acres in a choice section of the city of Greensboro, in preparation for relocation.

Our two youngest churches, Trinity and Christ Churches, both in Greensboro, are moving ahead steadily. Already Trinity has erected the first unit of its building at a cost of forty thousand dollars. Its property is valued at approximately seventy-five thousand dollars. Sponsored by West Market, Christ Church has enjoyed rapid numerical growth. Also, for its location, the sponsoring church is investing more than eighty-two thousand dollars in twelve and one-half acres of land. At the moment, Christ Church is perfecting plans for the first unit of an ambitious long range layout of successive units.

Evidences of spiritual progress have been quite apparent within the Greensboro District this year. Convincing evidence of this is to be found in membership gains of 2010 persons. Of this total number, 954 were won for Christ and His Church by profession of faith, 247 came from other denominations, and 809 from other Methodist churches. The district had a net increase in membership of 516.

The people and their pastors have labored cooperatively and faithfully throughout the year. Many individuals in all the churches have given generously of their time, talent, and money. Church school attendance and attendance upon divine worship have been on the increase. Mission projects have been supported gladly and liberally, whether they involved the district, the conference, or the world. Cheerful responses to causes such as Hungarian relief and Week of Dedication resulted in approximately $6,500 for each of these challenging appeals.

I find genuine pleasure in registering my appreciation for the priceless privilege of working with the laymen and ministers of this great district in the name of Jesus Christ, our Saviour. It is with keen regret that I have learned that two of our ministers, Rev. Joe Trollinger and Rev. Reid Harris, have found it necessary to ask for the Retired Relationship at this annual conference. With becoming humility and deep consecration, these two stalwart and heroic servants of our Lord have accepted every trust all through the years with a confidence that through the power of God they could give convincing proof of their Christian Ministry. Praise be unto God for these companions of ours and their equally heroic wives. Also praise be unto God for any measure of success and victory we have attained.

EUGENE C. FEW, D.S.

MARION DISTRICT

The Marion District has made progress this year in promoting the work of the church. Early in the conference year each church in the district made a study of its effectiveness, using the materials prepared for the Quadrennial Emphasis On The Local Church. The purpose of this study was to make every church an effective organization in carrying through at the local level the great objectives of the whole Church. In most churches a goal was adopted for the Quadrennium. The results show that from this effort, more churches were active in all causes of the church than ever before. The program of Evangelism was promoted with special emphasis on Visitation Evangelism, Membership Classes and Evangelistic Preaching. We have received 392 on profession of faith, and 268 by transfer. The district shows a net gain of 130. During the year many church rolls have been revised causing the net gain to be less than under normal conditions. Our Mission Society is organized with every church participating in the program, and through this Society we have been able to render aid to 8 churches and parsonages.

Reverend P. W. Tucker, a superannuate living in Marion was taken by death. He had served the Conference as an effective pastor and District Superintendent for many years. His going is not only a loss to the Marion District, but to the whole Conference. The Reverend T. B. Huneycutt is completing five years as pastor of the Pleasant Grove Church in Forest City and will retire from active service this year. He has served the Church in a most effective way for a period of 33 years.

Four babies have been born into the families of the ministers in the district; sons to Reverend and Mrs. Ralph Miller, Reverend and Mrs. Wade Rogers, and Reverend and Mrs. Larry Bumgarner, daughter to Reverend and Mrs. Roy Lockridge.

An outstanding record was achieved during the year in building and paying off church debts. Two churches were dedicated, Pleasant Hill on the Marion Circuit and Snow Hill on the McDowell Circuit. Three Education buildings were dedicated; First Church, Marion, Avondale, and Bethel on the Drexel Circuit. Two parsonages were also dedicated, St. Matthew-Zion Memorial and Sunshine. Bishop Harmon was able to be with us in four of the above dedications. First Church, Valdese, has built one of the most beautiful churches in the conference, and Zion Church on the Drexel Circuit has completed a new Education Building. Trinity Church on the McDowell Circuit will soon occupy a new church. We are proud of two new parsonages built this year at Oak Grove-Salem and Hildebran. A new parsonage is under construction at Bakersville.

This has been a good year in the Marion District. Almost all items show an increase over last year's report for the period of twelve months. The financial claims of the district are paid out in full with some surplus on several items. All progress is credited to the faithful work of the pastors and the cooperation of the laymen of the district.

J. GARLAND WINKLER, D.S.

NORTH WILKESBORO DISTRICT

The North Wilkesboro District was created in 1955 from portions of the Marion, Statesville and Winston-Salem Districts to serve six counties in the northwest corner of North Carolina.

Twenty-seven pastors serve ninety-two churches in twenty-six pastoral charges. Twelve are supplies, one is a probationer and fourteen are members of the annual conference. One deaconess, Miss Geraldine Surratt, serves in the Watauga-Avery sub-district.

On April 18 the district lost one of its most effective pastors, Rev. Clyde M. McKinney, pastor at Wilkesboro, by death.

The pastors meet each month in one of three two-county sub-districts. Fellowship, worship, study and planning are the purposes of the meetings. The superintendent meets with them.

Dr. J. W. Sells spent three days in the district last October consulting with leaders and helping them and the superintendent plan a program of work.

A Workshop for Town and Country Pastors was held for the district at Boone March 18-20. Bishop Nolan B. Harmon, Dr. Sells, Rev. Wilson Nesbitt and others furnished leadership. It was sponsored by the Conference Commission on Town and Country Work.

The half-million dollar North Wilkesboro church building was dedicated by Bishop Harmon on November 25, 1956, the 64th anniversary of the founding of the church.

Transou church building and the educational unit at Newland have been occupied this year. The chancel of the West Jefferson church has been remodeled and furnished.

Sufficient financial resources from the annual conference, district work apportionment and pledges and donations from people within the district to indicate that construction of the district parsonage and office will be started in July, 1957.

Rev. Wilson Nesbitt spent seven days in the district working with Helton, Allegheny-Grayson and Creston-Green Valley Charges discussing church finance and building plans.

James H. Council, District Lay Leader, was host at a dinner meeting in the interest of better ministerial support in minimum salary charges on January 18, 1957. A district-wide Lay Leaders Meeting was held Sunday afternoon, March 31. Conference Lay Leader Edwin L. Jones was the principal speaker.

Additions by profession of faith numbered 177 this year. This represents an increase of about ten percent over last year. The Miller's Creek Charge, Rev. C. L. Grant, pastor, was outstanding with forty-three such additions.

Dr. J. W. Sells preached in a county-wide warehouse revival in Ashe County April 28-May 11. It drew an average attendance of about fifteen percent of the Methodist membership in the county and received a feature write-up in The Charlotte Observer for May 12, 1957. The people have requested that this become an annual evangelistic effort.

The District Conference on Education, April 25, drew a record attendance of 135.

Methodist Youth Fellowship Sub-Districts are functioning in every county.

The second annual Intermediate Camp for the district is planned for July 28-August 3 at Camp Albert Butler.

Wesley Foundation work thrives under the able leadership of Rev. Robert Barefield on the campus of Appalachian State Teachers College and in the Boone Church. A lot has been secured this year adjacent the campus of Appalachian State Teachers College for a Wesley Foundation building.

The district has taken a mission special of a community building for the Dawsey Rural Center near Maringa, Brazil. Rev. Parke Renshaw, missionary to Brazil, spent four days in the district last October and spoke in a series of missionary institutes. More than $700.00 has been raised on this special this year.

Over $500.00 was contributed for Hungarian Relief.

The District Mission Society supports the work of Rev. F. J. Rogers, Sr. at Antioch and Traphill churches which he has reopened. It supports, also, a new congregation at Fairplains.

There are now forty-eight Woman's Societies of Christian Service, an increase of three this year.

A $10 Club, initiated by Associate Conference Lay Leader Robert M. Smith, has thirty-six members. The goal is four hundred.

In 1954-1955, the year before the district was formed, the pastoral charges paid for pastors' salaries and travel expense $63,296.00. The minimum acceptance for these items for 1957-1958 is $72,006.00, representing an increase of almost fourteen percent.

The Lord's Acre Plan is being used increasingly in stewardship cultivation.

All in all, it has been a good year on the North Wilkesboro District.

GARLAND REID STAFFORD, D.S.

SALISBURY DISTRICT

For the pastors and people of the Salisbury District this has been a very busy eight-month year, and in many ways it has been a very fine year of considerable progress. There are many signs of growth and the strengthening of our lines. There has been much spiritual growth and a deepened interest in the Church throughout the charges. Tithing is gaining new headway and a number of tithing clubs have been organized. The missionary spirit is manifesting itself with increased strength. A number of splendid Methodist Men's groups have been organized and these have immediately found projects whereby they can aid the work of their local churches.

From the standpoint of membership we have received 662 on profession of faith, 382 by transfer from other Methodist churches, and 204 from other denominations.

Our young people are vigorously active, both in the local work and in the number who attend the summer camps and assemblies. One sub-district maintains its own camp in the mountains for their Intermediates; and our District has received the gift of a farm in our own territory where it is hoped a camp for young people can be built.

Our World Service of $43,527 has been overpaid by several hundred dollars; and our total of Advance Specials of approximately $19,000 is almost equal to the amount given for the entire year previous. And in Church Extension we have had a year of good progress, nearly every church giving the amount asked, making a total of around $25,000.

It has been a year of building, both of parsonages and churches. The $14,000 parsonage at Cold Springs was dedicated November 4, while just a few weeks ago ground was broken for the erection of a $17,000 parsonage at Westford, Concord. What might be a Conference record was set when the Center Grove parsonage was built, paid for and dedicated within the same year, with the men and women of the church doing the work, and raising approximately $12,000 in money.

A handsome education building was dedicated at Salem May 26, the total cost of the building and the renovations in church and parsonage being $106,000. Recreation buildings have been constructed at Mt. Mitchell, Kannapolis, costing $13,000; Unity on the Unity-Oak Grove charge, costing $6,000; Randall's on the Norwood circuit, and Stony Hill on the Albemarle Circuit, each building costing approximately $6,000. In the process of building but still uncompleted is the hut at Bethel, on the New London Circuit.

With regard to Church Extension, the churches of the District through our District Mission Society have set a goal of 1,000 Ten Dollar Club members, and the organization of a new church each year. We now have more than 600 members of the Club, and we have organized the third church in three years. Center, Concord, the first to be organized, now has a membership of 60 and has a plan for a lovely church which will be begun in a very short time.

Milford Hills, Salisbury, the second church to be organized, now in its second year, has 160 members and a beautiful new and modern church to be occupied June 23.

Royal Oaks, our youngest organization, begun last November in Kannapolis, now has a membership of 60, and ground was broken two weeks ago for a $25,000 education building, to be finished before the end of summer.

A great forward step was taken by the people of Epworth, Concord, when six weeks ago they voted to relocate their church on a magnificent lot owned by the District Mission Society in Beverly Hills, Concord, a fast-growing residential section. They have $30,000 already in their Building Fund and expect to begin their building in the near future.

Just one pastor is taking the retired relation, J. W. Vestal, after a great record of forty-five years of outstanding service. So greatly loved and needed is he that he is staying in the active ranks although with the retired relation and is serving next year as pastor at Badin.

We are losing from the pastorate two fine men—and all of them are fine—to the colleges: Emmett McLarty to the presidency of Brevard College, and James Clemmer to Pfeiffer as Director of Religious Life. Each will give distinguished service at his new post.

We look forward to reorganizing at least one new church next year and working together to promote with vigor all the tasks God gives us to do, knowing that with His help it can and will be done.

Future plans include a new parsonage and a $500,000 sanctuary at First Church Salisbury, and a new $500,000 church at Central Concord. Also the new parsonage at Shiloh Cabarrus is under construction and will be completed this Summer.

PAUL W. TOWNSEND, D.S.

STATESVILLE DISTRICT

Upon appointment to this position last September, I found that our Bishop had assigned able and willing ministers to the Statesville District. With the adjournment of annual conference, these men "hit the ground running." They have been exceedingly busy during this short year, with very few of them having any semblance of a vacation. The fine record of performance will show the proof of their successfulness.

Every charge has received a member, hence there are no "barren charges" in the Statesville District. All askings for benevolences from the annual conference were accepted in full, with the exception of two places where College Sustaining Fund was accepted only in part; and all acceptances have been paid in all cases except some small amounts totaling less than $200. With a few overpayments, it is expected that the district will actually pay more than its total askings. This fact seems especially commendable for this short year, when at the same time we all had a sharp increase in askings for World Service and for College Sustaining Fund.

Missions are well supported across the entire district. Our weakest point apparently is our yet coldness towards the work of the District Mission Society despite two very successful new churches, one in north Statesville and the other in Conover. Despite the commendable fact that all our larger churches are paying their asking of $1 per member, our giving to this work has reached a point of only about one-half the one dollar per member goal as set by the annual conference. Nearly all the churches have Mission Specials. There was a generous support of Hungarian Relief and of Week of Dedication. Other Special Days were observed with a fair degree of interest, and we expect to overpay our asking for Church School Day.

Education is moving forward in the district. Training Schools were held in all three counties of the district, with specific dates and plans already adopted for the coming conference year so that four schools will be held to cover the entire district area. Vacation Bible Schools are being held, or are planned, hence we expect no decrease in the number of these schools this year as compared with previous year, all fears of such a decrease with the changing of the annual conference to June, notwithstanding. Several of our young people attended the Washington-United Nations Seminar last week. We expect to have more applications from the district for Camp Tekoa and Lake Junaluska youth workshops than can be accepted. No less than seven church, or area groups will spend a week in their own camping activities. This activity has sharply increased in recent years and we have dreams of progress in this area of church life.

Church building across the district is at an all-time high. Bishop Harmon led in the dedication services for the Newton First Church and the Hickory First Church. Many other churches are looking ahead to the full payment of their building debts within the next few months. It is especially noteworthy that of the 77 churches of the district, no less than 45 of them are in some phase of church building, that is, they are either paying off building debts, raising funds for buildings to be erected within the next year or two, or are actually building. The list of building projects is too long to recount at this time. Anyone having experienced a building program may well realize that such activity seriously effects the work and responsibility of both the minister and the congregation, as well as limits their time and resources for other endeavors. Salary increased by 24 of 45 charges for total of $7,985.00.

The Statesville District has had a wonderfully fine year and has every reason to look forward to a progressive year immediately ahead.

THOMASVILLE DISTRICT

Report on the Local Church Emphasis:

A brief report of the work on the Thomasville District during this short year should bring the Local Church Emphasis into focus. Much progress has been made which cannot be tabulated. There has been an unusual effort to search out the potential of each church,—perhaps greater than ever before. Church people, as well as ministers, are beginning to realize that if the Kingdom is to grow from the grass roots there must be emphasis on education, missions, evangelism, and stewardship. All of this takes time. As one pastor put it, "If there were more nights in the week and more hours in the day we might be able to do a lot more with these commissions." Perhaps the secret lies in the field of "integration" and the business of putting "first things first." Not the organization but the end result is the thing that counts.

The Booklets on the local church have been used to advantage and the Commissions have been organized in most of the charges. As a result there has been a reaching out after new ways to do the job. Many pastors reported training sessions in every phase of the work of the church.

Membership and Evangelism:

1. Revision of rolls has been the order of the day, and a special attempt has been made to activate church members. Definite plans are under way to intensify this work during the coming year.
2. Revivals have been held in most of the churches. Our people are beginning to realize that God can speak in the fall, winter, and spring. 795 by vows, 347 by transfer, 165 from other denominations,—total 1307, is the result of our efforts in this field. In many instances goals of 5% or 10% have been set for the new year.
3. The door has been opened and several young people have been called into full-time Christian service. Perhaps the most significant meeting of the year was a Vocations Conference for young people with their adult leaders. 315 young people and 50 of their adult leaders were enrolled.
4. Prayer cells, prayer vigils, and study groups, using Christ and Myself, have deepened the spiritual life of our people.
5. Retreat for Ministers on February 3, dealing with the ministers devotional life.

Education:

1. There has been an increased use of Methodist Literature. There is no question about its superiority over all other literature, but our general church leaders can help us at the point of simplicity. (Some of them need to come down from their ivory towers,—in the words of the popular song.) A reduction in the volume would help also. The publishing interests and education leaders are to be commended for such accomplishments as Together and the New Christian Advocate.
2. Our District Directors, Lay Leaders, and Members of various Conference Boards within the District have all contributed toward a very successful year. Special mention should be made of the County Evangelistic Committees. They have been a great help.
3. Our total Church School membership is now 28,873,—with an average attendance of 17,904. This is a very healthy increase over last year,—and, I believe, will lead the Conference.
4. Teaching sessions for Commission members, studies of physical facilities in terms of future need, filmstrips, movies, and such are used to advantage.

Missions:

1. Promotion of missions on the local church level has produced very fine results when it has been tried. There has been an increased use of students, returned missionaries, and laymen who have visited foreign countries to bring home to our people the needs of the world. There is no substitute (conferences on the district and conference level notwithstanding) for this witness on the local church level.

2. The people of the Thomasville District are beginning to realize what Church Extension can mean. The thrilling experience of building, 125 projects, including 23 parsonages in the past 4½ years, and a total of more than $4,000,000 in 8 years, has opened up new vistas of service never dreamed of before.
3. The 125 Woman's Societies in the District, as always, have done an excellent job. Their goal is an active society in each of the 146 churches.
4. Most of the charges report a School of Missions.

Stewardship and Finance:

1. The emphasis here has been productive indeed.
 - a. The unified budget is coming into its own as an adequate means of financing the interests of the church.
 - b. The every member canvass is being used more and more with very effective results. Several pastors have reported budgets doubled in two years through its use.
 - c. There has been more long-range planning in the matter of finance than ever before. Small as well as large churches are moving ahead in this respect. For example West Bend, Asheboro launched a drive for a building fund of $35,000 and came up with a full report. Unity, Thomasville with a goal of $35,000 at last count had gone beyond $45,000.
2. Regard support for the ministry, much needs to be done but the Thomasville District has made tremendous strides in the right direction. We are moving up at the rate of more than $10,000 per year.

Our ministers and people are to be commended for their fine work. Much remains to be done. Each new upward step reveals new vistas ahead. The short year has been revealing as to what can be accomplished through co-operative and consecrated endeavor. The best is ahead.

M. TEAGUE HIPPS, D.S.

WAYNESVILLE DISTRICT

We of the Waynesville District are reporting high interest and steady progress along several lines of endeavor.

1. Reports to the Annual Conference show all apportionments paid on time. Advance Specials show an increase, in the number of churches participating, by 64%. The Week Of Dedication Offerings totaled an increase over last year. Forty nine per cent of the charges have increased Pastors' salaries. Charges showing best schedules of salary increases are Robbinsville, Crabtree, Shooting Creek, Highlands, Bryson City.

We feel that progress is being made in the improvement of financial systems; several of the charges having some kind of every-member canvass; others, which have not done so before, committed to try canvasses next year.

2. Building programs, during this year, have been under way at Cherokee, Fines Creek, Morning Star, Macon Circuit, Cashiers, Murphy Circuit, Webster. These include a new Church, now completed, in Big Cove on the Cherokee Mission, a new Deaconess House at Cherokee, a new church at Pine Grove on the Fines Creek Charge (now in use), a new church at Mulberry on the Macon Circuit (near completion), a new church at Tomotla on the Murphy Circuit (almost complete) a three-story brick Education Building at Morning Star (near completion), a new seven-room brick Parsonage at Webster (now occupied).

Plans are well under way for the following buildings: A new church at Cashiers on the Highlands work, a three-story Education Building at Cullowhee, a three-story Education Building at Waynesville, a new brick Parsonage at Long's Church.

Plans, not quite so mature, are now under way for a new Church at Love's Chapel on the Sylva Circuit, a church at Hampton Memorial on the Murphy Circuit, a new church at Elizabeth Chapel on the Dellwood Charge. A large lot has just been purchased on which the Hazelwood Church is to be relocated.

3. Objectives gathered from the Charges show the following as goals toward which Pastors and peoples are working:
 - (a) To improve the passion and work of Evangelism, using more and better trained laymen and employing membership training.

- (b) To give more attention to Stewardship cultivation and to put on Every-member Canvasses for funds.
 - (c) To cultivate for Mission Specials in all churches.
 - (d) To intensify leadership training.
 - (e) To increase the number of worship and fellowship services on circuit charges.
4. In response to the call of the Church for a considerable increase in additions to the Church membership by Profession Of Faith, our District set a goal. We didn't reach that goal, although it was divided among the charges and willingly accepted. This failure might be attributed to two hindrances: there are not enough prospectives in this area to permit such a gain, unless the people are willing to work much harder, than in the down-Conference areas where people are moving in instead of moving out. The other hindrance is the failure of too many Pastors and leading laymen to properly list prospectives and to go after them. Generally, the charges showing the best gains, used the best methods.
 5. We believe that we have made progress in support of training schools, institutes and conferences. Giving extra attention to organization and cultivation, we had the largest training school in Haywood County ever known in this county. Credits given in the last school held were 90; credits earned last fall were 235.

Attendance on the District Missionary Institutes held this year over doubled attendance of the prior year.

A District Board Of Education was organized during the year and has met with definite undertakings before it. Subdistrict sections of the Board serve to carry out the district program.

6. The District Mission Society has been instrumental in raising funds to help in the purchase of building lots and the construction of churches and Parsonages. Ten projects have been substantially helped by this fund during the past year.

Under the leadership of the District Lay Leader and his Associates a "Ten-Dollar-Club" has been organized in Haywood County; which movement is expected to spread to other sections of the District.

7. Now under study is the matter of rearrangement of several rural charges. Some are too large; some too small. Two Larger Parishes, one in Clay County and one in Macon County, are being studied. We expect to set up this arrangement in Clay County next year.
8. We have been fortunate during this year in matters of life and death. We have lost no member of the Parsonage family by death. By adoption, a son has come to each of the homes of Brother and Mrs. Claude Young at Hayesville and of Brother and Mrs. Edwin Carter of Andrews.
9. Considering the success of the charges from the standpoint of total program carried out, the following charges have been outstanding: Morning Star, Highlands, Robbinsville, Sylva, Canton; Central, Crabtree, Hayesville and Shooting Creek.

F. C. SMATHERS, D.S.

WINSTON-SALEM DISTRICT

In reporting the work and accomplishments of one district of our Conference, it is assumed that only those things above and beyond the normal activities and accomplishments of the year are to be dealt with. Suffice it to say that general and conference apportionments, as well as district concerns, have been accepted and met in a satisfactory manner.

In coming green into the superintendency, it was soon discovered that there was no time in an eight-months year for "learning the job" except the best method of learning at all, by doing. Among those things which required immediate attention was, first, the all important work of church extension. During this year, there have been four groundbreakings for new churches, at East Bend, Konnoak Hills, New Hope, and Grassy Creek. In addition to these new churches, ground was broken for two new parsonages as well, these being on the Virginia Circuit and at Wesley Memorial in Winston-Salem.

There have also been four new church openings, the temporary building at Wesley Memorial, the new building at East Bend, the new first unit of the Konnoak Hills Church, and the Oak Summit Church. There have been two church dedications, Ebenezer on the Mountain Park-Grassy Creek Charge, and the lovely new Woosley Chapel on the campus of our Children's Home. In addition to these two church dedications, one parsonage has been dedicated, that at Bethlehem on the Forsyth-Stokes Charge. It should be added that there are at least three other churches in the district ready for dedication.

A summary of the church extension work of the Winston-Salem District might be told in terms of more than half a million dollars in new construction completed during this eight-months year; another quarter of a million dollars continuing under construction; and with more than a million and a quarter planned for the immediate future. This is a total of more than two million dollars in new church property being completed or planned immediately ahead.

No summary of the work in the Winston-Salem District in church extension would be complete without a word about our various church extension funds. $1.00 per member, which is universally accepted across the district, brings in about $25,000 per year. There are sufficient members of the Ten Dollar Club to bring the results of a call for a new church to approximately $10,000, and three such calls are permitted each year, if necessary. Winston-Salem Capital Funds Campaign is proving a great success. $75,000 per year for the next three years is being paid into the Treasury of the Winston-Salem City Mission Society for new church construction in, and immediately adjacent to, the City of Winston-Salem. This brings the total in district funds for each year to considerably more than $100,000.

The work of the district in Advance Specials is very fine. Each charge in the district accepts some Advance special, with the total for the entire district being more than $32,000 per year.

The work of Evangelism has been stressed during this year, and very fine results have been achieved. Some of our new churches more than doubled their membership during our period of Visitation Evangelism.

The salaries of our ministers seem to be keeping pace with the other advancements of the district. A brief survey of the salary item shows that total increases of more than $10,000 were recorded at our Fourth Quarterly Conference. This averages something like 5% increase.

Our district was saddened by the death during this past year of the Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Plint. However, all of us in the district were gladdened by the arrival in the parsonage families of four new babies. Sons were born to the Dixon Adams, the Sherrill Biggers, the Barrett Wilsons, and the Robert Clinards.

Dr. Joseph S. Hiatt, Director of Golden Cross and Superintendent of the Hugh Chatham Hospital, comes to the retirement level at a very young age, after long and noble service. There is no reason to believe, however, that he will not be back at his old jobs and telling his old stories again next year.

All in all, "we had a good year, Bishop".

LEE F. TUTTLE, D.S.

Historical

1. Historical Sketch

"The Western North Carolina Conference shall include all North Carolina west of the North Carolina Conference, except Savannah Church, in Alleghany County, North Carolina; and also that part of North Carolina lying north of New River, and including that part of Virginia lying south of that river in the loop in Grayson County, Virginia; including all the territory in Carroll and Patrick Counties, Virginia, south of the crest of the Blue Ridge, and west of the Dan River." (Discipline, 1948, paragraph 1757.)

This territory is identical with that of the Western North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South. All three branches of Methodism forming The Methodist Church are included in this new Conference. From the Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church came thirty-nine ministers and 11,901 church members. The North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Protestant Church contributed seventy-four ministers and 22,361 church members. The Western North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, added 377 ministers and 167,028 church members. This gave the new Conference 490 ministers, with twenty-eight others on trial, and 201,290 church members. The Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference had held 62 sessions, the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, 112, and the Western North Carolina, 50. (See Journal, 1939, Pages 115, 166).

CUTHBERT WARNER BATES

July 29, 1884-January 25, 1957

In the Beatitudes Jesus described the qualities of character which belong to the members of the Kingdom of God. As we read His words, "Blessed are the poor in Spirit;" "Blessed are the meek;" "Blessed are the merciful;" and "Blessed are the pure in heart;" it seems as if Jesus were painting a word picture of our good friend and co-worker, Dr. Cuthbert Warner Bates. For all those qualities were clearly revealed in his daily life. Notwithstanding the fact that he had been signally honored by high offices in his church, he was always brotherly and humble in spirit. During the span of the seventy-two years he lived on earth, he grew in wisdom and in favor with God and man.

He was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., July 29, 1884. He graduated from Western Maryland College and Westminster Theological Seminary. High Point College, recognizing his contribution to the Church and the Kingdom of God, conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1932. He was secretary of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church for twenty-five years and was elected a delegate to every General Conference of his Church from the time he joined the Conference until the time of Union. He served as secretary of the General Conference from 1929-1939 and was associate secretary of the Uniting Conference in Kansas City in 1939. He served faithfully as a beloved and efficient pastor of the following charges: Hillside-Merrimon (St. Paul's), Asheville, 1912-1917; Grace, Greensboro, 1917-1919; Granville Circuit, 1919-1924; Hillside-Merrimon, Asheville, 1924-1927; Calvary, Greensboro, 1927-1933; First, Winston-Salem, 1933-1936; Haw River Circuit, 1936-1941; Candler Circuit, 1941-1945; Lebanon, High Point, 1945-1947; Mt. Pleasant Circuit, 1947-1952; Swannanoa Circuit, 1952-1956; Newdale Charge, 1956-1957.

In 1910 he was married to Miss Myrtle Pickens who walked by his side as a faithful companion and co-worker. To them were born three children; Ronalds, Mary Margaret (Mrs. S. W. Brown), and Helen (Mrs. W. H. McKinney). The members of our Conference have grown accustomed through the years to being received by Dr. and Mrs. Bates at the registration desk at each Annual Conference session. At the last session of the Annual Conference, at which Dr. Bates officially retired, he and Mrs. Bates were called before the Conference and given a standing ovation as a mark of the esteem and affection in which they were held. His retirement was only momentary, for he soon responded to the call to fill the Newdale Charge, which he served until the hour of his death.

Looking forward to the day of retirement when they could lay aside the strenuous duties of the pastorate, Dr. and Mrs. Bates for many months had been building their home in Weaverville. They had gone about the task with joyful anticipation. Last September Dr. Bates moved into what he thought of as his own permanent home, but, sooner than he expected, God called him to his heavenly home. For seventy-two years he had been laying up treasures and sending up material. On January 24, God called to say "The home is ready."

For 47 years, at the session of each Annual Conference, his name was called and each year his brethren said, "Nothing against him." He was a good and faithful minister of Jesus Christ. Like Barnabas of old, "he was a good man full of the Holy Spirit." He was faithful even unto the end.

The last earthly rites were conducted at the Methodist Church in Weaverville by John Lowder, assisted by Clay Madison, J. E. Carroll, and the writer. A choir composed of ministers of the Asheville District sang "Amazing Grace" and "Love Divine," two of Dr. Bates' favorite hymns. One who was present wrote for the North Carolina Chris- tian Advocate how impressive it was to hear a men's chorus, all of the same profession, each man feeling that he was singing to a fellow passenger who had come to the end of the road he, too, was traveling. Somehow, the reporter stated, we felt it was one of those rare moments in Methodism when we feel the benediction of one who has gone before resting upon us whose eyes are also turned homeward.

Truly the heavenly world becomes more homelike and more real as our beloved comrades with whom we have labored so joyfully join the heavenly throng.

"More homelike seems the vast unknown

Since they have entered there.

To follow them were not so hard

Wherever they may fare.

They cannot be where God is not

On any sea or shore.

Whatever betides thy love abides,

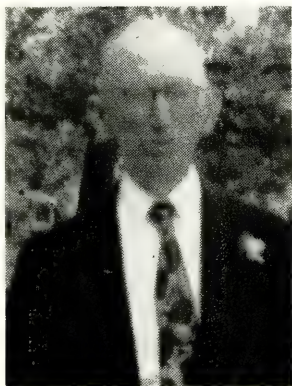

Our God forevermore."

NEIL GRAHAM BETHEA

October 11, 1872-February 24, 1957

The curtain was drawn on one of North Carolina Methodism's most successful evangelists in the passing of the Reverend Neil Graham Bethea on February 24, 1957. Despite the many effective facets of his life, Dr. Bethea was most outstanding as an evangelist over fifty-three years.

Neil Graham Bethea was born October 11, 1872, in Alamance County, son of William Cameron and Mary Jane Bethea. As a mere boy, prior to the enactment of Child Labor Laws, he started to work in a textile mill, but his spirit would not leave him there. Early in his youth he heard the call to witness for his Lord; hence, he returned to the public schools and later entered Catawba College to prepare for the ministry. Due to failure of his eyesight he did not complete his college course but turned to the active ministry. He joined the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church in 1897 and moved into his evangelistic usefulness. He served for 47 years as an effective minister of Methodism before retiring, then he served five additional years as a retired supply minister.

Across the more than a half century, he served churches in Halifax County, Burlington, Greensboro, Lexington, Caroleen, Asheville, Fletcher, Weaverville, and Tryon. If anyone should suspect that in his evangelistic campaigns he neglected his pastoral assignments, it should be recalled that he served an average of five years and two months at each appointment, a proof of acceptance by his parishioners, built six parsonages, and had a church named in his honor. In his local church he was a pastor. He loved folk and enjoyed visiting with them. He quickly made warm friends with his cheerful disposition and ready wit. He was a spinner of humorous yarns of the first order, but never was his humor tainted with questionable insinuations nor used to hurt anyone. At times he was humorous in his preaching, but never to the distraction from his genuine witness for Christ and the glory of God. He used his humor to motivate his homely preaching, and God blessed his effort.

Graham Bethea was an ardent supporter of Christian education. He was an accredited instructor in training classes and was sought after at youth assemblies and community training schools. He was a moving spirit among the leaders in founding High Point College, a school to which all his younger children went for their higher education. In appreciation and recognition of his successful ministry and dedication to education, High Point College bestowed upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

He was a successful evangelist because that is what he wanted to be above all things. A few years ago he wrote: "When I entered the ministry, I asked the good Lord for a hundred souls a year, and He gave me 152, bless His Holy Name! That was the average I counted up the other day. There was a gradual come down each year. That was straight conversions. I am so grateful for such a record." According to his own records there were 8,061 conversions from his ministry.

"The greatest reward in my life," he told a newspaper reporter several years ago, "is the knowledge that God has led those people to my altars where they accepted Him as their Saviour." In the early days, he traveled on foot and by horseback. It was hard work, he admitted, but added, "I'd do it again." As to his method, he modestly said, "I didn't do anything fancy. I'd give my sermon, pray, and ask them to come to the altar, and they came." His modest remark does not tell the full story, for he was a master in effectively inviting people to accept Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.

"And wherever he preached, I was there if it were possible to be there," commented his devoted wife of 56 years, who preceded him in death by ten months. "In his ministry one of his favorite hobbies was movies, especially showing pictures of the Holy Land which he visited during 1926.

He was married to Hattie Warlick, of Cleveland County, on December 6, 1899. To this happy union were born five children, all of whom survive: Mrs. A. G. Wilcox of Enfield; W. S. of Burbank, California; Steven L. of Sacramento, California; Nathaniel of Rockingham; and Vance of Greensboro. Others survivors include one brother, B. J. Bethea of Miami, Florida, ten grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted in the Hanes-Lineberry Chapel, Greensboro, February 26, with beloved brother ministers, R. A. Hunter and E. Lester Ballard, in charge. He was buried in the Guilford Memorial Park.

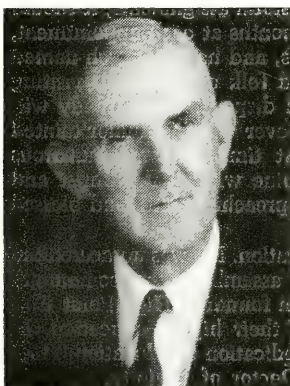

Saint Paul says that "he gave some apostles; and some prophets; and some evangelists; and some pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ; till we all come in the unity of the faith, and to the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ" (Ephesians 4: 11-13). And high on that list are evangelists—and one in our day being Neil Graham Bethea.

J. ELWOOD CARROLL

EDGAR PARKE BILLUPS

August 15, 1893-October 6, 1956

Edgar Parke Billups, son of Alvin C. and Mary Viola Farley Billups, was born August 15, 1893, at St. Albans, West Virginia. He was converted early in life and became a member of the Methodist Church in St. Albans. He was educated in the public schools of that city and at Morris Harvey College, then located in Barboursville, West Virginia, Emory University and Northwestern University. He was awarded the A.B. and M.A. degrees and in 1942 Morris Harvey conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, which he richly merited and which he bore with honor.

He responded to the call to preach the Gospel and was licensed to preach. He was admitted on trial into the Western Virginia Annual Conference in 1915 and on September 6, 1918, was admitted into full connection. Two days later he was ordained deacon by Bishop E. R. Hendrix. In 1922 he was ordained elder by Bishop Collins Denny.

In the West Virginia Conference he served as pastor of Barboursville until 1919 when he was transferred to the Western North Carolina Annual Conference. In this conference he served the following appointments: Glenwood-Bethel; student, Emory University; West Market, Greensboro (Junior Preacher); Seversville (now Wesley Heights), Charlotte; President, Rutherford College; Kernersville; Granite Falls; Brevard; Canton, Central; Monroe, Central; and Leaksville.

On October 2, 1922, he was married to Miss Mary Ruth Person of Carthage. To this union three sons were born. Two of the sons died in infancy and one, Edgar Parke, Jr., of Leaksville, survives. Mrs. Billups went to her eternal reward on March 8, 1955. She was a true heroine of the parsonage, a good wife and a devoted mother.

Not only was Dr. Billups a good administrator, a wise pastor and a successful builder of churches, but he was a good preacher and a true Christian friend. He was loved wherever he was sent. After an illness of several months, he asked the Annual Conference in session in 1956 to grant to him the retired relation. This was done and on October 6, 1956, he was relieved of his suffering and pain as he went home to be with God. The services were conducted by Eugene C. Few, Superintendent of the Greensboro District, and A. Mitchell Faulkner, from the Leaksville Methodist Church. His body was interred by the grave of his wife in the Lawson Cemetery at Leaksville.

From us the body of Edgar Parke Billups has gone; but his spirit and influence and Christian power live on. A great and good man, a true historian, a "sweet singer," and a good minister of Jesus Christ was and is he. The Church is infinitely stronger and better because he was a powerful part of her; and with him there, heaven is real and sure and we join him in the choir as together we sing:

"Ah! there on earthly wings we soar,
Where sin and sense molest no more;
For heaven comes down our souls to greet,
And glory crowns the mercy seat. Amen and Amen."

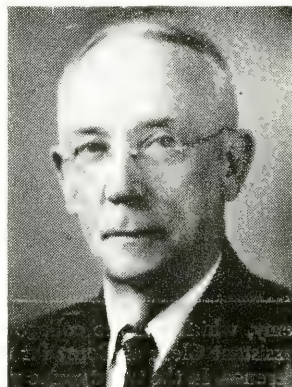

EDGAR H. NEASE

WATSON OSCAR GOODE

August 16, 1876-October 7, 1956

Early Sunday morning, October 7, 1956, the Reverend Watson O. Goode died of a heart attack. This was the first Sunday for many preachers in their new charges for the conference year. It was also a day of rare beauty as the morning sun was shining upon the autumn splendor of the hills of Western North Carolina. As the choirs in the churches of Asheville sang praises to God and a welcome to their new pastors, the heavenly choir sang welcome to Brother Goode into a new appointment with the church triumphant.

Watson Oscar Goode was born August 16, 1876, in Waco. He was a graduate of Trinity College and did post-graduate work in Vanderbilt and Harvard Universities. He was licensed to preach and joined the Western North Carolina Conference in 1901, was admitted into full connection and ordained deacon in 1903, and ordained elder in 1905. He retired from the active ministry October 1, 1948. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Kathleen Syfan Goode, a son, James Goode, and three stepsons, John, Thomas, and Ralph Robinson. He served for 47 years in the active ministry, serving pastorates in Forest City, Morganton, Charlotte, Greensboro, Thomasville, Hickory, Burnsville, Wadesboro, Marion, Waynesville, Kings Mountain, Leaksville, Spencer, Mount Holly, Jamestown and Derita. In 1952 he was appointed as a Retired Supply to French Broad Church in Asheville. It was the writer's privilege to work with him for almost three years in this last pastorate. Although he was limited in physical strength, he had all the glow and zeal for the victory of the Kingdom that anyone could expect in a minister. He loved to share his victories with others. As I reflect upon the many times he came to the district parsonage to tell of some family or some soul he had won for the Kingdom, I am reminded of the words of Philip James Bailey:

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths,
In feelings, not in figures on a dial,
We should count time by heart-throbs,
He most lives
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best,
Life's but a means unto an end; that end
Beginning, mean, and end to all things—God."

In the summer of 1955, it became evident that he was not able to continue his service as pastor, and he was released from this responsibility. This did not dim his faith nor sadden his countenance. Like a good soldier under marching orders, he went forward, his head erect with a smile on his face, as though his thoughts were current with Robert Browning:

"I go to prove my soul!
I see my way as birds their trackless way.
I shall arrive! What time, what circuit first,
I ask not; but unless God send his hail
Or blinding fireballs, sleet or stifling snow,
In some time, his good time, I shall arrive:
He guides me and the bird. In his good time."

THOMAS JACKSON HOUCK

May 29, 1864-May 16, 1957

"Uncle Tom" Houck, as he was lovingly known in the Ashe County hills, can be referred to as the "abundant preacher." His massive stature and wisdom and his many gifts were at his Master's command. Attorney Ira T. Johnston, a prominent layman of the Baptist Church, had this to say at "Uncle Tom's" funeral: "Few men have lived as long, few men have lived as well, and few men have had a marriage as long and as happy as Brother Houck." Later he said, "He was my ideal as to what a pastor ought to be."

What Lois and Eunice were to Timothy, so were the forbearers to T. J. Houck to be. The Church, Bethany, which gave them spiritual nurture, was the place where Tom Houck committed his life to Jesus Christ. Later, while serving faithfully as a layman in Bethany, he answered the call of God to be a minister. He was always true to that calling. Previously he had married Ellen Mahaffey in 1887. Three sons were born to them, one preceded him in death.

His preparation for the ministry lay in his insistence upon having an education. He achieved all the formal education that he could. He attended Sutherland Academy, which was the college of his day. He taught school for several years and was also assistant Clerk of Court for a time. In 1905 he joined the Western North Carolina Conference. In the twenty-nine years he served before retiring there were ten pastoral charges that knew him as their pastor. They were Sparta, Laurel Springs, Dobson, Jefferson, Mount Holly, Thomasville, Cooleemee, Arcadia, Andrews, and Stony Point. He was responsible for building parsonages, churches, paying off debts, and holding revivals of such character that they had a lasting and wholesome effect on his charges. At several revivals he received over fifty people into the church on profession of their faith in Christ. Sometimes this would happen at churches that were considering closing the doors. One church was going to sell out once on account of a seemingly unsurmountable debt. Tom Houck personally walked the streets and raised the whole amount by himself to erase the debt. Several young men entered the ministry as a result of his preaching and life. Hundreds of young people became Christians through his ministry. Sometimes about all the young people in a congregation would respond to his call for them to serve Christ. To hear him tell of leading dying men to Christ was inspiring and soul-lifting. His work and "walk with God" was sheer joy to him.

Tom Houck knew the horse, then the buggy, then the car as modes of transportation to his churches. After he retired, others would drive him to preaching places where he filled in for other pastors. He was used extensively as an evangelist by his fellow pastors before and after his retirement. For the last eighteen years of his life he taught the adult class at his beloved Bethany. All of this was shared by his ever-faithful wife, who survives him. The preachers who were sent to serve Jefferson Charge had his wonderful, wholesome, and Godly influence as a co-worker for almost twenty years, and those who come will still have it.

When you have been in some men's presence you feel as if they are really somebody. When you were in Tom Houck's presence, he made you feel as if you were somebody. He did not do it with repetitious platitudes but with a divine sense of sharing that is difficult to equal. His whole aim in his task for God can be pointed up by two of "his" well-known verses.

"I love to tell the story of unseen things above.
Of Jesus and his glory, of Jesus and his love."

"Amazing grace, how sweet the sound
That saved a wretch like me.
I once was lost but now am found;
Was blind, but now I see."

Garland Stafford, North Wilkesboro District Superintendent, led in the funeral service at Bethany Methodist Church, and the remains of Thomas Jackson Houck lie in the Bethany Church cemetery. W. E. FITZGERALD

CLYDE MALONE McKINNEY

May 10, 1888-April 18, 1957

Clyde Malone McKinney was born near Horse Shoe in Henderson County, North Carolina, on May 10, 1888, the son of George Luther and Mary Hefner McKinney.

Although his parents were of Baptist persuasion, they attended Mills River Methodist Church, the nearest one to them, where his mother was his first Sunday School teacher. He united with the Mills River church in early manhood.

After attending the public schools, he entered Weaver College and later graduated from Trinity College in the class of 1918. One of his classmates says that he "was a religious leader while at Trinity College . . . the kind to whom others turned." He worked in the Y.M.C.A., was president of the pre-ministerial group and chaplain of the Columbian Literary Society. He was considered by the student body to be a young man of very high moral standards and deeply spiritual. He loved his schoolmates and they loved him.

During the fall and winter of 1918-1919 he taught a term at Mills River High School.

Having been granted local preacher's license in 1917 he was called in the spring of 1919 to serve as supply pastor of the Spring Creek Circuit in Madison County. Eight months later he joined the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session at Greensboro, Bishop U. V. W. Darlington, presiding. He was returned to the Spring Creek Circuit for one year.

At this conference Reverend E. W. Fox introduced him to Miss Winnie Smith of Mocksville who was then a student at North Carolina College for Women, now the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. They were married in Mocksville by the late Reverend John F. Kirk and Reverend W. L. Sherrill on August 30, 1921. Theirs was a happy union and joyous service together in the pastorate. To them were born four children: George, who is technical director of the University Theatre, University of Illinois, and teacher in the Drama Department; Evelyn, now Mrs. Robert Green of Jamestown; Claude, an industrial designer at the Naval Center, Port Washington, Long Island; and Sterling, who is confined in a hospital. They, their mother, four granddaughters, and three brothers survive.

Following his year and eight months on the Spring Creek Circuit he was appointed in 1920 to the Albemarle Circuit for one year. Then followed two years at Cramerton, four years on the Farmington Circuit and two years at Carraway Memorial in Greensboro. In 1929 he was appointed to Andrews for one year, then to South Fork Circuit and Stony Point for one year each. In 1932 he began a series of six four-year pastorates: Rural Hall, Bostic, Jamestown-Oakdale, Ward Street in High Point, Morris Chapel at Walkertown, and Spencer Memorial in Charlotte. He was truly an itinerant Methodist preacher. He received his appointments with Christian grace and dignity.

He was in a happy and fruitful first year in Wilkesboro when the end came on April 18, 1957. He had held his revival meeting March 31-April 7 and had morning devotions over the radio that week, little complaining of his foot that was giving him trouble. On Monday morning, April 8, he entered Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital in Elkin where it was found that poor circulation in the foot necessitated its amputation. He accepted this as the Lord's will. He seemed to rally from the operation, but early the second day he expired.

His funeral was held by the writer on Saturday morning, April 20, at the Wilkesboro Methodist Church in the presence of his saddened congregation and a number of his brethren of the Conference. Burial was in the Rose Cemetery, Mocksville, with Masonic honors.

Brother McKinney's ministry was unusually well balanced. No emphasis asked by the Church was ever neglected in his charges. He felt that Christian Education was vital in his work from the local church to the institutions of higher learning.

He was especially effective in evangelistic work. He rejoiced to see people of all ages come into the divine fellowship of the church and during his ministry received approximately 940 persons on profession of faith. In six months at Wilkesboro he had received thirty into church membership.

He had a zeal for the great Missionary vision of the Methodist Church at home and abroad.

The physical needs of his congregations were met by his diligent work. Church buildings for Spring Creek, Mt. Pleasant on the Rural Hall Charge, Cedar Grove on the Bostic Charge, Oakdale on the Jamestown-Oakdale Charge and education buildings at Morris Chapel and Spencer Memorial were erected during his pastorates. Often he labored with his own hands in the building enterprises.

As a pastor, he was a faithful visitor in the homes and places of business of his people. He had a keen insight into human nature. People responded to the sharing of their problems and to his abiding good humor. He could appreciate the position of people who differed with him, and while he was uncompromising on moral issues, he was never offensive. He was loved by children and older people alike.

He was an interesting and effective preacher. Attendance at the services increased during his pastorates particularly at the night services and prayer meetings. For many years he served with distinction on some of the important boards and commissions of the Conference.

This can be but a brief statement of the splendid record of Clyde McKinney, a noble soul and faithful servant of God and the Church.

"Servant of God, well done!

Thy glorious warfare's past;
The battle's fought, the race is won,
And thou art crowned at last."

GARLAND R. STAFFORD

WILLIAM JOHN PLINT

February 10, 1872-March 12, 1957

William John Plint was born in New York City, February 10, 1872. He was promoted into the realm of the immortals March 12, 1957. He prepared himself for the teaching and preaching ministry at Guilford College Academy, Pennington Seminary and New York University.

He came to the Southland as a teacher in the home missionary work at Graham Collegiate Institute at Marshallburg, North Carolina, in 1903. He entered the Atlantic Mission Conference at Marshallburg, then Harkers Island, and served at Morehead City, 1909-10. The conference name was then changed to the Blue Ridge Atlantic Conference as the two conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church merged.

In 1911 he served at Portsmouth, Virginia. In 1912 he came to Morris Chapel, Walkertown. In 1913-14 he served as pastor and teacher of Mitchell Home, now Pfeiffer College. In 1915 he was assigned to Harmony and in 1916 went to Morehead City for the second time, remaining four years. Beginning in 1924 he served as superintendent of the Washington District. Later he served as superintendent of the Statesville District and was a member of the historical Uniting Conference in Kansas City in 1939, where the three branches of Methodism were merged. He retired from the active ministry in 1943 and lived in Winston-Salem until his death.

We remember him as a servant of God and His Church, living a life of gracious usefulness and quiet steadfast service. The blessed influence of such a Christian ministry stretches far beyond our realization. In his long service among his churches he truly ran with faith and patience the course that was set before him and made it his aim both to please God and to serve, encourage and strengthen his people whenever and wherever the opportunity presented itself.

Here was a life that was rich in the truest sense, rich in the service of Christ and rich toward God. We recall, then, in grateful remembrance of this life now ended and as sharers of the sure and certain faith that our friend also possessed. We, too, are of good courage, knowing, as he knew, that when the tabernacle of this body is destroyed, we have a house of God, not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

The Lord of the servants committed unto each of them a certain number of talents according to their several abilities. Now we honor one who was a faithful steward of all that God committed unto him and who has now rendered faithful account to his God.

Rest from thy loved employ.

The battle fought, the victory won.

Enter thy Master’s joy.

The pains of death are past,

Labor and sorrow cease,

And Life’s long warfare closed at last,

Thy soul is found in peace.

Servant of God, well done!

Thy glorious warfare’s past;

The battle’s fought, the race is won,

And thou are crowned at last.”

His tired body was laid to rest in the cemetery of Morris Chapel Church, Walkertown, where he had so effectively served.

WILLIAM LEE SCOTT

August 12, 1884-October 19, 1956

William Lee Scott was born in the Mill Creek Community of Ashe County, August 12, 1884, the youngest of eight children born to Luther Rice and Emiline Houck Scott. Eleven months after William Lee's birth his father died leaving the wife and all eight children as survivors. Although the burden which now fell on her was heavy, through her natural gifts, experience, religious faith and heritage, the widow was prepared for hardship and difficulty. Fortunately, the community of which she and her children were a part experienced a social, moral and spiritual togetherness rarely found; each member of this community was accepted, wanted and loved.

In 1893 he joined Bethany Methodist Church and three years later became a charter member of Zion Methodist Church, a new organization near his home. Before he reached his teens he was praying in public and during family worship; at sixteen he was teaching a large adult class in Zion's Sunday School.

The year 1903 was, for him, a year of decision. During this year he taught his first school and became a student in the newly established Appalachian Training School at Boone. He was the first student to register for admission into the new school. Fifty years later Appalachian Teacher's Training College paid tribute to its first student, W. L. Scott. From 1903 to his graduation in 1908, the pattern of 1903 was followed. Of these years, the Honorable Ira T. Johnston, Attorney, of Jefferson, gives a most interesting insight. Mr. Johnston writes, "It was due to his influence that I, a boy in his early teens, went with him to Boone determined to get an education. I was one of eight young people whom he took to Appalachian, at the end of a term of school he taught in our community; from which no one had gone to high school before." This sort of thing happened wherever he taught; especially was this true in his home community.

He was a student at Trinity College from 1908 until his graduation in June 1912. He worked his way through college and at the same time made good grades. From his earliest childhood he had known toil and struggle.

The year following his graduation he taught the home school; he planned and largely, with his money and hands, built for his home congregation their first house of worship. This gave him as much satisfaction as when, years later, he built the beautiful church at Rutherford College.

In the fall of 1913 he became principal of the new conference-owned Jefferson School. He held this position until his resignation nine years later. His work in this school was outstanding. Many persons, competent to judge, have expressed the belief that W. L. Scott rendered his county the greatest service of any person living or dead.

He was called to preach July 29, 1911, and was admitted on trial into the Western North Carolina Conference at Gastonia, November 1916. In 1922 he was appointed to the Ramseur-Franklinville Charge. His other appointments were Mt. Pleasant, Rutherford College, Mount Holly, Belwood, Davidson Circuit, Bostic, Polkville, Ann Street in Concord, and Sharon. Brother Scott was a true gospel preacher. Although he was unashamedly emotional, he was neither piestic nor sentimental. He knew no party or faction and subscribed to no isms. He got along well with all denominations. Wherever he served, his presence and influence lifted the ideals and strengthened the community life. People loved him; this is shown in the fact that nearly half of his ministry was in Cleveland County.

At the 1952 Annual Conference he was granted the retired relation. Following retirement he built, on Route 3, Greensboro, with his own hands, a nice house. It was here that his work was finished.

On July 26, 1916, he was married to Miss Bertha Stanbury, sister of the late Dr. Walter A. Stanbury. Love made and love held together this marriage to the end. Six children came to bless their home, two sons, William Lee, Jr., James Allen, and four daughters, Mrs. Charles E. Armfield, Mrs. John A. Clark, Mrs. Ernest H. Jones, and Mrs. James R. Whisnant. All of the children are intelligent, educated, upright and useful. The Scott's home always attracted many visitors; even after retirement people, including his bishop, continued to come to see them.

He died at Memorial Hospital, High Point, October 19, 1956. Funeral service was held at the Jamestown Church, Sunday afternoon, October 21. E. C. Few, District Superintendent, was assisted in the service by Clark Benson, pastor, and W. B. West, former pastor. Interment was in the cemetery of Deep River Friends Church near High Point.

More than forty-seven years ago I became his pastor. He graciously accepted me as his pastor, and this relationship continued unto the end of his life. He gave me his respect and friendship to an extent few others have. We were helpful to each other. He was man strong in body and manly in appearance. He liked for his friends to call him "Bill." He loved beautiful things, especially flowers and his beloved mountains. He honored and loved all good people. In all human relations he was open and guileless. His faults provoked no one to anger and little hurt his Christian witness. He loved people. He adored God.

He could say with William Jennings Bryan:

"Before thy heavenly altars, heavenly truth,
I kneel in manhood, as I knelt in youth
Thus let me kneel till this dull form decay,
And life's last shade be brightened by Thy ray."

P. L. SHORE, SR.

PAUL WILBURN TUCKER

November 13, 1873-March 21, 1957

How can one find words to express the quality of the relationship between parent and child, or express in mere words the deeper meanings of an abiding friendship? How can one find words to express the essence of love, except in terms of symbols which are often poor vehicles? But this is the miracle of a good life lived and expressed in human form. I can say without hesitation that Paul Wilburn Tucker influenced my life more than any other. He was more than a fellow-minister; he has been my spiritual father. He was the beloved pastor of my grandparents and my mother. He conducted the funeral of my father when I was a lad of only seven. Through the years of my early ministry, he gave me more encouragement than any living person, except my mother, and down through the years he has been my greatest inspiration and my most dependable source of counsel and guidance.

Paul Wilburn Tucker was born in Cabarrus County near Mt. Pleasant, North Carolina, November 13, 1873, and died at his home in Marion, March 21, 1957. He was the son of Madison Monroe Tucker and Juliann Catherine Smith Tucker. He was married to Effie Mae Misenheimer, August 4, 1901, and she was his co-worker in the ministry until her death on April 11, 1946.

He was educated at old Carolina College at Mt. Pleasant and Trinity College, now Duke University. He joined the Western North Carolina Conference in Gastonia, November 1901, and was admitted into full connection in 1903. He retired in 1942, but served Bradley Memorial for another year, making an active ministry of forty-two years. Almost half of these years were spent in his home district.

The charges he served were: Salem Station; Salisbury Circuit, Albemarle Circuit; Kannapolis; South Main Street, Salisbury; First Church, Newton; First Church, Lenoir; Waynesville District; First Church, Morganton; First Church, Lincolnton; Marion District; First Church, Marion; First Church, Elkin; and Bradley Memorial, Gastonia. Wherever he served, it was a ministry of devotion to all the causes of the church, but his main concern was for the youth and in helping those who were down and out to regain their rightful place. He hated sin but loved the sinner devotedly. He never amassed a fortune, but he was rich in the help he gave to young people in college and to those in need.

He was a true friend to all classes and kinds of people. He never felt himself above, nor held himself aloof from the masses. Literally, he took all people into his arms of understanding concern and asked only "What can I do to help?" He never asked anything in return. He took on the qualities of the Master here.

He was a man of deep conviction of what was right and wrong. This meant that he developed a keen sense of justice. Nothing stirred him more thoroughly than when he felt someone had been treated unjustly or a cause close to his heart had been misrepresented. This meant, too, that he developed rock-like qualities of character, for whether one is building cathedrals or Christian character, deep convictions are necessary.

He was a man of deep Christian piety in the finest sense of the word. He had an intellectual honesty which always found expression in his preaching. He was a first-rate Bible student and was what we could classify as a "Biblical" and "Doctrinal" preacher. Up until the very end he continued to study the Bible. The last time I saw him he was excited over the fact that he was reading the Bible through again.

The tenderest and most beautiful expressions of his life and ministry were expressed when people were in deep sorrow or trouble and in the home with his family. I have never known a more devoted husband and father. It was this quality which made me feel more like his son than the son of my real father, whom I lost so early.

He loved people of all ages. He loved the beautiful things of life. He was a genius at producing beautiful flowers and beautiful friendships. He loved his family. He loved God and the church and gave his long and effective life to them. Someone has put in verse what partially but beautifully expresses his creed:

"To make the pathway smooth
Where other's feet may tread
Pluck off the crown of thorns
Lay roses in their stead
To dry the falling tear
Bind up the wounds that bleed
To serve my fellowman
With Joy—this is my creed!"

It was indeed a benediction to come into his home where love was the essence. It was a rare privilege to have shared his great spirit through the years and to have caught something of his devotion to everything which blessed people and advanced the kingdom of his Lord to whom he had given his total allegiance early in life.

Paul Wilburn Tucker is not dead! He has only gone to another room in the Father's house. He has only departed from a human frame which was never robust, and which was never as vigorous as his active mind and spirit. We do not have to wonder where he is, nor what are his continuing concerns. He was too intimately associated with the Father ever to be separated from Him. He was too totally committed to the work of the kingdom ever to cease from activity in it.

PRE-CONFERENCE SESSION

The annual meeting of the Western North Carolina Historical Society met in the George R. Stuart Auditorium, Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, on Wednesday, June 4, 1958 at 7:30 p.m. Bishop Nolan B. Harmon turned the gavel over to G. W. Bumgarner, president. Following a period of congregational singing led by Russell T. Montfort, J. W. Braxton offered the prayer. J. W. Lasley received several articles of historical value and interest to be placed in the conference archives. The following resolutions were presented and adopted:

RESOLVED THAT the Western North Carolina Annual Conference Historical Society establish an Archives for the purpose of preserving items of historical value and interest and especially items of value and interest to our own Conference.

FURTHERMORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT we make the Methodist Historical Society Building at Lake Junaluska the location of the Archives, except that items of particular interest to the former Methodist Protestant Church shall be deposited in the library of High Point College.

JOSEPH W. LASLEY

RESOLVED THAT the officers of the Western North Carolina Annual Conference Historical Society shall hereafter be elected on a quadrennial basis and that the present officers remain in office for the remainder of the present quadrennium.

JAMES C. STOKES

Following the singing of Hymn 256 "Faith of Our Fathers," the Historical Address, "Historic Relations of North and South Carolina Methodism," was given by Dr. Albert D. Betts. The closing hymn was 381, "The Church's One Foundation," and the benediction was given by E. R. Haire. The address follows:

HISTORICAL RELATIONS OF NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA METHODISM

When invited to prepare this paper it was suggested that it deal with the contribution of the South Carolina Conference to North Carolina, but already I knew that North Carolina had made a very great contribution to South Carolina Methodism. Hence we will note that the service went both ways.

You will recall that until 1870 a considerable part of North Carolina was in the South Carolina Conference. So our calendar limits are 1785 through 1870. The accompanying map of North Carolina shows how Methodism in this state was divided between the Virginia, the South Carolina and the Holston Conferences.

This paper will avoid duplicating most of the early history of our Church in this state which has been so well presented in former addresses to you. We will endeavor to give supplementary facts and side-lights. Our major topics will be:

- (1) The Asbury Era.
- (2) Camp-meeting Story.
- (3) Expanding Methodism: Missionary Emphasis.
- (4) Educational Advance.
- (5) The Confederate War and After.

I. The Asbury Era

The First General Conference (Christmas, 1784) in Baltimore organized the METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH and chose Thomas Coke and Francis Asbury as General Superintendents, later called Bishops. No provisions were made for another General Conference, but necessity required the calling of another in 1792. Since then they have met every four years.

Bishop Francis Asbury (1745-1816) began his first episcopal tour southward in January 1785. Through North Carolina he (and three other Methodist preachers: Jesse Lee, Henry Willis, and Woolman Hickson), entered South Carolina. They organized at Georgetown with Hickson as preacher in charge and in Charleston leaving Henry Willis in charge; this was in February.

Asbury and Lee returned through Georgetown and Wilmington, N. C. exploring new territory and came finally in mid-April to Rev. Green Hill's home a mile from Louisburg in Franklin County. Here on April 20 Bishop Asbury held his first "annual" conference and the first in the newly formed Methodist Episcopal Church.

For several years he met with the traveling preachers in various sections of the country which was considered as one Conference. Then the trend toward our present set-up began, as Dr. Albert M. Shipp says in his Methodism in South Carolina (page 587).

In the Discipline of 1792 the annual conferences are called "District Conferences" there being one held for every presiding elder's district. In 1796 the name was changed to "Yearly Conference," and in 1816 to "Annual Conference."

The number of these sectional conferences grew to 20. So Asbury grouped all the appointments into six conferences beginning with 1795. This soon proved to be much more effective for the administration of the Church's program. In this grouping the state of North Carolina was divided between the Virginia and the South Carolina Conference.

Now we will consider only "annual" conferences held in the Carolinas. In 1786 Salisbury was the place where the Bishop met his preachers. Their horses were sent out into the nearby farms to be cared for. The 1787 Conference met in March in Charleston, S. C. and from that session Methodists of South Carolina number their annual sessions, and an unbroken series of sessions have followed, except that occasionally two annual sessions fell within the same calendar year.

The 1789 conference met at McKnight's on April 10. This was near Clemmonsville in Forsyth County. The 1790 and 1791 sessions met here also. The 1792 conference met at Green Hill's on January 19 and the next session on December 12 of the same year, which was the last held in North Carolina in the 18th century.

After twelve years in which no annual conference had been held in this state, the Virginia Conference met in 1805 in Caswell County at Col. Edmund Taylor's. In 1807 it came to New Bern, in 1809 to Tarboro, and in 1811 to Raleigh. It came back to New Bern in 1813 and to Raleigh in 1816.

Bishop Asbury began naming the presiding elders' districts in 1801. South Carolina Conference had two districts: Georgia and the South Carolina., which latter included several circuits in North Carolina. In 1804 the Swanino (Swannanoa) District appears: Swanino, Morganton, Union and Saluda (in S. C.) circuits. The next year Lincolnton and Catawba circuits were added. Camden (S.C.) District had Anson, Bladen and Wilmington circuits.

In 1807 the South Carolina Conference met in Fayetteville, N. C. (listed in the Camden S. C. District). As far back as 1788 Bishop Asbury had visited Fayetteville but seems not to have preached there. Early in the 1800's a free Negro named Henry Evans, a shoe-maker, settled at Fayetteville. He had been licensed to preach at Doub's Chapel in Stokes County. Soon he began to preach to his own people, and then some white folk joined the Church too. Bladen circuit then included this as one of its local churches. So when the South Carolina Conference came, Fayetteville was set-up as a separate circuit, and Thomas Mason, a native of North Carolina, was appointed as preacher in charge for 1808. (Life of Wm. Capers, pages 125-29).

The Wilmington story as told by William Capers:

This house (parsonage), the church (a coarse wooden structure of some 60 ft. by 40 ft.), the lots they stood on, and several adjoining lots, rented to free Negroes, had belonged to Mr. Meredith, and had been procured for the most part by means of penny collections among the Negroes, who almost exclusively had composed his congregation.

He, William Meredith, had been a Wesleyan preacher to the Negroes of one of the West India islands, I think, Jamaica or St. Kitt's. After Mr. Hammett came over to Charleston . . . he induced Mr. Meredith to come over also and join him. . . . But he was not long satisfied with Mr. Hammett, . . . so parting with Mr. Hammett, he came to Wilmington, and began preaching to the Negroes. . . . After several years he ventured to build a meeting-house, but it was burned to the ground. At last, however, Mr. Meredith gained the public confidence, and at his death willed in fee simple to Bishop Asbury a second meeting-house on the site of the first, the parsonage and the lands belonging to them: all of which of course the Bishop turned over to the Church, along with property acquired came the congregation and the communicant members. (Life of Capers, pages 161-3).

In his Journal, Bishop Asbury records several visits to Jackson's in Anson County. Through the kindness of Mr. Tom Little of Wadesboro, I read a MSS written by W. K.

Boggan on the history of Methodism in Anson County. In this we learn that Col. Isaac Jackson was the Bishop's host, and that he lived 14 miles east of Wadesboro near Ingram's Level, which was the site of Anson's first court-house beside the Pee Dee River.

He also has a note concerning Rev. Henry Ledbetter, one of the early pastors (1787):

Henry Ledbetter (1769-1852) was a Virginian, but entered the itinerancy from Randall's Church, which is a few miles from Norwood in Stanly County. He lived in Montgomery County for some time, and later in Anson County where he died. He was married three times and left 13 children. Many in Anson, Richmond and other counties are direct descendants.

Rev. Samuel Edney (1768-1844) was a native of Pasquotank County. Admitted into the S. C. Conference in 1790, he served several circuits down state, and then was sent up to Swanannoa circuit. Here he met and married Eleanor Mills, daughter of William Mills, for whom Mills River is named.

Brother Edney located from the itinerancy and lived at Edneyville, 9 miles northeast of Hendersonville. He prospered materially and spiritually and became a local leader. (See his memoir in South Carolina Advocate of October 18, 1844). Bishop Asbury visited him several times.

Wadesboro church was organized by the "Little Dutchman, Rev. John Schrock with sixty members." The minutes show that Schrock was one of the preachers on the Rocky River circuit in 1812 (Anson County was included in that circuit then). So Wadesboro's date is 1812.

On December 1, 1810, Bishop Asbury came southward across the mountains near to the present site of Lake Junaluska and about 9 p.m. sought lodging at Father Shook's home in the neighborhood that is now Clyde, N. C. The house still stands, though evidently remodeled and somewhat modernized. (This is about 6 miles from the Lake toward Canton).

Father Shook was an old man, industrious and thrifty, and had become about the most well-to-do citizen in the community and highly respected, but he had an ungovernable temper. Rev. Anthony Senter, a very able man and a strict disciplinarian, came as one of the preachers on that circuit in 1812. He turned Father Shook out of the Church for swearing. It happened thus: Father Shook hated debt like sin. He paid cash in business and owed no one. His children had grown up and left him, except John who remained and ran the farm very efficiently. One day his venerable father heard that John had bought a cloak on credit. His anger rising, he rushed out to the field where John was plowing, and shouted:

"John, I'se a coming, and the Devil is in me. Run John, run John." John's experience had long since taught him to run when Father Shook was angry, and find out later what the trouble was. So he ran so fast and far that his father could not catch him. The old gentleman's anger expended itself in swearing.

Two years later Rev. Nicholas Talley was the preacher, and he sought to query Father Shook about his spiritual welfare. Father Shook said:

"I love God and His Book, I pray in private and with my family, and seek to serve God."

Brother Talley: "But, Father Shook, do you not swear sometimes?"

"O mine Brudder, my pot does bile, and it does bile over, and when it does bile over, I does swear sometimes."

In these Asbury days other native North Carolinians should be mentioned: Nathan Jarrett was one who travelled four circuits but who died in Virginia. On his death bed he sang:

Arise, and shine, O Zion fair,
Behold thy light is come.
The glorious conquering King is nigh,
To take his exiles home.

Reuben Ellis spent 20 years in the itinerancy, including two circuits in this state. It was written of him: "It is doubtful whether there is one left in all the connection, higher, if equal in standing, piety and usefulness."

William Ormond's life was tersely stated:

Born December 22, 1760 (near Kinston).

Convicted of sin: December 10, 1787.

Converted: December 11, 1787.

Sanctified: March 20, 1790.

Died: October 30, 1803 (12 years an itinerant).

Natives of North Carolina who represented our Conference in the General Conference in this period were: Josias Randall (1804 and 1808), Britton Capel (1808), Lovick Pierce (1812), Anthony Senter (1816), John Gamewell (1808), Samuel Mills (1808), William M. Kennedy (1812), Thomas Mason (1816).

With the translation of Bishop Asbury in March 1816 only one bishop was left to lead the Methodist hosts: William McKendree, who was elected eight years earlier.

II. The Camp-Meeting Story

While this movement arose in Asbury's day and had his hearty approval and co-operation, yet its major achievements belong to the period following. Historians generally date the origin of the movement in 1799 in Kentucky, largely under the leadership of Rev. William McGee (a Presbyterian minister) and his younger brother Rev. John McGee (a Methodist preacher), but they had a background in their native state, and North Carolina should rightly claim the priority as the place of origin.

Dr. Albert M. Shipp in his History of Methodism in South Carolina (page 271 ff) says:

The first Methodist Church in North Carolina west of the Catawba River was built in Lincoln County and was called Rehoboth (1791) . . . In 1794 leading male members of the church consulted together and agreed to hold a Camp-meeting in this forest for a number of days and nights. . . . It was conducted by Daniel Asbury, William McKendree, Nicholas Watters, and William Fulwood, who were efficiently aided by Dr. James Hall, a celebrated pioneer preacher among the Presbyterians in Iredell County.

Several other camp-meetings were held in this section, and the McGee brothers caught the idea and spirit of the movement before migrating to Tennessee and Kentucky. Dr. Charles A. Johnson, Southern Methodist University, in his recent book, The Frontier Camp-meeting (pages 30 ff), admits the Lincoln circuit priority, and follows the McGee brothers to their Tennessee and Kentucky ministry. He calls special attention to Rev. James McGready, also a leader in the movement there. He was a Presbyterian minister of Scotch-Irish parentage who became a fiery evangelist in Orange County, N. C., and then moved into southern Kentucky in the Logan County section on the Red, Gasper, and Muddy Rivers. "McGready preached a modified form of Calvinism. He continually dwelt on the necessity of the new birth—a conscious spiritual experience at a definite time and place."

Our first Methodist historian, Rev. Jesse Lee, devoted co-laborer with Bishop Asbury, wrote of the forest revivals that grew spontaneously into camp-meetings, produced through "necessity and without design." Some large circuits established a camp-ground, and often a group of adjacent circuits would unite in such a project with fine effect. The presiding elder was usually in charge, assisted by the local and visiting circuit-riders and local preachers.

It is singular that the camp-meeting never was incorporated into Methodist law as laid out in the Discipline, yet it became primarily a Methodist institution. The case may be stated as follows:

In the beginning camp-meetings were largely interdenominational through the co-operation of evangelical churches, especially, Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist. But Presbyterians began to shy away from these because of the seeming lack of order, for Methodist preachers and people were very demonstrative. The Baptists at that time were largely dominated by the primitive Baptist opposition to missions and education, together with their insistence on immersion as the only mode of baptism and consequent close communion. So they naturally did not feel quite at home in a union meeting in which theological views and Church practices would more or less clash. Among a number of individual ministers and people of other denominations such differences were not barriers to this larger Christian fellowship. Many of them made fine contributions to even official Methodist camp-meetings.

The camp-meeting became a characteristically Methodist institution for a larger reason: Our type of close-knit organization and missionary expansion, zeal promoted by the traveling ministry could and did press this effort more effectively than was possible under either Baptist or Presbyterian polity." (Betts: History of S. C. Methodist, page 161).

Here we are chiefly concerned with the camp-meetings in this southern and western part of North Carolina. Dr. W. L. Grissom has a whole chapter on this subject, most of it dealing with the North Carolina scene. (History of Methodism in North Carolina, Chapter 20, pages 328-345). These encampments were "attended by immense multitudes of people, and were productive of a vast amount of good. In those early times the people assembled for purposes of worship, and seemed to be wholly absorbed in the exercises of the occasion. All seemed to be devoted to preaching, singing and prayer."

Dr. Grissom continues:

The encampments were lighted at night with pine torches here and there in the grove, while the stars looked down from above the trees. All night the groans of the penitent agonizing for pardon, and the shouts of the saints could be heard. These were happy seasons and such hallowed scenes belonged only to the early history of Methodism.

Previous to the Confederate War there were many reports of the camp-meetings in North Carolina recorded in the Southern Christian Advocate. Rock Spring in Lincoln County was the largest one listed: 400 tents and 12,000 to 15,000 people in attendance. Some of the other camp-meetings in this part of North Carolina were: Zion in Montgomery County, near Mt. Gilead, Town Creek near Wilmington, Spedsboro near Rockingham, Snow Hill in Iredell County, Triumphet Branch, Pleasant Grove and Lincolnton, and Big Spring near Charlotte.

The camp-meeting period on the camp-ground was considered a continuous service, and so the benediction was not pronounced at the close of the several daily gatherings for worship but only at the close of the camp-meeting. Hence any disturbance at any time on the camp-ground was considered an interference with orderly religious worship and service. Consequently, the law of the land took a hand in dealing with lawless groups.

This fine fellowship of Christian people created an atmosphere in which spiritual themes and efforts were paramount. Distractions of a worldly sort were at a minimum.

Rev. Daniel Asbury (1762-1825) was a native of Virginia but his ministry was in the Carolinas. He settled in the eastern part of Lincoln County and married Miss Nancy L. Morris. He was the pioneer in the camp-meeting movement, preacher in charge of Lincolnton circuit, and then presiding elder of Swanino and Catawba districts, and later of the Camden (S. C.) district which included several circuits in this state. He was a member of the General Conference 1808 through 1820.

Another pioneer leader was Rev. James Jenkins, often called "Bawling Jimmy" due to his powerful voice. Back in 1802 he was presiding elder serving circuits in both states. He won two young men of North Carolina to the Lord Jesus Christ who rendered great service: Reddick and Lovick Pierce. Dr. Lovick Pierce was the father of Bishop George F. Pierce of Georgia. Brother Lovick Pierce, who now heads our vast Methodist Publishing House, is a name sake and direct descendant.

After the Confederate War the camp-meeting movement was revived, and it was very helpful to our Methodism here in the Southland in both promoting effective evangelism and also in re-organizing the shattered Church and its buildings. This gave to Methodism a real advantage as it had done throughout the earlier part of the 19th century. Mass evangelism has never been more successful than in the Methodist camp-meetings.

A very important feature of the Camp-meetings was the congregational singing. The outburst of song has characterized every revival of the Christian religion. Men and women lightened their burdened toil back home with these glorious songs and hymns. Some of the tunes grew up spontaneously among the throngs who gathered, notably the "Amazing Grace" tune. Tune writers simply wrote down the inspired tune that arose out of the hearts and lips of the people.

III. Expanding Methodism: Missionary Emphasis

The passing of Bishop Francis Asbury in March 1816 was a great loss, but God is watching over His own, and the circuit riders ceased not to carry the glad tidings of salvation through Christ. It was just fifty years after Methodist beginnings in America at Sam's Creek meeting-house in Maryland and in the rigging loft in New York City (1866), and forty-five years after Asbury's arrival on these shores. Our Church was meeting the nation's spiritual needs to an amazing degree. Its growth is revealed in the statistics in 1816: a total of 211,165 members and grouped now in nine annual conferences. South Carolina with 37,767 members was the largest. Philadelphia was next with 32,000 members.

At this time eleven circuits of North Carolina were a part of this most southern conference. They listed 5,260 white members and 1,963 blacks, or a total of 7,223 members.

About five weeks after Asbury's translation, the 1816 General Conference met in Baltimore under the able leadership of Bishop William McKendree (1757-1835), a native of Virginia. For eight years he had been in the episcopal office and was well acquainted with the Church at large, but the task and territory were now too large for one man to handle properly. So two additional bishops were elected: Enoch George (1768-1828), a Virginian, who got his start in the itinerancy under Daniel Asbury on the Lincoln circuit, and Robert Richford Roberts (1778-1843) a native of Maryland then residing in Pennsylvania. Under these worthy leaders the Methodist movement did not slacken.

Of course new problems were arising and some old problems were becoming more acute, but consecrated wisdom under the guidance of the Holy Spirit finds the way forward and to new achievements.

The Methodist circuit rider's task took him far afield and on a very small salary. Marriage and a normal life were well-nigh impossible. The marriage of young preachers was strongly discouraged, but no vow of celibacy was required. Many of them found lovely wives, and usually had to "locate" and settle down to farm or in some other vocation; however, a few were able to acquire a farm and place their families on same, and continue to itinerate. Rev. Thomas Shaw secured a farm in Union County, N. C., and settled his family there. Thomas Humphries and James Jenkins did the same in South Carolina, and both of these brethren worked much in North Carolina. Bishop Asbury tried to adjust the appointments so as to keep the services of the most capable leaders.

The parsonage movement came very slowly in Methodism. One of the first was in Wilmington. Preachers' salaries of $100 or less per year did not encourage assuming family responsibilities, but when parsonages did come, it proved a blessing and was a much needed aid to the ministry. No influence for good in a community is greater than a fine Christian home and family life. The wives and mothers of our parsonage homes wield an influence of blessing that can never be fully measured. We are told that 11% of the leaders listed in "Who's Who in America" are products of Protestant parsonages.

The most significant step of the third and fourth decades of the 19th century was the organized missionary movement for service both at home and abroad. The Missionary Society appeared in New York in 1819 and was adopted by the 1820 General Conference. Dr. William Capers (later Bishop) was the moving spirit in the missions to the slaves and to the Indians in the South.

As the statistics reveal, Methodism had not been neglectful of the Negroes and had gathered many into the membership of the churches, but the development of the rice and cotton plantations in the coastal lowlands led to the settlement of thousands of slaves there often far removed from the white communities. The overseers were the only contacts they had with the white race. Most of these Negroes had no church within reach, so our leaders became concerned for their moral and spiritual welfare. As the plantation owners realized the value of this service, they often made liberal contributions for the support of our preachers sent to the slave mission field, a work in which many of our finest young men were happy to serve.

In 1848 our Methodist Episcopal Church, South, began its foreign mission enterprise by sending Dr. Charles Taylor and Dr. Benjamin Jenkins from our South Carolina Conference to China. All this stimulated the missionary interest at home. North Carolina shared liberally in this. In 1849 the South Carolina Conference raised $16,535.66 for missions. Of this our section of North Carolina gave $2,980.15, or nearly one-fifth.

Asheville District appeared in the Holston Conference in 1827, and it included all of our circuits west of Rutherford County.

The 1828 General Conference gave permission for the formation of the Georgia Conference, for 40,000 of our 65,000 members were in Georgia and Florida. Hence the Georgia Conference was set off in 1830.

The North Carolina Conference was formed in 1837. Leaders in it soon began asking that the Wilmington and Fayetteville sections be shifted from the South Carolina Conference to them. This the General Conference of 1850 did; eight charges (circuits and stations) were involved. This added 6,955 members (3,327 white, and 3,628 black) to the North Carolina Conference.

From 1820 to 1870 several North Carolina leaders were elected as delegates to three or more General Conferences: Malcolm McPherson, Hartwell Spain, Charles Betts, Albert M. Shipp, James Stacy, and W. A. McSwain.

Years ago a bit of hand-written MSS came into my hands, which records the recollections of Rev. David Derrick who was a preacher on an important North Carolina circuit, Center circuit. He states that Methodist preaching began at Concord, N. C., in 1833. The circuit plan for 1834 included Concord as a preaching place. Rev. P. G. Bowman organized the Concord church in 1836 with 7 members. In 1837 Revs. David Derrick and Abel Hoyle secured a lot in Concord. The year following (1838) Rev. Peyton G. Bowman was back as pastor, built the church, and held a revival meeting that brought 70 members into the church.

The Mt. Pleasant story is that in 1834 Rev. David Derrick went to that community against the advice of some who feared trouble there and began preaching. He was aided by General Barringer and his clerk, Col. Shippack. Barringer was converted and closed the distillery which was a part of his extensive business interests. "General Barringer was a fine looking man, large steady frame, quick in thought, quick spoken, a perfect gentleman, a man of mark, a Lutheran, but always a friend of Methodists."

William Barringer was converted in a camp-meeting near Concord in 1840. He joined the South Carolina Conference, rose to great leadership, and in 1850 was shifted into the North Carolina Conference as presiding elder of the Wilmington District. On November 19, 1850, he was married to Miss Lavinia Alston, Dr. Albert M. Shipp officiating.

Another able minister who was a native of North Carolina was Rev. George W. Ivey. His son the late Dr. Thos. N. Ivey was editor of the Nashville (Tenn.) Christian Advocate, and was born while his father was pastor at Marion, S. C. Among his other children two became great leaders in the business world and most useful laymen: J. B. Ivey of Charlotte and George F. Ivey of Hickory, N. C. These two produced autobiographies of great interest.

Dr. John W. North entered the Conference in 1850. He rose steadily in a career of large usefulness, noted as a close student of the Scriptures and forceful expounder of same.

We must note the Temperance emphasis in which Methodists were leaders in the mid-century decades by precept and example. General Barringer went forth to speak for the cause on many occasions. Rev. Nicholas Talley tells in the S. C. Advocate of Rev. Samuel Edney (located and prosperous through industry and thrift) in Henderson County. One summer he had a large crop of peaches but no way to market them. He planned to make them into brandy for which there was a considerable market. As he took the hogshead up to the orchard his conscience troubled him. Suddenly a gale of wind made him seek shelter in the hogshead, and it started to roll down the mountain-side. Then fearing death would result he vowed to God to give up the brandy project. Providentially, the hogshead met an obstruction which kept him from being dashed to serious injury or death. Thereafter Brother Edney was true to his temperance principles.

IV. Educational Advance

In 1850 the death of Rev. Benjamin Wofford left $100,000 to build a college in Spartanburg, S. C. The college was to train young men, but there arose a widespread desire to erect one or more colleges for young women.

North Carolina set the pace by establishing Carolina Female College at Ansonville, 10 miles north of Wadesboro. It began to operate in 1852 with Rev. Tracy R. Walsh as president. He served here until 1860 and made the institution a blessing to young women of two states. The educational report of the S. C. Conference in 1855 says:

The Carolina Female College has during the present term between 70 and 80 pupils, with encouraging prospects of a brilliant future. Located in an important and wealthy portion of the Conference district, with a full and accomplished faculty of instruction . . . your committee feels under special obligation to press the claims . . . and active endeavors to increase its patronage.

The financial slump of 1857 was felt keenly, and Rev. S. H. Browne was appointed agent to build up the college's finances. War in 1861 forced a closing of the College for a time, and Rev. W. C. Power raised $8,000 paying off half of the debt and more the following year.

This college was re-opened in 1866 with Rev. J. A. Mood as professor and chaplain. Mr. J. E. Blankenship, a layman, was made president in 1868 and further progress was made. In 1870 it was taken over by the North Carolina Conference. Rev. T. R. Walsh became pastor at Bennettsville, S. C., and died in 1867.

In 1855 a college for women was projected in Lenoir, Caldwell County, N. C. The leader in this enterprise was Col. William Davenport, and he gave liberally to it of his means. Davenport College opened in 1858 with Rev. Henry M. Mood as president. He held this position until he became president of Columbia Female College. He was succeeded by Rev. R. N. Price of the Holston Conference, who remained only one year. Rev. A. G. Stacy was president in 1864-65 and Rev. J. R. Griffith in 1868. Rev. Samuel Lander was president 1867-1870.

In 1860 the death of Col. Davenport, aged 90, was a great loss to the college and the community. The report to the S. C. Conference in 1860 says:

We have not been unmindful of the great design in the establishment of this College, "To spread sanctified learning over these lands." . . . As we have witnessed the results of our labors, we have thanked God and taken courage.

In 1859 Rev. Robert L. Abernathy was appointed principal of Rutherford Academy which later became Rutherford College, but it was not then an official Conference institution.

Rev. Albert Macajah Shipp (1819-1887) was a native of Stokes County, and joined the S. C. Conference in 1841, and a decade later he became a professor in the University of North Carolina, but also rose to outstanding leadership in our Conference. When Dr. W. M. Wightman resigned as first president of Wofford College to become president of Southern University in Greensboro, Ala., Dr. Shipp took his place as President of Wofford. Here he remained for 16 years. Then he was called to Vanderbilt University where he spent the remaining ten years of his active ministry. He was a noble son of North Carolina who rendered a large service.

Rev. Samuel Lander (1833-1904) was a native of Lincoln County, son of a local preacher, Rev. Samuel Lander, Sr., who came from Ireland. Leaving Davenport in 1871 he was made president of Spartanburg Female College. After one year he was appointed to Williamston, S. C., where he founded Williamston Female College, which after his death in 1904, became Lander College, and moved to Greenwood, S. C. He and his devoted wife blessed many by their lives of sacrificial devotion and culture. She was the daughter of Rev. Angus McPherson, native of North Carolina.

Another native of this state was Rev. Thomas Mason who joined the Conference in 1808 and was appointed to Fayetteville. While on the Santee circuit he wrote Bishop Asbury's message to the 1816 General Conference. At this General Conference Mason was chosen as publishing agent from which he retired in 1840. He transferred to the New York Conference.

Rev. David Derrick (1800-1883) of Lexington County, S. C., with his background of German culture and language, worked very effectively in prayer, song and preaching, some of it in North Carolina. His pen also preserved for us much local history, as seen in the S. C. Advocate.

Also, Rev. Samuel Leard (1815-1896) of Abbeville County, S. C., recorded much, including early history of Methodism in Anson County, N. C. (See S. C. Advocate of July-August 1846).

The dominant issue in church and state in the mid-century was the slavery question. Our Southern church leaders avoided the political side of the question, but worked (1) to influence slave owners to treat their servants justly and with kindness as becomes a Christian; and (2) to provide religious training and worship for them, including missionaries to the slaves on the great plantations. This labor of our fathers resulted in kindly race relations. Up to that time it was probably the greatest ingathering within so short a period in Christian history.

The Southern Christian Advocate was the weekly information organ for Methodists in our Conference and others in the southeast. Dr. William Capers was the first editor (beginning 1837), and then Dr. Wm. M. Wightman. (Both of these leaders became bishops). In 1854 Dr. E. H. Myers of Georgia became editor and served until 1872.

Our Southern General Conference, 1850, would not strike all reference to slavery in the Discipline so the South Carolina Conference issued from Charleston an edition which did. This edition is quite a collector's item now, for they are extremely scarce.

V. The Confederate War and After

This War disrupted much of the work of Methodism, and entailed a tragic loss of life and property. While a majority of our preachers realized that they were needed on the home front in the local churches, yet the needs of the soldiers in camp and on battlefield were also urgent. Some Methodist preachers left to become regular soldiers, such as James M. Cline, and Lewis A. Johnson. Through official channels came the call for chaplains, and our Conference sent the following to North Carolina regiments:

James S. Ervin to the 34th Regiment, William C. Power to the 14th Regiment, Francis Milton Kennedy to the 28th Regiment, Eugene W. Thompson to the 43rd Regiment, A. W. Wells to the 26th Regiment, and S. J. Hill to the 42nd Regiment. This is an honor roll of which we shall always be justly proud.

The 1866 General Conference provided for laymen to be members of the Annual and General Conference. Following the constitutional process giving a favorable vote, laymen came into the S. C. Conference in 1869. Of the 35 laymen the following were from North Carolina: Robert N. Broome, Charlotte; J. C. Eagle, Charlotte; Hugh A. Crawford, Wadesboro; John S. Moore, Wadesboro; P. B. Darwin, Shelby; J. W. Gidney, Shelby; J. C. Jenkins, Lincolnton; J. H. Gilkey, Rutherfordton. Of these John S. Moore was elected a delegate to the 1870 General Conference.

At the close of 1870 all territory still in the S. C. Conference was shifted into the N. C. Conference. This involved 23 circuits and stations, and 10,500 members.

Bishop Robert Paine (1799-1882) was born in Person County, but joined the Tennessee Conference. He was the first native of this state to be elevated to the episcopal office in our Methodism. He, assisted by Bishop McTyeire, presided over the organizing General Conference of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, in which our colored brethren set up their independent branch of Methodism. So Paine College, our splendid institution at Augusta, Ga., was named for him.

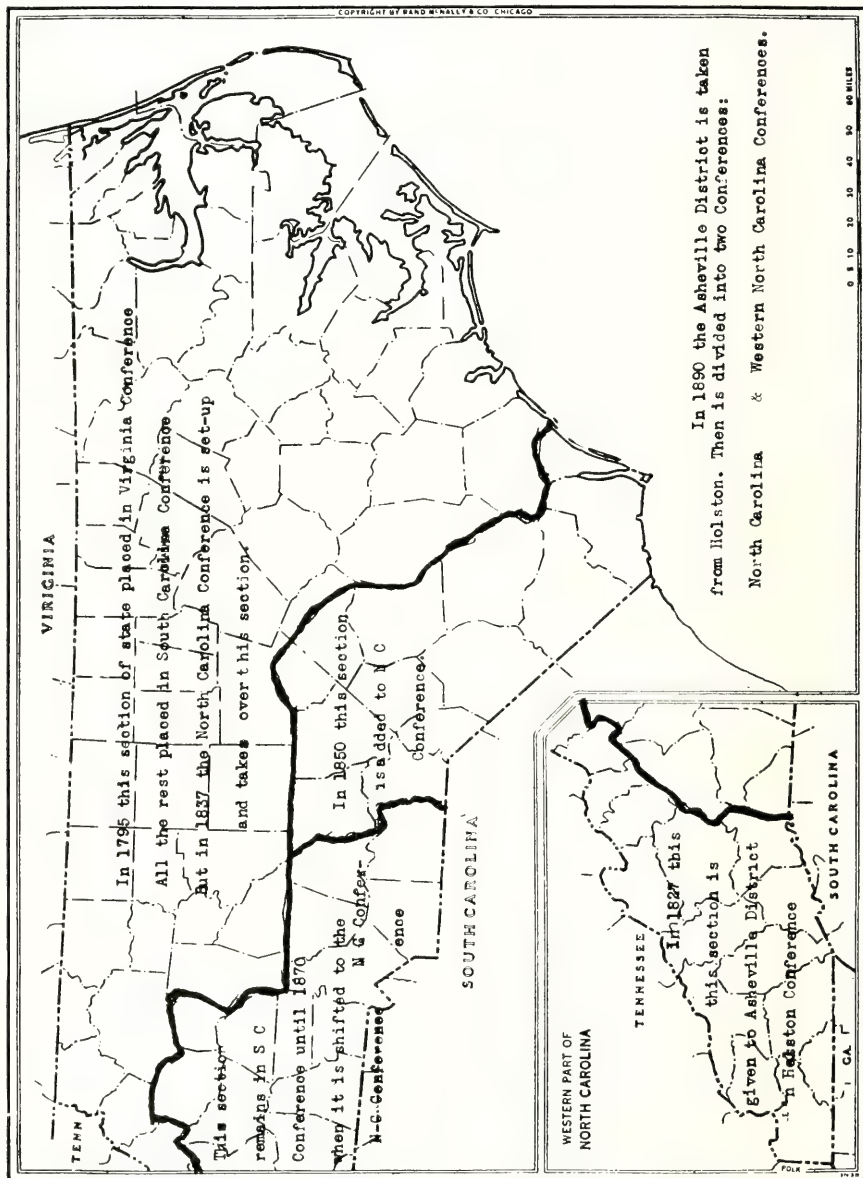

Other natives of this state to become bishops are: Oscar Penn Fitzgerald (1829-1911) of Caswell County; Costen J. Harrell (1885-) of Gates County; William Walter Peele (1881-) of Scotland County.

Central Jurisdiction: Robert Elijah Jones (1872-) Guilford County; Robert Nathaniel Brooks (1888-1953) Rutherford County.

Elected from North Carolina: James Atkins (1850-1923) born in Knoxville, Tenn.; John Carlisle Kilgo (1861-1923) born in Laurens, S. C.; Paul Neff Garber (1899-) born in New Market, Va.

Thus endth my story, but not the end of the great onward march of Methodism in North Carolina as it so effectively promotes the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ, to Whom be the glory and now and forever more!

Commission on Minimum Salary: R. G. Tuttle gave the report of the Commission on Minimum Salary. R. Dwight Ware made an amendment that the words, "up to four children", be stricken. R. G. Tuttle said he would accept the amendment, but rather have the Conference decide the question. Lee F. Dwight Ware withdrew the amendment. R. Dwight Ware said that he objected to that section in the report relative to the creation of station charges being required to have at least four hundred (400) members and pay a salary of four thousand dollars ($4,000.00). Tuttle stated that the report was not mandatory, but suggestive. Wilson Nesbitt said that the Conference should guard against too-early creation of station churches. J. G. Huggin made an amendment that the word, "must", be changed to "should", in paragraph 2. The chairman accepted the amendment. The report was adopted (see report D).

Edwin L. Jones spoke against the resolution, moving that it be referred to the Board of Education. This motion was seconded by Guy Weaver. T. A. RESOLUTION

To the 1958 Session of the Western N. C. Conference
 Purpose: To set up a Study Commission on our Ministry

WHEREAS there is acute need for an increasing number of properly trained ministers throughout the Church, the Western North Carolina Conference being no exception despite its favorable record of receptions on trial over the past ten years; and

WHEREAS the ways and means undertaken by Methodism to recruit Christian young people for full-time church work, particularly for the preaching and pastoral ministry, have not been sufficiently effective, and recognizing our human responsibility in this essentially divine process of "calling"; and

WHEREAS there needs to be a better understanding of the complex factors bearing upon the recruitment and training of our ministers; and

WHEREAS a confident and successful program must be based upon a thorough analysis of the existing situation and its implications for the future;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. A Commission be hereby instituted to study the Methodist Ministry in the Western North Carolina Conference, taking into consideration among other things the following . . .
 - a. Our recruitment needs over a projected eight to twelve year period,
 - b. The relevance of the recently stepped-up number of specialized appointments being served by our ministers,
 - c. The long-range results of using comparatively large numbers of undergraduate and seminary students to supply charges,
 - d. The effect upon ministerial recruitment of the raising of the academic standards of both supplies and candidates for full conference membership,
 - e. The financial resources desired to provide additional scholarship aid in college and seminary, or other short-time courses.
2. This Study Commission on our Ministry be composed of sixteen (16) persons as follows . . .
 - a. Three members of the Bishop's Cabinet;
 - b. Three persons at large (other than Cabinet members) chosen by the Cabinet;
 - c. Two representatives each (of their own membership and chosen by them) from the Commission on Christian Vocations, the Board of Lay Activities, and the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications;
 - d. One representative each in like manner from the Board of Education, Board of Missions, Minimum Salary Commission and the Town and Country Commission.
3. This Commission bring in its recommendations to the 1959 session of the Western North Carolina Conference, together with possible suggestions to be made memorials to the General Conference of 1960.

Respectfully submitted,

Methodist Board of Publication: On motion of Wilson O. Weldon, the report of the Methodist Board of Publication was ordered to record. (see report V).

Together: Lee F. Tuttle requested the following resolution be ordered to record without reading.

Resolution on Together

Western North Carolina Annual Conference

WHEREAS: Together, now in its second year as a truly different and outstanding church magazine, attaining levels of content, beauty, and craftsmanship never before equalled in a church paper, and

WHEREAS: Together has been publishing in its own fine way materials which are helpful to the deepening and strengthening of Christian life and the building of appreciation for the Church, thereby contributing to the enrichment of family life and the effectiveness of church life of our people who have this paper in their homes, and

WHEREAS: real growth in the circulation of Together within the boundaries of our Annual Conference has been experienced during this year, a 36 per cent gain over the preceding year, with 68 of our churches as All Family Churches, proving that Together can be successfully circulated on the All Family Plan, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED that we go on record collectively as pledging continued good effort this year to circulate Together on the All Family Plan in every charge in this Conference, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the pastors of charges in which the All Family Plan prevails and the District Superintendents pledge counsel or helpful services to their fellow ministers in whose churches the All Family Plan is yet to be achieved, to the end that such cooperation will help to put Together with its Christian message into new thousands of our Western North Carolina Conference church homes.

N. C. Council of Churches and N. C. Pastors School: On motion of Wilson O. Weldon, the reports of the N. C. Council of Churches (see report W) and the N. C. Pastors School were ordered to record. (see report X).

Re-districting of the Conference: Charles D. White presented the following report which was adopted:

Your Bishop and Cabinet, pursuant to the instruction of the 1957 session of the Annual Conference (Journal 1957, p. 79), have made a most careful and prayerful study of a way to carry out your recommendation, and we are of a unanimous opinion that the creation of an additional district at this time will be economically expensive and is not practical geographically. We therefore believe and recommend that the present number of districts be left as it is, and that further study be given to this matter.

/s/ J. G. Winkler, Secretary of the Cabinet

Conference Building: The report was presented by J. G. Huggin and adopted by the Conference:

At its 1957 session this Annual Conference adopted a report providing that an office building be erected in Statesville for the use of the employed staffs of the Boards of the Conference; and providing further that a committee, nominated by the cabinet, plan such a building and devise ways and means of paying for it.

Your Committee conferred with staff members of our Conference boards to determine their needs and recommendations with respect to size and character of the proposed office building. Through a sub-committee headed by Clifford H. Peace preliminary sketches of the building were prepared by Andrew J. Pendleton, Jr., of the firm of Designers Associates, Incorporated, of Statesville. The cost of the building as planned is estimated to be between $75,000.00 and $80,000.00.

Mr. Gordon Wilson of Statesville proposes to grant to this Conference a tract of land consisting of approximately one and three-quarter acres adjoining the Wesley Memorial Methodist Church of Statesville. Mr. Wilson further offers to sell to the Western North Carolina Conference for the sum of $2,000.00 two lots adjoining the one and three-quarter acre tract.

Your Committee recommends:

First, that the Conference accept the land offered by Mr. Wilson as a grant, and that this property be the site of the proposed office building.

Second, that the Conference purchase the additional lots offered by Mr. Wilson for the sum of $2,000.00.

Third, that an office building be erected on the Statesville property already referred to, the building to be designed following the preliminary plans approved by the Committee on Conference Building, and that the services of Andrew L. Pendleton, Jr., be employed as architect.

Fourth, that in order that property and funds might be properly received and administered, and the planning and construction of the office building might be supervised, the following be named as trustees of the Methodist Building, their terms of service to run in conformity with the disciplinary regulations of The Methodist Church: J. E. Pugh, Flake Sherrill, J. Elwood Carroll, J. Edward Stowe, G. L. Goodson, and James G. Huggin.

Fifth, that the surplus of World Service for the year 1957-1958, and subsequently until the entire cost is liquidated, be used to pay for this project, subject to the concurrence of the Commission on World Service and Finance.

Signed:

J. G. Huggin, Chairman

J. C. Stokes, Secretary

WHEREAS the W. N. C. Annual Conference Historical Society in annual meeting June 4, 1958 approved the project with certain recommendations, we therefore present the following resolution:

RESOLVED: That a biographical sketch and a photograph of each ministerial member of the Conference be printed in the year 1960; that the matter be referred to the Commission on World Service and Finance for study to provide the necessary funds; and that the Conference Secretary be given responsibility for carrying out this project.

Appreciation: R. Dwight Ware presented the following report for the Committee on Resolutions which was adopted:

For the second time in successive years our Conference has enjoyed the gracious hospitality of the Administration of the Lake Junaluska Assembly with its many, always appealing, and inspiring facilities. We extend to the Board of Trustees and particularly to the Reverend J. W. Fowler, his Staff, and assistants the sincere thanks of our hearts. It would seem that nothing has been forgotten nor neglected that could add to our comfort and sense of welcome. We note with appreciation many improvements in grounds and buildings which increase the pleasure and convenience of our stay.

We want also to give special thanks to the people of the Marion and Thomasville districts, our official Hosts, and to the choice ladies in charge, for refreshments generously and graciously served.

Newspapers, institutions, and residents of Asheville, Canton, and Waynesville, it would seem, have gone all-out to assist in the grand entertainment we have received.

Uncommon inspiration, the stimulation of great minds and the impact of magnificent personalities have come to us through the presence and ministry of distinguished guest speakers. To all of them, and to Bishop Harmon we express our abiding gratitude.

It is the recommendation of our presiding Bishop that all pastors remain in their present charges and be responsible for the worship services in their present charges on Sunday, June 15.

We recommend that the conference choose Thursday, June 19, as official moving day.

We express the hope that the Committee on Conference Entertainment following the session next year, will receive and accept invitations to hold our conference sessions in a city of the Piedmont Area.

Reports

Report A

COMMISSION ON WORLD SERVICE AND FINANCE

We of this Commission are entrusted with a singular and delicate task of equating our recommendations with the current liberality of our people. It is quite an undertaking for there are many needs in our Christian program, some that must go unmet because of the limitation of the Conference's income. However, we have carefully and prayerfully considered all requests and have tried to make reasonable recommendations for appropriations to every cause that made a good case for itself. We ask for your patience and prayers continuously.

We have closed another year of the quadrennium with a very fine financial record. Methodists are supporting all our causes in the spirit of stewardship; and we feel certain that there will be no retrenchment but rather a steady advance as we face budgetary items, Mission Specials, Colleges and Wesley Foundations. We will tighten our belts, praise God, and move forward!

Methodists have dedicated many lots, and buildings new, to our God this year; paid off standing indebtedness; remodeled where necessary; and, withal, have done a very creditable job. New congregations and new church buildings are going hand in hand; and we recommend that every church in our Conference look upon the one dollar per member as a must for their respective District Mission Societies, in order to further this pressing need.

We recommend that the Conference fiscal Year 1958-59 begin June 1, 1958 and end on May 31, 1959, thereby conforming with the fiscal year of our National Offices. We further recommend that each pastor submit his financial reports by May 27, 1959, and that all charges complete their payments to the Conference Treasurer by the same time. The work of your Treasurer and Statistician will be made much more effective if these requests are met.

We recommend that the total apportionments be divided as follows:

World Service	$270,752.00
Conference Benevolences	$217,300.00

1. That all monies for World Service and Conference Benevolences, Inter-Denominational Co-Operation Fund, Minimum Salary Fund, Episcopal Fund, District Superintendents' Fund, Conference Claimants' Fund, College Fund, Town and Country Fund, and the Methodist Home for the Aged be handled through the Conference Treasurer.

2. That all Boards and Commissions whose annual appropriations are $5,000.00 or less shall use the Conference Treasurer as fiscal agent, in order to save the expenses of separate audits and bonds.

3. That the Episcopal Fund shall be an amount equal to 2% of the salary of the pastor and Ministerial Assistants for the preceding year.

4. We recommend that an amount equal to 4% of the salary of the pastor and ministerial assistants for the preceding year be assessed for the support of the District Superintendents and that the salary of each District Superintendent be fixed at $8,200.00.

5. The Board of Conference Claimants is asking for an apportionment of an amount equal to 18% of the salary of the pastor and ministerial assistants for the preceding year.

6. That each charge pay to the Minimum Salary Fund an amount equal to 3% of the amount raised by the charge the preceding year on the following items:

- a. Paid Other Current Expenses and Incidentals (Item 44 of Pastor's Report).
- b. Paid for Church School Administration, Supplies, etc. (Item 45 of Pastor's Report).
- c. Paid Minister and Associate Ministers (Item 47 of Pastor's Report).

That the schedule of Minimum Salary for the ensuing year be as follows:

	Single	Married
Members of Conference	$3,200.00	$3,400.00
Probationers	3,000.00	3,200.00
Approved Supplies	2,800.00	3,000.00

Students and part time supplies on an adjusted basis $1,400.00 to $2,600.00

Retired Supplies on an adjusted basis: If the total amount received from the Pastoral Charge and the Board of Pensions is less than $4,000.00, the Minimum Salary Fund will supplement the salary up to $4,000.00.

The schedule shall include the following increments:

Full time supplies (except Retired Supplies), $75.00 for each four full years of service up to 24 years. Conference Members $100.00 for each four full years of service up to 24 years.

All Ministers receiving support from Minimum Salary: 100.00 for each dependent child up to six children.

All payments shall be based on either years of service or dependent children, whichever is greater, but not on both or on a combination of the two.

That the executive committee of the Board of Missions continue to administer the Minimum Salary Fund.

7. That each charge pay to the College Fund an amount equal to 5½% of the amount raised by the Charge the preceding year on the following items: Items 44, 45 and 47 of the Pastor's Report (See paragraph 6 above). Of this fund 5% shall be designated for the College Sustaining Fund and the remainder of ½ of 1% for the Wesley Foundation Centers Building Fund.

That the Board of Education distribute the College Sustaining Fund on the following basis: 30% to Brevard College; 30% to Greensboro College; 30% to High Point College; 10% to Duke University to include a provision for scholarships in the Divinity School.

We also recommend that Mother's Day be set as a time when all churches are to receive special offerings for the home and that such offerings shall be paid to the Conference Treasurer and credited on the amount apportioned to the Charge. These funds shall be used to provide care for those who cannot pay the cost of their own maintenance and to finance the further building and equipment of the Home. The Board of Managers of the Home shall be granted the privilege of soliciting and receiving free-will contributions for the expansion of the Home and its charitable work.

9. That each charge pay to the Children's Home an amount equal to 6¼% of the amount raised by the Charge the preceding year on the following items: Items 44, 45 and 47 of the Pastor's Report (See paragraph 6 above).

We also recommend that these funds be paid direct to the Children's Home.

10. That we approve the recommendation of the Conference Board of Missions for Church Extension on the District level and that we recommend that every charge pay to the District Missions Society at least $1.00 per member for Church Extension; and that each District Missions Society transmit 10% of its receipts to the Conference Board of Missions.

11. That any overpayment of World Service for the year 1957-1958 and for the year 1958-1959 be held in reserve for the proposed Conference Building at Statesville; and we recommend that any overpayments of World Service in future years be designated for this purpose.

12. That we approve the request of the Board of Education that every church observe "Church School Rally Day" with an offering on October 12, 1958 or as near thereto as possible.

13. The Church through the General Conference of 1956 spoke with authority and statesmanship in lifting up the long-neglected cause of Christian Higher Education for emphasis during the quadrennium. The Western North Carolina Conference of 1957 joined this mission to Christian Higher Education by authorizing a campaign for $3,000,000.00 for our colleges and Wesley Foundations. The Conference Commission on Christian Higher Education is organized, is promoting the quadrennial emphasis throughout the Conference, and is making plans for projecting the $3,000,000.00 campaign in November of this year.

All decisions and recommendations of the Commission on World Service and Finance are made in view of giving the campaign absolute priority. We have set our hands to the plow. There can be no deviation, no turning back. For the sake of our Church, our Christ, our Colleges and Wesley Foundations this campaign must succeed. This Commission recommends in the strongest possible language that the abilities, resources and time of every charge, every church, every layman and every minister be given unstintedly and unreservedly to assuring the success of the campaign. Anything less than all-out, intelligent dedication will not get the job done.

The Conference Commission on Christian Higher Education asked the Commission on World Service and Finance to work out a formula on which to set up district and charge goals for the campaign. This the Commission has done, and we strongly and unitedly recommend that each charge consider these goals a prior claim and minimum amount to be pledged to the $3,000,000.00 campaign and paid over a three year period.

14. That the month of April be designated as Golden Cross Month, during which time our churches are urged to receive an offering to be expended at the direction of the Board of Hospitals and Homes.

15. That we approve the request of the Board of Temperance that every church observe Commitment Sunday with an offering for the work of this Board.

16. That George Curtis Smith be designated Conference Auditor.

17. That we commend F. D. Russell, Conference Treasurer for his efficient and faithful service.

18. That out of the Annual Conference Operating Fund the following expenditures shall be made:

a. An all-inclusive salary of $3,000.00 for the Conference Treasurer and necessary clerical assistance.

b. A salary of $750.00 plus extra clerical help and postage for the Conference Secretary.

c. A salary of $400.00 plus extra clerical help for the Conference Statistician.

d. Remuneration of $400.00 for the Conference Auditor.

e. Remuneration of $15.00 for Each District Statistician.

f. The sum of $1,200.00 for the Area Episcopal Fund.

g. Necessary expenses for the Conference Treasurer, Conference Secretary, and Conference Statistician to attend Jurisdictional meeting of those officers.

h. That all necessary expense in connection with the entertainment of the Annual Conference be authorized by the Committee on Conference Entertainment and that the Chairman or Secretary of the said committee approve all bills incurred in the entertaining of the Annual Conference.

i. We recommend that the Conference Treasurer be authorized to pay any deficit in Annual Conference Expenses from the reserve on hand.

19. We recommend that each charge pay to the Conference Treasurer $24.00 plus $12.00 for each Ministerial Assistant and that this fund be used to defray a portion of the cost of entertaining the Annual Conference and that this fund be called the Conference Entertainment Fund.

20. That the Conference Treasurer be authorized to advance from the reserve fund amounts not to exceed $1,000.00 or 50% of the annual appropriation, whichever is lower, to the several commissions and committees of the Conference for the purpose of meeting current expense where the appropriation has not been received from current collections.

Brevard College $ 10,000.00

Greensboro College 35,000.00

Assistant 10,000.00

High Point College 25,000.00

Assistant 10,000.00

Ordered to record, morning session, June 7, 1958

We have examined the books and records of Mr. F. D. Russell, Treasurer of the Western North Carolina Conference, for the Conference Year 1957-1958. Our examination consisted of the auditing procedures which we deemed necessary. In our opinion, the foregoing statements correctly reflect the Conference transactions for the year 1957-1958.

Respectfully submitted,

Report B

COMMISSION ON CHRISTIAN HIGHER EDUCATION

The Western North Carolina Conference of June 1957 authorized the Conference Commission on Christian Higher Education to conduct a campaign of $3,000,000 for our Colleges and Wesley Foundations. Also, it authorized the Commission to employ a Director to guide, promote and carry forward the campaign and the Quadrennial Emphasis on Christian Higher Education.

The Executive Committee of the Commission met in Charlotte on July 30, 1957 and selected Dr. Fletcher Nelson as Executive Director. Richard G. Stockton of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company of Winston-Salem was named Treasurer of the Commission at the same meeting. His office handles all receipts and disbursements of the Commission under the name, "The Methodist Education Fund."

Dr. Nelson began work for the Commission in September 1957, setting up office and residence in Morganton. His first work was to familiarize himself with the scope of the quadrennial emphasis and the projected Conference program, thinking in terms of implementing them in a practical way on the grass-roots level.

On October 3, 1957, the entire Commission met at Broad Street Church, Statesville, to consider recommendations proposed by the Director for getting underway throughout the Conference the work of the Commission. The action taken at the meeting was embraced with some revisions in the pamphlet, "A Calendar for Action," and sent in quantities in January 1958, to the pastors for distribution to the church members. The pamphlet covered the general scope of the quadrennial emphasis, suggested ways and means for both colleges and churches to participate in the program, and proposed a time schedule for cultivation and promotion of Christian Higher Education and the $3,000,000 campaign within the Conference.

On November 5, 1957, the Executive Committee of the Commission met in Charlotte to hear representatives of firms which offer counsel in the field of fund raising. The Commission at the Statesville meeting had authorized the Executive Committee to employ fund-raising counsel for the $3,000,000 campaign for our Colleges and Wesley Foundations. It was the privilege of the Commission to have before it, three (3) proposals from three (3) reputable firms within the field. The Executive Committee discussed all proposals at length and in detail, and postponed any decision until January. At the January 31, 1958 meeting of the Executive Council in Charlotte, the firm of Ward, Dreshman and Reinhardt was chosen as financial counsel for the campaign.

Since March, Dr. Wilson O. Weldon, Chairman of the Commission, the Director and Bishop Nolan B. Harmon have been working with Mr. C. C. Lane of Ward, Dreshman and Reinhardt. Preparation for and promotion of the campaign within the Conference is being encompassed by organizational charts, time schedules, committee structures, and general information. The Conference Commission on World Service and Finance at the request of the Commission on Christian Higher Education, has agreed to work out a formula on which to figure District and Charge goals for the Campaign.

Since a successful Campaign requires carrying the full story to every member of each local church and giving them a personal opportunity to participate, all organization will be directed towards this purpose.

The Campaign will be divided roughly into four periods which overlap at certain points. They are:

1. General organization and preparation of materials for use in all phases of the campaign, May through October 21st.
2. Educational period, September 16th through November 2nd.
3. Organization within the churches, September 18th through November 28th.
4. Intensive period of solicitation within the churches, November 30th through December 8th.

General Organization

The general organization covers the enlistment of Clerical, Lay and Women Chairmen for the Conference, eleven Districts, forty-three Counties and as many Areas within the Counties as are required to carry the story to the local churches.

It also includes the enlistment of a Pattern Gift Committee on a Conference level and Advance Gift Committees on a District level.

It further includes the preparation of all materials for use in the campaign within each church and establishment of individual goals for all churches.

The Educational Phase

A. The Conference Rally, September 12th, 1958, will be the first major event. To it will be invited all clergymen, members of the Official Board and all other officials of each Church. The entire story of the project and the recommended procedure in each church will be presented here.

B. The District Rallies, one in each of the eleven Districts, will be held during the period September 21 to October 5. To these will be invited all of the leadership and other interested individuals from each local Church. Bishop Harmon will be present at each meeting.

C. A Loyalty Dinner in each church is scheduled to be held during the period October 22 to November 2nd. The purpose of these dinners is to tell the story in full to all members of each congregation.

Organization Within the Church

The detailed plan of organization within each church will be printed and placed in the hands of all ministers, lay and women chairmen, either at or shortly after the Conference Rally.

The schedule for this phase of the campaign begins immediately after the Conference Rally and continues to November 28th, the date of the opening meeting for the General Solicitation within the churches.

Intensive Period of Solicitation

Beginning with Christian Higher Education Sunday in each Church November 30th, intensive solicitation will continue through December 8th.

With every church moving together in unison a mighty force will be released which can and will assure Victory.

R. G. STOCKTON, *TreasurerReport C*COMMISSION ON CHRISTIAN VOCATIONS(Prepared with the Committee from the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications)*

This Commission is becoming more and more necessary as a vital unit of the Western North Carolina Conference. With materialism having such wide influence, our Commission is earnestly endeavoring to challenge our youth with the Christian imperative to be Christian in their selection of life's work. We hold that all necessary work is noble and that every youth should choose his vocation within the Christian framework. To that end we have been promoting a program of challenge, of guidance, and of recruitment. Our efforts need to be expanded greatly in order to reach more effectively, larger and larger numbers of our Methodist youth with the help the Church can give. We have developed our program and plans around this outlook.

Our fine district directors have done excellent work this year. Under their guidance the district approach has continued to be one of our most effective emphases. An increasing number of conferences on Christian vocations are being held. Those district directors who have been responsible for this work deserve high commendation for their effective contribution.

The booklet, "Methodist Service Projects for 1958" was mailed to each pastor. Additional copies were distributed at various youth conferences and meetings.

The central file of candidates is being kept and plans are being made for closer co-operation and co-ordination in this project, with the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualification, and with the Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The films that we have purchased have been used extensively throughout the conference. They are available free of charge except for return postage. Pastors and local church agencies are invited to show them to youth groups.

As in all phases of the local church work the pastor is in a position to be of great help in this work. We urge each pastor to preach on the call to preach in August or September, and to give guidance and counselling to his youth in helping them to make choices of Christian careers. The local church could well use one of its monthly Worker's Conferences as a means of rendering such help.

Every pastor and district superintendent is urged to report the names and correct addresses of all candidates for full time church vocations. We recommend that one person or committee in each local church be selected to find suitable candidates for the ministry.

The summer camps and assemblies afford ideal opportunities to challenge our youth to choose Christian careers. We are co-operating with our local churches and conference agencies in this.

The North Carolina Methodist Student Movement has a share in our interests and we endeavor to work with them as they work among our college young people.

One of the most important developments during the year has been the establishing of a co-operative committee with representatives from our Commission and from the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications. We are working closely with Bishop Harmon in our effort to secure more specific commitments to the ministry. A great conference-wide Call-to-The-Ministry Conference is being planned for April 11 and 12, during the 1959 Lenten season. This will be one of a series of such conferences to have been held in Western North Carolina. Our pastors and youth counsellors are requested to be making plans to send their choice of young men to this conference.

Your Commission is indebted to its faithful members and to the district directors, and all others who have made this work a vital force for righteous decisions. We are grateful to our Conference for financing this agency.

Respectfully submitted,

ROLLIN P. GIBBS, Chairman

JULIAN J. HOLMES, Secretary

Report D

COMMISSION ON MINIMUM SALARY

The Commission on Minimum Salary, after careful study and extensive research, presents certain changes and increases in the program and schedule of salaries for 1958-59.

1. We request that the Commission on World Service and Finance approve an apportionment for the Minimum Salary Fund of an amount equal to 3% of the amount raised by each pastoral charge the preceding year, on the following items: (a) Paid Other Current Expenses and Incidentals (Item 44 of Pastor's Report), (b) Paid for Church School Administration Supplies, etc. (Item 45 of Pastor's Report), (c) Paid Minister and Associate Minister(s) (Item 47 of Pastor's Report).

2. It is the sincere hope of the Commission on Minimum Salary to recommend other increases as fast as possible. These can be made only as the pastoral charges increase proportionately. The percentage of pastoral charges receiving assistance must be reduced (26.6% for 1957-58) to insure progress. In order to do this the local pastoral charge must maintain a minimum number of members. We recognize that some pastoral charges, because of geographical locations and population changes, will never have a membership of 400. We can avoid creating charges through the process of division; therefore, we recommend that before charges are divided, if any of the newly created charges will require Minimum Salary Funds, an analysis should be made and presented to the Commission on Minimum Salary for approval. Such analysis should show the total membership, number of resident members, the number of constituents, the church school enrollment and average attendance, an estimate of approximate growth, a financial analysis including number of contributors, the per member contribution, and plans for future budgets.

3. We recommend that each pastoral charge should set as a goal "Self Support" with a salary of not less than $4,000.00 and adopt a sound financial program to achieve and maintain this goal.

4. Any expense account or other monetary compensation provided the pastor by the local pastoral charge shall be counted among the total resources making the total minimum received by the pastor.

5. Any pastoral charge that pays less than 75% of the total minimum salary must be referred to the Administrative Committee by the District Superintendent, therefore we recommend that the Cabinet exercise care in making appointments requiring more than 25% Minimum Salary supplement, and that such appointments, when they are made, have the unanimous approval of the Bishop and the Cabinet.

6. We recommend that each pastoral charge to receive Minimum Salary Funds should make application at the Fourth Quarterly Conference to the Commission on Minimum Salary for funds with which to supplement the pastor's salary for the following year, the blanks to be filled out in triplicate, a copy for each, the District Superintendent, the Conference Committee on Minimum Salary, and the Recording Steward.

7. We recommend: (1) That there be an increase of $200.00 in the basic minimum salary schedule of payments;

(2) That a supplement based on Dependent Children be added. This supplement is an effort to provide assistance at the time of greatest need.

(3) That the supplement based on Years of Service be revised according to schedule below, which is so arranged that every minister will receive as much or more than he would have under the former schedule.

(4) That payments for supplements be based on either Years of Service or Dependent Children, whichever is greater, but not on both or on a combination of the two.

On this basis the schedule will be as follows:

Students: On an adjusted basis: $1,400.00 to $2,600.00. This schedule, as is the schedule for newly organized churches is in the hands of the District Superintendent.

Retired Supplies: On an adjusted basis: If the total amount received from the Pastoral Charge and the Board of Pensions is less than $4,000.00, the Minimum Salary Fund will supplement the salary up to $4,000.00, provided that the total of the amounts paid by the pastoral charge and the Minimum Salary Fund does not exceed $2,400.00.

	Single	Married
Supplies	$2600.00	$2800.00
Approved Supplies	$2800.00	$3000.00
Probationers	$3000.00	$3200.00
Members of Conference	$3200.00	$3400.00

Years of Service Supplement: Full time Supplies (except Retired Supplies), $75.00 for each four full years of service up to 24 years. Conference Members $100.00 for each four full years of service up to 24 years.

Dependent Children: All ministers: receiving minimum salary support: $100.00 for each dependent child up to six children.

Dependent Children: (Defined)

1. Single

2. Not over 18 years of age, or Undergraduate in college and the parents furnish more than half the support.

3. Exception: Handicapped person who is not capable of self support.

8. The Years of Service accredited by the Board of Pensions at the time of Annual Conference shall determine the basis of the payment for the "Years of Service Supplement" and the number of dependent children at the time of appointment will determine the basis of payment for "Dependent Children Supplement." throughout the conference year.

9. That before a church is closed a study be made by the Commission on Town and Country Work for those located in town and country communities or by the Conference, District or City Mission Society for those located in urban communities.

Report E

COMMISSION ON TELEVISION, RADIO AND FILM

The Television, Radio and Film Commission is completing the second year of its existence since its organization in October, 1956. During the year the Commission has concerned itself with activities designed to extend the ministry of the Church through the facilities of radio and television. The following is a report of its work.

Plans are being made for a Radio and Television Workshop to be held in the early fall. The purpose of the workshop will be to acquaint interested persons in our Conference with the potential facilities of radio and television in reaching the unchurched of our communities. Designed to meet the practical needs of the minister and the local church, attention will be given to the ways and means of utilizing available broadcast and telecast time to the greatest advantage. The workshop will be directed by competent personnel representing both the church and the radio and television industry. An invitation to participate in these sessions will be extended to all ministers who have an interest in this important phase of the church's ministry.

Special effort has been made to increase Conference participation in the TV Ministry Fund of The Methodist Church. The purpose of this fund is to finance the production of national television programs. At present, the General Conference Commission is producing a new television series which will appear in the fall. The series is to be called Talk Back. The financial need here is urgent. In the Conference report last year, your Commission reported that our Conference had contributed $6,980.46 to this fund for that year. This year, up to the date of this report, less than $30.00 has been reported for this purpose. The General Conference Commission has suggested a goal of 10¢ per member per year or about $25,000.00 from our Conference. The officers of your Commission met with the Commission on World Service and Finance and submitted an appeal for a consideration of this request. The courteous reception afforded us there leads us to believe that there is a keen interest in this matter through our Conference and that Western North Carolina Methodists will lend support to this phase of our ministry wherever possible.

The Commission was represented at the regional conferences held in Philadelphia and Nashville on the new Television series being produced by The Methodist Church.

to be known as Talk Back. Talk Back will utilize a new idea in religious program telecasting. Combining the advantages of a professionally produced religious drama and the advantages of a locally produced "live" program, it is felt that this series will have a definite impact on viewers. Ministers and laymen are urged to encourage the use of this series on television stations within the bounds of our conference. More information on these programs will soon be available.

Your Commission is interested in the possibility of compiling an audio-visual library for use by the local churches of our Conference. It is felt that some centralized point of distribution for such materials would aid laymen and minister alike in locating audio-visual aids on a given subject. The Commission would be interested in the reaction of other boards and agencies within our Conference on this matter.

You are asked to continue to use the available filmstrips, slides and movies which may be secured for use in the local church. The Way continues to be used in many churches throughout the country. This series can be utilized in study groups and other meetings of the church to a decided advantage.

The Commission suggests that each congregation consider ways and means of utilizing radio and television time which can so often be made available to the local church at little or no cost. The fields of harvest are white indeed. Let us dedicate ourselves to the use of every honorable means to preach the "Good News" about Him who has called us.

COMMISSION ON TOWN AND COUNTRY WORK

The Commission on Town and Country Work reports the following activities during the past conference year:

1. Through a contribution for expenses and the services of the Executive Secretary, assistance was given to the Scandinavian Caravan Program within the bounds of the Annual Conference.

2. Forty-two persons from this Annual Conference registered for the Jurisdiction Town and Country Conference held in August, 1957, the theme of which was "The Program of the Methodist Circuit."

3. Approximately 50 persons participated in a seminar on "The Group Ministry" and "The Larger Parish" held in Statesville, September 15-16, 1957. Dr. Glenn F. Sanford, Director of Town and Country Work, the National Division of the Board of Missions, was the Resource Leader.

4. Workshops for the Town and Country Church were held in Waynesville, Thomasville, North Wilkesboro, and Greensboro Districts. In each of these ministers from within the district served as resource leaders. Dr. James W. Sells of Atlanta assisted in the North Wilkesboro District Workshop.

5. The Commission supported the Methodist Rural Fellowship in its annual Overnight Retreat. Dr. Raymond W. Miller of Washington, D. C. was the guest speaker.

6. The Executive Secretary has met with at least 65 different church groups for the purpose of discussing building needs and program activities. He has also participated in many local church services, assisting in training schools and revivals.

7. Fifteen students have been recruited for the Student Summer Service Project, being sponsored in co-operation with the Woman's Society of Christian Service. These students will begin work June 13, assisting in Vacation Church Schools and Youth Activities.

For the conference year 1958-59, we recommend:

1. That a program of research be continued providing "Records of Performance" and other data for conference and district leaders and for local leaders as specific studies are made and presented.

2. That a "Conference Calendar," listing the major activities and meetings of the several boards, commissions and agencies of the Annual Conference, be prepared and that the Commission on Town and Country Work offer its services as an interboard agency in preparing the calendar.

3. That in each district the Executive Secretary work with the District Superintendent in promoting such activities as:

- (1) A Workshop for town and country churches.

- (2) A Rural Church Enrichment Revival.

- (3) Informal Leadership Training Opportunities.

- (4) Promotion of a philosophy and pattern of organization and operation for churches on a circuit, giving particular emphasis to the work of the Official Board, the four commissions and the use of the Sunday School to promote the total program of the church.

(5) Lord's Acre Projects.

(6) Observance of Special Days.

4. That special emphasis be given to the development of "The Group Ministry" and/or "The Larger Parish" type of program in specially adapted areas of the Conference; that men be trained for this type of work; and that careful consideration be given to these appointments.

5. That the Student Summer Service Program be continued and that full support be given to the projects in which full time rural workers or deaconesses are appointed.

6. That the use of lay witnesses in circuits be encouraged to increase the number of services of worship and that these laymen work in close co-operation with the pastor for the purpose of promoting the total program of the church.

7. That participation in the following programs be continued:

a. The Jurisdiction Town and Country Conference, Lake Junaluska, August 18-22, the theme of which is "The Methodist Church on a Circuit."

b. The National Town and Country Conference 1959.

c. The Rural Church Committee of the North Carolina Council of Churches.

d. The Methodist Rural Fellowship Program.

e. The Jurisdiction Town and Country Development Program.

8. That the report "Standards for Establishing Pastoral Charges" published in the Journal 1954 be studied carefully in each district and that local pastoral charges be made aware of the necessity of maintaining charges sufficiently large to support both the pastor and a well rounded program, and that before circuits are divided complete studies be made of needs and possibilities.

9. That through co-operative effort with other Boards and Commissions, a program be developed for the use, supervision, and support of Student Supplies.

10. That William W. Blanton be appointed Executive Secretary of the Commission.

BIBLE BOARD

Among the many writings and literary works of John Wesley, he considered his translation of the Greek New Testament into the English language, "to be his greatest work." The Holy Bible was, "The one Book of Wesley." Both preachers and laymen should follow our founder and cultivate among our Methodist people an interest in reading, studying, and knowing the message of the Holy Scriptures.

Jesus said, "Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me." (John 5:39). For Wesley, the written Word is the only rule and the sufficient rule, both of our faith and practice. The Apostle Paul in writing to Timothy expressed the value of the scriptures for reading and study when he wrote: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (2 Tim. 3:16-17).

The American Bible Society continues to serve the churches in publishing various translations of the Scriptures. The Worldwide Bible Reading "book markers" for 1957, bore the message, "Now in 1,100 tongues." To be exact, in 1,109 different languages or dialects, into which portions or all of the Bible has been published for distribution among the people of the earth, thus making it possible for them to know the message of salvation. It should be of interest to know that the translation of the Cherokee New Testament made for the Cherokee Indians 97 years ago was reprinted in 1957, and for the first time the Navaho New Testament was printed for the Navaho Indians.

The American Bible Society is offering four projects for use in the local church. (1) Wayside Gospel Dispenser, (2) A Bible in every Home, (3) The Epistle of Romans used in Evangelistic services. (4) Laymen witnessing using a marked New Testament.

The Methodist Publishing House carries a wide selection of Bibles and New Testaments that may be purchased for reading and study. Start a program of Bible reading and study in your local church by using the Readers Guide. Bible Readers Service Guide No. 1 is on the Gospel of Mark. When you have finished this copy of the Readers Guide, get the No. 2 copy and others, until you have completed the series.

Read the report of the Bible Board, printed in the 1956, journal of our Western North Carolina Conference, on page 137, and you will find there the emphasis placed on Bible reading and study for this Quadrennium by the General Conference of The Methodist Church.

Your board suggest that you: Adopt a program for Bible reading and study for the people in your local church. We also suggest, Universal Bible Sunday, December 14th, be observed in the local church.

DEACONESS BOARD

The Conference Deaconess Board effected a strong organizational plan on February 18, 1958, at a meeting held at Pfeiffer College. The keynote message was presented by Miss Mary Lou Barnwell, Executive Secretary of the Commission of Deaconess Work, New York. Miss Barnwell outlined the functions of the Board, not the least of which is the recruitment of deaconesses for service in The Methodist Church. One candidate for deaconess work, Miss Mary E. Bethea, was commissioned at the meeting of the Board of Missions, Buck Hill Falls, Pa., January 18, 1958. Miss Bethea will be consecrated for service in the Western North Carolina Annual Conference at its 1958 session.

There are ten active deaconesses within the bounds of the Western North Carolina Conference. These women are serving the church in the following relationships: two as Directors of Christian Education, one a Dean of Women, one a Professor of Religion, two as rural workers, two as administrative heads of institutions, one teacher in a boarding school and one teacher in an institution.

The Board reported that plans for a retirement home for deaconesses and missionaries located in Asheville is being effected.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Introduction by Carl H. King, Executive Secretary

Christian education is concerned with every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest. Early in his ministry Wesley said to his preachers, "Where there are as many as six children, gather them together for instruction." Cokesbury College was established as our first venture in higher education. Christian nurture has been in the bloodstream of our Methodist program from the earliest days of the church. All indications are that it will continue to be there during the days ahead. The current emphasis on higher education is considered by many to be the most significant advance yet undertaken by our church in Christian education. It is a new declaration of faith in the educational process as a means of fulfilling the mission of the church in the world of today.

Our conference board operates in two main areas: the work of the local church and schools and colleges. There is always a need for a constant stream of youth who are well grounded in the principles and procedures of Christian education going from our churches to our colleges and then from the colleges back into the communities of our state, our nation and our world with high ideals for service to mankind. Effective Christian nurture is the business of the church. It is the main reason for this report.

SECTION 1: SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

It is generally understood that the Commission on Higher Education is responsible for the Quadrennial Program launched by the last General Conference, and that the Board of Education is charged with the responsibility for the continuing work with our institutions of higher education. Our conference shares with the North Carolina Conference in ownership and support of Duke University, Greensboro and High Point Colleges. Our conference has the sole responsibility for Brevard College, Pfeiffer College in which we take great pride is owned and operated by the Woman's Division of the Board of Missions. In these institutions we have a student enrollment of 10,040 including special students. There are 928 faculty and staff members.

Through the years we have had a regular appropriation budgeted for the colleges, pastors' school, a small work scholarship fund, and items for board meetings and incidentals. The current amount is $40,000.

In 1948 a College Emergency Relief Fund was requested for current operating expenses of the colleges. Each charge was asked to pay 1% of the amount raised the preceding year on items 43, 44 and 46. The report of the conference treasurer (p. 94 of 1949 Journal) shows $22,068.89 paid to this fund. This amount plus $30,000 regular appropriation made a total of $52,068.89. The following year 2% was requested and the name was changed to the College Sustaining Fund. This source of income has increased from year to year and 5% is now requested on the same items.

REGULAR APPROPRIATION AND FROM COLLEGE SUSTAINING FUND

Total	$76,495.58	$76,495.57	$76,495.57	$29,765.18	$259,251.90

These figures indicate the growth in our contribution to the operating expense of our colleges between 1948 and 1958. The amount disbursed during the year exceeds our goal of $1.00 per member. Our annual contribution will continue to increase as the amounts on which the 5% is based increases.

Wesley Foundation

There has been a similar increase in support of the Wesley Foundation Program and also for the building program for Wesley Foundation facilities.

Brevard College

Brevard College had an enrollment of 333 academic students and 137 special students during the past year. There are 36 faculty and staff members. Value of land, buildings and equipment $2,835,500; endowment $828,167.60; scholarship awards value $23,500; average faculty salary $4,145; highest faculty salary $4,750; lowest faculty salary $3,600; median salary $4,000. The budget for 1958-'59 is $479,000.

Duke University

Duke University enrolled 5,310 students for the Fall Semester 1957-'58. There were 1,409 students in summer school, including medical school students. High Point College

For the year 1957-'58 there were 1,017 regular students; 624 summer school students; and a faculty and staff of 74 persons. There was an operational budget of approximately $850,000 without any deficit. There is no indebtedness on the college. The new Physical Education building is complete with seating capacity of 3,200. The old gymnasium has been remodeled as an adequate cafeteria, dining hall, and kitchen, with additional space for 21 residential students. Work on a new dormitory for women is under way. Space formerly used for kitchen and dining room has been renovated for additional class rooms, faculty, officers and a film room.

Pfeiffer College

This Methodist College is operated by the Woman's Division of the General Board of Missions. Enrollment for the past year 723 students with 57 faculty members. Approximately 100 students are preparing for full time service in the church. Endowment is $1,800,000. The budget for 1957-'58 was $815,000.

Among the notable achievements of the year has been the opening of the John Balle Harris Science Building equipped to take care of 1,000 students. Also under construction are four faculty homes, one faculty apartment, one dormitory for men, two dormitory wings for women, two wings to the dining hall, a post office building and a laundry warehouse.

J. B. Cornelius Foundation

Income from this Foundation, established by the late J. B. Cornelius, is used by the Directors to aid worthy young women who are attending the colleges sponsored by the Western North Carolina Conference. In no year can the Directors pay out more than eighty per cent of the income of the Foundation.

At the last meeting of the Directors of the J. B. Cornelius Foundation a Fiscal Agreement was signed with the Trust Department of the Wachovia Bank by which they will be in charge of all investments of securities now in the possession of the J. B. Cornelius Foundation. The Audit Report was filed with the trustees on May 31, 1957, showing assets in the amount of $173,239.31. We own securities in the amount of $164,767.61. For the year of 1957 we were able to distribute $10,839.15 in grants to some 50 young women. By decision of the Trustees we give grants to young women only in colleges supported in part or wholly or indirectly by the Western North Carolina Conference of The Methodist Church.

J. C. Roberts Trust Fund

This Fund is established at High Point College, and under court order, is administered by the Trust Department of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company. Since October 2, 1956, $925.00 has been distributed to High Point College. Principal is now valued at $20,442.04, and cash of $60.26. Four ministerial students have been assisted financially during the current school year.

SECTION II: THE WORK OF THE LOCAL CHURCH

District Conferences on Christian education were held in every district during February and April. The main purpose of these conferences was to give personal guidance to people responsible for vacation church schools, youth activities for the summer months, the work of adult classes, plans for home members and for the church school in general. Attendance was gratifying as indicated below:

Asheville	166 ..	Salisbury	385
Charlotte	243	Statesville	341
Gastonia	316	Thomasville	416
Greensboro	384	Waynesville	164
Marion	225	Winston-Salem	362
N. Wilkesboro	117
		Total	3,119

Leadership Training

Training schools have been held in every district in the conference. A growing interest in this part of our program is reflected in the increased attendance indicated below:

Asheville	500	Statesville	1,337+
Charlotte	969	Thomasville	1,056+
Gastonia	1,058	Waynesville	530+
Greensboro	1,129+	Winston-Salem	832+
Marion	760	School of Missions	175
N. Wilkesboro	119+
Salisbury	888	Total	9,353

Vacation Church Schools

Our largest enrollment in vacation schools was in 1956 when 818 schools were held with 46,501 children and 4,055 intermediate boys and girls, making a total of 50,556. More thorough promotional procedures were used in 1957, but the number of schools dropped to 554 and enrollment came only to 32,068. It is hoped that the decline in 1957 may be turned to an increase in 1958. The figures given below represent the schools held during the summer of 1957:

District	Schools	Enrollment	District	Schools	Enrollment
Asheville	33	1,702--	Salisbury	49	3,193--
Charlotte	51	3,620--	Statesville	63	3,642--
Gastonia	46	2,700--	Thomasville	85	4,956--
Greensboro	53	4,054--	Waynesville	33	1,173--
Marion	33	1,665--	Winston-Salem	90	4,532--
N. Wilkesboro	18	831--
			Totals	554	32,068--

-- indicates a decrease from the previous year; due undoubtedly to June Conference.

Church School Day Offering

A large share of our budget and the final success of our work are both determined by returns from our annual Church School Day offering. Response by districts as follows:

SECTION III: FACTS ABOUT OUR PROGRAM

1. We have had a wholesome increase in enrollment each year since 1944. Our church school membership is now 218,134 which is the largest in the history of our conference. There are 17,801 officers and teachers at work in these church schools.
2. The vacation church school, with 32,068 children enrolled in 1957, is our best opportunity for additional instruction in the Christian education of children.
3. One thousand and thirty-two intermediate boys and girls had a week of Christian Adventure camping at Tekoa in 1957.
4. One thousand or more seniors and older youth participated in the youth program at Junaluska last season.

5. Many other intermediates, seniors and older youth were in summer camps and workshops planned by their own local churches.
6. Forty sub-district groups are active in the interest of youth work in our conference. Eighteen sub-districts are organized and are at work for better Christian nurture and better churchmanship on the part of our adult constituency.
7. Two hundred and thirty-eight youth and their counselors participated in a well-planned educational tour of the State Department, Washington, and the United Nations, New York, in March. Our youth workers co-operated with the Conference Commission on World Peace in this project.
8. Vocations Conferences for youth were held in nearly every district of the conference.
9. Dr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Smith will serve as counselors for our Overseas Caravan of ten young people who will work in the Scandinavian Methodist Churches this summer. Four youth and a counselor will also come from the Stockholm Area for work in our camps, workshops and local church youth groups.
10. Crusade scholars have studied at Duke, Boston, and Syracuse this year as a result of overseas caravan contacts. Other students are at Greensboro College.
11. Our Conference Director of Adult Work has met with 2,563 adults, 67 ministers and 66 teachers to promote better teaching procedures with the 117,000 adult members of our church schools.
12. One hundred and thirty adults and 128 young adults attended the Convocation at Junaluska and the Assembly at Brevard in 1957.
13. Thirty-six volunteer district directors and 36 certified directors of Christian education undergirded and gave valuable leadership in their churches and in the conference program.
14. A carefully selected delegation of husbands and wives will attend the National Family Life Conference, October 17-19, 1958.
15. Thirty-two training schools with 225 courses and instructors are now scheduled to be held the fall and spring months of 1958-1959.

Opportunities for effective Christian nurture are unlimited. Ministers, directors of Christian education, members of our conference staff, 17,801 officers and teachers, members of the board of education, and district directors are working constantly at the task throughout the year. Bishop Harmon and the District Superintendents have given the finest support to the work. These are the people who have helped to create a wholesome atmosphere for the cause of Christian education. They also deserve credit for any success we have had.

SECTION IV: STAFF REPORTS

A. Report on Children's Work

Progress in children's work during the year is shown in the increase in enrollment and attendance of children in the church schools of this conference, in number of children joining the church, in number of leaders of children taking advantage of leadership training opportunities, in use of Methodist literature, in emphasis on closer co-operation between the church school and home, and in number of churches taking children's needs into account in their building programs.

A special tribute is due workers with children throughout the conference who have made progress possible because of their faithful service during this year in which there was no conference director for several months and in which the new director has been going through the orientation process.

The conference is indebted to our executive secretary, Dr. Carl H. King, our adult director, Rev. George W. Rudisill, and to our office staff, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Richardson, and Mrs. Hayworth who have helped to carry on the work during this transition period; to the former director of children's work, Mrs. W. R. Reed, who laid such a good foundation and has assisted in various ways during the year; and to the workers of the districts who have promoted children's work in their districts, the district superintendents and pastors and the volunteer district directors.

A meeting of the Conference Council of Children's Workers was held in Salisbury on November 16 as a "get acquainted" time for the new director and district staffs and for laying plans for the year.

Some of the major activities carried on during the year have been as follows:

1. Christian Workers' Schools—in which the large number of specialization courses for children's workers were well attended, helping to develop better leadership. The director had the opportunity of teaching in five of these schools, including one laboratory class. An increasing demand for laboratory enterprises throughout the conference indicates a growing awareness of the need for trained workers in the children's division.

Progress is being made in enlisting and training a number of children's leaders to teach in Christian Workers' Schools.

2. District Conferences on Christian Education—through which extensive promotional work was done and through training for planning and carrying through Vacation Church Schools. Two thousand three hundred and thirty-eight Vacation Church School leaders were reached in this manner. The director taught in the thirteen District Conferences and in two additional Vacation Church School Institutes along with other leaders of children's work.

Visits to Local Church

The director visited local churches to meet with workers' councils and other planning groups and to teach children's leaders. She visited High Point College to teach two classes there.

The director and volunteer district teaching teams have taught observation classes in some of the churches of the Conference this year. Several new teams are being recruited and trained in order to expand this ministry for local churches desiring it.

Special Training

It was the director's privilege to attend the Methodist Conference on Christian Education and the meeting for new Conference Directors of Children's Work held in Cincinnati in November.

Objectives 1958-59

1. Special literature conferences to encourage the use of Methodist literature in the church schools.

2. Special training program for children's division superintendents as key persons in the program for children in the local churches.

3. Continued emphasis on Laboratory and Observation Classes.

4. Expansion of the work of district teaching teams. Recruitment and training of additional teams.

5. Continued effort to enlist and train more children's leaders to teach in Christian Workers' Schools.

6. Encouragement of Day Camping for Juniors on the local church level as a better means of meeting the needs of children than by resident camping.

Appreciation

The director expresses her sincere appreciation to the Conference Board of Education, the Conference Staff, and to the people of the entire conference for the happy opportunities afforded her in these initial months for service in the Methodist Church's ministry to children.

LOUISE ROBINSON

Conference Director of Children's Work

B. Report on Youth Work

The youth work of our conference continues to thrive under the very capable leadership of the pastors, the superintendents, counselors and teachers of youth, the directors of Christian education, the district directors of youth work, and other consecrated adult workers with youth. The quality of leadership among the youth themselves enters forcibly into the picture also. Youth and their adult leaders, in our conference, working together and putting Christ above all, create a team and a partnership which is unexcelled anywhere in this glorious church of ours. The youth of our conference will continue to face the uncertain future of our day bravely and courageously as they move forward hand in hand with Christ and with the backing of their adult leaders.

Youth Grow—To Serve

Youth grow in so many different ways. Fortunate indeed are the youth who have interested adults at hand to guide their footsteps into paths of Christian growth. The following chart, listing attendance at summer activities during the early months of this conference year, reflects the interest which adults have in helping youth to grow in ways in which are vital to their Christian lives:

One thousand and thirty-two boys and girls (12, 13 and 14 years of age) attended the ten sessions of Camp Tekoa last summer. They did a lot of growing; even though they may not have realized it at the time. Seven hundred and forty-six seniors, (ages 15, 16, 17) and their adult leaders were involved in a growing experience as they worked together in the Senior Workshops at Lake Junaluska last summer. And 63 older youth (ages 18-23) and their leaders shared a week-end together at Camp Tekoa, growing through the varied experiences of those days and hours together. These summer activities for youth, sponsored by our Conference Board of Education, continue to give youth an opportunity to develop in ways which are more pleasing to God. The voluntary leadership of our adult workers with youth make these growing experiences possible.

Youth Train and Learn—To Serve

The youth and their adult leaders in our conference continue to train themselves for places of responsibility in the youth work of the local church and in the living of their whole lives. The following chart, listing the number receiving credit for their attendance upon youth courses at Leadership Training Schools in the various districts, reveals something of the importance which youth and adults alike place upon Christian training.

Districts	Leadership Training Schools		Washington-U.N. Seminar
	Adults	Youth	Adults	Youth

Winston-Salem	178	133	2	2
	1,171	1,617	30	238

This chart does not include the additional hundreds of youth and their leaders who audited the youth courses in our Training Schools.

The chart also reveals something of the magnitude of a rather new type of on-the-spot training for youth and their counselors. Two hundred and sixty-eight youth and their counselors attended the third annual Washington-United Nations Seminar sponsored jointly by the Youth Council and the Commission on World Peace of our conference. These delegates received an invaluable training in world citizenship as their understanding of national and world problems was broadened. Such experiences help youth mature to a point where they are better able to serve their Lord.

In addition to experiences depicted by the above chart youth continue to prepare themselves for service in other ways. Our youth have been represented at various jurisdictional and national meetings as follows:

National Youth School of Alcohol Studies: Bobby Caviness and Dwight Cartner, Christian Citizenship Area Chairmen for Seniors and Older Youth respectively.

National Conference of Methodist Youth: Wally Riddle, vice-president of our Western North Carolina Conference Methodist Youth Fellowship.

National Washington-United Nations Seminar: Miss Kay Fink, Christian Witness Area Chairman for seniors.

C. Report on Adult Work

More than 117,000 adults are enrolled in the church schools of our conference. Many conferences and workshops have been held to give guidance for these adults. I would like to mention some of our activities:

1. From our conference, 130 adults attended the Jurisdiction Adult Convocation at Lake Junaluska last August for inspiration and skill in adult work.

2. We had 128 young adult leaders at Brevard College last year for our Young Adult Assembly. The 1958 assembly will be held July 4-6, and should be much larger this year.

3. We have organized 7 new subdistrict Young Adult Fellowships this year. We now have 18 active subdistrict fellowships.

4. In 12 district meetings, we had 353 presidents of adult classes to attend the sessions on "Making the Adult Class Vital." Also, 179 workers with adult home members received information and training regarding work with aged adults, shut-ins and parents of very young children.

5. During March and April, 67 ministers and 66 teachers of adults were trained to lead clinics for teachers of adults. This year we are having 69 clinics to improve the teaching in adult classes.

6. Your conference director met with 2,563 adults in 67 meetings in local churches. These meetings dealt mainly with teaching techniques, and subdistrict workers could report some local church meetings also.

7. In Christian workers' schools, a large number of specialization courses on adult work were taught helping to train better leadership.

Our Growing Leadership

The following ministers have given time and leadership in adult work this year by serving on the Conference Council. They are: Ernest Fitzgerald, Gilbert Miller, C. Harley Dickson, George Starr, Jr., Grady Burgin, Bill Blanton, James Bellamy, Everett Freeman, Clyde Collins, and Ed Heath.

We now have 21 subdistrict directors working to improve our adult program in the local churches of their respective counties. These subdistrict leaders are most important in our work.

Objectives 1958-59

The task is still large and the Conference Council of Adult Workers is working hard at the following goals:

1. The Adult Division Superintendent is a key person in the training of adults to be church leaders. Therefore, we will continue our training program for these superintendents this year.

2. The teachers of adult classes have a tremendous opportunity to guide adults toward outstanding churchmanship. Therefore, we will continue to help these teachers to become better trained in theology, church history, Methodist beliefs, teaching methods, etc.

3. Adult class programs should always support the task and mission of our church. We will endeavor to help presidents of adult classes to find ways of bringing the tremendous strength of adult classes to support the local church task and program.

4. It takes a vital and potent Christian program to reach and hold young adults in the church. Therefore, we will work to encourage and organize subdistrict Young Adult Fellowships to help local churches motivate interest and enthusiasm in young adults.

5. Every church, large or small, has an obligation relative to family life. We will help local churches to encourage and plan Christian family activities. On October 17-19, 1958, the Third National Conference on Family Life will be held at Chicago. We are working now to get young adult classes or churches to send representatives to this important conference. We are using a family life theme for Annual Conference Young Adult Night in preparation for this Family Life Conference.

Report J

BOARD OF EVANGELISM

REPORT NO. 1

We who are followers of Christ continue to find that we are motivated to our primary task by the divine imperative, "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all nations . . ." It is our task to keep before every Christian his inescapable responsibility to let his entire life be a witness of what Christ can do.

When one comes to know Christ, he begins to see that the one thing of supreme value in the universe is the human soul; every individual is infinitely worth saving. Therefore, we must be unceasing in our efforts, ever seeking new and more effective ways of reaching the unreached, of saving the unsaved.

We are not wanting in opportunity today to bring before the people the message of Christ. People are flocking to our churches and to our church schools in increasing numbers. Young parents are seeing the value of bringing up their children under the influence of the church. College students are unashamedly confessing their religious faith. The old idea that science and religion are in conflict is vanishing. There are signs that modern man is hungering and thirsting for what can be found only as he responds to the needs of his soul. People are ready, receptive, responsive. "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest."

We have throughout the breadth of Methodism today some of the finest church members to be found anywhere, men and women of attractive personality, with trained minds, and with skills in communication. Ours is the task of marshalling this great potential of lay talent into a force capable of meeting the evangelistic opportunity of our day. These two things are clear: we must make greater use of laymen in this work, and each local church must organize for an aggressive and effective program for reaching those who are not being served by the church.

This board feels that while many of our churches have been making splendid use of their evangelistic opportunities, there are numbers of others, churches large and small, which leave ample room for improvement. There are churches in population centers which do not average as many as one new member on profession of faith each month; there are yet a few churches which go an entire year without having even one new Christian to report. We shall not be satisfied until every church has accessions on profession of faith in keeping with the opportunity which its community provides.

We are conscious of the dangers present in any evangelistic emphasis which lays undue stress on the number of persons received into the church. We must see to it that the evangelistic message we proclaim has in it the true content of the gospel. We must not weaken our movement by adding to our numbers persons who are not fully dedicated to the requirements of discipleship. An evangelism which is concerned only with making an impressive statistical report is worse than no evangelism at all.

Evangelism does not end when a person has been safely brought into the membership of the church. It is our continued responsibility to see that he is strengthened and sustained in the Christian life. Therefore, we must give attention to our members, training them in the holy habits, keeping in touch with them wherever they go, continually challenging them to a deeper understanding of the gospel. We have a sacred responsibility to give continued instruction in the meaning of our faith, and to do all in our power to hold those with whom God has entrusted us close to the living fellowship.

1. Accomplishments of the Year

During the past year, this board has enjoyed the co-operation of our Conference leadership in executing a splendid evangelistic program. One of our main objectives has been the development of evangelistic leadership.

A training retreat for young men beginning their pastoral ministry was conducted at Marion, September 1-3, with 34 young ministers receiving training in the skills of conducting an evangelistic program in the local church. Instruction in the techniques of doing the job was so mingled with inspiration for doing it that the men went away with a greater incentive as well as greater equipment for this work. It is the opinion of our board that we should conduct a retreat of this kind once every two years, inviting only those ministers who are in their first two years of pastoral ministry.

Training our ministry and laity for the work of evangelism is a continuous task. For this reason, we have encouraged attendance at the Candler Camp Meeting at Lake Junaluska, in August, and at the District Workshops on Evangelism. Eleven of our board members attended The Council of Evangelism meeting in Minneapolis.

District Committees of Evangelism are now organized according to the Discipline, and are carrying out effective programs in each of the eleven districts of the Conference.

Four Conference Evangelistic Rallies were held in January within reach of every charge. An occasion was provided for mapping out evangelistic strategy and experiencing moments of high inspiration.

We joined with Methodists across the country in the Nation-Wide Week of Evangelism, March 2-9. Preparatory to this week were the Religious Census, Spiritual Life Retreats, a Sunday of pulpit-exchange, and a 24-hour prayer vigil in each church. Lay visitation with the purpose of winning disciples was the emphasis of March 2, "The One Great Day of Witnessing." It was followed with the Nation-Wide Week of Evangelism, with a continued program of visitation plus an emphasis upon evangelistic preaching.

Eighteen of our ministers participated in the Cuba International Evangelistic Mission, January 28-February 6. This was the largest number from any conference to share in this combined enterprise of Evangelism and Missions.

2. Planning Ahead

As we look ahead into the new year, we recommend that the program of evangelism be promoted primarily on the district level, with the District Committee on Evangelism making the plans. The District Secretary of Evangelism, working together with his District Superintendent, must lead his committee in setting up plans for his district.

It is suggested that in each district, careful consideration be given to the advisability of setting aside a week for evangelistic services to be held simultaneously in each church, with plans for pastors and guest preachers to come together each day for evaluation and inspiration.

We wish to co-operate with the Inter-Board Regional Workshops, being planned for sometime about the middle of the conference year. These will replace our usual Conference Evangelistic Rallies.

We recommend that services be planned for every church in the entire conference on each of the six Sundays of Lent, 1959, using lay speakers where needed. Details for this should be arranged by the District Committee, working with the District Superintendent.

This board desires to emphasize the importance of the local church in the work of evangelism. In fact, here is where souls are won and the real work of evangelism is carried out. Therefore, The National Convocation on Local Church Evangelism to be held in Washington, D. C., July 3-6, deserves special consideration. Any Methodist may attend as a delegate. We want to urge that every local church arrange to send the chairman of its Commission on Membership and Evangelism and other officials of the local church. This promises to be the greatest gathering of Methodists ever assembled anywhere. We should have not less than four hundred from western North Carolina at this meeting.

The Candler Camp Meeting, to be held at Lake Junaluska, August 17-24 should commend itself to our people. Ministers and laymen alike will find this a splendid opportunity to enjoy a purposeful vacation. Such outstanding preachers as Wallace Hamilton and Robert Goodrich will be heard.

Regular attendance at the public services of the church on the part of its members is basic to the entire evangelistic work of the church. We are encouraged by reports of enlarged congregations in our churches generally, but are convinced, even yet, that the number of members who seldom attend public worship is deplorable. We call upon pastors and laymen in each local church to study ways in which the membership can be cultivated for regular attendance.

It is through prayer that our plans are given power. The Prayer Life Movement, which is gaining momentum throughout our church, should have our continued support. Prayer retreats, the organization of prayer groups, encouragement of family altars, and prayer vigils will strengthen individual Christians and will greatly help our entire work.

A wonderful supply of materials designed for every type of evangelistic need is made available by the Tidings Press. Every local church should have a sum available in its budget for materials for carrying out this work.

Recognizing the importance of the local church, the board urges that each church carry out the following recommendations:

1. See that the Commission on Membership and Evangelism is organized and functioning. Specific responsibilities of the Commission should be assigned to individual members. (Discipline, Par. 220-222).
2. A continuous program of visitation evangelism should be provided.
 - (a) a prospect list kept up-to-date.
 - (b) regular nights for visitation, at least once each month.
 - (c) training for laymen in effective visitation.
3. Training classes provided for new members coming into the church.
4. Organize the resident membership into neighborhood groups for the continued cultivation of interest on the part of every member. (This is being done in a number of our churches along lines similar to the historic Methodist Class Meeting. The leader assigned spiritual oversight over the group is called a Shepherd.)
5. Keep in touch with members when they leave the community.

We support the recommendation of the General Board of Evangelism in urging that each local church set up the following Targets during the early part of the year:

1. Every church enlisting 10 per cent of the members in a group to do four things: seek, pray for, witness to, and invite persons for Christ and the Church.
2. Every church enlisting a group of visitors for regular visitation evangelism.
3. Every organization in the local church reporting to the Commission on Membership and Evangelism each month on how many persons it has won for Christ that month.
4. Every church finding each year a number of new prospects equal to at least 10 per cent of its membership.
5. Every church of less than 100 members receiving at least one or more persons on profession of faith each year, and every church of more than 100 members receiving at least one or more members on profession of faith each month.
6. Every family and individual having daily devotions, using the Bible and The Upper Room.
7. Every church participating in the organization of a new church as recommended by the District or Conference.
8. Every church creating an evangelistic atmosphere that will encourage commitments to the pastoral ministry and missionary service.

9. Every church having a 10 per cent increase in church attendance over the previous year.
10. Every church promoting at least three evangelistic activities:
 - (1) A week of evangelistic preaching;
 - (2) A week of evangelistic visiting;
 - (3) A training class in church membership.

The opening statement of the service for reception of new members into The Methodist Church reminds us that the reason for the church's existence is nothing less than "the edification of believers and the conversion of the world." To this end we pray that we may make great strides during the coming year.

BOARD OF HOSPITALS AND HOMES

THE CHILDREN'S HOME

I would like to begin my brief statement with two thoughts that I have borrowed. The first comes from Henry Van Dyke—"There is a loftier ambition than merely to stand high in the world. It is to stoop down and lift mankind a little higher." The second thought is given us by Louis Nizer—"What we are is God's gift to us. What we become is our gift to God."

There is no agency in all the world that lives the idea that is found in both these statements as effectively as our church.

We join one with another to form or organize a church in order that we might worship our Lord and Master, yes, but also, that we might better serve Him and our people. Our most effective service to Him is in service to His people.

We go to our churches each Sunday and have a glorious experience. There insight, understanding, and inspiration are gained. From there we go out into the next week, and the world about, to live out Jesus' great teachings. We go with His warning that except as you lose life, lose yourself, in service, you shall never gain life.

One of the great problems facing our social order today is that of the broken home. Some would explain it by the fast tempo and the stresses and strains of modern life. Some would call our attention to the changing place of women in our homes. Others call attention to the many problems created by drinking. I am sure that there are many factors that contribute to this grave problem. Whatever the cause, the mortality rate for homes is high.

Surely it is a problem with which the church must be greatly concerned. When a home breaks up, little children suffer most. They are deserted frequently and left without the means for their support, and the Christian influence that they must have to grow into worthy citizens. These little ones need the church so very much. They have lost so much. Some agency needs to bring stability and purpose back to them. Our church, to attack this problem, to meet this need, must have its homes.

Our home served 382 of these children the past year. It did so at daily per capita of $3.14. The average per capita cost for the six North Carolina institutions with more than 150 children was $3.51. The range ran from $2.45 to $4.16.

This cost covers every item of expenditure. For example, the total bill for our church for the year was $6,209.29. Of that amount our local congregation paid $4,406.04. However, the total amount is charged against our per capita cost. Too, the cost of the edu-educational program borne by the State is still charged against our per capita cost.

I like to recall the words of Louis Nizer, "What we are is God's gift to us. What we become is our gift to God." I am sure that each of us is a much finer gift to God because of the influence of our great church in our lives. I would like to think that we are helping our boys and girls to become much finer personalities through the influence of The Children's Home. We know that what we do is made possible by you. We feel a real sense of partnership with you as we go about our work. Please accept our heartfelt thanks for your many acts of kindness during the past year.

THE METHODIST HOME FOR THE AGED, INC.

This month of June 1958, marks the tenth year that your Home for the Aging, known as the Methodist Home for the Aged, Inc., Charlotte, N. C., has actually been in operation. It has, indeed, and is now making a home for as many of our worthy members as it is possible for us to do with our present facilities. We now have 179 resident members, which means that every available room is occupied.

Again during the past year's operation, the administration noted the unusually low death rate, but at the same time continues its concern and alarm over the crowded condition of the Home's Infirmary. Through the past year there has been an average occupancy of 49 persons daily in the Infirmary, or in excess of 27% of the Home's total population, leaving practically no leeway of vacant beds for short-term or temporary illnesses. The fact that we now have five beds less for such purposes than we had a year ago brings home most forcibly the need for a new larger Infirmary. Again the administration of the Home is looking forward to such time that such Infirmary construction might be completed, because it realizes that by utilizing the present Infirmary space as a residence area, approximately fifty more persons who are patiently waiting on the Home's approved applicant list might be served. However, it is important to note that before any further increase in the Home's population takes place, the existing dining room and kitchen facilities must be expanded in order to accommodate additional persons. These two needs have been recognized and plans are now being made under the able leadership of Bishop Nolan B. Harmon who, at the proper time, will present specific recommendations, as well as lead us in constructive action.

The Aldersgate Retirement Homes Project, under the direction of the Board of Managers, continues to make progress and through the Reverend E. O. Cole as a founder, has completed three houses of the first unit. The Board continues respectfully to invite inquiries regarding the Aldersgate Project and its new plan of independent living designed especially for our aging population.

During this month of June 1958, a new group of ten two-bedroom apartments will be completed and occupied. This entire group has been constructed wholly from donor-contributed funds.

It is well at this time to lift up the fact that at no time are cottages or apartments constructed with contributed funds from the churches. These accommodations are built by persons who have adequate personal resources to construct such to occupy themselves, or to make the accommodations available for others. These apartments and cottages are out-right gifts to the Methodist Home.

Our Home is well staffed with capable men and women who love their work. Too, it should be pointed out that our staff and workers are interested in our resident members, and are doing everything within their power to help make their lives worthwhile and our Home Christian.

Our people are happy and interested in the Christlike way of life. Many of the 179 keep busy during the day engaged in many activities that the Home provides. The spiritual state of our Home is good. The superintendent and all of those who are associated with him are fully aware of their responsibility in this direction. Spiritual and inspirational services are held every day in the Chapel. A great deal of time is given by the superintendent and other members of the staff in counselling with members of the Home.

Our Home has responded to the ever-increasing requests of our churches to serve more of those whose lives have been rich in service to the Church, but whose resources are not adequate to pay their full cost of care. At the present time we have 82 members, or 46% of our total membership, in our Home who depend on this supplementary care.

The Home continues to stress to the members and friends of the churches of our Conference the need of stepping up its giving toward the payment of this supplement. For the 1958-1959 fiscal year, the total money needed for the work covering the difference between the amount the members are able to pay and the actual cost for their care will amount to approximately $95,000.00. In this connection, a representative committee from the Home appeared before the Commission on World Service and Finance and respectfully requested that an actual assessment be placed in the budgets of the churches within the Conference to assure such funds, and thus put the underwriting of the Home's charitable work on a sound business-like basis.

HUGH CHATHAM MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Paragraph 1559, section one, of the 1956 Discipline of The Methodist Church in part states: "There shall be a Golden Cross Society of The Methodist Church, which shall promote the hospitals and homes work under the direction of the Board of Hospitals and Homes and shall collect moneys and afford other material assistance in providing hospitalization for the deserving poor, and for the care of the aged and children. The enrollment in the Methodist Golden Cross Society shall be held annually in order to secure interest in and support of hospitals and homes in every congregation in such manner and on such date as determined by the patronizing Annual Conference."

The Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital, chartered in 1930, was opened for service in April 1931. During its twenty-seven years of operation thousands of sick and afflicted persons have received healing and health through its gently and kindly ministry. Known far and wide for its compassion, it is a matter of record that no one has ever been denied admission to this hospital because of a lack of funds.

Although beginning modestly, the hospital has grown steadily through the years and today its grounds, buildings and equipment are valued at more than $607,000.00. It is free from debt.

During the past year 3,005 patients were admitted into the hospital and 4,626 outpatients were treated, making a total of 8,246 services rendered. Of the foregoing, 179 patients received aid from Golden Cross funds, 111 of these in the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital and sixty-eight in other hospitals. Two thousand and thirty-five days of free care were thus provided.

Contract for the following addition to the hospital has been let and work is progressing rapidly. We hope to occupy the new rooms by October 1958. The plans call for two new operating rooms, a recovery room, rearrangement of doctors' scrub-up rooms, reorganizing of dressing and locker rooms for nurses, changing the pediatric ward, relocating and modernizing the obstetric suite, adding three labor rooms, adding larger, completely automatic elevator as required by Federal regulations, air-conditioning the hospital, and a new meditation room for loved ones to gather in time of deep sorrow.

With these improvements the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital will meet the standards of the present day. The cost of new improvements will amount to $232,000.00 which has been secured in full.

Recommendations: The Board of Hospitals and Homes meeting in regular session at the Methodist Home for the Aged, Inc., Charlotte, North Carolina, on May 7, 1958, was extended the hospitality which has made such a name for the institution.

The tour of the facilities of the Home brought forcefully to the attention of the Board the very crowded conditions of the Infirmary floor, and the great need for an Infirmary Building.

It is our understanding that such Infirmary Building has already been approved by the Board of Managers of the Home as a very badly needed addition. Too, it was pointed out by the administration that when the Infirmary is constructed and put into operation, it will make it possible for the Home to care for at least fifty additional members.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes has gone on record as endorsing the plan for such an Infirmary, and urges that this addition be started at the earliest feasible time.

Since the Board of Trustees of the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital has re-elected Dr. J. S. Hiatt as Superintendent and Chaplain of the Hospital, the Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Western North Carolina Conference respectfully requests the Presiding Bishop to appoint Dr. J. S. Hiatt as Superintendent and Chaplain of the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital.

Since the Board of Hospitals and Homes has elected Dr. J. S. Hiatt as Conference Director of the Golden Cross Fund, the Presiding Bishop is respectfully requested to appoint Dr. J. S. Hiatt as Conference Director of the Golden Cross Fund.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes recommends that the Conference re-elect Mr. J. L. Hall as Treasurer of Golden Cross Funds for 1958-1959.

The Board of Trustees of the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital has made the following nominations for Trustees of the Hospital, subject to confirmation by the Western North Carolina Annual Conference:

Terms to expire in 1961: Philip Hanes, Dr. James A. Harrell, J. C. Stokes, C. C. Weaver, Jr.

Since the Board of Managers has re-elected the Reverend C. W. Kirby, as superintendent and Minister of The Methodist Home, Inc., Charlotte, North Carolina, The Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Western North Carolina Conference respectfully requests the Presiding Bishop to re-appoint the Reverend C. W. Kirby as Superintendent and Minister of the Methodist Home, Inc.

Conference confirmation is also asked for the following to membership on the Board of Managers of the Methodist Home:

Term to expire in 1961: Sam T. Atkinson, Jr., Roy E. Bell, J. C. Cowan, Jr., W. Mark Depp, Dr. John M. Douglas, Eugene C. Few, W. W. Hagood, Jr., Julian Holmes, Leon Ivey, W. E. Jordan, R. H. Nicholson, Edwin Niven, Marshall I. Pickens, Frank O. Sherrill, Philip L. Shore, Jr., Dr. Joe M. Van Hoy.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes recommends an appropriation of $3,100.00 from Golden Cross Funds to provide one-half support of the Chaplain of Duke Hospital for the ensuing year.

Since Mr. M. T. Lambeth has been re-elected Superintendent of the Children's Home by the Board of Trustees, The Board of Hospitals and Homes respectfully asks Conference confirmation of his election.

Respectfully submitted,

A. C. WAGGONER, Chairman

W. T. MEDLIN, JR., Secretary

Report L

BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

The Board of Lay Activities of the Western North Carolina Conference reports to this Conference on the activities of the laymen during the Conference year of 1957-58.

Our laymen have found their most effective work to be done not only in the local charge, but through the district organizations such as Methodist Mens' Clubs, District Boards of Missions, District Lay organizations, the $10.00 Club and the like.

In the Winston-Salem, Asheville and North Wilkesboro Districts the laymen have been particularly active during this year now closing and have had many rewarding results. One of the areas in which our laymen have co-operated with the District Superintendents and pastors has been in the matter of lay speaking and the program of "No silent pulpit during Lent." In the Charlotte, Asheville, Winston-Salem and perhaps other districts, every pulpit was occupied by the use of laymen during some period of Lent. The Board of Lay Activities wants to emphasize the broadening and extending of this program. Laymen could be used in every district so there would be "No silent pulpit" in the entire Conference during the entire Lenten period. This would not only give the laymen an opportunity for service, but it could revitalize the work in many churches.

The General Board of Lay Activities is promoting the program of "Certified Lay Speakers." They have published a most worthwhile manual for the certified lay speaker and the plan is beginning to be put in operation in this Conference. We urge our District Superintendents at one Quarterly Conference to secure the names of laymen who are willing to act as certified lay speakers, furnish these names to the Conference Board of Lay Activities. We will be most happy to co-operate with the District Superintendents in furnishing manuals and certificates to be given each certified lay speaker and in general to magnify this work which has the opportunity of rewarding service to all the participants.

During this Conference year our laymen have been increasingly active in church extension work throughout the Conference through the consecrated efforts and sacrificial giving of many laymen and the leadership furnished by our pastors and District Superintendents, and a number of new churches have been started or strengthened.

The building program that is easily observed throughout our Conference indicates the keen interest all our laity have in making our church plants up-to-date and more efficient. Our increased budgets which are subscribed and paid by the laity indicate their substantial interest in the entire program of the church.

During October three Laymen's Institutes and Workshops were held, one each in Winston-Salem, Asheville and Charlotte. These were well attended and proved to have much merit. The laymen have plans underway to secure the attendance of at least 200 laymen at Junaluska July 31-August 3 at the Southeastern Jurisdictional Laymen's Conference. This should be the greatest laymen's conference yet held at Lake Junaluska.

EDWIN L. JONES, Conference Lay Leader

REPORT NO. 1

The best known function of this Board is maintenance of the standards of our ministry, according to the General Conference legislation laid down in the Discipline. To this end the Board spends 18 hours each year in policy sessions and interpretative meetings and 45 hours in counseling and interviewing. To the four intra-Board interviewing committees previously organized has been added a fifth—the committee on Approved Supplies: Student Section, with the Rev. Walter Lee Lanier as chairman. Membership in the Board has been increased to the Disciplinary maximum to man the committees, whose work is subject to review by the entire Board before recommendations are sent to the Conference floor.

Interpretative Booklet

In carrying out responsibilities peculiarly its own the Board has in the past year published a second edition of the interpretative booklet entitled "Steps Into the Methodist Ministry." It is to serve as a guide for entrance into and progress through the preparatory stages of the Christian Ministry in the Western North Carolina Conference. Everyone under the jurisdiction of the Board and every local preacher in the Conference has received a copy. Additional copies may be procured from the Registrar by any interested person.

Workshop on Worship

Moving into a field of training somewhat more peripheral, the Board this year was co-operating sponsor along with Brevard College and the Brevard Methodist Church of a Workshop on Worship held April 9-10 at Brevard. Dr. Clarence Seidenspinner, widely recognized Methodist authority on worship, lectured and conducted demonstrations to show how best to conduct services in the churches. There were 75 ministers in attendance.

Ministerial Recruitment

We clearly have a definite responsibility for ministerial recruitment (1956 Discipline, paragraph 670). The situation with reference to ministerial supply seems to be worsening. Unless the present trend can be arrested and increasing numbers of young men be led to commit their lives to the ministry of the church, Methodism will soon begin to suffer. Accordingly this Board, in co-operation with the Commission on Christian Vocations, will sponsor a Conference on the Call to the Ministry to be held April 11-12, 1959, probably at Salisbury. A joint committee has been set up to work with Bishop Harmon in the planning and carrying through of this conference. Choice young men will be invited that they may be confronted with the claims of the Christian Ministry. Admitting that any attempt to call young men into the ministry is beyond its prerogative, the Board nevertheless feels impelled to present the challenge and create the climate in which God's voice may be heard.

Other projects designed to increase the number of candidates for full-time church work will be carried out during the ensuing year by the Vocations Commission and the Board. Plans for these projects are included in a separate report on recruitment to be presented to this Conference.

Closer Ties

In the past, the lines of communication between the Board and candidates for the full ministry in our Conference have left much to be desired. Accordingly, during the year ahead, Bishop Harmon and officers of the Board will travel to Candler School of Theology and Duke Divinity School in order to keep in contact with our men in these schools. In this manner the ties will be strengthened between our Conference and our students in these schools.

Approved Supply Pastors

This year the Board will recommend and list as Approved Supply Pastors with the privilege of administering the Sacrament only those persons who are fully qualified for this status at the time the Annual Conference is in session. Those who later qualify will be notified of their change of status through the Board and the District Superintendent. Bishop Harmon has been petitioned to issue interim certificates of accreditation to support a pastor's claim of the privilege. Again we urge all Approved Supply Pastors and all Conference members in the Course of Study to attend the Approved Pastor's Schools at either Candler School of Theology or Duke Divinity School. The "Steps" booklet will give additional data. Candidates taking the Course of Study by correspondence should complete and mail the examination on one book each month to the Department of Ministerial Education, In-Service Training, Box 871, Nashville 2, Tennessee. To be credited the final papers must be in that office three weeks before the Annual Conference.

Southeastern Jurisdiction Minister's Conference

Your attention is called to the Southeastern Jurisdiction Ministers' Conference to be held at Lake Junaluska, July 14-18. This conference will feature Dr. Ralph Sockman and Bishop Gerald Ensley as platform speakers. Our own Bishop Harmon will participate in this program. We feel that such a conference will be of great value to those who are just entering the ministry as well as those who have been in the ministry for some time.

In view of the fact that an unordained Approved Supply serving a charge needs to be able to do the full work of a pastor, and further that the requirements for this privilege are reasonable and clearly set forth in the Discipline, the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications respectfully requests this Annual Conference by the adoption of this report-supplement to affirm that all supplies serving charges must become qualified to administer the Sacrament as a prerequisite to the Approved relationship, and that this requirement shall go into effect at the beginning of the Conference year 1959-1960.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

Your Board of Missions is holding up before you in this report some of the things to which it believes this great conference should give itself.

1. We believe it is time for The Methodist Church to venture boldly in behalf of missions. To do this we need a great program of promotion in which the people will be alerted to the urgent needs of missions.

2. The splendid advances made in Missions and Church Extension, Promotion and Cultivation can become the foundation for a new and greater future for the Christian mission to the world by our conference and churches.

3. We believe the local Church is the focal point in the Missionary Program. The Program can be made more vital by the use of the Commission of Missions, the Fourth Sunday Emphasis, and other media.

4. The Board recommends greater use of District Missionary Secretary, the District Mission Society with greater emphasis on the Dollar Per Member and Ten Dollar clubs.

5. The Church amid changing patterns poses a problem and opportunities that every vigorous church must face through Church Extension and Expansion.

6. The Woman's Society of Christian Service has shared in this report some of its outstanding achievements.

7. The advance for Christ and His Church is one of the most forward looking programs ever launched by the Methodist Church. The Board hopes that every church will participate in this great program.

8. The response to the Quadrennial program of "The Call to Witness and Decision" has been a source of inspiration to the Board. The Board urges each church to study the opportunities for service found in the "Lands of Decision."

A BOLD, NEW VENTURE

Your Board of Missions believes that The Methodist Church is in need of a bold, new venture which will kindle the imagination and alert every Methodist to the needs of missions. We must not forget that there are still millions of Methodists who seem to have little interest in the missionary enterprise.

A PROGRAM OF PROMOTION

The Board of Missions is dedicated to a great, far-reaching program of promotion. It feels that this responsibility has been placed on it by the conference. Our Board has accepted this challenge humbly and gladly. The Rev. Horace McSwain is giving wise and consecrated leadership in the entire field of promotion.

The Board of Missions has been working in conjunction with the Board of Christian Education of the Western North Carolina Conference in training people to become qualified teachers of missions in Training Schools. Dr. Carl King has given freely of his time and resources in these training schools. These teachers have been in a number of schools over the conference and have given missions a stimulus in the churches whose leaders they have taught.

ALERT TO THE GREAT NEEDS

The Board of Missions has tried to be alert to the great needs in strategic locations across our conference. Every strategic area of the conference has been under close observation. The Board is ready, insofar as its resources will allow, to go into every vital area of our conference with aid and counsel. The Board has gone with just the needed help to put over many projects which otherwise might have failed. The Board is ready to do all in its power to aid and assist in the building of new churches, and the purchasing of new lots in strategic and growing locations.

THE CONFERENCE ADVANCE IN MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

Advance in Missionaries

This year the most notable and significant Advance that can be reported in missions in our conference has been the new missionaries who have been approved and sent out by the Board of Missions:

Rev. and Mrs. Max Lowdermilk arrived in Quetta, Pakistan
(With Mark—18 months old)

Rev. and Mrs. Lonnie Turnipseed arrived in Hong Kong
(With Jeannie—11 months old)

Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Hackney Approved for India
(Mark 3 yrs. and John 2 yrs. old)

Miss Marlene Harmon (Formerly an A-3) Approved for the Belgian Congo

Miss Bobbie Leonard Approved (Short Term) for Pakistan

Missionaries Critically Needed

Probably the most critical need in missions is that of missionary personnel. Today the Board of Missions needs more than 600 new qualified missionaries around the world. In this quadrennium the goal is an increase of 500 from 1,500 to 2,000 missionaries (overseas) but with two years of this quadrennium gone there has been almost no increase. The Department of Missionary Personnel sends out urgent pleas for pastors and local churches to confront their finest young people with God's challenge and call to become missionaries of Christ to all the world. The qualifications and capacities of our finest young people can be used in the World Missions of The Methodist Church.

We beseech every pastor and church to confront their young people with the call of God to go into all the world preaching and teaching in Christ's name!

Advance in Giving

This year our churches have responded wonderfully well in assuming the increases in World Service askings (50% greater than last year—an 8-month year) with only rare exceptions to full acceptance the minimum asking. This year we expect the Western North Carolina Conference to move up from 9th to 7th place of all the conferences in giving to World Service.

In giving to General Advance Specials reports have continued to come in through the year of growth and increases in local church Specials. The Waynesville District reports an increase of 95% this year which is probably the largest increase of any district since the beginning of Advance Specials. These early reports indicate an increase in giving in the 4 Lanes of Service: World, National, MCOR, and Church Extension Specials. The Christmas and Easter offerings for missions are increasing year by year. However, there are no preliminary reports of the total giving for the year available. Early indications suggest that our conference will continue to stand high in the leading conferences of the church in giving to missions, but we may not be as high comparatively as last year. Other conferences have continued to move forward and last year we had the year-end payments of two conference years in the annual reports. We are delighted that our giving to missions and church extension this year has continued to increase.

Advance in Church Extension

Church extension in the conference under the District Mission Societies continues to move forward. The Charlotte District Mission Society has moved out in getting new lots for new churches and this year has three new churches underway—Aldersgate, Epworth, and Cokesbury. In the Gastonia District the Boiling Springs Church has been organized. A new church site has been obtained in Mars Hill in the Asheville District. Plans are underway to start a new church in Hickory. In Lexington a new church has been organized. In the Winston-Salem District surveys are being made for possible new churches and lots are being secured. Among churches reopened are those in Rural Hall and Kings Mountain. Plans are underway to start other new church organizations in the conference. Vital relocation of three churches in Greensboro is underway to meet new church extension opportunities and move congregations out of limited, changing, and competitive situations. The Executive Secretary of the Board of Missions works with the District Superintendents and District Mission Societies in their program of church extension.

Advance in Promotion and Cultivation

An Advancing Forward Movement characterizes the program of Promotion and Cultivation of missions and church extension in the conference this year under the Board of Missions. The work of the Board of Missions has continued to move forward in the promotion of all areas of missions. A program to enlist every local church in participating in Christ's mission to the world through the 4 Lanes of Service has been inaugurated this year. Every local church has been urged to adopt a Mission Special in each of the 4 Lanes of Service: World Division, National Division, MCOR, and Church Extension. A brochure outlining this program of General Advance Specials has been prepared and placed in the hands of each pastor and Commission on Missions Chairman.

Advance in Audio-Visual Aids

A new and vital area of promotion and cultivation with great potential has been introduced this year in the area of mission movies and filmstrips for use in the Church-wide School of Missions. Of this program in our conference, Rev. William Fore, Director of the General Board's Department of AudioVisual aids says "I know of no conference which has pioneered to such an extent as yours in the utilization of visual materials in correlation with our mission studies. I hope the people of your conference recognize how unique your service to them has been." "Your program . . . has helped us give guidance to other conferences as they plan to intensify and enlarge their audio-visual programs." Almost 700 individual showings have been given of movies and filmstrips in local churches this year. Twenty-one motion pictures and 25 filmstrips have been used in telling the story of missions around the world and especially in the "Lands of Decision." The District Missionary Secretaries have given invaluable assistance in scheduling these in local churches.

Advance in Church-wide School of Missions

The Church-wide School of Missions is rapidly becoming a most vital and effective means of telling the story of missions in the local church along with the use of movies and filmstrips. This year new enthusiasm and fine responses have been noted in the conference with the finest year yet in the Church-wide School of Missions "Lands of Witness and Decision." One minister reported larger attendance than for the Sunday morning worship services. The Church-wide School of Missions has proven to be one of the most vital Sunday evening fellowship series in many local churches.

Advance in Leadership Training, Workshops, Etc.

This year the Leadership Training Schools in High Point, Thomasville, Newton, Mooresville, Gastonia and Charlotte have had courses for the Commission on Missions in the local church. There has been an enthusiastic response to the courses in the first year of this program with more courses planned for the coming year. The qualified instructors trained by the Board of Missions in co-operation with the Board of Education have proven effective and have begun more adequate training of leaders for the local church in the work of the Commission on Missions. This year 277 participated in these Leadership Training Schools.

Workshops for the Chairmen and Members of the Commission on Missions have been conducted in the Marion, Greensboro, Thomasville and the Waynesville Districts. We commend the District Missionary Secretaries and District Superintendents for this fine leadership. These workshops for the Commission on Missions and their chairmen promise to be one of the most effective means of helping each local church plan their annual program and come alive to missions.

Regular mailings to the ministers have been sent to assist the minister and local church Commission on Missions do their work more effectively. A page in the North Carolina Christian Advocate now helps tell the story of missions in the Western North Carolina Conference.

FINANCE AND FIELD SERVICE

For the first time the Board of Missions initiated a program of Finance and Field Service in the Western North Carolina Conference. Many of our ministers and laymen had felt for a long time that the Board should do something in this field of fund raising. At the request of the Board Bishop Nolan B. Harmon appointed the Rev. Rollin Gibbs the director of Finance and Field Service.

Mr. Gibbs' leadership in this field has been recognized this year in church after church. At Trinity Methodist Church, Asheville, he raised over $100,000 for an addition to the educational building on a goal of $100,000. This campaign was so successful that the church has engaged him to do a similar campaign for raising the church budget.

Mr. Gibbs conducted a campaign for an education building at the Cole Memorial Methodist Church, Charlotte, with a goal of $47,500. The church raised $66,150. In every church where a fund raising campaign has been initiated not a single one has failed to reach its goal.

Perhaps more important than the money raised has been the spiritual impact of these campaigns on the churches. Many of the churches have indicated that the campaigns bought a new spirit to the people and a new dedication.

THE LOCAL CHURCH AND ITS OPPORTUNITY

The local church must use its own resources in educating the members toward a greater missionary interest. It is not enough merely to distribute literature from boards and personnel. The needs as described in our study materials can be interpreted most effectively by informed and enthusiastic leaders on the local scene. The fields white unto harvest can come alive in the thinking of church members in general only after prayerful study of God's will in the whole undertaking of missions. The time has come when we cannot stop with the matter of simply meeting minimum quotas. It is, therefore, all-important that we exercise extreme care in setting up and promoting missionary education through every month of the conference year.

Commission on Missions

The commission on missions in each church should be formed on a very selective basis. People who are willing to qualify must be chosen for this work. A chairman who can lead and follow is essential. He should be selected for his ability and willingness to undertake great tasks in terms of need, and never for his acumen in helping the commission to determine how little it can accept to "get by." Let us rethink the matter of how powerful the commission on missions can become in the local church to revolutionize the world for Christ!

Four Lanes of Service

One of the richest opportunities for every local church to join hands with the whole human family in Christ's name is through Mission Specials in the Four Lanes of service. This can become a great highway from every local church to the world. The Board of Missions urges every local church to assume at least one Mission Special in each of the Four Lanes of Service: World (Foreign) Special, National (Home) Special, MCOR Special, and Church Extension Special.

One opportunity for these Specials is that of promotion of Mission Specials of $1.00 a Sunday or more from each adult Sunday School class. This program alone could come near to doubling the amount given by our conference to Advance Specials. We urge every pastor, every Commission on Missions chairman, every District Superintendent, and every Official Board, to move forward with zeal and enthusiasm in the promotion of missions in the new year through every organization in the local church.

Church-wide School of Missions

Every local church has an unlimited opportunity for missionary promotion, cultivation and education in the Church-wide School of Missions.

Alaska and Hawaii facing continued congressional debate for possible approaching statehood will be the very timely and appropriate subjects for the Church-wide School of Missions for 1958-59. The text is "Methodism in Alaska and Hawaii: New Patterns for Living Together" by Dr. Vern Middleton.

We urge every local church to begin now planning a Church-wide School of Missions for every age group in the local church. Movies and other visual aids on Alaska and Hawaii will be available through the Conference Board of Missions and the District Missionary Secretaries.

Missions in Movies and Filmstrips

The total local church program now has a splendid opportunity to enrich the complete life of its membership through fine movies on missions. The tremendous story of missions and their contribution to today's world has been told in many ways in recent months through television on some of the most popular programs.

Now through mission movies of superior quality this thrilling story of our missionaries can be more adequately told to all members of the local church. The Conference Board of Missions is building a library of mission movies for use in all phases of the local church's program. These movies and filmstrips should be used for all church groups: Methodist Men, Official Board, Church School, Youth Work, W.S.C.S., Family Fellowships, etc.

Fourth Sunday Emphasis

The re-discovered Fourth Sunday emphasis offers a great opportunity for missionary promotion. This Sunday should be a time when people are brought face to face with the great needs of people around the world and the responsibility of the Christian church to meet these needs. The Fourth Sunday should be more than just another day to take an offering. It can be a day of inspiration and instruction. Your board hopes that it may become a vital day in the calendar of every church.

The Sunday Evening Fellowship

The pastor, church school superintendent, and chairman of the commission on missions should work together in planning effective programs of missions at the Sunday Evening Fellowship hour. Use of visual aids, missionary personnel, and special dramas could go far in promoting the cause of missions.

A World Outlook

A World Outlook should characterize the leadership of every local Methodist Church which has the "World as its Parish." Every church Commission on Missions and Pastor should see that the World Outlook is in the homes of all leaders of the church and Church School and read regularly by them. We urge the pastor to refer to it often from the pulpit in his sermons, etc.

THE DISTRICT MISSION SOCIETY

Each year the District Mission Society becomes a more important organization in the life of The Methodist Church. To a large extent Church Extension is being carried forward by the District Mission Society. Some of our societies function as county units but most as district-wide units. Church sites are being purchased through the District Mission Societies where Methodists should move in and build new churches. The Charlotte District Mission Society has had notable success in this field of service.

The Dollar Per Member

Our Board of Missions urges each church to promote the Dollar per Member plan for the support of the District Mission Society. With these funds the society is able to perform services that would not otherwise have been possible. Some of the societies have been able to help support a minister in a new area and provide house rent when no parsonage was available. Each District Mission Society is requested to contribute 10% of its dollar per member income to the treasurer of the Board of Missions for use in the most needy areas of the mountains.

The Ten Dollar Club

Our Board of Missions urges each district to maintain an active Ten Dollar Club. Laymen are eager to have a part in the construction of new churches in their own districts and the Ten Dollar Club provides a wonderful opportunity for their participation. Most of our districts now have an active Ten Dollar Club. Through the Ten Dollar Club new Methodist Churches have been organized and built. The Ten Dollar Club is largely a layman's organization. Through it the laymen can go the "Second Mile" for Christ. The Board of Missions urges every layman to be a vital part of this significant organization.

THE DISTRICT MISSIONARY SECRETARY

The key men in a continued program of promotion and cultivation of missions and church extension in the districts, assisting the District Superintendents in this vital area, are our District Missionary Secretaries. We congratulate and commend them for assuming new roles of responsibility and leadership in missions and church extension. They have moved into a fine leadership this year, making themselves available to the District Superintendents in this very important work of the local church and district. In preparation for this they spent two days together in September in Charlotte to prepare for this important service to the conference. Their leadership and work on the district level has made possible the expansion and enlargement of the program of promotion and cultivation of missions and church extension.

Our new program of mission movies and filmstrips for the Church-wide School of Missions which has been so very successful this year, one of the finest in all of Methodism, has been possible only because of their untiring efforts. In this they have kept numerous schedules and handled the mailing of movies, filmstrips and other materials to local churches. They have handled between 600 to 700 schedules for movies and filmstrips!

The District Secretaries have given able leadership and promotion in the District Missionary Institutes this year, the finest we've had. They have in a number of districts planned and carried out District or Sub-district workshops for the Local Church Commission on Missions and have helped promote leadership training for the chairmen and members of the Commission on Missions of the local church in the Leadership Training Schools.

They have worked closely with the District Superintendents in helping keep before the district and in its program the matter of missions and church extension. They have in many instances made themselves available to help local church commissions in planning their programs.

Their invaluable assistance to the Executive Secretary of the Board and the program of the Board is greatly appreciated.

We recommend their continued full use in the district and their splendid leadership in co-operation with the District Superintendents in all phases of the program in missions and church extension on the district and local church. This is one of the most promising areas of our enlarging program of missions and church extension.

THE CHURCH AMID CHANGING PATTERNS

For the past fifty years the church has been attempting to adjust itself to a rapidly increasing pattern of migration from the country to the city. The rural church, with its losses in membership and its drop in morale, has needed mission supplements in order to survive, despite the increase in per capita income for the farmer. There is nothing to indicate, in the foreseeable future, that the church can be relieved of its obligation to give succor to this grass-roots segment of the population that has fed its life blood into the Christian movement for many centuries.

During the past few years the most noticeable trend in migration has been a movement of the people from the cities proper to the so called "urban" areas. In an attempt to escape congestion and attendant evils, large, flourishing new communities, with their own shopping centers, utilities districts, town government and tax structures have been established.

Without question, the church has its largest and most challenging church extension needs and demands in these areas today. It can no longer be assumed that the people in these "urban" areas will remain active in and loyal to the city churches in which they maintain at best a tenuous membership. Contrariwise, it is evident that these families, with their large quota of children, are seeking church affiliation and loyalties in the new areas.

The Methodist Church must assume its share of responsibility for the establishment of the new churches to meet the pressing demands, even though much larger sacrifices are required. Evidence is incontrovertible that the returns on these investments are both quick and substantial. Full support of the various instruments for effecting these church extension results within the bounds of the annual conference are strongly urged.

A third area, where the patterns of changing social order should give the church pause for concern, is the down town church, through the years the pride and bulwark of the Christian Church. Today, in many instances, this church, reduced in size and influence, demoralized and struggling for survival, needs a complete re-evaluation of its place and function. It is not too fantastic to assert that the time may come, in our own conference, as it has in others, when the missionary arm of the Church will be called upon to give substantial support to a down-town program in keeping with the fast changing patterns of social movement and life. That this is not an acute problem as yet in the Western North Carolina Conference, is no reason for ignoring, even now, the sociological trends that are both predicted and predictable.

In a complex age such as ours the church must be ready for all eventualities.

THE WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE

1957-1958

In all missionary work the Woman's Society is a strong arm of the Church. The Woman's Society of the Western North Carolina Conference is one of the most outstanding in Methodism. The board invited Mrs. Clarence Cranford, president, to give a brief report on the work of the Woman's Society.

The Woman's Society continues to grow. Eight new societies have been organized during the year and almost 2,000 new members added. Though there are 903 societies, there are still 169 churches without an organized society. This is one of the greatest concerns before us. Gastonia, Salisbury, Statesville and the Thomasville Districts should have special mention for having reported 100% each report period. Gastonia and Salisbury Districts are 100% organized, meaning that every church in the district has either a Woman's Society, a Wesleyan Service Guild, or a District Member.

A Regional Workshop on Promotion, held at Paine College, Augusta, Ga., in October, was attended by four conference officers. In turn similar workshops have been held in all eleven districts of the conference.

The Wesleyan Service Guild has four new units organized this year, bringing the total to 193. These "gainfully employed" women of The Methodist Church work along with the Woman's Societies in the local churches.

One of the outstanding events to take place this year was the dedication of the Brooks-Howell Home in Asheville on November 13. The home is for retired missionaries and deaconess and is maintained by the Woman's Division.

In September a new worker was placed at Cherokee. She is a young lady from this conference and is serving as an assistant to the deaconess there. This work is under the Bureau of Town and Country of the Woman's Division and is supported by the Conference Society.

Twenty girls used Woman's Society of Christian Service scholarships last year. Of the seven who graduated in June, three have been accepted to work under the Woman's Division, two as U.S.2's, and one will go to the Philippines as a short term missionary. Opportunities are offered to young women interested in full-time Christian service. The Missions Club at Pfeiffer College has taken field trips to mission projects in the conference, including Cherokee Mission, Allen High School, Brooks-Howell Home, and the Bethlehem Centers.

At the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Division at Buck Hill Falls, Miss Mary Bethea was commissioned a deaconess. Miss Bethea is Dean of Women at Pfeiffer and an officer in the Conference Woman's Society. Four years ago Miss Marlene Harmon went to Africa as a short-term missionary. For the past year she has been back in the States doing additional study, and in May was commissioned as a full-time missionary. Much of the work of the Woman's Society is in co-operation with Boards and Commissions of the Annual Conference. Through contacts with these boards a broader insight into the work throughout The Methodist Church has been given. The Woman's Society works in co-operation with other organizations throughout the state as well. It is through the United Church Women that we observe the World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship Day, and World Community Day. The State Legislative Council is another organization with which the Woman's Society is affiliated. This group makes a study of needed legislation. One piece of legislation concerned the protection of migrant workers in the state and was presented by our organization to the Council. The North Carolina Council of Women's Organizations is another group with which we work. Two special events are sponsored by this group each year: The Conference on World Affairs, held in February, and the Leadership Training School in July. These meetings are held at Chapel Hill.

Two conference officers attended the Churchmen's Washington Seminar. This group is sponsored by the Council of Churches, and included people from all parts of the United States. The women are becoming more interested in world affairs, and seminars on the United Nations and World Understanding are being held on district and local levels.

The work of the Woman's Division is becoming world-wide in its scope. Interest in the welfare of the people everywhere is becoming the tender concern of the Woman's Division. The theme for the Annual Meeting this year is "For He Has Set the World in Our Hearts." Truly the world is in our hearts and our prayer is that we will accept the responsibility given us.

THE ADVANCE FOR CHRIST AND HIS CHURCH

Perhaps The Methodist Church has never written a greater story than the story of its Advance for Christ and His Church. The idea of the Advance program was born at the General Conference which met at Boston in 1948. What has happened since then seems unbelievable. Nearly sixty-seven million dollars has been raised since the Advance was initiated. The Advance includes General Advance Specials, Week of Dedication projects, the appeal for Korea, Hungarian Relief, and conference Advance Specials.

The local church is the key agency in promoting the Advance Program. Only 53% of the Methodist churches across America now enjoy the added blessings of giving to these special projects. Thousands of other Methodist Churches should join in going this "Second Mile" for our Lord Jesus Christ. It is the prayer of the board that increasing numbers of our churches in the Western North Carolina Conference will take Specials. There is a Special available for every church . . . regardless of its size or resources.

Bishop Martin reminds us that "as a church wide program, the Advance for Christ and His Church has proved to be both providential and strategic. In a period when the whole church might have retreated, this program made possible a continuing expansion of our world and national missions and of our overseas relief. Moreover, the Advance has enlarged the understanding and vision of the whole church. Not only has the program received unprecedented support by local churches, but it has stimulated the giving to the World Service and all general benevolences."

Four Lanes of Service

Every Methodist in every local church should have the privilege and the responsibility of contributing directly and personally to the Advance for Christ and His Church through Mission Specials. Denied this privilege every Methodist and the vital Christian life of every local church is made vastly poorer.

We urge every pastor, every commission on missions, every official board to provide increasingly opportunities whereby every member of the local church may contribute directly and regularly to Mission Specials for the Advance for Christ around the world! No local church can begin to know its potential; the World Mission of The Methodist Church cannot begin to be accomplished until every Methodist begins to have a part in Christ's Advance regularly and significantly through gifts to Mission Specials.

We recommend that every local church assume at least one Special in all four of the Four Lanes of Service: World Specials, National Specials, MCOR, and Church Extension and that every member of the local church have an opportunity to contribute to these personally regularly and directly.

LANDS OF DECISION

Half of the world's human beings have changed their political status in the last twelve years. Hundreds of millions have won political freedom; hundreds of millions have lost their freedom to communist tyranny. Further and vast upheavals are near in many countries. Men and women of all races, caught in these political avalanches, are desperately seeking the sanctuary and strength of religious certainty.

Millions are turning with new hunger to their inherited faiths. For vast numbers communism has become a religion, one committed to the extermination of all other ideologies. Secularism—belief in the power of things apart from God . . . is the new faith of many.

These are days of decision. At no time in history have so many people faced conscious choices of the gods whom they will worship. Their choice of political rulers will change; their choice of gods will last.

To these dangers The Methodist Church is responding in its world mission with "A Call to Witness and Decision." Your church is seeking to intensify its Christian witness especially in five areas.

One is functional—Evangelism. Major effort will be made that the leadership of every Methodist church, both laymen and pastors, may have a deepened command of both the spiritual resources and the most effective methods of vital evangelism. The other four areas are geographical . . . the Lands of Decision.

The Belgian Congo

The continent of Africa is being catapulted into the center of history. For centuries white conquerors have made political, economic, and military decisions for the Africans. Now the Africans are helping to decide the fate of the rest of the world. The speed of change in Africa is almost unbelievable.

Africa today is choosing between the Cross of Christ, the Crescent of Islam, and the Hammer and Sickle of Communism. Methodism now serves two important areas of the Congo: the Batatela area in the center, and the vital southern section including Elizabethville. We are challenged to open new rural work among the northern Batatela; to deepen the evangelistic witness of our schools; to develop desperately needed Christian social services in the mushrooming industrial areas of the south; to aid in a vigorous program of church extension. We must move fast as Methodist Christians or tomorrow may be too late.

Bolivia

Bolivia has been perhaps the most beautiful and most difficult Methodist mission field. About twelve years ago the Board of Missions considered closing its work in that country. The health problems for missionaries caused by the high altitude, the pressures of Roman Catholic officials, and the slow growth of the church were factors in that deliberation. Surely it was not God's will for this to happen. Today the church has doubled in membership within four years. Congregations are multiplying. Stewardship is growing.

At long last the hour has come when there can be the development of a truly Bolivian Methodism: the growth of a vital church rooted in the lives of the people with its own transforming Christian witness. Perhaps never before or never again will the investment of a life or a gift in Bolivia promise so much as now in both immediate and permanent return for the Kingdom.

Sarawak

The northwest corner of Borneo is called Sarawak. It is a British colony. These people, influenced so long by primitive and pagan customs, are now responding to the glorious gospel of Jesus Christ. They see the false claims of the old gods. They are now seeing the transformation of life under the preaching of God's Word. Their first choice is "Jesus." Two other choices are before them. Ninety-five per cent of the people of nearby Indonesia are Muslims. The Roman Catholic church is entering the area. Within ten years these people will probably be making their basic choice of their new god. The first and tentative choice, in all likelihood, will be their last and binding choice. What Methodism does now in providing opportunities for Christian evangelism, Christian medicine, Christian agriculture, Christian education, and—above all—Christian worship for these people will probably decide in the next few years their destiny for the next century or more.

Korea

We must remember that war has shaken the life of every Korean. Those who still live at home are yet, in some ways, spiritual refugees.

The ancient religion of Korea has proven to the people themselves pitifully inadequate to the testing of these days. Korea is a nation of people who are spiritually hungry.

Half a century of missionary witness has produced in Korea a church of spiritual warmth, evangelistic passion, and high standards of stewardships.

The Christian church of Korea has the special strength that comes from close contact with a cruel enemy. Self support in Korea is strongest at the places where they have suffered most from the Communist invasion.

Put a Methodist pastor in any village of Korea, and the next morning he will have a congregation. No wonder Methodism has grown from forty-five to eighty-five thousand members in four years. Korea, therefore, is one of the most strategic areas of the Lands of Decision. Let The Methodist Church move boldly here and she will reap an abundant harvest.

The Week of Dedication

The Week of Dedication has become a vital part of the Methodist program. It is heartening that the Western North Carolina Conference has taken great leadership in this important phase of God's work. Our conference is first or second each year in the Week of Dedication offering among all conferences of Methodism, and could easily continue to be first if each pastor and commission on missions would give added emphasis to this great week. We urge every pastor and every commission on missions to do all that is possible to lift up this vital week in the life of the church.

THE CALL OF JESUS CHRIST

All over the world hands are being extended to the Methodist people: "Come over and help us." Again we hear the voice . . . "Whom shall I send and who will go for us?" That voice is calling you and me in a clear, forceful manner and we dare not turn away from it.

The opportunity is ours to help evangelize the world. We may not be able to do all of it, but we can do something. We must bring the total resources of The Methodist Church to bear upon the crying and urgent needs of the world. Dr. Carl Quimby reminds us that "if the task of saving the world takes all of God's time, and all of Christ's time, we need not expect to help much with spare time. God wants the time we cannot spare, and He must have it."

Rolland Bainton, in his book, "Here I Stand," relates a story in the life of Martin Luther, the Great Reformer. Luther was telling his wife about a man who was willing to let his son face perils and suffering which lead finally to his death. Luther's wife protested, and said to her husband: "God would never allow such a thing." Luther replied: "But Katie, God did." Yes, God did give His Son. He gave Him that the world may be saved. Do we need any other reason, any other momentum for missions than this? Our job is to carry forward with dauntless courage the great mission program of the church.

ENABLING ACT

The Executive Committee of the Board of Missions and Church Extension is authorized to make such appropriations as, in keeping with the established policies, are necessary for the work of the Board of Missions and Church Extension "ad interim."

The Board of Missions nominates R. H. Nicholson and M. T. Hipps to the Board of Managers of the Pastors' School, terms to expire in 1961.

The Board of Missions respectfully requests that Bishop Harmon reappoint the Rev. Horace R. McSwain, Conference Missionary Secretary, and the Rev. Rollin P. Gibbs, Director of Finance and Field Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension.

Report O

BOARD OF PENSIONS

Report No. 1

The Board of Pensions recommends that the rate of pay for retired ministers be set at $58.00 per service year and that the widows of preachers receive an amount equal to 75% of the rate paid to men or $43.50 per service year.

For retired approved supplies we recommend that the rate of pay be $50.00 per service year and that widows of approved supply ministers receive an amount equal to 75% of the rate paid to men or $37.50.

For full time approved supply years of service to regular conference claimants the rate of pay for service year is $34.50. For widows, 75% of that amount.

The Board has designated the following banks as depositories: Concord National Bank, Concord, N. C., City Savings Banks, Charlotte, N. C., and the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Charlotte, N. C.

The Board requests permission to omit reading of the allotments to the Conference and that they be approved as printed in the Conference Journal.

Report No. 2

In compliance with the General Board of Pensions, we would like to call attention again to paragraph 1634 in the 1956 Discipline, which in substance states that the pastor's salary and the conference claimant fund must be paid on the same proportionate ratio. The Charge treasurer and the pastor are made responsible for seeing to it that this paragraph is complied with. If the conference claimant fund is not paid in proper ratio, the pastor will be held responsible for any deficit, and on his retirement this deficit will be deducted from his pension, subject to paragraph 1634.

We would like to urge the District Superintendents, the pastors and church lay leaders to be on the alert as to any acute needs of our superannuates and widows and report the same to the Board of Pensions.

Adopted: Morning Session, June 5, 1958.

A. G. LACKEY, President
V. A. MORTON, Secretary

BOARD OF SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC RELATIONS

II HISTORIC BASIS

Upon the organization of the United Societies, which later became The Methodist Church, John Wesley wrote:

"There is only one condition previously required of those who desire admission into these societies—'a desire to flee from the wrath to come, and to be saved from their sins.'"

He hastened to say, however:

"But wherever this is really fixed in the soul it will be shown by its fruits.

"It is therefore expected of all who continue therein that they shall continue to evidence their desire of salvation,

"First: By doing no harm, by avoiding evil of every kind, especially that which is most generally practiced . . .

"Second: By doing good; by being in every kind merciful after their power; as they have opportunity, doing good of every possible sort, and, as far as possible, to all men:

"To their bodies, of the ability which God giveth, by giving food to the hungry, by clothing the naked, by visiting or helping them that are sick or in prison;

"To their souls, by instructing, reproving, or exhorting all we have any intercourse with; trampling underfoot that enthusiastic doctrine, that 'we are not to do good unless our hearts be free to it.'" (Paragraphs 94, 95 and 96, 1956 Discipline).

By the General Rules, Mr. Wesley made it clear from the beginning that the people who would have a warm heart must also have a pure heart; that those who would have a right relationship with God must also have a right relationship with their fellowman. Methodism has always insisted that for its followers to be good they must do good. As the Methodist revival spread throughout England, so did a much needed social reform.

When the Methodists in America met for their organizing conference in 1784, they asked themselves a searching question and gave a resolute answer. The question was: "What may we reasonably believe to be God's design in raising up the preachers called Methodists?" They answered: "To reform the continent and to spread scriptural holiness over these lands." Reform helps make possible personal purity, and "scriptural holiness" should always bring moral and ethical "reform."

The full implications of the interdependence of personal and social reformation may not have always been lived up to, but it has never been absent from Methodist thought and action. In 1908, the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church adopted the Social Creed. In 1918, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, adopted it; and beginning with 1918, it was printed in our Discipline. It has been pointed out that, as early as the second term of Theodore Roosevelt, The Methodist Church officially stood for a minimum wage, a maximum six-day workweek, protection of working women, the abolition of child labor, and other industrial safeguards.

The Methodist Social Creed has been added to and reaffirmed by subsequent General Conferences. In its present form it declares our social concern in the following areas: the family, economic life, intoxicants and narcotics, treatment of crime, freedom from discrimination, war and peace, and civil liberties and civil rights. (Paragraph 2020, 1956 Discipline).

The General Conference of 1952 established the Board of Social and Economic Relations to "implement its Social Creed by providing an official and co-ordinated channel of study, expression and action within the organizational structure of the Church." (Pages 1725-1727, General Conference Journal, 1952). Our Annual Conference elected its first Board of Social and Economic Relations at its 1954 session. A new Board was elected at the 1956 session.

Scriptural Basis

We have a historic background in social action because of its clear mandate in Scripture. Mr. Wesley based all of his teachings on the Scriptures, believing that:

"The Holy Scriptures contain all things necessary to salvation; so that whatsoever is not read therein, nor may be proved thereby, is not to be required of any man that it should be believed as an article of faith, or be thought requisite or necessary to salvation." (Paragraph 65, 1956 Discipline).

The Prophets speak of social righteousness with clarity and force.

"When you come to appear before me, who requires of you
 this trampling of my courts?
 Bring no more vain offerings;
 incense is an abomination to me.
 New moon and sabbath and the calling of assemblies—
 I cannot endure iniquity and solemn assembly.
 Your new moons and your appointed feasts
 my soul hates;
 they have become a burden to me,
 I am weary of bearing them.
 When you spread forth your hands,
 I will hide my eyes from you;
 even though you make many prayers,
 I will not listen;
 your hands are full of blood.
 Wash yourselves; make yourselves clean;
 remove the evil of your doings
 from before my eyes;
 cease to do evil,
 learn to do good;
 seek justice,
 correct oppression;
 defend the fatherless,
 plead for the widow." (Isaiah 1: 12-17).

"I hate, I despise your feasts, and I take no delight in your solemn assemblies.
 Even though you offer me your burnt offerings and cereal offerings,
 I will not accept them,
 and the peace offerings of your fatted beasts
 I will not look upon.
 Take away from me the noise of your songs;
 to the melody of your harps I will not listen.
 But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream."
 (Amos 5: 21-24).

"With what shall I come before the Lord,
 and bow myself before God on high?
 Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old?
 Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, with ten thousands of rivers of oil?
 Shall I give my first-born for my transgression,
 the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?
 He has showed you, O man, what is good;
 and what does the Lord require of you

but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?
 The voice of the Lord cries to the city—and it is sound wisdom to fear thy name:
 'Hear, O tribe and assembly of the city!
 Can I forget the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked,
 and the scent measure that is accursed?
 Shall I acquit the man with wicked scales and with a bag of deceitful weights?' (Micah 6: 6-11).

The Command of Christ in the Gospels also calls all men to judgment.

"So if you are offering your gift at the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your gift there before the altar and go; first be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift." (Matthew 5: 23-24).

"Then the King will say to those at his right hand, 'Come, O blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world; for I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me.' Then the righteous will answer him, 'Lord, when did we see thee hungry and feed thee, or thirsty and give thee drink? And when did we see thee a stranger and welcome thee, or naked and clothe thee? And when did we see thee sick or in prison and visit thee?' And the King will answer them, 'Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brethren, you did it to me.'" (Matthew 25: 34-40).

"But woe to you Pharisees! For you tithe mint and rue and every herb, and neglect justice and the love of God; these you ought to have done without neglecting the others." (Luke 11: 42).

Some of the Epistles likewise make clear that ethical righteousness is not an elective in God's redemptive plan.

"What does it profit, my brethren, if a man says he has faith but has not works? Can his faith save him? If a brother or sister is ill-clad and in lack of daily food, and one of you says to him, 'Go in peace, be warmed and filled,' without giving them the things needed for the body, what does it profit?" (James 2: 14-16).

When the Christian Church has made lasting gains, it has gone forward on two legs: personal salvation, and social salvation. When either has been withdrawn, the Church has moved, if at all, with an irregular stride and an uncertain balance.

Because of its mandate, your Board of Social and Economic Relations calls upon all ministers and laymen to keep a lively conscience on all social issues, striving through study, prayer and decisive action to apply the changeless social gospel to the ever-changing patterns of our social order.

We believe that both social and individual sin stand under the judgment of God and that his grace is available for their redemption.

Declaration of Concern

1. Your Board is concerned over the general lack of concern about evil in high places. The public has been confronted daily with appalling and shocking revelations of corruption in some governmental agencies, labor unions and in some management practices. The Senate Rackets Committee has told at length of "phony locals" in New York; gangsterism in Portland, Oregon; violence in Scranton, Pennsylvania; collusion with the garbage industry in New York and Los Angeles; and organized violence in Tennessee and adjacent states, including North Carolina.

These corruptions are a sin against man and God!

Let the Church re-examine her message to and responsibility for a society in which these things can be so easily committed and tolerated. These are things which could only take place in a social order that has become morally indifferent and calloused. It may be that inadvertently a Senate Committee has revealed the ethical and moral barrenness of the Church's message to this generation.

2. Your Board of Social and Economic Relations recognizes with gratitude all progress made in making more Christian our race relations. We commend all who have had any part in it. But in this era of supersonic speed, we cannot but feel concern over the slowness with which we move in applying the teachings of the Bible that God is

Father of all peoples and races; that all men are brothers; that man is of infinite value; and that all practices and institutions should be judged in the light of these truths.

Here, the Church has a message and a responsibility which it cannot relegate to courts, school boards or to the secular press. Many who have listened in the past to the Church's message on brotherhood are now looking for her leadership and support in difficult and epoch-making times.

3. This Board invites your mutual concern over the renewed activities of the Ku Klux Klan in North Carolina in recent months. This organization often cloaks much black hatred under its white robe. Many of these night-riding invaders are hood-winked and misguided. All of them are pursuing a way that leads to the endless dark. Their rule of terror and violence cannot stand the light of truth. We invite you to study and expose this group masquerading, more often than not, under the name of Christ, burning the symbol of the faith, while marching in cadence to religious songs.

The publicity and following which the Ku Klux Klan commands is another commentary on the moral vacuum which our explosive racial tensions have created. Let the Church lift up her gentle but firm voice of love and invite all men to follow it.

4. The children of homes in which parents are absent for the greater part of each day is a concern which the Church can neither ignore nor forsake. The absence is sometimes caused by the social and civic activities of the mother. More often it is occasioned by working mothers. The National Manpower Council estimates that, on the basis of present trends, 95 per cent of the high school girls of today may expect to work for an average of 25 years in paid employment. The same Council predicts a steep increase between now and 1965 in the employment of mothers presently in the home.

Does the Church understand this trend, and is it preparing its people and communities for it? Is it adequately meeting the present need in this area? The Church has a multiple responsibility in that the quality as well as the quantity of parental care is of prime importance. The Church is interested in physical and moral safeguards for women in industry, especially mothers. The Church may need to educate parents to the importance of early and adequate child care and acquaint them with existing facilities outside the home where such exist. Industrial and urban churches may need to open their doors to accredited day nurseries to give Christian training and care to the children of working parents. In a time when parents are spending so much time in pursuit of the abundance of material things, the Church has an opportunity to help make possible a more abundant life for children now and in their adulthood.

Primary Objectives

1. Your Conference Board of Social and Economic Relations understands its task to be that of trying to quicken the mind and to stimulate the conscience on social and economic issues of the day, pointing out responsibility in these matters, and stimulating a problem-solving approach to them. This grave responsibility is faced humbly, but accepted with the confidence of your support and help.

2. We propose to continue to study the problems and opportunities of our assigned task.

In pursuit of this objective, members of our Board have attended three Conferences and Seminars during this year: National Manpower Council's Conference on "Work in the Lives of Married Women," New York; Conference on "Methodism's Ministry to Industry," Washington, D. C.; and the Washington Churchman's Seminar. There has been one meeting of the Executive Committee and three meetings of the Board.

3. Another objective is a Seminar during next Conference year for ministers and laymen in the area of social concern.

4. This Board is ready to co-operate as opportunity permits with all other Conference agencies having related goals, such as the Board of Temperance, the Committee on World Peace, Board of Education, the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Lay Activities, the Methodist Youth Fellowship, etc.

RECOMMENDATION

We recommend that the Conference approve and support the following proposals:

1. That the Methodist Social Creed be read in each church, on either United Nations Day, the Sunday next preceding October 25th; Race Relations Sunday, the second Sunday in February; or the Sunday next preceding Labor Day.

2. That whenever possible courses in social and economic concern be included in our Leadership Training Schools.

3. That pastors and local churches seek to establish more effective communications with and more helpful relations towards neighboring pastors and churches of the Central Jurisdiction.

4. That each local church establish a Committee on Social and Economic Relations, as authorized in paragraph 278-11 of the Discipline. Before establishing this Committee, it is suggested that the Official Board of each church discuss and approve it. The Nominating Committee of the Quarterly Conference should then be instructed to nominate the Committee. When elected, the Committee should meet on a regular basis for study, discussion and appropriate action in such realms as: (a) brotherhood and race relations, (b) citizenship and civic affairs, (c) civil rights and religious liberties, (d) economic life and industrial relations, (e) gambling and public morals, (f) family life and welfare, (g) social health and welfare, (h) rural conservation and agriculture, and (i) employee relationships in the Church. Projects should be approved by the Official Board before they are started. The local church Committee on Social and Economic Relations should report to the Quarterly Conference.

BOARD OF TEMPERANCE

The special function of the Board of Temperance may be described as follows:

1. To promote voluntary total abstinence from all intoxicants and narcotics within the bounds of this Conference.
2. To encourage laws which will protect the general public from the evils of beverage alcohol, especially as it concerns the welfare of children and of the innocent.
3. To seek to restore and redeem those who have become the victims of alcoholism, through personal counselling, friendly help and sympathetic understanding.

Activities and Program

In carrying out its function, your Board has co-operated in or set up the following activities:

1. Thirteen of our leaders were sent to the Southeastern Regional Briefing Conference for Temperance Leaders, which met at Lake Junaluska, Sept. 10-12, 1957.
2. Two adult leaders were sent to the National Adult School of Alcohol Studies at Green Lake, Wisconsin, October 9-16, 1957.
3. We assisted in sending one or more college students to the Intercollegiate School of Alcohol Studies, in co-operation with the Rev. W. M. Wells, Jr., State Director of the Methodist Student Movement.
4. We sent two youth leaders to the National Youth School of Alcohol Studies.
5. We were co-sponsors with the Conference Board of Education in four courses on The Church Facing the Alcohol Problem in Leadership Training Schools within the Conference.
6. We set up and carried out a successful Seminar on Temperance for the benefit of young ministers newly admitted into the Conference.
7. We set up and carried out a series of three Seminars on the Rehabilitation of Alcoholics, using as our main resource persons the Rev. Thomas J. Shipp of Dallas, Texas and the Rev. Robert Regan, of the Board of Temperance. Approximately 360 ministers and 500 laymen participated in these meetings.
8. We sent one of our leaders to the National Seminar on Alcohol Problems, the Church, and the Political Order at Washington, D. C., which took place in March 1958.
9. We have continued to make available to pastors and churches at no cost other than return postage a fine group of films and film-strips through our audio-visual library.
10. We have provided leadership in a vigorous promotion of Commitment Day for Temperance which came on December 1, 1957, resulting in the largest number of charges observing this day in the history of the Conference. A total of 423 charges reported the observance of Commitment Day with 154 not reporting. There were 35,091 signers of Commitment Cards to abstain from the use of beverage alcohol. An offering of $4,774.25 was received for the promotion of Temperance within the Conference.
11. In January 1958 your Board received an Award of Merit from the General Board of Temperance "For new and creative contributions to the cause of temperance, and for their constant search for the solutions to the problems of alcohol, and for the outstanding program of their conference Board of Temperance."

PROPOSED PROGRAM AND RECOMMENDATIONS

For the Conference year 1958-1959, we offer the following program and recommendations for the adoption of this Annual Conference:

1. That the period beginning with World Temperance Sunday, October 26 and concluding with Commitment Day for Temperance, December 7 be set apart in the local church for special study of the alcohol problem, under the direction of the pastor and the Committee on Temperance, with the co-operation of the Commission on Education. Such a program may well include study classes on basic information, discussions on alcoholism and how to help the alcoholic, the use of visual aids and other instruments of communication, the relative merits of the total abstinence approach and the moderation approach, and the relationship between the alcohol problem and problems of health, of matrimony and the home, of poverty, of crime, of job absenteeism and the like.

2. That this period of study culminate in a climactic observance of Commitment Day on December 7, with a suitable sermon related to the subject, and with the taking of a free-will offering to be used in the promotion of Temperance through the program of the Conference Board of Temperance.

3. That a District Committee on Temperance be organized in each District with the following persons as ex officio members: the District Superintendent, the District Lay Leader, the District Secretary of Christian Social Relations of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, the District Director of Temperance, and one young person active in the MYF Christian Citizenship Program Area, selected by the youth of the district and that the District Director of Temperance act as its chairman and be given responsibility for its organization, in consultation with the District Superintendent.

4. That we voice our vigorous support of legislation in the United States Congress to ban the interstate advertising of beverage alcohol; that these sentiments be conveyed to the appropriate officials in Washington, and that we urge the ministers and laymen of our conference to express themselves individually through the medium of personal correspondence with key personnel in Washington.

5. That this Annual Conference sponsor a School of Alcohol Studies under the direction of the Board of Temperance, to take place at Brevard College, Sept. 8 to 11.

6. That the training of Temperance leaders be continued through our participation in the following schools sponsored by the General Board of Temperance:

a. The National Youth School of Alcohol Studies and Christian Action, to take place at National College for Christian Workers, Kansas City, Mo., July 26 to Aug. 3.

b. The National Adult School of Alcohol Studies and Christian Action at the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Wis., Oct. 8 to 15.

c. The Seminar on Rehabilitation at Evanston, Ill., Nov. 11 to 14.

d. The Seminar on Communications to take place March 10 to 13, 1959 at a place to be announced.

e. The Southeastern Regional Briefing Conference at Lake Junaluska, Sept. 23 to 25.

f. The Intercollegiate School of Alcohol Studies at Waterloo College, Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, Aug. 23 to 28.

7. That we continue our support of the Allied Church League and approve election of the following trustees to represent this Conference: A. J. Clemmer, R. P. Gibbs, F. E. Howard, J. C. Madison, M. A. McLean, W. J. Miller, D. B. Mullis, R. F. Swink, A. L. Chamblee, Jr., R. L. Reed, J. C. Stokes, M. Q. Tuttle, H. C. Wilkinson, Mrs. L. E. Brown, R. C. Brock, L. J. Brookshire, P. R. Ervin, G. L. Goodson, Mrs. L. V. Scott.

And that we recommend the appointment of Rev. R. M. Hauss as Executive Secretary of the Allied Church League for the coming conference year.

8. That we purchase an adequate number of prints of the new film on rehabilitation entitled "How Long the Night," produced jointly by the Methodist Board of Temperance and the Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church; and that this film be made available through the facilities of our film library.

9. That the Rev. F. E. Howard be designated as Conference Director of Commitment Day, and that the Rev. L. E. Mabry be designated as director of our Temperance Film Library.

10. That the District Superintendents and pastors give diligence to see that a Temperance Committee is set up in every local church, or the alternate arrangement, as provided in the Discipline, paragraph 276, and that they co-operate in making it possible for the District Director of Temperance to have a copy of the names and addresses of such committeemen.

11. That we cooperate in a clinical training program in the pastoral counseling of alcoholics to be set up at Keeley Institute in Greensboro under the joint sponsorship of that institution, of the Pastoral Care Department of the Duke Divinity School, and of the following annual conferences of The Methodist Church: the North Carolina, the South Carolina, the Virginia, and the Western North Carolina. The program in question is to begin on July 7 and will involve a ten day stay at the Keeley Institute of two ministers at a time, during which time they will share in the rehabilitation program being conducted and will work in cooperation with the chaplain of the institute and the leadership furnished by the Pastoral Care Department of the Duke Divinity School.

COMMITTEE ON WORLD PEACE

During the present Conference year the Committee on World Peace has labored principally in three definite fields of action: namely, promotion of District World Peace Institutes; sponsorship with the Conference Youth Council, the Washington-United Nations Seminar; and, the promotion of the World Peace Leadership Conferences.

Educational programs in the form of Institutes were presented in several of the Districts. The purpose of such being to strengthen the interest in and support of the United Nations; to inform those present of national and international issues before Congress, to challenge the sharing of views with congressmen through correspondence; and to inform local church leadership of other study and action possibilities for world peace.

Realizing that youth are the ones to whom we shall look to solve many of the international problems of tomorrow the Committee on World Peace and the Conference Youth Council sponsored the third of their annual Washington-United Nations Seminars. Two hundred seventy youth and their counselors attended such Seminar March 25-29, 1958. Sessions were held in the State Department of Washington and in the United Nations headquarters of New York with speakers from both organizations discussing issues of national and international character. Informative tours were made over the State Department, the Capitol, and other government buildings, the United Nations and other places of historic interest in Washington and New York.

In the early Spring, Leadership Workshops were held at different points over the Conference under the guidance of Dr. Daniel E. Taylor, Executive Secretary of the Board of World Peace, with Reverend C. Jerome Huneycutt in charge of local program arrangements. Herein attention was given to discussion of such subjects as "World Trade," "Youth and World Peace," "Disarmament," "The Work of the Commission on Christian Social Relations," "The Woman's Society of Christian Service and World Peace," and "The Work and Program of the United Nations."

Other aspects of our Committee's work have included:

1. Encouragement of local church observance of United Nations Day;
2. Distribution of a large quantity of World Peace literature;
3. The collection by children of $1,093 for UNICEF on Halloween night through locally sponsored projects; and
4. Support of the Foreign Relations Institute at Chapel Hill.

We would recommend for the forthcoming year that:

1. Each district set up a District World Peace Council to be composed of the ministerial and lay members of the Conference World Peace Committee, the district superintendent, the district secretary of Christian Social Relations of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, the district director of youth work, and the district lay leader.

2. Each district plan and conduct workshops or institutes with the purpose of informing and strengthening local church interest in the United Nations and other phases of the world peace program.

3. A Commission on Christian Social Relations be elected in each local church charged with the responsibility of study and action in the field of world peace, the observance of United Nations Day, and of co-operation with other commissions, committees and boards of similar interest and responsibility.

APPROVED SUPPLY PASTORS' SCHOOL

The tenth annual Approved Supply Pastors' School at Duke University will be held July 15 through August 8, 1958. This school is sponsored jointly by the Divinity School of Duke, the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference, and the Department of In-Service Training of the General Board of Education of The Methodist Church. During the four weeks of the school supply pastors and traveling preachers taking the conference course of study can complete a full year of the conference course, as required in Paragraphs 2044-2048 of the 1956 Discipline. In the summer of 1957 two hundred and nine students were enrolled. It is anticipated that the number for 1958 will be slightly larger.

The majority of the students come from the two conferences in North Carolina, but large delegations come from conferences in Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, and other southeastern states.

In addition to the required courses, the school features preaching opportunities in the daily chapel services, workshops in pastoral care, worship, Christian education, and church administration. A program of recreation provides good balance to the spiritual and mental exercises of each day.

The instructors and other leaders for the 1958 school are: Carl L. Anderson, Hugh Anderson, C. D. Barclift, John Carlton, Paul Carruth, Leon Couch, Robert E. Cushman, Boyd Daniels, Creighton Lacy, William R. Locke, Clyde Manschreck, Ray Petry, J. H. Phillips, John Rudin.

INTER-CONFERENCE COMMISSION ON STUDENT RELIGIOUS WORK

The objectives of the Methodist Student Movement are: "to lead students to Jesus Christ; to stimulate Bible study; to deepen Christian faith; to further understanding of the Church; to provide warmth of Christian Fellowship; to develop ecumenical understanding; to foster Christian education; to offer projects of service; to interpret Christian vocation; to promote religion in higher education; to encourage participation in a university Christian movement, and to develop a sense of world Christian community." Ministering in these ways to the Methodists of the colleges and universities located within North Carolina is the task of the Inter-Conference Commission on Student Religious Work.

During the year a training session for Workers with Students was held in Chapel Hill, sponsored by the Commission. This was attended by a Bishop, 2 leaders sent by the General Board of Education, 2 visitors from South Carolina, an Executive Director of a Conference Commission on Christian Higher Education, members of the Inter-Conference Commission, and workers with Methodist students on several campuses. An expanded session of the same is planned for next year.

These projects were sponsored directly by the Methodist Student Movement of North Carolina:

A Fall Retreat at Camp Betty Hastings. This was for the "full council," and its purpose was to acquaint them with their tasks and to implement projects which had been planned at a retreat the preceding day. Leaders included: Dr. Harold Hutson, President of Greensboro College, the Rev. Gunter Sommer of Germany, and local campus directors.

Two District Conferences, at Winston-Salem and at Cullowhee. Speakers for these were Dr. E. G. Wilson, Associate Dean of Wake Forest College, and the State Director of the Methodist Student Movement.

A Church Vocations Conference at Salisbury. Leaders included 2 persons from the General Board of Education in Nashville, a representative of the Methodist Publishing House in Nashville, a representative of the General Board of Missions in New York, and quainted persons in our own state. Youth received counseling in the fields of: Hospitals, Homes, and Social Agencies; the Pastorate and Chaplaincy; Missions (National and World); Publications and Communications; Teaching, Counseling, Student Work, and Administration of Educational institutions; and Christian Education and Deaconess Work. It is planned to hold a Vocations conference bi-annually.

A United Nations Model Assembly. This attracted students from eleven schools, including three which had not been represented in our state-wide work this year. They came from eleven different home countries and represented twenty countries in the Assembly. The meeting was interdenominational and interfaith, with persons from twelve religious bodies attending. Feeling was unanimous that another Assembly should be held next year, to further our knowledge of and appreciation for the United Nations.

Here is some condensed information about our Methodist work at some of the schools in North Carolina:

Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone. The Rev. Robert Barefield, Director of the Wesley Foundation. Enrollment, 1,782; Methodist preference, 452; affected by Methodist group, 350. During the year Sunday evening activities were expanded. A lot on College Street in the center of the campus was bought. Now there is the need to build on this well-located lot a Methodist Student Center to house the Wesley Foundation which now meets in the basement of Boone Methodist Church.

Davidson College, Davidson. The Rev. Russell Montfort, pastor and counselor of the Methodist Student Fellowship. Enrollment, 850; Methodist preference, 152; affected by Methodist group 80. During the year the pastor led in raising money toward a new wing for the Davidson Methodist Church. This wing will include facilities for students and a meeting place for the Methodist Student Fellowship.

Duke University, Durham. The Rev. Arthur Brandenburg, chaplain to Methodist students. Enrollment, 5,000; Methodist preference, 1,460; affected by Methodist group, 700. During the year much emphasis was placed upon study groups and ministry to committed students. A stimulating and independent theological journal in mimeographed form is written and distributed by the students. There is need for money to equip and maintain the new Methodist Student Center which is the home of the Methodist Church at Duke University.

East Carolina College, Greenville. Miss Mamie Chandler, a deaconess, Director of the Wesley Foundation. Enrollment, 3,947; Methodist preference, 744; affected by Methodist group, 313. Under the auspices of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, a new Methodist Student Center has been built on Fifth Street. All Wesley Foundation activities will originate from there next year.

Pembroke State College, Pembroke. Miss Marjorie Kanable, counselor of the Wesley Fellowship. Enrollment, 331; Methodist preference, 79; affected by Methodist group, 79. In this school many persons are trained who become leaders in near-by churches. Through this year's meetings, activities, and outreach, students' horizons were widened. The Wesley Fellowship which meets in a classroom of the college needs a regular meeting place of its own and funds for program.

The Wesley Foundation of Raleigh with the Rev. Neal V. McGlamery as director, ministers to Methodist students at North Carolina State College, Meredith College, Peace Junior College, Rex Hospital, and State Hospital. The combined enrollment of these institutions is 6,768; Methodist preference, 1,565; affected by Methodist group, 275. Recently the Wesley Foundation moved into new and newly-furnished quarters in a wing of Fairmont Methodist Church.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The Rev. Robert Johnson, Director of the Wesley Foundation. Enrollment, 7,300; Methodist preference, 1,700; affected by Methodist group, 650. During the year a spacious lot was bought, located just behind the Carolina Inn. The old house now there, to be known as "Wesley House," will be used for offices and some activities during the coming year. There exists the urgent need of building a Methodist Student Center to house a Wesley Foundation that can minister to a greatly increased enrollment. The Foundation now has cramped quarters in University Methodist Church.

Western Carolina College, Cullowhee. The Rev. and Mrs. Milford Thumm, pastor-director and associate director, respectively, of the Wesley Foundation. Enrollment, 1,129; Methodist preference, 255; affected by Methodist group, 210. During the year the level of student concern was deepened. Plans were drawn for a new wing to be added to the Cullowhee Methodist Church. One floor of this wing will be used almost exclusively by the Wesley Foundation, which is now housed in a basement room of the church.

The Wesley Foundation at Winston-Salem. The Rev. Robert W. Younts, director, ministers to Methodist students of Wake Forest College, Salem College, and Baptist Hospital. The combined enrollment of these institutions is 2,680; Methodist preference, 616; affected by Methodist group, 213. During the year car-pools were used effectively to transport students from the three institutions to the new quarters in Maple Springs Methodist Church, located on Reynolda Road just off the Wake Forest College campus. It is anticipated that this group, now recorded as "a unit of the Methodist Student Movement," will become a fully-accredited Wesley Foundation during the coming year.

The Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro. Miss Mauriel Shipp, Director of the Wesley Foundation. Enrollment, 2,305; Methodist preference, 630; affected by Methodist group, 370. During the year the program was expanded to include discussion groups and prayer cells, as well as the "Friday Fellowship" supper and program meetings. The Foundation is housed in College Place Methodist Church.

Report VMETHODIST BOARD OF PUBLICATION*May 1958

The past year has been a difficult one for the North Carolina Christian Advocate. In spite of a reduction in editorial expenses, we have had to spend more money for salaries in the printing plant, and other expenses have increased to an all-time high. The cost of publishing the Advocate has gone far beyond the subscription income. Because of the special price of $1.50 which has been charged for Every-Family subscriptions, we have lost approximately $20,000 in subscription revenue.

Despite the difficulties of the situation this year, we believe that next year will be much better. The new price of $2.00 for the Every-Family plan will not pay all the cost, but the fifty cents gained will help. Many churches which have been on the plan have now discontinued it, with the result that our subscription list has dropped to the lowest point in some years, but shows signs of rising again. We would lose less money with a smaller subscription list, but we do not believe we should be content to reach only a very small percentage of our people with the Church paper.

We believe that the solution to our problem now lies in the hands of the pastors and superintendents. During the past year very few pastors have put on a Advocate campaign. Many have not sent in a single subscription. If we are to serve the Conference, we must have the co-operation of all our friends. We realize that this has been a terrifically busy year, with special campaigns and offerings. But these campaigns depend upon the Advocate for publicity, and this it cannot give unless the paper is widely circulated.

We make these specific recommendations: First, that the district superintendents help us to put on the subscription campaign by promoting the Advocate in their districts. Second, that February be set aside as Advocate month in the Western North Carolina Conference, when each pastor will present the cause of the church paper and receive subscriptions. Third, that each district accept quotas based upon ten per cent of the membership, and that pastors be asked to report to the district superintendent when they have reached their quotas.

The Advocate can continue to put out a paper each week for the benefit of the loyal subscribers who each year renew their subscriptions without urging. It can cut its expenses to fit its pocket, and continue to survive with a small and select subscription list, as it has done for many years. But we do not believe that the Methodists of North Carolina want to have it said that they are behind all other sections of the church in their interest and support of the church paper.

The N. C. Christian Advocate has an honored history of 103 years of service. It has had many bad times and has often come near to defeat, but it has survived without the aid of subsidies or other financial assistance. It is the only Church paper in the nation which has such a record.

We do not ask for a subsidy; we expect to make our own way financially. But whether we continue on a minimum basis, or do the job which you would like for us to do, depends upon the support which is given our subscription campaign next year. If we are to promote the causes of the Church, push the College campaign, inform our people about the news of Methodism, and offer interesting and religious reading matter for our people, the Conferences will have to give us their hearty support.

The term of L. W. Routh having expired, we recommend his re-election by the Western North Carolina Conference.

NORTH CAROLINA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

The Annual Meeting of the North Carolina Council of Churches was held at First Methodist Church, High Point, January 28-29, 1957.

Dr. W. Arthur Kale, Professor of Christian Education at Duke Divinity School and a member of the Western North Carolina Conference, was elected President, succeeding Bishop Richard H. Baker, of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina.

A budget of $37,720 for 1958 was approved. Nineteen hundred fifty-seven receipts totalled $31,304.99, and surplus amounted to $15.46.

The Council's Department of United Church Women met at the same time. Mrs. J. W. Harbison, Shelby, was elected first vice-president of this body. Four new local woman's councils were formed during the past year, bringing the total in North Carolina to forty-five.

The Council's program activities are carried out through five commissions, each with one or more sub-committees. Highlights of the 1957 program included continuation of the Day Care Center for Migrant children serving the Hendersonville area, plus a ministry to the Migrant camps there; a new Day Care Center opened in the Elizabeth City area; a new migrant camp ministry in Carteret County; 68,000 pounds of clothing collected for relief purposes through six collection centers (one in Charlotte and one in Winston-Salem); food, medicine, and tools sent to neediest areas of the world through CROP; a Family Life Conference for pastors held in Charlotte; World Affairs Conferences co-sponsored by the Council at Blue Ridge and Chapel Hill; lists of foreign students compiled and sent to all member church bodies; teachers placement and statistical files carried on for Weekday Bible teaching programs reaching 33,000 boys and girls in fifty-one communities; a highly successful State Pastors' Conference held in High Point in January, 1958 with Dr. Andrew W. Blackwood and Dr. Waldo Beach bringing the addresses.

Nineteen hundred fifty-eight finds your State Council of Churches facing the challenge of increasing needs for co-operative Christian service. These challenges include the necessity of carrying on both the work of CROP and the Use and Understanding of the Bible Project without the help of additional staff as in past years; the need to increase still further the Migrant Ministry to reach hundreds yet untouched by the Gospel; and the urgent request for more clothing to relieve unprecedented suffering in many areas. CROP is still the most efficient way to reach the hungry. Up to 300 pounds of food can be sent overseas for $1.00, and it is distributed by church agencies, not the government. Churches are urged to support CROP through special offerings on CROP Sunday, Thanksgiving Union Service offerings, and participation in the Hallowe'en "Trick or Treat" program.

In addition to President Kale, and Bishop Harmon, the following members of the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference serve on the Council's Executive Committee: Embrce H. Blackard, Robert G. Tuttle and Wilson O. Weldon. The conference is represented on the Council Assembly, which meets annually, by forty-five members. The following serve as chairmen of committees: Warren Ashby (College Work); R. Harold Hipps (Church Recreation); McNeill Smith (National and World Affairs); and M. Wilson Nesbitt (Rural Church).

NORTH CAROLINA PASTORS' SCHOOL

(Board of Managers)

Since the days of World War I Methodist pastors have assembled each June on the campus of Duke University in Durham to enjoy a variety of profitable activities, including study, worship, relaxation and rest. In the early days the school operated for a period of two weeks, and in addition to the preaching services and public lectures, it offered courses for "credit" under the Methodist Board of Education. Ministers taking the conference course of study were required to attend. In a later period, after the length was reduced to one week, the Pastors' School met simultaneously with the Rural Life Institute and the Institute of International Relations, with joint worship, preaching services, and special lectures. In recent years the Pastors' School has been combined with the Christian Convocation, a program sponsored by the Duke Divinity School, featuring the James A. Gray lectures and the Convocation preaching services, and the length of the school has been reduced to four days. Throughout the entire period of more than forty years the relationship of the Pastors' School to all the related enterprises has been cordial, and the programs of the separate groups have been strengthened because of the combination of thought in planning and promotion. It has been repeatedly observed that almost all the leading personalities in Protestant Christianity for four decades, representing America, Great Britain, and other parts of the world, have appeared on the program of the North Carolina Pastors' School.

Vitality and Relevance

Year by year the several courses and lectures have reflected the theological atmosphere, the ecclesiastical and sociological issues, and major concerns of the church. Those ministers who have attended regularly have found the school a warehouse of fresh information in the traditional disciplines and source of reliable data concerning the pioneer movements of our times. As evidence of the vitality of the school and the relevance of its program, one could point to the discussions and debates that have followed many annual sessions and to numerous sermons that were stimulated by some course or lecture.

Fringe Benefits

The extracurricular activities of the school have always been appealing. Through the courtesy of the Methodist Publishing House a display of books, church equipment, pulpit robes, and a variety of supplies annually provides the setting for conversation and note-taking regarding the "latest and best." In dormitory and around the campus tall stories are repeated at all hours of the day and night. Sports of many kinds are enjoyed, including golf, tennis, swimming, horseshoes, and croquet. In one period of several years croquet was regarded as the major sport of the Pastors' School and the sound of mallet against ball was heard throughout each day, beginning at the earliest appearance of dawn.

It has been traditional that important committees and boards have regularly met during the sessions of the Pastors' School, and some of the actions of both annual conferences in North Carolina have had their origin in a discussion in some classroom at Duke. Several bishops have held cabinet meetings and have even discussed pastoral appointments and made plans for their annual conferences.

Attendance

The round figure of five hundred has appeared regularly in the reports of attendance, but the number climbed above six hundred a number of times. In a few lean years the number dropped to about three hundred. Prior to 1956 the North Carolina Conference always enrolled more than the Western North Carolina Conference. In the past two years the latter Conference has led in attendance. Also, in the past two years a larger number of pastors have come from the neighboring states of Virginia and South Carolina.

Administration

The affairs of the school have been in the care of a Board of Managers, elected by the two Conferences in North Carolina, upon nomination by the Boards of Education and Missions. Three men have served as directors of the school, H. E. Spence, J. M. Ormond, and W. A. Kale.

Change of Date

The summer of 1958 will likely be a date to remember in coming years. It will indicate the first time the school has been attempted in mid-summer. Since the annual conferences are now scheduled for the month of June, it is not possible for the Pastors' School to be scheduled at the traditional time. Instead, the date of August 4-7 has been selected. Opinions are divided as to the likely number who can and will attend at that time. The Board of Managers and the Director have made careful plans in the expectation that at least five hundred pastors and others will enroll. The following speakers and leaders will appear on the 1958 program:

Dr. George Fallon, Cleveland, preacher.

Bishop Donald H. Tippett, San Francisco, lecturer on "Christian Higher Education."

Dr. James Wood, Edinburgh, lecturer on "New Testament Messages for Our Time."

Dr. Lowell B. Hazzard, Wesley Theological Seminary, lecturer on "The Bible and Evangelism."

Dr. A. J. Walton, Duke Divinity School, leader of seminar on "Church Architecture."

Dr. Don Calame, General Board of Lay Activities, leader of seminar on "Certified Lay Speakers" and "Methodist Men."

Report A-4SUPERANNUATE ENDOWMENT FUND*Report of Trustees for Conference Year Ending May 31, 1958

We are happy to transfer to the Treasurer of the Board of Pensions, a check from the Trustees of the Superannuate Endowment Fund of the Western North Carolina Conference in the amount of $21,105.07. Thus through the sacrificial gifts of many interested Methodists of this Conference and the wise investment of their gifts we are able to make this transfer today which equals better than 5% of the total investments. We are certain that the donors of this fund would wish the fund to be increased and the income to be increased so that our Conference Claimants would share more richly from this trust fund. We again point out to all the members of the Western North Carolina Conference the importance of making substantial gifts from time to time to the Superannuate Endowment Fund.

At the annual meeting of the Trustees of this fund held on May 27, 1958, the following Trustees whose terms expire this year were nominated for a new three-year term, namely: J. S. Bell, Edwin L. Jones, R. G. Stockton.

Also, Mr. Frank O. Sherrill of Hendersonville, N. C., was nominated to fill the unexpired term of J. A. Bell, deceased, of the class of 1959.

The Trustees also elected the following officers and ask that the Conference Board confirm the election of the Trustees for the periods named above and of the officers of this fund, namely:

Edwin L. Jones, Chairman

George M. Ivey, First Vice-President

J. S. Bell, Second Vice-President

W. Reynolds Cuthbertson, Secretary-Treasurer

The itemized financial report of W. Reynolds Cuthbertson, Treasurer, is attached for the records of this Conference.

The annual meeting of the Trustees was saddened because of the absence, through death, of two of the original founders of this Superannuate Endowment Fund.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Superannuate Endowment Fund at its annual meeting held in Charlotte, N. C., on Tuesday, May 27, 1958:

"Whereas, the Heavenly Father has recently seen fit to call home two of the founders of the Superannuate Endowment Fund—James A. Bell, Joseph Benjamin Ivey—the Superannuate Board instructed the officers to include in their annual report to the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church their appreciation for all the good work that these two outstanding Christian laymen have done, not only in the establishment and management of the Superannuate Endowment Fund but for all the many other good works in The Methodist Church.

Both of these men gave freely of their time and their means to further all worthy church causes. Their advice and counsel was invaluable to this Fund for the more than 35 years of its existence.

Mr. James A. Bell served as chairman and executive officer of this Fund for approximately 35 years.

Mr. Ivey served for approximately the same number of years as secretary, treasurer, and vice-chairman.

At the 1952 annual meeting of our board Mr. Bell reported that the Fund had already turned over to the Conference Treasurer over a quarter of a million dollars of income from this fund for the use of the retired ministers and their families. He further stated that this amount was considerably in excess of the principal of this Fund.

Both of these will be greatly missed but their interest in all worthy causes, their determination to do that which is right and their eagerness to lend a helping hand to all those in need will long be remembered."

Respectfully submitted,

Edwin L. Jones, Chairman

W. Reynolds Cuthbertson, Secretary

Report A-5DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS REPORTS*ASHEVILLE DISTRICT*No Report Furnished for Printing*CHARLOTTE DISTRICT

The Charlotte District continues to move forward.

I am indebted to my predecessor, Frank Jordan, for the fine leadership he gave the district for five years and the ministers and laymen for their wonderful cooperation.

Evangelism was given much emphasis this year, with a retreat for ministers, a district-wide religious census, a prayer vigil in most of the churches, a carefully planned program of visitation and preaching evangelism. As a result, 1,070 persons were received on profession of faith and 1,812 by transfer and otherwise. The District shows a net gain in membership of 978. This represents more than 30% of the gain made by our conference.

Under the capable leadership of Glenn Lackey, and the Executive Committee of the Charlotte District Mission Society, the church extension program has moved forward with significant achievements. Two new churches, Aldersgate and Epworth, were organized in Charlotte. The first unit of Aldersgate's building program was completed last fall, and the first unit is under construction at Epworth. A new parsonage for Aldersgate has been purchased and beautifully furnished. Three additional sites have been secured for new churches in Charlotte. A new church, to be named Cokesbury, will be organized in the Amity Gardens development shortly after Conference. Membership in the Methodist Builders' Club has almost doubled this year and the Dollar Per Member offering was increased by about $8,000.00.

For many of the old established churches in the District this has been a year of financial campaigns with the construction of churches and parsonages, construction of new buildings, paying church indebtedness, and dedication of new buildings. The following churches had successful building campaigns: Bethlehem, $31,000.00; Cole Memorial, $67,000.00; Memorial, $70,000.00; Providence, $180,000.00; Hickory Grove, $165,000.00; Central, Monroe, $300,000.00; Pineville, $35,000.00; First, Wadesboro, $180,000.00.

The following churches are in the midst of building programs or have completed their buildings during the year: First Church, Charlotte, renovation and air conditioning, $160,000; Hawthorne Lane, renovation and construction of new office space, $40,000; St. James, enlarging sanctuary and addition to educational building, $77,000; St. Luke, new educational building, $51,000; Lilesville, construction of new educational building, $20,000; Matthews, construction of new church plant, $75,000; Midway, construction of Sunday School rooms, $3,200; Thrift, construction of new educational building, $27,000; Wingate, construction of new sanctuary, $25,000.

The new $150,000 church at St. Paul's was formally opened early in this Conference year. Duncan Memorial and the first units of Memorial and Providence were dedicated during the year. The debt has been paid on Benton Heights and the church is ready for dedication. A new parsonage has been completed for the Indian Trail-Stallings charge, and ground has been broken for a new parsonage at Waxhaw. The parsonages at Marshville and Mineral Springs were dedicated this year.

Stewardship was given special emphasis throughout the District. A district-wide stewardship rally was held in September with excellent attendance from charges throughout the District. November was designated as Stewardship Month and stewardship was taught in the Church Schools and preached from the pulpits.

At our District Conference the vote was unanimous to have an Every-member Canvass in every church in the District during the month of May. All the reports I have had indicate that the results were good. Some churches reported their budgets pledged in full for the first time. Many of the church budgets have been substantially increased. Pastors' salaries for next year will be increased approximately $10,000. All our conference benevolences for this year were paid in full.

The lay-speaking program has been very successful. Perhaps no district in Methodism has more capable laymen than the Charlotte District. Two hundred and fifty persons were certified as lay speakers this year and were consecrated in a meaningful service at First Church, in Charlotte, under the direction of Robert M. Smith, Associate Conference Lay Leader. Under the splendid leadership of our District Lay Leaders and Associate Lay Leaders, a lay-speaking schedule is being set up so that every church in the District that wants it can have a morning service next year from September to June.

Two honored superannuates, J. O. Ervin and J. R. Warren, died during the year. Their presence will be greatly missed but their good influence will abide.

—WALTER J. MILLER, D. S.

GASTONIA DISTRICT

Some solid gains have been achieved in the Gastonia District, like increased salaries, new members, better churches and parsonages. We have had some losses along the way, too. In 1957 the Methodist Church received three hundred fifty-seven thousand (357,000) by profession of faith, and lost two hundred seven thousand (207,000) by Quarterly Conference action. We made our contribution to both figures. On balance, however, we hope we are ahead of where we were a year ago.

We have a goal of no charge with more than three churches. When this is achieved, the pastors can give every church a service every Sunday. Three charges now have more than three churches. That figure will be reduced by another year.

District cooperation is a reality with us. Once a month the pastors come together in a fellowship of worship and work. The District Mission Society commands the support of most of the charges. There is an awareness of regional responsibility in upper Cleveland where the pastors and members of twenty-two (22) Methodist churches are cooperating in certain worthy ventures.

We are also enjoying inter-denominational cooperation. At Boiling Springs our Church is making an annual contribution to Gardner-Webb College. At Reepsville the Methodist and Baptist churches have cooperatively sunk a well on the property line between the two churches. The Baptist use most of the water and the Methodists pay half the cost!

Sixty (60) Methodist preachers plus many loyal lay people have written the record of the Gastonia District the year now ending. For their faithful service the District Superintendent is deeply grateful.

—JAMES G. HUGGIN, D. S.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT

In any District Program it may be assumed that there are many failures and disappointments as a result of our human inability to achieve all the objectives that we, in good conscience, feel led to set for ourselves. Such has been true of the Greensboro District during the past year, but in a report such as this it may be further assumed that it is not of the failures and disappointments but of the achievements that the Conference wants to hear. The Greensboro District has no reason to be ashamed of its record of progress.

Statistics can never reveal the true story of what has happened in a church or in the lives of the people it serves, but they may indicate something of the direction in which we are moving. While we cannot boast of our record in the area of evangelism, we are proud to report that more than two thousand people were received into the churches of the Greensboro District. One thousand twenty-one of these were received on profession of faith. This resulted in a net gain in membership of 579 for the District bringing the present membership up to 35,982. The net gain in church school enrollment was even greater.

In the area of physical assets we feel that outstanding progress has been made. Nine new churches and education buildings were begun. Four of these are now complete, and three education buildings were dedicated. Four lovely new parsonages were erected. Land has been purchased for the building of one new church and for the relocation of two others. This expansion has resulted in the increase of almost one million dollars in the estimated value of Church property in the Greensboro District. At the same time our churches, with but few exceptions, accepted and paid all Conference and District apportionments.

This record was not made by accident nor would we claim that these achievements were purely the result of human effort. We have felt the presence of God's Holy Spirit working in and through the dedicated ministers and laymen of the Greensboro District. We feel that a kindly Providence has blessed our efforts and made our labors fruitful. For our achievements we look in humble gratitude to Him who is the Head of the Church, even Christ Our Lord.

Four members of the Conference from the Greensboro District are retiring this year; E. Lester Ballard, Karl Koestline, E. C. Widenhouse and H. G. Allen. These ministers have rendered such faithful and effective service through the years that they have placed Methodism within our state eternally in their debt. While they will no longer be listed in the active relationship, I cannot imagine either of them as being other than vigorously active in the service of Christ and the Church.

During the year one of our beloved ministers, J. E. McSwain, and two widows of ministers whose husbands had preceded them in death passed on to their rewards. To their respective families we extend our sincere sympathies.

To work with the Greensboro District during the past year was a real privilege to me personally. To the consecrated ministers who manned the Churches and whose fine spirit and leadership made possible the progress here reported; and to the dedicated laymen whose splendid co-operation contributed so significantly to our achievements; and most of all to our kind and loving Heavenly Father who has inspired and strengthened us for our labors, we would express our sincere gratitude.

As we look to the future I think I can promise: Whatever the Conference undertakes to do, you can depend on the Greensboro District to do its share.

—J. CLAY MADISON, D. S.

MARION DISTRICT

The ministers and laymen of the Marion District have been loyal, cooperative, and enthusiastic in the work of the Church during this Conference year. Evidence of this is seen in the results that are apparent in every section of the District. The full program of the Church was adopted and carried out in a most effective way. The program of evangelism was promoted with special emphasis on visitation evangelism, membership classes and evangelistic preaching. We received 405 members on profession of faith and 266 by transfer. Many of the church membership rolls were revised causing the District to show a net loss.

The Church Extension Society is growing and the interest is becoming District-wide in promoting better church buildings and parsonages. Most all of the churches are supporting the work of the society. We have been able to aid fourteen churches, giving a total of $7,250.

A new parsonage has been completed at Bakersville. New ones are being built at Salem and Spindale. The Mill Springs parsonage is ready for dedication. Bethel, Drexel Charge, is adding new church school rooms. The congregation at Trinity, McDowell Charge, is in a new church and has it ready for dedication. A building fund campaign was completed at First Church, Marion, raising $233,000 for a new sanctuary to be built in the near future. Bethlehem Church, Bakersville Charge, was dedicated this year.

We are proud of the support that has been given to the teacher training classes. It is our belief that we rank high in the number of credits given in these classes in the Conference. Better church schools are evidences of these training classes.

Two men are retiring from the active ranks this year. Grover C. Graham is finishing his thirty-third year of service, and will continue as a Retired Supply. Carl F. Tate is finishing thirty-two years of service.

All financial claims are expected to be paid out in full with a surplus on several items. The progress is credited to the faithfulness of our pastors and the wholehearted cooperation of the laymen in the District.

—J. G. WINKLER, D. S.

NORTH WILKESBORO DISTRICT

This is the report of the labors of the devoted pastors and laymen of the North Wilkesboro District for the conference year 1957-1958. Everything cannot be reported. The following are merely outstanding items in the year's work:

The district far exceeded its quota of additions by profession of faith and is reporting the largest number, 268, in its three year history. This accounts, in large part, for the net increase of 161 members in the district.

Twelve of the twenty-five charges have increased their pastors' support for next year a total of $3,565. This is a little under a 5% increase for the district.

Every charge had a mission special for the first time this year. More than $1,800 was paid on the district mission special, the Dawsey Rural Center, Maringa, Brazil. This made it possible to complete this special of $2,500 in two years instead of three as originally planned.

A successful Intermediate Camp was held last summer, and a large district-wide Youth Rally was held in November. The district has raised $462.00 for the MYFund exceeding its goal by more than $50.

Three new Woman's Societies of Christian Service were organized during the year, bringing the total to fifty.

The district parsonage is almost ready for occupancy. There will be a reduction in the apportionment for District Work next year.

During May the district acquired a very desirable tract of 250 acres on the south fork of New River in Ashe County, to be developed for a camp and assembly grounds. The purchase price was $6,000.

The outstanding building project has been the construction of the $80,000 educational building at the Boone church.

The Avery County Group Ministry and the Creston-Green Valley Charge, both special projects, show encouraging signs of growth. All charges concerned have increased pastors' support at least 20%.

The Tri-County Training School at West Jefferson last September enrolled 177 and issued 124 credits.

The remodeled church and the new $40,000 educational building at West Jefferson were dedicated May 25, 1958. Three other churches are ready for dedication: Miller's Creek, and Transou and Mt. Zion on the Nathan's Creek Charge.

—G. R. STAFFORD, D. S.

SALISBURY DISTRICT

We feel that considerable progress has been made in the Salisbury District Work this year, as God has guided and blessed us all in our work. I wish to express appreciation to everyone of the 59 pastors and the many laymen and laywomen who have supported the District and Conference program in such a fine way.

In the program of Local Church Emphasis, goals have been set by each of the 86 churches, and plans have been set in motion to reach these goals, in the areas of Evangelism, Missions, Christian Education, Finance, Stewardship, and in building programs.

Splendid lay leadership has been given by J. F. Harrelson, District Lay Leader, and his associates from the three counties composing the District. We now have 30 chartered Methodist Men's groups with a membership of 1,223. Each church has been greatly strengthened by the projects carried out by these clubs.

We have had a good increase in membership, with 741 being received on profession of faith and 647 by transfer, making total membership 25,008, a considerable net increase over the previous year, although the growth is far below what it should be. Mention should be made of the faithful work of Alvin Wilson of the Friendship-Tabernacle Charge, in leading the District in number received on profession of faith, with 35 new members on this circuit.

Two of our finest young ministers are leaving us to go into specialized fields after outstanding work in their pastorates, Bob Foster going into the chaplaincy and Bill Bigham into the mission field. Our prayers and interest will follow them.

Most of our churches are increasing their support to Mission Specials, and our total giving is considerably above last year, approximately $23,000 being given to these specials. We have raised $3,400 toward the transportation and duty for a station wagon for Bill Andrews for his work in Brazil. We feel that Bill belongs to our District, since Central, Albemarle; Trinity, Kannapolis; and several other churches are providing his support. Also First Church, Salisbury, is continuing their support of two missionaries. Other churches of smaller membership are carrying on just as fine a missionary program, among them Cold Springs, Concord; Midway, Kannapolis; and Main Street, Albemarle.

We are happy to report that our Church Extension program is steadily growing with good support from the majority of the churches, the total amount raised this year being about $19,000. Our four new churches are flourishing, Parkway, Albemarle, having a membership of 86, a beautiful church with the indebtedness reduced to less than $10,000; Milford Hills, Salisbury, with a membership of 222, lovely modern building already outgrown to the extent that it is necessary to build again next year; Center, Concord, with 85 members and a new building rapidly going up; and Royal Oaks with their new church completed this year. Our plans for the coming year include the relocating of Epworth on a magnificent lot near Cabarrus Memorial Hospital, and a new church organization in the Concord-Kannapolis area.

Our people continue to build beautiful parsonages, two just recently finished, at Westford, Concord, and at Shiloh, Cabarrus; and at First Church, Salisbury, the new parsonage will be completed this summer. Plans are going forward for the building of a parsonage at Woodleaf during the new Conference year.

At Shiloh, Granite Quarry, a new education building of native stone has been completed and was occupied shortly after Easter, while buildings are going up at Porter's on the Albemarle Circuit and at Bethel, Cabarrus. At First Church, Salisbury, nearly $300,000 was raised toward erecting a new sanctuary, while at Central, Concord, nearly $100,000 is in hand for the first unit for the new $500,000 church there. Central, Spencer, is in the first stage of building a new education building, which will most likely be finished this next year.

All these figures are not just statistics, but they represent labors of love, and sacrifices, and souls saved through the witness, by word and deed, of pastors, laymen, devoted women of the Church, and fine dedicated young people. They represent many victories won all along the way, and they represent the projection of the wishes, hopes and dreams of Christian people in the Salisbury District across the world for Missions and Evangelism in the name of Christ our Saviour and our hope and the hope of the world.

—PAUL W. TOWNSEND, D. S.

STATEVILLE DISTRICT

Success has crowned, and the Lord has blessed the efforts of the Statesville District this year. A vigorous program of evangelism was adopted by the District Committee on Evangelism and only two charges show no new members received on profession of faith. The laymen have generously volunteered to assist the ministers fill pulpits, and Sunday, February 16, was planned as No Empty Pulpit Sunday, but a heavy snow on the previous day caused many of the services to be cancelled. At present we are considering plans for no vacant pulpits in any of the churches during the entire six weeks of Lent, 1959.

Christian Education moves forward. We have opened a new Sunday School in a small rural church where never before there had been a Sunday School. We had a fine series of Vacation Church Schools, and plans are made and schools being held right now. Our offering on Church School Day has surpassed the goal asked of us. We had four exceptionally fine training schools during the year—so located as to be accessible to every church of the district. The response was excellent, and we awarded 1,337 credits—208 more than the next highest district of the conference.

Our dream of a District Camp is maturing. We already have acquired a tract of 74 acres of mountain land on Buffalo Creek, near Lenoir. Camping is a very important part of total educational program. Many of the larger churches, and several sub-district groups already have a large camping program for the summer. We already have enough groups conducting a camping program to use our new facilities the entire summer. The District has adopted a plan to finance and develop the camping program, and there is already on hand more than $7,000 in assets for this program. We hope to have our new camp open for over-night camping this summer, and full camping activities next summer.

The giving to benevolences is noteworthy. Every church accepted in full and paid in full the askings for World Service, Episcopal Fund, District Superintendents' Salary Fund, the District Expense Fund, Conference Claimants' Fund, College Sustaining Fund, Conference Entertainment Fund. On an asking for The Methodist Home of $8,000, the District gave more than $6,224. All charges paid in full their pastors for this year and have increased the pastors' salaries for next year by the sum of $10,080.

Many factors have combined to stimulate our interest in missions. We have sent the Rev. Lonnie Turnipseed as a missionary from Broad Street, Statesville, to Hong Kong, and Rev. Charles W. Clay of Brazil supplied the pulpit of the Hickory First Church last September. Every charge now has an Advance Special, but our goal is a Special in all four lines of work—District, MCOR, National and World Missions. Payments to Advance Specials were about $20,000. The two churches sponsored by the District Mission Society are now three years old and making healthy progress, and a third new church is contemplated for North Hickory. Of the two new churches, Conover opened its new building September 1, 1957, and Statesville's Wesley Memorial had its present educational unit dedicated by Bishop Harmon on May 3, 1958. The churches gave to the District Mission Society this year nearly $16,000—about $4,000 (or a 33% increase) over the amount given in any previous year. Our Western N. C. Annual Conference sent 18 ministers to Cuba for the Evangelistic Mission there in January-February—the largest group from any annual conference, with five of the 18 going from the Statesville District. We have taken a new interest in Cuba and are quietly consolidating our National Special towards a church for a Methodist congregation without a building in East Cuba.

Buildings and dedications continue at a wholesome pace. An Education Hut has been completed at Chapel Hill Church, Trinity circuit; Jones Memorial, Mooresville; and Snow Creek, on Olin Circuit; and at the Cool Springs Church. The Mountain View Church on Balls Creek Circuit has been entirely rebuilt, and new education buildings have been erected at Midway on Trinity Circuit and at Triplett Church, Vanderburg has completed its new parsonage; the New Salem new parsonage is ready for the minister; Collier's has bought a parsonage adjoining the church property; and Hickory First Church has bought a second parsonage, adjoining the church land; and Newton First has bought a house and lot adjoining their present property. St. Paul's on May's Chapel Circuit has bought a house for educational use. Mt. Pleasant on Terrell Circuit has completed its hut. Fairgrove Church has begun construction of its $80,000 sanctuary on recently acquired land adjoining the present property. Additional land besides that already mentioned, has been acquired by Concord Church, Mt. Olivet Church, Harper's Charge, for a new parsonage, Highland Hickory for a new church, and Maiden First Church. Parsonages which have received complete renovations or additions of bedrooms include McKendree, Statesville, Boulevard, Harmony. Shiloh, and Hudson.

There have been five dedications on the Statesville District this year and several other parsonages, huts, and church buildings are ready for dedication in the near future. Bishop Harmon dedicated the District Parsonage and the educational unit of the Statesville Wesley Memorial Church on Saturday, May 3; then the following day dedicated the educational building of the Newton Abernethy Memorial Church. On June 1 the new Educational Hut of the Cool Spring Church was dedicated.

We foresee nothing ahead for the Statesville District but the finest and best.

—J. ELWOOD CARROLL, D. S.

THOMASVILLE DISTRICT

In giving an account of its stewardship for the past year, the Thomasville District hastens to give thanks unto God, our Father, for His guidance and undergirding strength, making possible the report and record of many noteworthy undertakings, and the fulfilling of some gratifying dreams and aspirations.

The District Superintendent has been amazed at, and grateful for the loyalty and support on the part of both laymen and ministers. A most gracious spirit was found upon my arrival and this spirit has grown. Thus, a brotherly and unifying fellowship is felt throughout its bounds. Thoughtful and wise leadership on the part of those leaders, prior to this year, has made for a strong and progressive district program. Upon this we continue to build!

Evangelistically, we have promoted a full program embracing mass, educational and visitation evangelism, resulting in 1,114 being won on profession of faith, 396 received from other Methodist churches and 274 from other denominations. Much credit should go to the District Evangelism Director and Committee who energetically promoted and followed through on this responsibility. Even the deep and chilling snow of February 16th failed to make the exchange of pulpits other than a successful and inspirational venture.

Our people, under the leadership of our District Directors of our several areas of emphasis, have done much in the areas of Christian education, missions, temperance, world peace, vocational guidance and Christian stewardship. Because of this we lead the conference in MY Fund contributions. Church School day observances have shown a remarkable increase. Training schools increased both in attendance and in credits earned. Mission Specials have increased with several charges doing "second mile" giving that argues well for the future expansion of Christ's Kingdom. Every charge paid in full its world service and conference benevolence acceptance. For the first time upwards to 90% of the charges have participated in our program of District Missions and Church Extension. According to the latest figures available "Advance Specials" are reported at $11,998.00.

In the area of physical accomplishments let the following be stated simply, yet most appreciatively, for each represents in each incident dreams, prayer, sacrifice, toil and gracious stewardship.

Parsonages:

1. Dedicated, 2
2. Ready for dedication, 2
3. Under construction, 2
4. Under extensive renovation, 7

Churches:

1. One new church has been organized in West Lexington.
2. Five churches have been dedicated.
3. Two churches have been completely rebuilt and re-dedicated.
4. One church is presently awaiting dedication.
5. Twenty-eight churches, education and fellowship buildings are in various stages of construction.

Church Finances:

1. More charges are undergirding their budgets with sound Christian stewardship principles.
2. Thirty-four of our sixty-six charges have increased their salaries from $100 to $1,600 per charge for a total district increase of $8,665.00.

This has been a fruitful and rewarding year in the Master's service. Men and charges have acquitted themselves as good stewards of the manifold grace of God. I recommend the passage of the characters of each and every minister of the district and commend to God's bountiful grace the entire membership of the district making this report possible.

—JOHN H. CARPER, D. S.

WAYNESVILLE DISTRICT

The churches of the Waynesville District, under good leadership, and working toward more clearly-defined objectives, have had a successful year. I find that most of the churches have the "Objective Charts" posted, with prime aims underlined or checked. More attention has been given to proper organization, and to regular meetings of boards and commissions, with plans formulated for meetings. Leadership training has received more careful attention. We feel that this has been our best year in attendance on training schools, seminars, caravans and retreats.

Although during this year the rural churches have found it more difficult to meet their budgets, sounder financial systems, set up during the year, promise better years ahead. Nineteen churches in Haywood County, in a simultaneous every-member canvass, covered 88% of budgets with commitments; eleven of them covering or exceeding budgets with pledges. This success was, in large measure, due to the leadership given by Brother Rollin Gibbs. We recommend this plan to other counties and districts.

All of the churches of the district supported the Church Attendance Crusade from December to Easter, and engaged in the evangelistic emphasis recommended by the Church.

The larger parish plan, set up a year ago in Clay County, has resulted in the general betterment of our work there. The Hinton Memorial Center, made possible by generous gifts, largely by a non-Methodist, is nearing completion. This facility will serve well Methodist groups and others in Clay County and beyond.

Two new churches are now under construction in the district; a new brick parsonage has just been completed at Long's Church, a lot for a new church has been donated on Pigeon River in Haywood County, and three new church plants are due to being within the early part of the new Conference year. The educational building at Morning Star was dedicated in May. In support of church extension, the District Mission Society has paid in over $9,000 during the year.

This year shows a 95% increase over last year in Advance Mission Specials taken. One of our Conference's staunchest supporters of the cause of Missions, having served for many years as a leading member of our Conference Board of Missions, and in many positions of leadership in our Conference, comes to retirement this year. L. B. Hayes, now serving the Bethel station, leaves us much the poorer as he steps down from "Active Duty."

We have lost by death a retired member of the Conference—James Jackson Wood. Five babies and one bride have been added to our parsonage families.

—F. C. SMATHERS, D. S.

WINSTON-SALEM DISTRICT

The Conference year just closing has been a good one throughout the Winston-Salem District. Little time, however, will be given to recounting the usual and regular program activities of our churches. This report, on the other hand, will concern itself with the special and particularly noteworthy accomplishments. From a scriptural point of view, this summary might be described as, "This ye ought to have done, and not left the other undone." Let me say then that I consider the following things as being particularly noteworthy.

The Winston-Salem District, first of all, is an unusually well-manned district. The high morale and splendid spirit of the men serving the various charges have made possible unusual progress in several directions, and they should receive the credit for these accomplishments.

In evangelism we faithfully carried through the national program of our church, and as a result have had one of the finest years in evangelism experienced in our district for quite a long while. Among the most satisfactory features of this program was the way in which the census was carried out throughout the entire district. Each of the four counties was covered in the census, and excellent lists of new prospects were secured for almost every charge.

Ministers' salaries throughout the district have been uniformly increasing, with almost every charge making some advance despite the prevalent talk of recession and economic setbacks.

Special offerings for the many causes of the church have been well received and good response made. Particularly outstanding was the response of the Winston-Salem District to the voluntary goal of $10,800 for The Methodist Home. At the time of this report, with some four charges yet to send in their amounts, more than $13,500 has been given for this purpose; and when all of the special gifts which have gone into the Home directly are considered, it is likely that the total would be nearer $15,000.

The Winston-Salem District is a district of good parsonages, with new ones being built each year. During this year we have been in the process of building four beautiful new parsonages, and three others are about ready to begin.

Church building and extension continues at a rapid pace. The total amount of new building work completed during the past year, now in progress, or immediately projected will run between two and a half and three million dollars, a truly significant total. This work is taking place in some fifty-five different churches of our district, and the cause has been advanced by well over $100,000 in cash, having been invested in these projects by the Surry Board, the District Mission Society, and the Winston-Salem Capital Funds. Probably no district in Methodism is more actively engaged in church extension work than the Winston-Salem District. Well over $100,000 each year is being put into this work and expended under the wise direction of a capable and consecrated Mission Society Committee. We are truly proud of the fact that when our church extension financing is added to the missionary giving of the district that the Winston-Salem District is contributing more than a quarter of a million dollars per year in missionary work.

The entire district is always on the alert for new church opportunities. This is particularly true in the greater Winston-Salem area, where the population growth is so rapid. On the 27th of April, one of the best organized and most efficiently carried out census undertakings this district superintendent has ever seen was conducted by the ministers in and around Winston-Salem in what is known as the Woughtown area. As a result of that survey, seven hundred people indicated that they would be willing to participate in a Methodist Church in that area, and approximately three hundred and seventy-five have indicated their willingness to join such a church. As a result of this, this Conference will be asked to appoint a minister to a new church in the Woughtown area of Winston-Salem, to be known as Grace Methodist Church.

At the other end of the city, in the rapidly developing western section, a tract of land some seven acres in size and forming one of the most beautiful church settings possible, has been secured, and the Peacehaven Methodist Church will soon be organized; and the Conference is being asked to assign a minister to that new church as well. These new churches will mean that in and around Winston-Salem five new churches have gone into operation within a two-year period, and each of them promises to be tremendously successful. In addition to this, one church, Oak Grove, near Rural Hall, has been reclaimed for Methodism, it never having come into union when unification took place in 1939, and is being organized as a new Methodist Church. Altogether, our entire district is proud of the work which is going on in this important field.

We commend two of our brethren with great affection to the Board of Conference Relations for the superannuate relationship; they are, G. B. Clemmer and A. W. Lynch.

Respectfully submitted,

—LEE F. TUTTLE, D. S.

SALARIES OF CONFERENCE MEN IN FIELDS OTHER THAN THE PASTORATE

In compliance with paragraph 830 of the Discipline, 1956, the Annual Conference Secretary has requested the salaries of the ministerial members of the Western North Carolina Conference who are serving in fields other than the pastorate and the district superintendency.

Almost all of the men have answered this request; however, the Trustees of many of our institutions have requested that these salaries not be published since these institutions do not publish salaries. To honor these requests, the salaries of the ministerial members of the Western North Carolina Conference serving in these other fields have been filed in the office of the secretary of the Conference.

Historical

1. Historical Sketch

"The Western North Carolina Conference shall include all North Carolina west of the North Carolina Conference, except Savannah Church, in Alleghany County, North Carolina; and also that part of North Carolina lying north of New River, and including that part of Virginia lying south of that river in the loop in Grayson County, Virginia; including all the territory in Carroll and Patrick Counties, Virginia, south of the crest of the Blue Ridge, and west of the Dan River." (Discipline, 1948, paragraph 1757.)

This territory is identical with that of the Western North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South. All three branches of Methodism forming The Methodist Church are included in this new Conference. From the Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church came thirty-nine ministers and 11,901 church members. The North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Protestant Church contributed seventy-four ministers and 22,361 church members. The Western North Carolina Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, added 377 ministers and 167,028 church members. This gave the new Conference 490 ministers, with twenty-eight others on trial, and 201,290 church members. The Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference had held 62 sessions, the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, 112, and the Western North Carolina, 50. (See Journal, 1939, Pages 115, 166).

JAMES OSBORNE ERVIN

November 23, 1880—July 15, 1957

One cannot review the career of a man like J. O. Ervin without experiencing excitement and joy. The record resembles a book of adventure stories. A bit of everything that matters is there—self-denial and heroic struggle, mingled with love, patience, faith, hope, and steadfast devotion to Christ and His Church. For this writer he was Mr. Methodist Preacher, a man who symbolized the best traditions of the Annual Conference and of our itinerant system. His spirit was energetic, cheerful, determined and always youthful. He was devout without being pietistic and serious without being doleful. He was courageous but not foolhardy. Above all, he was a lifelong servant of God. He found daily strength in fellowship with the Heavenly Father and could say with honesty, quoting the words of our Lord, "My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me." He apparently found exhilaration in strict obedience to the will of Christ.

A native of Iredell County, James Osborne Ervin was the third of twelve children born to William and Mary Jane Miller Ervin, the date of his birth being November 23, 1880. His education began in the family and was continued in the public schools of his native county, in Boonville Academy and old Rutherford College, from which he was graduated in 1905. On August 16, 1903 he was married to Miss Stella Conger of Statesville, who survives him. Nine children were born to this union, one of whom, little W. J., was a victim of diabetes at an early age and another, James Osborne, Jr., was drowned. The seven living children are well established in professional and business life and reflect their background of thorough Christian training through loyal and prominent participation in church affairs and through an impressive Christian witness in their respective homes. Their names and addresses are: G. Clifton, of Kansas City; Paul R. Lamont, Henry Webber and Charles Conger of Charlotte; Mrs. C. L. Cullum of Laurens, South Carolina; and Mrs. Ryan A. Bolen of Greenwood, South Carolina. An account of the attainments of these unusual men and women would be lengthy, but the distinctions that might be mentioned could not be more impressive than the one that came to each at the time of birth. These brothers and sisters can speak with justifiable pride of their remarkable parents.

Because of his abundant energy and many gifts, J. O. Ervin might have achieved wealth and prominence as a farmer or a businessman. He felt the call to preach, however, and would not turn aside. He was admitted on trial into the Western North Carolina Conference in 1908 and advanced to full ordination in 1912. His appointments were the following: Lenoir Circuit, 1908-09; Burnsville, 1910-11; Charlotte, Dilworth, 1912-15; Asheville, Bethel, 1916-19; Dallas, 1920-21; Rutherfordton, 1922-25; Mt. Airy, Rockford Street, 1926; Charlotte, Spencer Memorial, 1927-29; Maiden, 1930; Paw Creek-Thrift-Moores, 1931-32; Matthews-Indian Trail, 1933-35; Bessemer City, 1936-37; Monroe, Prospect, 1938; Lexington, Erlanger, 1939; Farmer, 1940-41; Lenoir Circuit, 1942-43; Wilkesboro, 1944; Statesville Circuit, 1945; Harmony, 1946-47; Retired, Homestead, 1948.

The preaching of this servant of God was characterized by fervency, logical thought, and rich Biblical content. His was an awakening mind—open to fresh revelation and unafraid of change. His hunger for truth seemed never to be satisfied. Nevertheless, he had strong convictions concerning the historic doctrines of Christianity. He also loved to quote the prophets and could well be described as a prophetic preacher. His style was direct with a definite emotional warmth and appeal. Colleagues in the ministry, as well as members of his congregations, have vivid memories of church gatherings when the clear tenor voice of J. O. Ervin would enrich the congregational singing. He was effective in solo parts.

especially when the song was related to the sermon and could be used as a supplement.

This Methodist itinerant truly had the pastor's heart and lived close to the people of his several parishes. He developed unusual skill in counseling men and women having problems. Wherever he served he gave great blocks of time to youth and their leaders. It was the happy experience of this writer, while a high school boy, to be a member of old Bethel Church in Asheville (since merged with Haywood Street Church), to participate in the program of the Church under J. O. Ervin's direction, and to be accepted into the Ervin family, where enduring friendships were established. It can be truthfully reported that this wise friend of youth painstakingly labored week by week in behalf of a well balanced program of instruction and activities and generously gave of himself to counseling young people to the end that they might come to know and follow the Christ he knew. On an unforgettable day he called this particular young man aside and asked, "Arthur, have you ever thought that God is calling you to preach?" With this question he introduced a series of conversations through which he confronted a timid and uncertain youngster with the challenge of life's most adventurous vocation. No single influence, outside his immediate family, was of greater power in the life of that young man; and now, after more than thirty years in the ministry, that same man remembers with immeasurable gratitude the helpful interpretations of the task of the called servant of God given by his friend, pastor, and mentor.

Among the Ervins is a strong and beautiful family loyalty. How they cherish and support one another! Family gatherings are occasions of great joy. Between the older and younger generations a wealth of banter is exchanged but beneath it all is an abundance of affection and mutual encouragement. For several decades J. O. was often found in the center of his family circle, looking backward with unabashed devotion to his father and mother and praising God for them, but also looking forward and rejoicing in his children and their children. Truly he was remarkable, both as son and as father.

Life was not easy for this gifted and dedicated man, but it was triumphant. In early life he was frail, but he overcame his weakness to become physically rugged. He knew the meaning of hard work. He spent one full year—the year following the birth of his first child—raising a crop of cotton, with the help of one mule. The yield was eight bales and made possible his enrollment in Rutherford College. Throughout his years he set a pattern of industry for all his family and neighbors. Some of his pastorates were in the most difficult places in the Conference. In every situation he did his best. When sorrow came to his family, he used it to demonstrate the validity of his faith and to console others in sorrow. When disappointment and ill-luck were present, he could smile. He loved to sing John Newton's lines,

"Through many dangers, toils and snares,
I have already come;
'Tis grace hath bro't me safe thus far,
And grace will lead me home."

He journeyed into the homeland on July 15, 1957, and the following day an appropriate memorial service was conducted in Pleasant Grove Church, Charlotte, under the direction of Harold Simpson, Aubert Smith and Kenneth Goodson.

Again, it may be noted that a bit of everything that matters is in the record of this good minister of Jesus Christ—truth, beauty, goodness . . . adventure, struggle, sacrifice, victory . . . faith, hope, love . . . preaching, praying, singing, witnessing . . . the Bible, the church . . . home, neighbors, fellowship with brother ministers . . . life, time, eternity . . . and through it all the abundant grace of God.

GEORGE DANIEL HERMAN

October 27, 1864—November 24, 1957

George Daniel Herman was born October 27, 1864, near Newton, in Catawba County, the son of George Daniel Herman and Jane Hoover Herman. After completing work in the public schools of Catawba County, he attended Rutherford College. On September 25, 1890, he was united in marriage to Miss Alice Sherrill Deal, of Caldwell County. To this happy union God gave four children: Mrs. Chess Abernethy, Ernest K. Herman, Mrs. Mable Carraway, and Mrs. Nelson J. Miles. Mrs. Herman, the devoted wife and mother, went to her eternal home on February 4, 1942, when she was within six days of her seventy-fifth birthday.

In Cox County, Tennessee, a quarterly conference was in session. The Reverend R. W. Kite was pastor, and J. S. W. Neal the presiding elder. In obedience to his strong conviction of an urgent need for dedicated ministers, George D. Herman was licensed to preach. Only one week later—September, 1888—the Holston Conference met in the city of Asheville, North Carolina. From this conference he received his first appointment—to the Sneedsville Circuit in Tennessee.

Brother George joined the conference in 1889 when the conference met in Morristown, Tennessee. This conference appointed him to the Cleveland Circuit at Cleveland, Tennessee. After serving several appointments in Tennessee, he was transferred to the Western North Carolina Conference. In 1896 he was sent to the Ansonville Circuit where he served until 1900. In 1901 he was elected a delegate to the missionary conference in New Orleans, Louisiana. He always referred to this as one of the greatest experiences of his ministry and the highest honor his church ever bestowed upon him.

In the nearly fifty years service to his church, he was the very efficient and effective pastor of First Church, Kings Mountain; Main Street, Shelby; Gastonia; Wadesboro; Central, Mt. Airy; First Church, Waynesville; Dilworth, Charlotte; Thomasville; Hillside, Asheville; and Oakley, Asheville, where he was pastor when he retired from the active ministry.

What can one say that will adequately describe such a remarkable life? I can only say he was truly the most "Unforgettable character" I ever met. The mere facts about his life—such as important dates, appointments held, churches erected, etc., are nothing as compared to the wonderful influence of his life on those who knew him well. I have never seen stronger and deeper devotion in any man's life. When one knows of his personal and private devotional habits, then it is easy to understand why George D. Herman was so powerful in the pulpit, and so strong in his faith. It was his daily habit to spend some three or four hours in the early morning reading and studying the Bible, the rituals, hymns, and great prayers of the church. Then through personal communion with God, he received both strength and guidance for the day. His intimate fellowship with God gave him assurance in the right and strong convictions as to the Christian's obligations to God, to Church, to country, to self, and to others. He disciplined his own life and sought earnestly to bring it under the complete mastery of Christ. If he expected much of others in their devotion to the kingdom, he demanded even more of himself. His thirst for the truth, which never left him, made him a diligent student to the very end. He believed in the Bible as the Word of God to His people, and, if the Bible is made available to them, God will speak to their hearts through this printed Word. So, he invested much time, energy, and money distributing the Bible and other good Christian literature.

One of the most refreshing memories I have of Brother Herman is his day by day efforts to be ready for that last journey should the call come while he was asleep, and these efforts were not made in fear and apprehension but with calm assurance, even anticipation, as if he planned a very pleasant journey. There was satisfaction and a note of victory in it all. Surely this is the fruit of a good and faithful life. The blessed memory of this strong servant of God will bring forth fruit in righteousness for years to come.

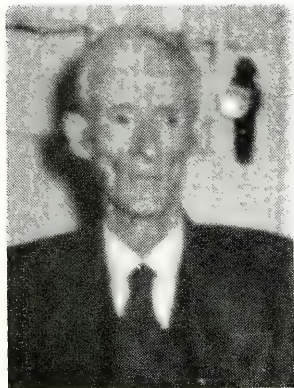

On November 24, 1957, Reverend George Herman went to his eternal home. For ninety-three years he had blessed the world by his presence and dedicated life. Now it was time for him to depart in peace. The funeral service was conducted in Oakley Church, Asheville, where he had served the last years of his regular pastorate. Ray F. Swink, pastor, J. W. Fitzgerald, District Superintendent, and the writer were the officiating ministers.

EDGAR C. PRICE

JAMES ARCHIBALD HOWELL

October 28, 1878—August 31, 1957

It has been so truthfully said that the most constant and enduring values of life are those that are spiritual. If we measure the worth of a man by such standards, the life and work of James Archibald Howell occupy a worthy place as a faithful minister of Jesus and His Church. Truly his dedication to God was expressed in true service to the kingdom and the spiritual enrichment of his fellowman.

James Archibald Howell, son of John Wesley and Sarah Frances Howell, was born in Robeson County, October 28, 1878. While still a child his parents moved to Randolph County where he attended school. After availing himself of that which the schools offered at that time, he felt the need of a higher education and enrolled at Liberty Normal Institute in Liberty. He was married to the former Miss Cora Rainwater who with two sons, C. C. and James, survive.

After completing his education, he became a school teacher and for the next few years held positions at Hoffman, Rockingham and Greensboro. It was while living in Greensboro that he answered the call to the ministry, and his first appointment was at Grace, Greensboro. In 1920 he was admitted to the Western North Carolina Conference and in the ensuing years served the following pastorates: Deep River Circuit, 1922-23; New Hope, 1924-25; Helton Circuit 1926; Stoneville-Mayodan, 1927; Pilot Mountain 1928-29; Farmer, 1930; Micaville, 1931; Marion; Cross Mills, 1932-33; Norwood Circuit, 1934-36; Balls Creek, 1937-38; Jefferson, 1939; Lowesville, 1940-41; Richland Circuit 1942-45.

Because of failing health Brother Howell was given the retired relationship and established his residence in Asheville. Although weak in body he was always strong in spirit and ever ready to help someone along the way of life. This writer will ever be grateful for the words of encouragement and helpful suggestions he gave during the days of my first pastorate. Of him it may be truthfully said that he was like a "spiritual father" to me.

He was ever alert to the need of Church Extension, and it is wonderful that he lived to see two of his dreams become a reality in his retirement years. Often while the writer was pastor of the Richland Circuit he would point out to me the need of a church in North Asheville and the Rushwood Park area. Both of these communities have erected Methodist churches, and in the latter community he was very instrumental in the organization of the church.

Many wonderful things might be said of our departed brother. Just as the light of the sun contains a variety of elements, so does the life of this good man shine with splendid characteristics. He was a good man, brotherly toward his fellowman, sincere in his convictions, earnest in his desire to further the Kingdom of God, and so consecrated to his calling that anything less than simple goodness was surely wrong for him. As a preacher he lived the gospel he preached, and his members and friends of other days will ever remember his wisdom and keen insight into things spiritual. Furthermore, he had a sense of humor that made him welcome among his friends.

Only a few days before the passing of Brother Howell the writer went by for a visit with him. He said, "I know that I am nearing the end, but the Christ who called me, and who has been with me through the years is most real to me now."

As he had lived, so was he facing death—with calm assurance and perfect trust in his Master. Three days later, on August 31, the Golden Key that unlocks the door to Heaven turned, and the soul of James Archibald Howell entered into His Father's House. Patiently he had awaited his last appointment, and his gentle soul seemed to voice the words of the poet:

"How blessed it is to be old,
To sit by the sunset gate,
Ready with faith to enter,
But willing with patience to wait.

"Knowing that safely garnered,
Are all the sheaves of the years,
That ahead are the glad reunions,
And behind all sorrow and tears."

In Giles Chapel Methodist Church, Randolph County, on Sunday afternoon, September 1, the funeral was conducted by the pastor, B. S. Lyndon, assisted by Wilbur A. Jarrett and the writer. The host of friends in attendance and the profusion of floral designs bore evidence of the high esteem in which he was held.

These lines are not the finished story of his godly life, but in conclusion may we say with the poet:

"Let us not think of our departed dead
As caught and cumbered in these graves of earth,
But think of death as of another birth,
As a new freedom for the wings outspread,
A new adventure waiting on ahead,
As a new joy of more ethereal mirth,
As a new world with friends of nobler worth,
Where all may taste a more immortal bread."

P. A. BRUTON

JAMES EZELL McSWAIN

July 8, 1879—February 16, 1958

I knew and loved Brother Mack as a comrade in the ministry, but I knew him best as his pastor at Grace Church in Greensboro. When he retired in 1948, he became a member of our congregation, was greatly beloved by all, and rendered invaluable help many times in many ways. During these years when he preached, he did so with the same power and grace which characterized his sermons throughout his long and fruitful ministry.

James Ezell McSwain was born in York County, South Carolina, July 1879, the tenth of twelve children of Elijah and Harriett Jackson McSwain. His death came, after a serious illness of some duration, on February 16, 1958.

It goes without saying that after hearing the call to preach, his preparation for his life's work was carried out through poverty and hardship. He had to work his way through school in a day when the way was hard and long, and it took all the courage and faith of a lad's heart to make his dream come true.

He began his ministry in the Methodist Protestant Church in 1906 as supply pastor at Caroleen. In 1909 he served the Lincolnton Circuit; in 1910 he served the Rockingham Charge. In 1911 he presented a letter of good standing in the Methodist Protestant Church, signed by the Conference President, Dr. W. E. McSwain, to Dr. J. R. Scroggs, presiding elder of the Charlotte District of the Western North Carolina Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and was received by that Conference.

Appointments in the Western North Carolina Conference were as follows: Helton, 1911; North Wilkesboro 1912; West Hickory, 1913; Lewisville 1914-1918;

Matthews 1918; Weddington 1919-1921; Cool Springs 1921-25; Maiden 1925-1929; Epworth, Concord 1929-1931; East Spencer 1931-1933; Broad Street, Mooresville 1933-1935; West End, Gastonia 1935-1937; Marshville 1937-1939; Ward Street, High Point 1939-1944; Tabernacle 1944-1948.

He married twice; his first wife, Stella King McSwain, died in 1911, and on May 27, 1914 he married Miss Margaret Rebecca Combs who survives and now resides at 814 N. Eugene Street, Greensboro. Other survivors are two children by his first marriage: Mrs. Jack (Nellie Mae) Matlock of Greensboro and Dorus T. of Norfolk, Virginia, and two children by his last marriage: Mrs. W. R. (Hazel Elizabeth) Woolfolk of Greensboro and Mrs. H. J. (Sarah Evelyn) Shinn of Gaffney, South Carolina. There are seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

He was a preacher of great power and was a highly successful evangelist. In his own pastorates and while assisting his brethren he was instrumental in winning hundreds for Christ. Young and old loved him and looked forward to his visits; he loved children, especially boys. He served as Scoutmaster and was an honorary member of the Boy Scouts of America. He was one of the "inspirers," a true inspiration to all who knew him. He was a Mason, and his life did honor to the highest ideals of this brotherhood.

He was tremendously interested in youth and encouraged them individually toward a life of Christian service. Among those young folk who loved and admired him are some of the fine young ministers of our Conference, such as Clyde Murray and the Hamilton brothers, Austin and John, and ministers of other denominations. One young pastor said, "Had it not been for Brother Mack I would not be preaching today. They were his 'Sons Timothy.'"

He was happiest when encouraging others to better living and greater endeavors or when leading in some outstanding work in his church, such as improving, remodeling and building and securing new pipe organs for Ward Street and Tabernacle.

Truly he was a great soul, overcoming difficulties and hardships with an unquenchable faith, preaching the Gospel fearlessly and without equivocation, and giving his witness for Christ daily through a life grandly lived. It was a privilege and a blessing to have him as a friend.

"Me, too, thy nobleness has taught
To conquer my despair;
The foundations of my hidden life
Are by thy friendship fair."

PAUL W. TOWNSEND

JESSE ELI PRITCHARD

November 29, 1880—August 10, 1957

In the death of Jesse Eli Pritchard, The Methodist Church has lost an able and devoted disciple of Jesus Christ who served his church with distinction as preacher, writer and administrator across the seventy-six years of his life. Born near Asheboro November 29, 1880, the son of Isaiah Franklin and Nancy Ellen Connor Pritchard, he graduated from Western Maryland College in 1909 with the A.B. degree and from Westminster Theological Seminary in 1912 with the B.D. degree. In 1932 Western Maryland College awarded him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. On December 12, 1912 he was married to Miss Laura Vestal of Siler City who survives.

The first appointment of this faithful laborer in the Lord's vineyard was to the Halifax Circuit in November 1911. During his thirty-five years of effective service he served pastorates in Thomasville, Burlington, Henderson, Mocksville, Ramseur, Greensboro, Winston-Salem and Asheboro. He served as editor and business manager of the Methodist Protestant Herald in 1935 and 1936 and was president of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church for two terms—1938 and 1939.

In 1920 his annual conference appointed him a member of a committee of three to raise funds for the building of High Point College. He became a trustee of the college in 1934 and served actively since that time. In 1939 he was a member of a committee of fifteen charged with the responsibility of selecting the place for the Uniting Conference and was a delegate to that conference at Kansas City in 1939. He was a member of three general conferences and was listed in "Who's Who in Methodism" in 1952.

Deeply interested in children he was a trustee of the Children's Home in Winston-Salem for 12 years. Just one day prior to his death the Asheboro Rotary Club unanimously passed a resolution to name the Randolph Crippled Children's Clinic the "J. E. Pritchard Clinic for Randolph Crippled Children." He was vitally interested in the clinic and faithfully assisted with his monthly direction.

Keenly interested in history Dr. Pritchard wrote a history of Central Methodist Church, Asheboro, was a member of the Randolph County Historical Society and was a life honorary member of the North Carolina Society of Local and County Historians.

Funeral services were conducted at Central Methodist Church, Asheboro, on Monday, August 12, with Elwood Carroll, John H. Carper, Aubert M. Smith and Brunson Wallace officiating.

The servant of God was acquainted with pain and suffering, yet he knew that the highest joy is born of the deepest pain, in fact comes no other way. Underneath his life, and the life of this earth, and our lives, and all life, is the eternal life which is eternal love and goodness, in which the lights and shadows of temporal existence are caught up into the Eternal Being, the ultimate meaning of it all. Hence, because he lived in a very straight-forward, wholesome way in the life of God, he has now, we feel, not lost his life, but rather gone into the fuller life of God, into which we, too, hope some day to follow him.

Although gone from our midst, still, he has left behind something which will never die.

As Grace Noll Crowell says,

"O, to live beautifully for my brief hour
As does the wayside flower;
Unperturbed at the strange brevity of time allotted to me;
Undisturbed by the overshadowing shrine
Of climbing tree and vine;
Bravery stemming the wind and the beating rain,
Bowing and lifting again;
With me some strong inner force as bright

As a poppy filled with light;
My feet firm—rooted in earth's good sod,
My face turned toward the living God;
Yielding some fragrance down the paths I know,
A little while . . . then go.
As a flower goes, its petals seeking the ground
Without a cry or sound,
But leaving behind some gold seed lightly thinned
To blow upon the wind."

BRUNSON WALLACE

JAMES RUSSELL WARRENOctober 30, 1868—April 9, 1958

The Reverend James Russell Warren, son of Edgar and Sally Pledger Warren, was born in Forsyth County at Lewisville, October 30, 1868. He received his education in the public schools of his county and at Weaver College. In young manhood he married Miss Eliza Dull who died in 1923. Later he married Miss Aurelia Helms who survives and lives in Monroe.

The oldest of four children he was just a boy when his father died. In 1899 he moved to Iowa, and it was there he felt the definite call to preach. The first two years of his ministry, 1907-1908, were spent there on the Rhodes Charge in the Marshalltown District. Persuaded by his friends, he returned to North Carolina in 1909 and began his ministry in the Western North Carolina Conference. For several years he served effectively as a supply pastor, and in 1921 he was admitted on trial and remained a devoted member of this Conference until his death, April 9, 1958. His appointments were Hayesville, Weaverville Circuit, Spring Creek, Monroe (8 years), Trinity Gastonia (seven years), Belmont, East Spencer, Bethel-New Hope and Indian Trail-Stallings. After he retired in 1942, he served the Peachland Charge as a retired supply.

In addition to his widow he is survived by a brother, R. S., of Marshalltown, Iowa, and two sisters, Mrs. Susie P. Fowler of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. M. R. Warren of Rockville, Maryland.

From his first day in the ministry he proved himself to be an effective and faithful worker in the building of God's Kingdom. Unusual success crowned his labors in each of his charges. When he preached his people could feel that "Thus saith the Lord." He was a preacher of magnificent faith and courage and was at his best when engaged in winning souls to Jesus Christ. One of the most attractive characteristics of his preaching was the revival power which accompanied his ministry. He never swayed from his convictions, and his sincerity was unassailable. He was a courageous soldier of his blessed Redeemer with faithfulness and diligence characterizing all his endeavors. As a consecrated Christian, his life was marked by a radiance and sweetness which attracted the attention of all who knew him. Much credit for his success should be given to his loyal companion whose constant inspiration and help through the years gave him support, comfort and strength. The constancy of her presence in sickness and in health enriched his life and blessed his ministry. My brother John and I were guided into the ministry and were licensed to preach under the leadership of this good man and his wife. In the various places where they have lived since he was our pastor, we have visited them, and no time could we leave without asking him to lift us to our heavenly Father in prayer.

According to the records brother Warren retired, but, even as an invalid for the last three years of his life here, he was an effective witness for his Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. On the morning of April 9, 1958 his soul moved on from the limitations of this earthly life into that "land that is fairer than day," and he now dwells in that celestial city whose builder and maker is God.

His funeral service was held at the McEwen Funeral Chapel in Monroe on the morning of April 11 with H. L. Blackwelder, D. A. Hamilton, Moody Nifong and Byron Nifong taking part. Interment was in Suncrest Cemetery nearby.

"More home-like seems the vast unknown

Since he has entered there;

To follow him is not so hard

Wherever he may fare.

He cannot be where God is not,

On any sea or shore;

Whate'er betides, Thy love abides

Our God, for evermore."

JAMES JOHNSON WOOD

October 9, 1882—November 3, 1957

Were the writing of an evaluation of a man's life ever easy, so would it be concerning the life of the Reverend James Johnson Wood. Here is a man whose life so demonstrated the rare Christian qualities of his being that these qualities shone forth as brightly and as innumerable as the stars of a clear moonless night.

James J. Wood was one of the most Christ-like men in thought, attitude, and action that many of us have ever known. Possessed of a supreme purpose to know the mind and spirit of Christ and to express that mind and spirit in his own life; this brother in his preaching and ministry brought to his people a knowledge of the mind and spirit of Christ. Ever a devout student of the Bible he taught by precept and example the way to the City of God. To his friends and acquaintances he embodied vital Christian living; to know him was to admire him and love him.

As a pastor, he was a good shepherd seeking to minister to all of his flock. If ever he showed special consideration to any of his people, such was shown to the poor, the neglected, and the ostracized. He championed the cause of the neglected, seeking to help each or them to know his real worth as a person and as a member of the Church and of the community. This preacher was broadminded in his religion. A favorite saying of his was, "Christians can disagree without being disagreeable!" His infinite host of friends are numbered from every strata of society because of his effort to be a true Christian brother to everyone, whatever his station in life, whatever his creed, whatever his race.

Spending his entire ministry serving the financially weaker churches, as a true man of God Brother Wood never became embittered. Happily he went wherever sent giving devout thanks for the privilege of serving others in the name of the Christ whom he loved. One of his district superintendents says of Brother Wood, "Two charges under me were very difficult ones that would have tried the faith of any pioneer preacher; yet, never did I find him down-hearted or complaining. He had a fine sense of humor and a childlike faith in God, and these traits always brought him out the victor in every trying experience."

He was good company, a skilled and interesting conversationalist and a welcome guest wherever he went. He always delighted in the companionship and conversation of others. One always felt "at home" with him—never ill-at-ease. Time in the presence of Brother Wood passed all too quickly. During the years of his retirement, pastors of his home church thought of him as their pastor. We acknowledge a debt of gratitude for the times when he gave of his marvelous ability to chase away the clouds of discouragement and to send us on our way with spirit uplifted. The radiant and jovial spirit, the ever-present smile (even when suffering intense physical pain), the keen observations and sparkling wit, the positive attitudes, and the conscientious and gentlemanly manner of J. J. Wood made a deep impression. He believed that the Christian religion is a religion of joy. So it was to him. He lived life to the full and he finished his course with joy.

James Johnson Wood was born October 9, 1882, in Ogdensburg, New York, the son of the Reverend Cyrus Valentine and Jemima Percy Wood. Since his father was a Methodist clergyman, he spent a major portion of his life in a Methodist parsonage. He received his formal education at Watertown High School, Watertown, New York, Troy Conference Academy, Poultney, Vermont, and Syracuse University. Having a brother who at the time was connected with the Champion Paper and Fibre Company, he came South in 1919, to Canton for a visit. For a time, he was employed by Champion at Smokemont where he met his wife, the former Miss Minta Harvey. Mrs. Wood and one son, James Albert, survive.

While employed as secretary of the railroad Y.M.C.A. in Atlanta, Georgia, Brother Wood was licensed a local preacher by the Hemphill Avenue Quarterly Conference in March, 1923. In May of that year, he was appointed a Supply Pastor in the Georgia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and he immediately accepted a charge. He entered the traveling connection at the Annual Conference of 1923. In the Georgia Conference, Brother Wood served the following appointments: Prospect and Tattnall, Hemphill Avenue, Epworth, Tallapoosa, and Alto. Transferring to the Blue Ridge-Atlantic Conference in 1927, he served Bakersville, Murphy, Hayesville-Shooting Creek, Ocracoke, Walkertown, and Marion. After Unification he served the following appointments in the Western North Carolina Conference: Elk Park Circuit, Asheville Circuit, and Mills River.

A cerebral hemorrhage (stroke) in September, 1946, forced Brother Wood's retirement. Since his retirement, he and his wife have lived at Andrews. For over ten years Brother Wood continuously fooled his family, his friends, and his physicians by continuing his physical life. About four months before his death one of his doctors in speaking to Brother Wood's son said: "Jim, I guess you know that there's no hope at all this time." When the son agreed, the doctor said: "Heck, I told you that over ten years ago, didn't I?"

On Sunday, February 3, 1957, Brother Wood became critically ill for the last time, and early on the Sabbath morning, November 3, 1957, God called Brother Wood to be with Him in His Heavenly Home.

Funeral services were conducted in the First Methodist Church, Andrews, with the following fellow-ministers participating: Frank Smathers, C. C. Washam, Vernon Morton, W. F. Elliott, Vitold Gobins, and Edwin Carter. Other minister-friends were in attendance.

Brother Wood's own words describe his own life and his own death:

"Give me, O Lord, an eye to see
The path of service blazed for me
By Him who walked in Galilee
To do Thy will.

"Give me, O Lord, a faith sublime,
That soars above the things of time,
And makes my soul still long to climb
To do Thy will.

"And when from mount to vales below,
I pass through sickness, pain, and woe
Help me, O Lord, as on I go,
To do Thy will.

"When I am crucified with Him,
Upon that cross so ghastly grim,
Let not my purpose then be dim
To do Thy will.

"Oh Christ, may I be raised with Thee,
From sin and death forever free,
And live throughout eternity
To do Thy will."
